The party, first and last, included a large preponderance of gentlemen connected with the press, among whom were L. Starr of the N. Y. Com. Advertiser, A. S. Hill of the Tribune, J. R. Spalding of the Courier and Enquirer; C. C. Coffin, (of Malden,) correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger; Dr. Frank Fuller (of Portsmouth,) Newark (N. J.) Daily Journal; R. H. Conklin, Providence (R. I.) Tribune; J. W. Stedman, Norwich (Conn.) Aurora; Charles Hale of the Boston Daily Advertiser, Leander Wetherell of the Courier, Z. K. Pangborn of the Atlas & Bee, James A. Dix of the Journal, E. C. Bailey of the Herald, W. W. Clapp, Jr. of the Evening Gazette, and Curtis Guild of the Traveller; F. M. Peck, Worcester Transcript; George G. Fogg, Independent Democrat, Concord, N. H.; Henry McFarland, N. H. Statesman, do.; J. W. Merriam, Patriot do.; Albin Beard of the N. H. Telegraph and Mayor of Nashua; John H. Goodale of the Democrat, J. B. Campbell of the Union Democrat, and John B. Clarke of the Mirror, Manchester; Charles W. Brewster of the Journal, Amos S. Alexander of the Gazette, Thomas J. Whittem of the American Ballot, and John Chandler of the Chronicle, all of Portsmouth; John A. Goodwin, (Citizen & News,) Homer A. Cook, (Courier,) S. J. Varney, (Vox Populi,) of Lowell; H. M. Whitney of the Courier, B. F. Watson of the Sentinel, and George S. Merrill of the American, of Lawrence; J. C. Peabody, Newburyport Herald; Charles H. Hildreth, Gloucester Telegraph; E. H. Safford and wife, Essex Banner, and E. G. Frothingham of the Gazette, Haverhill; Dr. George B. Loring of the Advocate, George W. Pease of the Observer, and Chas. W. Palfrey of the Register, Salem; Edson C. Eastman, Concord, publisher of the White Mountain Guide; Fitch Poole of South Danvers; J. B. Richardson and Charles Sanborn of Concord, and John L. Brown of Manchester, correspondents or reporters; Edwin Bynner of Worcester; John S. Sleeper, Mayor of Roxbury; and perhaps others whom we cannot enumerate. There were also in the company Hon. Josiah Quincy of Rumney, N. H., President of the B. C. & M. R. R.; John P. Coffin of Laconia, Agent of the same and the White Mountain R. R.; John P. Hale and Daniel Clark of New Hampshire, and Henry Wilson of Massachusetts, of the U. S. Senate; Austin F. Pike, President of the Senate, and Napoleon B. Bryant, Speaker of the House, of New Hampshire; Thomas L. Tullock, Secretary of State; Peter Sanborn, State Treasurer; Judge N. G. Upham and A. Fowler, and Sheriff Ordway, of Concord; John S. Rollins, David Davis of Concord; George W. Kenniff of Franklin; Rev. T. J. Greenwood of Meriden; Messrs. Bently, Stearns, Richardson, (of Boston,) Lyon, and others, officers or directors of connecting railroads, and several more gentlemen, of various pursuits, whose names we have not obtained.

PROMOTION.—In the Army Orders just issued, Maj. Justin Dimick, of the 1st Artillery, to be Lieut. Col. of 24 Regiment, from Oct. 5, 1857, vice Erving, promoted to 1st Artillery.

We would commend to every traveller "The White Mountain Guide" published this season by E. C. Eastman, Esq. of Concord. No one should go to the mountain region without it.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1858.

FREE LOVE.—Albert Brisbane has addressed a letter to the New York Times, to correct some misrepresentation of his views of free love. He declares that "marriage, in the present condition of society, like the prison, the scaffold, the fear of future punishments, is necessary to the maintenance of order in our spurious civilization."

Our spurious civilization seems to be an old affair, so far as marriage is concerned; beginning back with one Adam and his wife, whose name some readers may have seen in old books; recognized and defined by one Jesus of Nazareth, who preached in the east almost 2000 years ago; and it bids fair to last as long as men dwell on the earth. In the resurrection, says this same Jesus, they shall be as the angels of God in heaven: probably not till then.

PEACEABLE.—The New York Express declines any controversy with the Republican papers of New York. It says:—"We have no quarrel now with the Republican party, and therefore no fight to make with it. When it did right, in the matter of the Crittenden-Montgomery Kansas bill, it disarmed all our opposition, and deprived us of all disposition to keep open a fight.

* * If the anti-Lecompton men of New York—men who agree together in opinion—can be permitted to unite—as ninety-nine out of a hundred wish to unite—they will sweep the State and lead the van for making the next President of the United States."

IN CALIFORNIA the law adopted at the last session of the legislature, to prohibit the opening of stores and business on Sunday, went into force on the 6th inst. In many places the law has been observed—in others numerous arrests have been made for its violation.

The bridge across the Sacramento, at Sacramento City, is so nearly completed that persons have crossed upon it.

SINGULAR SUICIDE.—Edward Cole committed suicide near St. Peter, Minnesota, under very singular circumstances. He took down his gun, when by some accident it went off and killed his wife. He wrote to his son informing him of the circumstances, and telling him what disposition to make of his property. He said that himself and wife had not lived on good terms, and that as the accident might be attributed to design on his part, he would prevent any further trouble by leaving the world.

☞ The New York times says it is enabled to affirm that there is in the State Department at Washington, proof to show that capital of three million dollars invested in the slave trade, produces a profit of eighteen millions of dollars a year.

☞ The friends of Antioch College have succeeded in raising the sum necessary to retain that institution in the hands of its present management. It is not probable, therefore, that Mr. Mann will accept the Presidency of the Northwestern Christian University at Indianapolis, to which he has been elected.

☞ The army and navy cost this nation more than its schools. The national expenditures now cost every family of six persons an average of fifteen dollars annually. If it were levied as a direct tax instead of duties on imports, it would cause a revolution. Horace Mann estimated the annual amount of tobacco consumed by the Christian men of the country at $5,000,000. The sinners being more reckless and far more in numbers, must consume at least $25,000,000 per year.

☞ Hume, the American spiritual medium, is to be married on the 19th at Paris, France, to Mlle. Kroll, sister-in-law of the Count Gregory Kouchelel-Besborodko, gentihom de la chambre of the Emperor of Russia. She has no fortune, but will be endowed by the Count, who is said to have an income of four millions, and is never seen with less than twenty-four persons in his train. He has chateaux, lands, villages and villas in every province of Russia, and counts of armies peasants.

☞ A fine portrait of Bayard Taylor, in the Academy of Design at New York, has been mutilated by the scratching out of the eyes. The author of the mischief is unknown, but it is surmised that some outraged female did it, under the provocation of his saucy letter, just after his marriage, in which he told his fair correspondents to stop asking him for autographs and locks of hair.

BURIED ALIVE.—On Friday, the 23d ult., while two men by the names of Bush and Richmond were engaged in digging a well at considerable depth at Ann Arbor, Mich., the curbing gave way from the pressure of the surrounding earth, and suddenly buried them to the depth of some twenty feet. So soon as it was known that they were thus entombed alive, the excitement in the vicinity became intense, and from every quarter the people rallied to the rescue. The first thing to be done was to remove the remains of the old curb and sink a larger one for the protection of the laborers engaged in removing the dirt. This was accomplished at great personal risk, as the sides of the pit were entirely unsecured. It was, however, done, a large curb was put in, and the work of sinking it down to the buried men prosecuted vigorously. One of them had been caught nearly erect, and the other in a sitting posture. Every sound from above was audible to them, while no intimation of their existance reached their friends above. Darkness made no interruption in the work, but relays of men succeeded each other. At length, after twenty-six hours of toil, the first man was taken out almost uninjured, though exausted by his close confinement. Some time longer was consumed in reaching the second, in consequence of his position, but he too was rescued, and thus the labors of the day were richly rewarded.

DECISION IN LIQUOR CASES—The indictments against Lowell parties as common sellers came up before the Court of Common Please at Concord, Mass. on Tuesday. Mr. Butler for the defendants raised the point that the suits could not be sustained because the parties had been before the Police Court and the Judge refused to take jurisdiction, but ordered them to the Grand Jury. The last Legislature passed a law giving jurisdiction to Police Courts in such cases, and Judge Bishop on Tuesday decided that such cases could not go from the Police to the Common Pleas but on appeal. Consequently all the indictments against common sellers who have been ordered up by the Police Courts, except appeals, fall to the ground.

☞ The revenue of England is derived from customs on imports about one-third, and the other two-thirds from direct taxation. Then, too, the customs are laid upon the primary articles of consumption.—The five items of sugar, tea, tobacco, spirits and wine alone yield one hundred million out of the one hundred and thirty-five million dollars arising from her customs.

☞ Michael Nolan, of Newport, R. I., got desperately drunk and beat his wife and children, and then refused to be arrested. The Mayor went for a revolver to shoot Nolan, but the latter managed in his absence to break loose, when he was pursued and handcuffed and delivered over by the officers and citizens.

VERDICT.—The jury of inquest held in Boston on the body of Patrick Hickey, returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to his death at the Massachusetts General Hospital at 1 P. M., July 13, in consequence of injuries inflicted on him by one Nelson Gage, while engaged in a quarrel on Cragie Bridge, both being intoxicated at the time."

DISTILLERY STABLES.—The New York Board of Health has adopted the majority report of the Swill Milk Committee of the Board of Aldermen of that city, thus giving the official approval of the city authorities to the stumptail nuisance. But, happily for the public health, says the Times, there is no law, not even the law of necessity, to compel people to drink the stumptail abomination.

☞ The annual Landscape is given in Godey's August number of his Ladies' Magazine; and we consider it the prettiest one he has ever published. We are sure it will please. He also gives a five-figure, authentic-colored fashion-plate, fashions that can be used,—and literary contents of a high order.

☞ A missionary in New York, State says, "I have never found natural affection so utterly lost, as to make parents utterly insensible to the moral welfare of their children."

☞ Mary A. Poole, at North Wilbraham, a girl of 16 years, killed a black snake eight feet and nine inches long; but her courage gave way and she fled, on seeing another and larger one coming to the rescue of his companion.

☞ Some wag writing from Cairo, Ill., since the subsiding of the flood, says there are now in that city 452 distinct and different smells, and several wards yet to hear from.

☞ The Washington Star calls the Philadelphia Press "a mud machine," and says that Forney has deliberately sold himself—body and breeches—to the Republican party, for a consideration, on the best terms he had been able to make with them.

☞ Below Point Coupee, in Louisiana, there is one broad field of sugar cane, covering thirty thousand acres. There are rows four miles in length, and as straight as an arrow. At one point the traveller can count fifteen brick sugar houses at one glance.

☞ Rev. Daniel P. Cilley was installed as pastor of the Freewill Baptist church of Farmington, on Wednesday, June 30.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

PROLAPSUS UTERI.

This prevalent disease is manifestly one of general and local debility, and requires for its alleviation the alterative and tonic virtues of iron. The PERUVIAN SYRUP offers this element in the only form in which it can enter the blood. Its administration is safe, certain, and free from the disagreeable effects of other preparations of iron.

LOCAL.

ENTERPRISE.—The Daily Morning Chronicle of Friday gives the proceedings of a railroad meeting held in this city on Tuesday last. The account was copied from a Weekly paper published on Wednesday afternoon. The proceedings were also published in the Boston papers of Wednesday morning. Festina lente.—Gazette.

Well, now, if that isn't pretty well, too! What ails that fellow of the Gazette? Do we owe him anything? or has he got stock in that railroad he speaks of?

Why, all the editors in the city, except ourself, the junior of the Journal, and "Scissors" of the Gazette, went on a free blow to the White Mountains (not the Mountains to Mahomet)—even Uncle Toby "left" for the interior for a day or two, and our Reporter stampeded with the rest of the press-gang.

Now is it any wonder, with so much of the editorial responsibility of this good and noted city, devolving upon us, that we missed this one trifling item?—which is all our accuser can bring against us, (hope he don't bring it as "a rail-ing accusation"); or that when all the fun was going on up over the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, we should forget that there was any Eastern road?

As to that little fellow's Latin—Fistiana lent—that doubtless means he would "lend us one, under the eye," or somewhere—no, I thank you, sir; if he insists upon fighting, we shall insist upon letting him alone. But we want him to understand, "his size is all that saves him."

F.

☞ Just before we went to sleep, the other night, a lot of fellows got under our window; and such a noise as they made, we never desire to hear beat. They were not in uniform—neither were we, that is, not in parade dress; and before we could bring ourself to face our disturbers, they had blown themselves away—as most persons who attack you with wind, usually do. So we can't say, to a certainty, who they were; but we have our suspicions. As to their object, we took it to be personal to ourselves—but learned afterwards that the music was intended for one Sarah—what's her name?—seron-ade or some such title; and probably when those chaps discovered that no such woman lived there, they thought they might as well be going. We only wish we had caught them, that's all—we would have "taken them in and done for" them.

F.

☞ The Chroniclers are indebted to an old business friend and former neighbor, one who has perhaps contributed as much direct personal patronage to the paper as any one man,—for a handsome basket of nice red and white cherries, furnished for their regaling, on Friday afternoon. We will assure him that this remembrance will not cause forgetfulness of his former favors; and for a sentiment to go with his gift: we hope when he has done with all books here, he will find the Book of Record all right; and that his last exchange will be, of this earthly tabernacle, for the house not made with hands—on his insurance in which, may he suffer no discount.

F.

ACCIDENT ON C. & P. R.—On Wednesday, June 30, Robert Sherley, of Portsmouth, while at work as brakeman on the gravel train at Raymond, had his legs caught in the brake in such a manner as to fracture the bone and lacerate the skin in a most frightful manner. The bones were set and the wound dressed by Dr. Gould, of Raymond, and the injured man taken to his home. It was subsequently found necessary to amputate the limb, which operation was performed on Thursday, July 8th, by Dr. Oliver of this city, and the sufferer is now improving.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

☞ The Constructor at the Portsmouth Navy Yard has received orders to prepare a model and plans, subject to the approval of the Department, for a steam sloop-of-war. The vessel is to be a propeller of about 1000 tons.

☞ The Piscataqua Association of Congregational (orthodox) Ministers, will be held at Newington on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock.

☞ By attention of editors of the Traveller, and Conductor Young ofthe Eastern Railroad, we received a postscript edition of that paper containing particulars of the accident on the Erie Railroad, and other news. The accident occurred about 75 miles from New York City.

☞ According to the Spiritual Register there are 1,037,500 Spiritualists in this country. Isn't that setting it rather high?

MARRIED.

In Nashua, Phineas P. Mitchell, of Litchfield, to Mary F. Swallow.

In Hancock, Leonard McKean, of Manchester, to Mrs. Eliza A. Nicholas of Antrim.

DIED.

In Newington, on Thursday evening, July 15th, Mr. Henry O. Foye, aged 35, late of Lawrence, and son of Mr. Thomas F. Foye.

Funeral on Sunday at 2 o'clock, P. M., at the Meeting House, in Newington.

In Dover, Mary R. Towle, aged 47, wife of John W. Towle, Esq.—Miss Lydia J. Quimby, aged 25. In Amesbury, Dr. Israel Balch, aged 70.

In Newmarket, Samuel Evans, aged 26.

In Great Falls, John Donahoe, aged 28.—Nancy Hubbard, aged 46, wife of James Hubbard.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT. —New York, July 16.—When the 6 o'clock train of last evening from this city, on the Erie Road, was at Skin Hollow, just this side of Port Jervis, a rail gave way, and the two rear cars, were thrown down an embankment of 30 feet.

Nine persons were killed—Mr. and Mrs. Brown and son, of Tioga Valley; Louis Lary, wife and child, of New Orleans; Mrs. Adam Ray; Wm. Childer (a boy,) and H. Wood.

Forty-seven were wounded, including J. W. Beals, Rev. E. Palmer and Mr. Wallace of Boston.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.—Washington correspondents state that Gen. Scott has issued preparatory orders for all the available troops on the Atlantic seaboard, to be in readiness to reinforce the army in Washington Territory. A detachment will leave New York for Aspinwall in the steamer of the 20th.

The Court Martial, in Commander Boutwell's case, has sentenced him to dismissal. The President approves the finding, but has mitigated the sentence to five years' suspension from duty.

☞ Four brothers, sons of Mr. John Persley, at Baltimore, hired a boat on Saturday evening last for a sail, and on Sunday morning the boat was found capsized, and since then two of the bodies have been found. They were no doubt all drowned. The names of the drowned are John Persley Jr., aged 26; Wm. Persley, aged 24; Michael Persley, aged 22; and Thomas Persley, aged 19.

☞ Loefner, the Cincinnati murderer, is endeavoring to starve himself. On the 13th inst. he had neither eaten or spoken for five days. He refused to partake of food.

☞ The dwelling house of Anson Vincent, in Redding, Conn., was struck by lightning on the 11th inst., and one of the inmates, Miss Nancy Godfrey, was instantly killed.

☞ A banker, name not given, having charge of a bank at Peoria, Ill., has absconded, leaving the bank minus $25,000. Gambling is said to be the cause of his crime.

☞ Lorenzo Matton of Washington, Mass., was run over and killed by a freight train on the night of the 3d inst. He had fallen upon the track in a state of intoxication.

CIRCUMSTANCES V. EDUCATION.—We do not intend to argue which of these give a man the best position; but we are "educated" to believe that "under the circumstances" a grey haired person had better use HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING, and take a "position" among "Young America."

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Haying Tools.

Ho! farmers away to the well ripened field,
Where a burden of grass to your mowing will yield,
But as you go by, you will surely do well
To look into the shop of URIAH BLAISDELL,
And buy a good Scythe as sharp as a razor,
That cuts down grass and grain, without showing favor
To the great or the small, to the thick or the thin.
But buy a good Rifle, before you begin.
There are Horse Rakes, and Drag Rakes, and hand Rakes made neat,
To gather the scatterings of Hay or of Wheat,
And Sickles, steel tempered, all made of the best,
That reap Rye, Wheat or Barley when put to the test,
The Bucket and Tub, to hold water to drink,
The threshing Machine, for a shilling, O think!
And the Tin Pots and Kettles, to carry your dinner.
Lest, if you go hungry, your face may be thinner.
So sharpen your tools, fill your kettles, and that
Will make you work easy, and laugh and grow fat.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.

THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE

Hon. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
Hon. TIMOTHEUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
Hon. EBENEZER WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are two every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SHAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. The singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the mineral secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.
BOSTON, Feb 27, 1845.

TO DR. D. F. BRADLEY—Dear Sir—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my testimonial of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, acute pains in the side, and in a low state, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe colds, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. Yours, CHRISTIAN HOOD.

This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hogg, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam, and have also used the medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and those arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in these two sources, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very searching and efficacious. They act upon the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dwight, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills perfectly unexceptionable in their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any other medicine. I cheerfully and sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Shurtz, Druggist, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me some time ago to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the disease of the bowels generally, I always seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed, I have experimentally fortified them in the old saying in relation to almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and chronic diarrhœa, which yields to no other treatment so promptly and effectually as to your Pills."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. E. Sturtz, who practises as a Physician and Midwife.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion, which clearly or partially relieves the system of the foetal to close the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Dunn, of Peoria, Illinois, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it to the world. I have had a long and tedious case of this complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Kimball Smith, Philadelphia.

"You were kindly praying saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and expel from the system that acrimony which is the fertile engendering disease. They eliminate the crude ones of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"In short, your pills prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — TIC — &c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR.—Your Pills are a good remedy for most complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that are ever tried with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on your Pills for a family cathartic, and I believe as I believe in the sun, that of all the medicines we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every course of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is a compound of the best vegetable balsams, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Incipient Consumption, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, the medicine finds its way to every home, and even some of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European Kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet in continent, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. It goes on its way conquering one to what men of every degree of celebrity it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to deal in facts; if there be any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other medicine known to mankind. Nothing but the intrinsic value, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment hundreds of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been promptly treated by correspondence, came under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients need fear to write by address Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled for efficacy and simplicity in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article, with a resemblance of his fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in possession of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent by mail to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluid, and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it: and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, see their beauty without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEER RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in New Haven paper a letter "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and it cured to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—the hair was thin. I have used but two pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VICKSBURG, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It never leaves any bad or disagreeable smell, nor one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WASON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is drawn in the fairest honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as fully protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of figures to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following newspapers—viz: Boston Post, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dey Book. Write your address plainly and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the credulous and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are positively the safest remedy for the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike any other description of Carriage Springs, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, as it is known, that nothing but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, then inasmuch as they have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread among their friends, as they are now prepared to do, always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,681, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort Sullivan, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the mansions of Hon. William Pepperell and Sarah Sparhawk. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are seldom felt here. This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave twice daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times.

Valuable Real Estate FOR SALE.

THE following Real Estate will be sold, and a good and clear title guaranteed by warrantees from heirs, and quitclaims from mortgagees and all others having any legal interest in the premises.

The large and commodious mansion, known as THE HILL HOUSE, No. 18 Vaughan st., Portsmouth. Said house, within a few years, has been put in thorough repair, had new chimney, been raised and underpinned (partially with granite), with granite steps in front. It contains a good cellar, basement kitchen, and, on the first floor, a large hall, two handsome front parlors, a large dining room, two kitchens and a scullery. The second floor comprises the upper hall and seven chambers. There also four attic chambers. The house is well supplied with water, by aqueduct running to the kitchen and thence to dining-room and hall. Connected with said mansion are a STABLE and Wood house, nearly new; a commodious front yard, and a large garden, containing a variety of choice fruit trees. In addition to the above, the favorableness of the location, being central, in the business portion of the city, and on the main street leading to the depots, renders it a desirable purchase for a gentleman's residence, or to be kept as a first-class boarding house. The house is also well arranged for two families;

Also, for sale, the COTTAGE HOUSE (so called) near by, on Hill street; said house being nearly new and suitable for one or two families;

Also, for sale, all the HOUSES and LOTS on Hill and Bridge streets, now unsold, belonging to the estate of Samuel Hill, deceased;

Also, will be sold, a portion of the HILL FARM, in Newington; a tract of land known as the "Downing field" containing about 35 acres. Said field is from the best of the farm, being excellent meadow and tillage land, and the situation most desirable. It extends from the main road to the Piscataqua river.

To any one about to purchase, this offers a rare inducement. For terms, &c., apply to

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY, JULY 14, 1858. NO. 139.

RYE, July 15, 1858.

Messrs. Editors:—Methinks I hear you ask, "What can that fellow find to write about in Rye?" Not much I grant,—my chief object in making this communication being to correct a false impression which seems to have prevailed in regard to the people of Rye.

That we are all a set of avaricious, money-loving, coarse, unlettered bipeds, is not true. That we can see no beauties in the magnificent waters which bound us on one side, except that the seaweed is an excellent fertilizer and that the strangers who visit us transmit their gold to our pockets, is not true. On the reverse, there are many here, who, when the sun is low, love to sit on the beach and be soothed by the steady beat of the great heart of the Atlantic, as it sends its crystal blood through all its arterial creeks and bays;—who love to watch the twilight as it creeps along the horizon, blending sea and sky in one, till the stars begin to glitter and the warning light on White Island begins its nightly term of pirouettes;—who love to see the moon shedding her refulgence on the waters, leaving a silver wake;—who love to see the huge waves when they dash against the ragged rock and then retreat in confusion at their defeat.

And the close observer may see patches of flowers before many of the dwellings.—True the colors may be a little gaudy, and the varieties may not be so choice as are to be found in some conservatories, but still the innate love of the beautiful hereby expressed should clear us from the imputation of being soulless niggards.

But few new houses are built in Rye, but those few are such as no place need be ashamed of.

Corn and potatoes look finely hereabout, of grass there is a good crop, and the cereals present a uniformly good appearance. Quite a lot of hay has been housed, but there is still a great deal for the haymaker to do, and some of them have had considerable hay wet during the present "moist term."

Our roads are good, and when the weather stands in the same positive position, come down to Rye and see the ATLANTIC.

About thirty years ago when Sir Edward Lytton Bulwer was a bridegroom, and the present Lady Bulwer, his bride—that exquisite poetess "L. E. L." wrote and published an account of their characters and personal appearance. They were both quite young and each of them was in delicate health. The bridegroom was described as pale and fascinating, and the bride was painted as a fragile and fairy-like creature of surpassing loveliness. The tender tints of her cheek were said to be "like rose-leaves crushed on ivory." The description was read everywhere, and the public admiration and the public sympathy were deeply excited for the charming young pair, who, it was thought, must soon pass away from a world too coarse and rude for such gentle and lovely natures as theirs.

Ah little dreamed the reader then, that, after a very few years, the gentle bridegroom would strike the tender bride, that she would seek redress by publishing a series of coarse, fierce, and vituperative novels and pamphlets against him; and that after a few more years, she grown to be a sturdy, red-faced, and muscular woman, would pursue him in his canvass for Parliament, take her stand upon the hustings in reply to his public speeches, call upon him to confront her, shout "coward" at him in his precipitate flight from her presence, and announce her determination to persecute him till he should cry for mercy and humbly make her amends for all his villanies.

Mr. Thomas McNabb, at San Francisco, has been successful in an attempt to ride two hundred miles within ten hours. He rode California stock entirely, forty-two horses having been provided for the occasion. The running commenced at 7 o'clock in the morning, and terminated at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, less 13 minutes, leaving him winner of the wager of $2500 by 11 1-2 minutes. Mr. McNabb stopped to refresh himself between the 71st and 80th miles, and again between the 111th and 120 miles, occupying from 4 to 5 minutes each time, and on another occasion sat on the grass and rested for 9 minutes. The shortest time of accomplishing any single ten miles was 26 minutes, 15 seconds. The longest, 33 minutes, 30 seconds.

A sick man in Palmer, Me., was nearly poisoned, last week, by rum recently seized at the groggery of Kate Hayes, and sold for sickness by the town agent. Observing its effects upon himself, he resolved to try it on the bugs which infested his vines, and succeeded in destroying both bugs and vines.—Exchange.

Rather tough; but may be true.

A BARREL OF LAGER FOR EACH MAN.—The Philadelphia Ledger says that there are one hundred thousand barrels, of thirty-two gallons each, of lager beer manufactured in that city in a year. That is a barrel for every male adult in the city.

☞ The new boat which the Yale boys have bought to beat Harvard with, is built of six pieces only, fitted with spoon oars, no rudder; a four-oared boat, thirty-eight feet long, and weighs only 138 lbs.

☞ In Virginia, a man sent to the penitentiary the third time is never allowed to quit the institution. A man named Blankenship, recently sent there, finds himself in this predicament.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Post, writes that a gentleman said to Mr. Buchanan the other day—"Well, Mr. President, you have got rid of Kansas for the present." "Yes," replied Mr. Buchanan "for the present, There is no peace for the wicked.'" There is many a true word spoken in jest.

"Sir," said an irascible man, excited by a theological argument, to his opposite neighbor, who had differed from him, "Sir, I believe you are either a Deist or an Atheist."

"Wrong, sir," was the rejoinder, "I am a dentist."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by transmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this; none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense advantage of practice during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 19, 1858.

THE DIFFERENCE.

It may be of interest to some readers to see the permissive sections in three successive Hawker and Pedler Laws of New Hampshire.

I. We give from the Revised Statutes, approved in 1842, sec. 2, chap. 24, p. 238.

Sec. 2. The preceding provision shall not apply to any person going about selling or exposing to sale any articles, the growth, product or manufacture of the United States, except feathers, distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry.

II. Next, we give sec. 2 of the Pedler Law of 1848, from the Compiled Statutes, p. 281.

Sec. 2. The provisions of the preceding section shall not apply to any citizen of this State who shall present to the clerk of the court of common pleas, a certificate from the selectmen of the town in which he resides, of his inability to earn a subsistence by manual labor, by reason of ill health or decrepitude, nor to any person going about or otherwise selling or exposing for sale, fish, broadstuffs, meat and animals, or any articles of the growth, produce or manufacture of this State, except distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry.

III. and last, in the new law of 1858, Sec. 3 provides that "nothing in this chapter shall prevent any citizen from selling any fish, fruit, provisions, farming utensils or other articles lawfully raised or manufactured in this State."

The reader who will compare this extract from the law of 1858 with that of '48, will see that the insertion of the word "other" is all that makes it in the least doubtful whether fish, fruit, and provisions may be peddled here, wherever they grew, or were prepared. We suppose it might be so construed, even now, as to admit them—but the more natural construction would be to shut them out, though we think this was not intended.

Some of the largest and most reliable pedlers of foreign goods are making arrangements to continue their business and pay the tax.

FROM MEXICO.—The New Orleans papers of Thursday contain details of Mexican news. The earthquake in the valley of Mexico, on the 18th of June, was very disastrous. The loss in the city of Mexico alone is estimated at $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. Churches, theatres, aqueducts, convents and railroads, were seriously damaged or entirely demolished. The villages along the valley were all more or less injured. The country seat of Gen. Gadsden, late American Minister, was almost entirely destroyed. Fifty lives were lost, as far as known. Gen. Osollos, of the government forces, died at San Luis on the 18th.

Guanajato had been captured and sacked by the Constitutional troops.

The Vomito was making fearful ravages among the troops at Vera Cruz.

CHANGES.—The State of California has been passing laws against the Chinese population, more and more severe and stringent. But now behold a great and sudden change! The Frazer River gold excitement has carried off a host of laborers from San Francisco and all other parts of the State. The Chinese are taking their places: and it is now confidently said the new legislature will promptly repeal the laws against the Chinese, as soon as they assemble; and the State will probably encourage Chinese and Coolie immigration. Of so little use is it to contend against human need or divine providence.

NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.—The seventh number of this great work is just issued. Edson C. Eastman, Concord, general agent for New Hampshire—Joseph H. Foster agent in Portsmouth. "It is a complete statement of all that is known upon every important topic within the scope of human intelligence. Every family ought to possess a copy of the New Cyclopædia. It is a library in itself. Let each man save twenty-five cents a week, and by the time the work is complete, he can not only own the fifteen volumes, but also a handsome book-case to keep them in." It is the cheapest and most valuable literary work of the age.

☞ In France the wild chesnut tree is grafted when three or four years old, and the product of the tree is a farinaceous nut which the people cook and serve as a dessert at their meals, finding it not only palatable but nutritious. The tree becomes very graceful, and is planted as an ornament, and for shade.

☞ Mr. E. C. Delavan, it is reported, has paid off the whole debt of the New York State Temperance Society, amounting to $9168, out of his own pocket.

☞ The London correspondent of the Springfield Republican thus writes on the domestic affairs of Charles Dickens:—"About twenty-two years ago, Mr. Dickens, then a clerk, married a very pretty and amiable young girl, (whose parents were opposed to the match, as far beneath her,) and took her home to obscure lodgings in Furnival's Inn. For some years they lived very happily together; but Mr. Dickens having become a great man, flattered and courted, finds that his domestic felicity is not as great as could be desired. Two or three years ago he gave a dinner to his literary friends on the anniversary of his wedding day, and in proposing his wife's health, stated that he had never seen a shade of ill-temper over her in his life.—This equability of disposition does not satisfy him. She is not intellectual. He reads his works to her, and she, absorbed in needle work, inquires abstractedly what he means by some of his most brilliant passages. In short she is not a companion for him, so the brilliant novelist and actor separates on the ground of "incompatibility" from her whom he vowed before God to love and cherish, and from henceforth their lives have separate ends. The eldest child, a youth of 21, has chosen to follow the fortunes of his mother, while the daughters remain with their father. To make the affair still more notorious, a young lady, Mrs. Dickens' sister, has undertaken to "keep house" for Mr. Dickens and his daughters. The whole affair is repugnant to our ideas of matrimonial constancy, and has not enlarged the circle of Mr. Dickens' admirers."

WIFE WHIPPING. — A German named Frank Bernard, yesterday whipped his wife severely, pounding her with his fists, and almost breaking her nose. He plead justification, inasmuch as his wife was whipping his child "several times the while," and he told her to stop, and she wouldn't. In Germany he had a right to whip his wife. He was informed that they did not allow such performances in a free country, and he was particularly astonished when informed that his little adventure was valued to the county at $15. He did not have the amount, and went to the penitentiary to work it out.—Buffalo Republic.

This reminds us, says the Atlas, of the case of an Irishman whom we once saw in court on trial for whipping his wife. The Justice asked him what he had to say in his own defence, and he replied: "All I've to say, yer Honor, is this, jist, me wife is at me biddin', an' I bad her to get the mate, an' she wudn't, an' I slathered her, be gorra!" Pat was fined ten dollars and costs.

☞ According to the City Superintendent of Education in New York, the female public schools in that city are of considerably higher grade than the male schools; and their superiority is not confined to particular branches of study, it being as great in mathematics as in most other branches. Eighteen girls' schools are superior in average attainment, to the best boys' school.

☞ It is not more than twenty years ago since the tinder box was in universal use. It is abolished now. The invention of the friction match spread slowly, but who, at this day, would venture to say they could do without it. Insignificant as matches appear to be, single factories, with extensive machinery, cut up large rafts of timber annually for them.

☞ A young German was very badly injured in Chicago on Monday, 5th inst., by firing, on wager of a half dime, a cracker held in his mouth. He won the bet, but was seriously burned, his tongue and cheek were lacerated, and two of his teeth blown out.

☞ When we see weak people striving for precedence, we always think of the decision of Charles V., who, when two ladies applied to him to decide which should take the precedence of the other, said, "Let the greatest simpleton go first." The greatest simpleton in our day always insists on going first.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press affirms that forty-five cents on the dollar of the amount paid for the Post Office printing, goes to the men who do the work, and that the balance is divided among the men who control the contract.

☞ A Cincinnati judge has fined a man the enormous sum of eight dollars for whipping a woman, with a child in her arms, in the public streets. The woman was his former mistress, and the child his own offspring. The judge must have a "fellow feeling" for the brute who perpetrated the outrage.

☞ The Queen's Bench in England have decided that ill health is a sufficient excuse for breach of promise of marriage.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE BROKEN.

The ship Alice Munroe, Capt. Comings, from Liverpool, arrived at Boston, has news of the Atlantic telegraph fleet. On Sunday, June 27th, in latitude 52 05 N., longitude 33 15 W., Capt. Comings saw two ships, the Niagara and the Gorgon, heading eastward, and made for them.—Mr. Cyrus W. Field, and a lieutenant of the Niagara boarded the Munroe, and Mr. Field informed Capt. Comings that two unsuccessful attempts to lay the cable had been made; that on Saturday, the 26th ult., the second attempt was made, but after depositing forty miles of wire the communication was interrupted. The Niagara and her companion were at the original starting point, waiting the return of the Agamemnon and Valorous, when overhauled by Captain Comings. When these ships come up a third splice was to have been made, and a third experiment tried. At the time of the second breakage, the weather was fine and the sea calm; notwithstanding these facts, "Mr. Field seemed to be in good spirits and thought they should yet succeed in laying the cable."

It appears by a statement prepared for the Boston Courier, that both vessels, the Niagara and Agamemnon, experienced the most violent southerly gales from the day they left Plymouth, and were driven as far north as latitude 54—much higher than the rendezvous—thus delaying their opperations for several days. The Niagara behaved in all respects like a thorough sea-going vessel, and was none the worse for the storms. The Agamemnon on the contrary, suffered severely. At one time the commander of the Agamemnon informed his first officer that they might as well prepare for a watery grave,—he had no hopes of saving his vessel two hours longer, such was her straining. But the storm subsided at last, and the Agamemnon rode out the gale. A most unfortunate accident occurred on board, however, caused by the breaking loose of the "cone," which held the cable in its position on the gun deck. The cable "got adrift," and was pitched about the deck, undoubtedly much to its damage. Two hundred tons of coal also "got adrift" on the same deck, and caused infinite trouble. Two seamen were injured by these accidents, one of them having an arm broken and the other having a leg broken.

The two vessels and their tenders finally arrived on the ground, and on the morning of the 26th, a connection of the cable was effected; the weather being then sufficiently calm. The paying out of the cable had scarcely commenced before the wire snapped. After a few hours detention, another splice was made, and the steamers started, the Agamemnon and her consort for Ireland, and the Niagara and her companion for the American coast. Signals were kept up between the two fleets constantly, a message being transmitted every fifteen minutes; and all was going on well till about forty miles had been paid out, when the electricians on board the Niagara discovered that the current was broken. This was at half-past twelve, A. M., of the 27th. The Niagara was immediately put about, and she had already reached the mid-ocean rendezvous, at eight o'clock when first seen by the Alice Munroe.

It was believed on board the Niagara that the cause of the second breaking, was a kink in the Agamemnon's wire, caused by the disarrangement during the gale; but of this there is no certainty.

THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.—To us, the most unexpected thing, if not the most astonishing—was the number and extent of the Mountains. We had pictured to ourselves a single chain or row of hills; and were entirely unprepared for the wide expanse of peaks, of varied height, stretching out on either hand as far as the eye could reach. The editor of the Nashua Telegraph seems to have entertained somewhat similar feelings, as he "stood there and realized in that august presence—with nothing but mountains on every side, and stretching away as far as the eye could reach—the utter insignificance of a single human life, more keenly, probably than we shall ever realize it elsewhere, till the wonders of eternity are opened to our sight."

RUSH FROM THE SOUTHERN MINES.—The Sonora and Mokelume Hill stages, yesterday, brought down seventy-two passengers—mostly hard-fisted, long-bearded miners, bound for Frazer River. We are informed that there are some two hundred persons in Sonora who are awaiting their turns to obtain passage on the stages, all bound for the Frazer River diggings.—Stockton Journal.

TOILET FOR GENTLEMEN.—For preserving the complexion, temperance; to preserve the breath sweet, abstinence from tobacco; for whitening hands, honesty; to remove a sin, repentance; easy shaving soap, ready money; for improving the sight, observation; a beautiful ring, a family circle; for improving the voice, civility; the best companion at the toilet, a wife.

Wm. H. Hubbard has just been caught and held to bail in Keene, N. H., for passing counterfeit threes on the Andover, Mass., Bank, in that town last year.

LEUCORRHŒA.

This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

CIRCUMSTANCES V. EDUCATION.—We do not intend to argue which of these give a man the best position; but we are "educated" to believe that "under the circumstances" a grey haired person had better use HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING, and take a "position" among "Young America."

250 Cords Hard Wood Wanted.

SEALED and separate Proposals will be received at the City Clerks Office, in this city, until Wednesday, the 11th day of August next, at 5 o'clock P. M., for furnishing for the use of the Alms House in this City, 150 Cords of the first quality of Hard Wood, to be delivered at the Creek Bridge, on or before the 31st day of October next.

Also, 150 Cords, more or less, of the same quality, to be distributed to out door pensioners, in such quantities and at such times as shall be directed by the Overseers of the Poor, during the ensuing year.

The Overseers reserve the rights to reject any offer, if they deem that the interests of the City require it.

By Order of the Overseers of the Poor.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strenght or aroma escaping. One tenth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1 50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2 50; 4 qt., 3 00; 6 qt., 3 50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PROLAPSUS UTERI.

This prevalent disease is manifestly one of general and local debility, and requires for its alleviation the alterative and tonic virtues of iron. The PERUVIAN SYRUP offers this element in the only form in which it can enter the blood. Its administration is safe, certain, and free from the disagreeable effects of other preparations of iron.

French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unbounded success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to a healthy; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas A Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

☞ Shakespeare made a direct proposition, July 7th, to Flying Cloud—boats or wherries to be rowed as per Regatta—which proposition was accepted by an agent for the Flying Cloud. Why don't they come to time? I notice in your paper of the 16th inst. a chapter of propositions which that critter Balaam rode might see and laugh at.—That war of words is all "High Betty Martin." D.

☞ Mr. Odion's little boat, the Hiawatha, did not reach Boston in season to enter for that Regatta. Well, it is good for the rest of 'em, that she did not—else she would have brought away some "laughing water" with her.

THE LEXINGTON TRAGEDY.—Mr. Joseph Beard, the City Marshal of Lexington, Ky., an esteemed gentleman, was in the market on the morning of the 10th, in the discharge of his duties, when a man of the name of Wm. Barker, a notorious ruffian, bully and thief, forced Mr. John McChesney into a difficulty. Mr. Beard interfered, and told Barker he must go to the watch-house.—Barker walked off some twenty paces with him, and then drawing a small bowie knife, stabbed him in the side, and as he rose from the blow, stabbed him again, killing him on the spot. Barker was immediately arrested and conveyed to jail.—In the course of half an hour the city was in a ferment.

At about seven o'clock, two hours and a half after the murder, all the fire bells in the city rang. This seemed to be the signal. In a short space of time, the court house and yard were filled with people.—A motion was made and seconded to hang the murderer immediately. The jailor, Mr. Blincoe, was seized, and the keys forced from him, and Barker taken to the court house. Here an effort was made to induce the mob to wait and let the prisoner be tried and hung by the action of the law, but their voices were drowned in shouts, "Hang him! hang him!" A beam was thrown out of the second story window, and a rope being placed around their victim's neck, he was asked if he did not wish to pray. He replied with an oath, asking what he was to pray for, uttering threats at the same time, as to what he would do with the questioner if he was released. The rope being attached to the beam outside, he was tossed from the window, falling some six feet. The rope breaking, he fell to the pavement, fracturing his skull.

He was again taken up on a ladder and thrown over. This time the rope held, and he was left swinging for two hours in broad day.

The crowd generally dispersed as soon as the hanging was finished. In an hour everything was quiet as usual; as quiet as if two gross violations of the law of God and man had not occurred within a few hours.

Very many of those who were considered the best citizens, are said to have been engaged in this. It was quietly and quickly done.

Mr. Board was a very estimable citizen, and the Democratic candidate for re-election. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss, nearly or entirely destitute. $1000 have already been raised for them.

METHODIST GENERAL BIBLICAL INSTITUTE. Concord, N. H., July 16.—For the last two or three days this pleasant city has been enlivened by the anniversary exercises of this institute. It is but twelve years since this "School of the Prophets" was established, but it occupies no mean place among the theological schools of our country. The number in attendance during the year has been over seventy, an increase over any previous year.

NEW YORK, July 17.—A dispatch from Washington says a special messenger left on Thursday for Mexico, with dispatches to Minister Forsyth, approving his suspension of diplomatic intercourse and directing the withdrawal of the Legation and its return home.

THE RAILROAD DISASTER.—New York, July 17.——Later advices state that Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Tioga are so badly injured it is feared they will die. Rev. Edmund B. Palmer, of Boston, it is thought will also die. John E. White of this city is lying in a critical state.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SATURDAY, July 17.

Cld sch Isaac Rich, Smith, Philadelphia.

FROM COLONEL STEPTOE.—Washington, July 15.—The War Department has received official despatches stating that Col. Steptoe, with a command of five commissioned officers and 152 rank and file, was attacked and defeated by a large body of Indians on the 17th of May, about 85 miles north of Snake river. The battle lasted from 7 in the morning to a short time before sunset, when the ammunition being nearly exhausted, and the musquetoons almost useless against the enemy, a retreat and a forced march to the crossings of the Snake river became necessary. The following were killed and died of their wounds:—Brevet Capt. D. H. P. Taylor; 2d Lieut. W. Gaston: 1st Sergeant W. C. Williams; privates, A. Barns, V. C. D. May, C. H. Harrush, J. Crossett.—Wounded severely:—H. Montreville, J. Lynch, W. Milson, H. Suisker, O. A. Hammond. Wounded slightly:—E. K. Birch, Maurice Hurley, C. Hughes, J. Kelley, G. Benger and J. Klay.

KANSAS—OUTRAGES ON THE UTAH ARMY. New York, July 15.—C. W. Babcock, Mayor of Lawrence city, Kansas, is now in this city He says the latest indications in his territory are that the English bill will not get 1000 votes at the coming election.

The St. Louis Democrat gives details of several outrages committed at the camp of the 6th column Utah Army, encamped on the Big Blue. There was continual fighting among the camp followers, and several teamsters had been shot and two or three cut to pieces. Lieut. T. Magrauder of the 2d Cavalry, was shot dead on the night of the 28th of June, by a man named Proko. The assassin was arrested and tried by the civil authorities at Marysville, and discharged. Major Emory afterwards sent a detachment of troops for the arrest of the murderer, but they were unsuccessful.—The dysentery was very prevalent among the troops—60 men were down with it.

NAVAL.—A letter from Key West, of July 11th, furnishes the following naval intelligence:

"U. S. steamer Water Witch, Lieut. Rodger, sailed on the 9th for Charleston, with despatches from the Colorado, for Washington.

[The Water Witch has since arrived at Charleston.]

The U. S. steam frigate Colorado is in part disabled, having broken her shaft.

The frigate Wabash, and sloop-of-war Macedonian, were to sail on the 11th, and cruise in the Gulf."

The New York Times publishes the following extract of a private letter dated Key West, July 10th, in regard to the miserable condition of the new war steamer Colorado:—

"The Colorado went up to the government wharf to-day to take in coal to bring her down in the water, being very light, preparatory to her going to New York or Boston. She will probably leave here by the 24th or 25th July. She must go home to repair her machinery, which will take some three or four months, and to break out her foul and filthy hold, which it would be unsafe to do in this climate.—The officers at the Gosport Navy Yard should be held to a strict accountability for sending this fine ship to sea in such a condition. She was sent to sea without going into dock, and she was also very foul in her bottom—oysters and grass—which prevented her sailing qualities being thoroughly tested. Her breaking down may be regarded as providential; for, had her machinery been in a condition to have gone to San Juan, and have gone there, the lives of many officers and men would have been sacrificed to this neglect of duty on the part of the officers at the Gosport Navy Yard."

GREAT DECLINE IN THE PRICE OF MEAT. At the different city markets during the week the number of sheep offered for sale has exceeded twenty thousand, an increase of six thousand. The average price for beef has been seven and a half cents a pound, from two to three cents lower than heretofore; and sheep and lambs are selling a dollar a head lower. At Washington market to-day, our reporter informs us that mutton was sold at two cents a pound. Still there has been no decline in prices demanded of customers, as is warranted by so large a fall in wholesale rates.—New York Evening Post, 14th.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, all together, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Law School of the University

At Cambridge, Mass.

THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE

Hon. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
Hon. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
Hon. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

Bay State Range.

A NEW and improved Cooking Apparatus, invented by the maker of the celebrated Bay State Stove, of which so many are in use in this city. It has two large ovens and six boiler holes, giving it greater capacity for cooking operations than any range now in use.

It is complete in itself, and can be set in any chimney without cost; or it can be used outside of and independent of the chimney, if desirable. Water backs are introduced to give an ample supply of hot water for bathing and other purposes.

For families, boarding houses and hotels, this Range is unrivalled for capacity, economy or convenience. For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness, which about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, leaving very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y., for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims.

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of the roots of the hair, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not injure the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

THE RIVER THAMES.—The city of London is afflicted, for its chief pride has become a stupendous nuisance. A London correspondent of the Philadelphia North American says:—

"The river Thames is creating a great anxiety in those who have to 'hug its festering shore.' It has become a huge sewer, and its stench is abominable. I innocently, a few days back, in order to get a sniff of fresh air, went up to Battersea on a river steamer, and I got mouth, nose, and stomach full of the most fetid vapor possible. It was, indeed, 'fresh' air to me, and I was exceedingly glad to get home by land. In the courts of law they are sickening; in the House of Parliament they are retching; on the bridges they are vomiting, and along the shores they are dying. In the meanwhile the rival boards of works are jawing—rival engineers are quarreling—the sewers are pouring their filth into the river, the waters of which are now absolutely black—and every facility is afforded for London to be visited by another plague. That's how we do things in glorious England.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and disease arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in these two sources, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements some eminent physicians, of the effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Carter, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the whole of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and efficacious. We use them in our family, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Reuben Ball, of New York City.

"Your pills are admirably adapted to their purpose as a purgative, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice, proved more efficacious in the cure of bilious disorders than any remedy I am acquainted with. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry T. Evans, of Lodi, Tenn.

"The Dyspeptics around us seem to one who has been long all used to my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the digestive organs, that they seem to rock upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed, I have experimented with them in fever and ague, and in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best agents we have ever found. Their kindness effect upon the liver makes them an excellent cathartic, when given in small doses, for chronic dysentery and diarrhœa. Their operation is mild, but very safe and certain; for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Dr. S. Scott, late professor of Physicians and Surgeon, Philadelphia.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretions when slowly operating upon the bowels, and are invaluable to clear the stomach and expel worms. They are in much the best pills we have; I recommend another to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. A. Mc Donald, of Kingston, Canada.

"The vast reputation of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, if all cases of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should feel no hesitation in recommending them to their patients. Costiveness is the foundation of the greatest part of the ills that flesh is heir to, and when your Pills affect that organ and use it properly, they do all that can be asked."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUM, STIFF — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rudolph Bail, Philadelphia.

"You were right when you told me that your Pills purify the blood. I find that, I have had them of late years in my practice, and with your diagnostics of their efficacy, They thoroughly purge the system of the impurities which are the cause of so many diseases. They stimulate the liver, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system, so that in you pleasure are a national benefit, and I for one feel great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS — PAIN — &c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"In my practice I have found them to exert complete cures. I have tried with your Pills better than to any of that we ever had with a regular practitioner. I place great dependence on a well tested cathartic in my family practice, and consider Dr. Ayer's Cathartic Pills as the best we have ever used, and the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although available remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, in the doubtful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral drug of any kind.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of it will bear its own eye, with invariable accuracy and success. It has stood on its merits for years, and its reputation, and consequently its sales, have kept pace with them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know what is what, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but the intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, with full instructions for the application of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invidable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of secret disease have been promptly cured by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RESTORATIVE PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in removing all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under other pretenses or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you be a dame, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns for ever to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluid;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We can call upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, neglect to procure it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 22, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir; I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out quite freely and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try what it would do for me. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir; Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—hair falling out in handfuls. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. E. THOMAS, M. D., No. 404 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1852.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and know others who have used it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely restored the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft, and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have seven commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next after the place other for the same shall have. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combinations to confuse, to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ In the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Bee, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the residence of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places never visit this place.

This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times. ANDREW AMEE,

THE FARM GIRLS OF NEW ENGLAND.—Simon Brown, editor of the New England Farmer, in speaking of the women in the farming districts of New England, says:

"I find a large proportion of the young women willing to remain on the farm so long as brothers will stay, and society is made up of two sexes instead of one.

"On their part they are fitted to adorn society, are as ally well educated, read papers and current books, and are often acquainted with classical literature; they are quick to catch the manners of living as they rise, and prove that Paris is but a step from their rural homes. Honitons, and talmas, and crinolines rustle on the hills or by their crystal streams with more unaffected grace than on the dusty paves of Boston and New York, while their fair occupants are buoyant with health and elastic spirits, and fitted to dignify and bless existence. Such should become the mothers of our land.

"In all my rambles I find parents left childless upon large farms, deploring the absence of sons at California or the West, and the once productive acres and tidy buildings neglected and going to decay. I said to the only child remaining at home of a large and prosperous family: 'The farm has its advantages and charms as well as the city, and there is less temptation to err.'

"'Yes,' said Rebecca, 'the farm has its attractions, but it lacks society; it is a life of confinement; the dairy demands constant attention and hard work, and hired men are sometimes difficult to please, after we have labored carefully to provide for them. Society is broken and meager, the young men flee to the city, or wander to distant lands, leaving the young women in charge of the farm, and to soothe and comfort the declining days of their parents.'—Such was the language of a highly intelligent, affectionate, and noble woman, and it represents the sentiments of a large class.

"Who has eloquence and persuasion sufficient to arrest the attention of young men, and convince them that in leaving the homes of their fathers and their own childhood, they gave privileges and advantages, already established, which it may take a life of labor to acquire in distant lands."

GOV. WISE ON GREASY MECHANICS.—The erratic Governor of Virginia is exhibiting good sense in patronizing the free State colonies of Eli Thayer, and whatever tends to promote industrial enterprise in the Old Dominion. In a speech which he made at the funeral ceremonies over the remains of President Monroe, he said:

It is time that Virginia was turning her attention to manufactories, mechanics, mining and foreign commerce. No country, no State, can live upon one only of the cardinal powers of production. She must resort to all the five combined, and she is doing it. Go, before you leave here, my friends from New York, and look at the iron factories that are growing up around this noble scenery. I say that labor is not the "mud-sill" of society; and I thank God that the old colonial aristocracy of Virginia, which despised mechanical and manual labor, is nearly run out. Thank God that we are beginning to raise miners, mechanics and manufacturers, who will help to raise what is left of that aristocracy up to the middle ground of respectability. (Laughter and applause.) Look at the iron factory here—look at the tobacco factory here—that factory is every day stealing my life away with the very weed of luxury. (The Governor chews tobacco freely.)

"TALL NONSENSE."—The Parisian journals give a sketch of a spiritual institution, which they say that Hume, the American medium, and his new Russian wife, are about to establish at Paris. After describing the studies of the different classes in the institution, the account says:—

"Well informed persons pretend that, before returning to Paris, Hume will pass through Holstein, where he will visit, in the cave whither he has retired, the celebrated counte of Saint Germain, from whom he expects to obtain—for the spirits have promised it him—twenty-seven of the fourteen thousand seven hundred secrets which the immortal count carries in his bosom. These twenty-seven secrets—the most important of the ancient Egyptian Cabala, and which are to restore to us the mysteries of Isis and Anubis—these twenty-seven secrets, together with the four that Hume already knows, are to form a total of superhuman knowledge, which will make the happy initiated equal in power, beauty, longevity, health, happiness and knowledge, with the inhabitants of the planets of the third order. The earth, it is well known, is only a poor planet of the forty-fourth order."

Truly we live in an age of "humbug."

A cat, even if she be friendly, never approaches bees by a direct course. No more does the truth, O friend; but winding around thy stupidities, and rubbing up against thy prejudices, it reaches thee gently, and then, perhaps, scratches.

It is said that the blackberry crop promises to be unusually large this year.

☞ The recent great fire at the London docks was made more disastrous by the explosion of large quantities of saltpetre stored in the warehouses. Several explosions occurred of great power, completely prostrating the massive walls of the buildings, and shaking the city like an earthquake. Several lives are supposed to have been lost. The question as to the explosiveness of saltpeter seems to be thoroughly settled by this instance.

A NAP IN A WHEEL-HOUSE.—One of the hands on the steamer Empire State—an Irisman, named John Flannigan—on Monday last, being unable to sleep in the forecastle on account of the heat, found a cool retreat in the wheel house, where he was soon fast asleep. When he awoke he found the steamer was in motion, and escape was impossible. He was deluged with water, and in danger of being killed by the wheel in case he lost his hold on the timbers. His shouts were unheard, and he remained in his uncomfortable predicament twelve hours, till the boat reached Newport, when his yells were heard, and he was relieved. Probably he won't want to take a nap in a wheel-house very soon again.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

RECIPROCAL RESTRICTIONS.

There are now restrictive hawker and pedler laws in all the New England States. The Manchester American gives the following statements and opinions.

The restrictive pedler law now existing in Maine excludes all New Hampshire men from the retail trade in that State. Ex-Gov. Colby cannot sell a scythe or show a sample there without incurring a penalty. He must employ a licensed citizen of Maine to do his business, or be excluded from the market. Produce from New Hampshire is subject to the same restrictions. Our law, therefore, even if retaliatory, is no more so than the restrictive insurance law passed by our democratic Legislature six or seven years ago, to protect our own citizens and institutions from the restrictive laws of Massachusetts.

Section 3 provides that "nothing in this chapter shall prevent any citizen of this State from selling any fish, fruit, provisions, farming utensils, or other articles lawfully raised or manufactured in this State."

The meaning of this section must be clear, viz.: that fish, fruit, provisions and farming utensils, no matter where raised or manufactured, can be retailed anywhere, by any citizen of the State, without license; and also "other articles lawfully raised or manufactured in the State," can be disposed of in like manner without license.

Fish, fruit, provisions, and farming utensils being articles of general use, are in section 3d made an exception to the general restriction contemplated by the law.—They are to be sold without any limitation by our citizens, while other articles of a more miscellaneous character must be raised or manufactured in the State, or else must be sold under license. Were not these four specific articles, fish, fruit, provisions, and farming utensils, exempted in an unlimited sense, the clause in section 3 would read thus: "But nothing in this chapter shall prevent any citizen of this State from selling any articles lawfully raised in this State." By a careful reading of the section, every one will see that there are four specific, and one general exception to the prohibition contained in this law.

The words "lawfully raised or manufactured in this State," limit and refer only to "other articles," and not to "fish, fruit, provisions and farming utensils." Under this law the New Hampshire farmer may peddle the butter of his own manufacture, or Vermont butter, from door to door in this city without a license, but the Vermont farmer cannot do it safely. He may, however, deliver his produce here in a lump, at any one place, either store, or house, or market, and take his pay for it—but he cannot hawk it round and offer it for sale, without running the risk of a fine.

THE SPIRITS.—We have received from Mr. Charles H. Crowell, a professed spiritual medium, now or at the time we refer to, in "Watertown,"—a letter purporting to be a communication from an elder brother of ours, now deceased. As the document is accompanied by a polite note from Capt. Wainwright, U. S. A., as a sort of voucher for its authority,—that he heard the delivery of the message through or by Mr. Crowell,—we deem it best to mention it thus publicly.

Mr. Crowell is a native of Portsmouth, son of Mr. Peter Crowell, and an old and intimate acquaintance of ours. This communication contains no fact which he might not and probably did not hear of at the time of its occurrence. Besides, there are errors in it—the time of our brothers death, and his age, are incorrectly given; besides an erroneous statement that we believe in the doctrine. At any rate, there is nothing new to us in this communication, (except this last statement of our belief;) and it is not worded half so neatly as the professed author would have done it years ago.

While we can but think the whole wonderful phenomena are as yet more easily explained on the Spiritual theory, than in any other way, yet we have seen nothing to convince us of its accuracy. We certainly don't thank "Ned" or anybody else, for insinuating doubts as to the sincerity of our expressions of religious belief; and should be sorry, if we recognized his instrumentality in the matter at all, that his manners had so deteriorated since he went "over the river"—not to mention his letter writing.

We think there is much good and truth in the Spiritualists' theory; but their communications do seem to us the tamest of all things—containing no new facts or ideas, and clothed usually in the most commonplace language. We think "more light" is wanted on the subject. F.

☞ Mr. Isaac Cobb died in Exeter, Me., June 24th, at the age of 96 years and 3 months. He retained his mental faculties in a remarkable degree, and remained true to the cause of freedom to the last. He was one of the few who, having voted for Washington seventy years ago, lived to vote for the Republican candidate in 1856.

PUBLIC NUISANCES.

The following cutting but true article on this subject, is from the Boston Transcript:

Several years ago a man in this city undertook to move a building through a public street, after he had been refused authority to do so by the Mayor and Aldermen. On being informed that the building was actually moving through the highway, Mayor Brimmer promptly ordered it to be destroyed. The owner brought an action against the Mayor for this summary destruction of his property, and the case was tried before Chief Justice Shaw, who decided at once that the Mayor was justified, and the plaintiff took nothing by his action except the liberty of paying a bill of costs. The Judge ruled that the placing of a building in the public street was a common and public nuisance, and that any citizen had a right to abate such a nuisance. Nobody ever questioned the soundness of this decision; the case was not even taken up before the full court.

The Legislature of this commonwealth has declared by law that the keeping of intoxicating liquors for sale under certain circumstances, is a common nuisance; and in the recent trial at Salem the same judge has applied precisely the same principle, namely, that any citizen may abate a common nuisance, and that it is lawful at any time, under certain limitations and rules, to destroy that which the Legislature has lawfully declared to be such a nuisance.—We understand that eminent members of the bar readily acquiesce in this position; that they regard it as a well settled principle, and one that has been repeatedly adjudicated upon by the highest legal tribunals.

Now, we have in this city some fifteen hundred places, by the admission of the police, which are, by the above mentioned decision, "common nuisances," and which any citizen may abate as such. Some of these places are among the vilest holes in Christendom—you cannot find their parallel in any city of Europe; and here they dispense "liquid death and distilled damnation," openly, notoriously, and under the very noses of public officers. There are fifty places—common nuisances—within a rifle shot of City Hall. There is not a day (is there an hour?) when city officials have not ocular and nasal proof on this point. But nothing is done. Of course not! Why should there be? It is a troublesome subject—the law is very stringent—difficult to be carried out, &c.

"Nothing is done," did we say? Hardly that! In one respect a great deal is done. Daily the "Black Maria" carries her unhappy freight to the city prisons—daily the docks of the criminal courts are crowded—daily and nightly the streets are filled with noise and confusion—now and then a murder; and all these results may be traced directly to these "common nuisances." Dram shops have greatly increased in our streets since licenses were granted under Mayor Seaver's administration; and never before, we believe, were there so many places in Boston where nothing but intoxicating drink was sold, as at the present time; and never before were the liquors so vile and pernicious. As far as the city of Boston is concerned, the "Maine Liquor Law" has proved to be a "nuisance."

We have a most worthy and respectable Mayor, a board of twelve solid Aldermen, a well known City Marshal, and a host of police officers. The streets are full of them, and of their efficiency in a small way there is no doubt. Let a little boy sell a newspaper without license, or worse, let him commit a small nuisance anywhere in view of those officials, and the way they will abate him is not slow. But for big nuisances, like grog shops, there seems to be no eyes and no ears. This latter is really getting to be dangerous, but no matter.—What we need is more energy and efficiency at City Hall. One man there with a real strong, earnest will could do much. A few such men would earn lasting gratitude.—But at the present there is so much halting, hesitation, delay, and want of pluck, that there really seems to be no hope of accomplishing anything.

JUDGE SHAW'S LAW IN OHIO.—The Cleveland Leader states that five young women of a company of fourteen who sacked a groggery in Bristol, Ohio, last June, were tried by three justices for riot, and acquitted, the Court deciding that the groggery was a nuisance and the girls had a right to abate it. This trial was made the occasion of a temperance pic-nic and celebration, got up by the ladies of Bristol, and a great time they had of it. A large concourse of people had assembled, many of them coming from the adjoining township, and a great deal of interest was felt in the issue of the examination, and the excitement continued unabated to the end. The fourteen girls engaged in the transaction all attended court in a body, dressing alike, marching and sitting together, with a flag at their head.

☞ In Middleton, Conn., Horace Cole died very suddenly on Thursday, aged 60 years. He was sitting in his chair reading a letter from his sister, in which was an account of the sudden death of three persons by lightning, when he made the remark, "in the midst of life we are in death," which was no sooner finished than his foot dropped to the floor, his head fell back, and he was a corpse.

☞ A new religious sect who have organized in Paris, under the name of the Universal Christian Alliance, are really American Unitarians. They have started an organ called Le Disciple de Jesus Christ.

LOWELL, July 19, 1858.

Messrs. Editors:—Keeping cool is out of the question, thermometer 94 and upwards in the shade on the 17th. We would like a little of the east wind which so troubles you at times.

Nothing peculiarly alarming has occurred in this "City of Spindles" lately. A small balloon was sent up from the Gas Works on Saturday, and had not begun to descend when it faded from sight.

Workmen are engaged in building a bridge across the Concord River, to replace that which fell down some months since.

I called in on your townsman, B. H. Penhallow, last week. He has one of the finest job offices to be found anywhere, and the best arranged which we ever saw. It would astonish Mr. P.'s former "boss," should he chance to see the office of his former apprentice.

I agree perfectly with a drunken man who was in the cars with me on Friday, who desired to know if he wa'n't "a d—d fool," and immediately asserted that any one who got drunk was entitled to that appellation.

An old lady in the same train desired to know if that, pointing to Nahant, wasn't Deer Island. I rather guess if she should board there a few weeks she would find it a deer island. The same old lady rode four miles out of her way because she had paid for her ticket.

The general impression which is held down East, in regard to Lowell, is far from being correct. Instead of being dirty, it is one of the cleanest and best paved cities in New England. The sidewalks are of extra width, and many of the streets are finely shaded.

The many factories present an object of interest to a stranger, and the new canal exhibits what enterprise and capital combined, can accomplish.

The common bids fair to become very beautiful, and will be beneficial in the physical training of "Young Lowell," while the fine new jail on one side and the elegant Court House on the other, will aid somewhat in his moral education.

A drive to Willow Dale, (Tyng's Pond) will amply repay one. The route passes the Pawtucket Falls, where the new canal begins, giving a view of both. Arrived at the Pond you can have a sail, and return by way of Lowell Trotting Park if you choose. But little racing has taken place this year, yet it is expected that at the horse show in September something nice will be present.

Yesterday morning a drunken Irishman who had beaten a woman and two children, escaped from the officer who had him in charge, and took leg bail up Centre street, but was caught by Officer Wright in John street. A very long Irish funeral enlivened the streets in the afternoon.

The weather is magnificent to-day, and the farmers hereabout are bound to improve the occasion. ION.

THE DOCTRINE OF ETERNAL PUNISHMENT. The discussion of this great doctrine in Boston within the last few months forms a marked chapter in recent theological controversy. The Orthodox and Universalist clergymen have reviewed the evidence upon the subject with great fullness and general ability. Dr. Adams and Rev. T S. King led off in the first discussion a few weeks since, and a second discussion has been opened by Rev. Mr. Dexter, who labors the doctrine, and Rev. Messrs. Thayer and Gaylord, who deny it. Mr. Dexter's reason for reopening the topic is because he cannot feel that Messrs. Adams and King "exhaust the subject—hardly that they even touch it, in its gravest and most fundamental aspects."

DEATH OF GENERAL QUITMAN.—General Quitman died at his residence near Natchez, Miss., on Saturday morning, of the disease which he contracted at the National Hotel, in Washington, last fall.—Gen. Quitman was born in Dutchess county, New York, but, on coming to manhood, moved to Mississippi, where he became a planter. He volunteered for service in the Mexican war, and was made a Major-General. In 1855 he entered Congress, and was appointed by Speaker Banks to be Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, a post which he continued to hold under Col. Orr. He was brave as a soldier, amiable as a citizen, and an upholder of the peculiar institution of his section of the republic.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The New York Tribune states on "excellent authority," that Rev. Dr. Walker, President of Harvard College, "has decided to remain at his post for the present, which, indeed, he has never given any official intimation of his intention to leave."

☞ An Auburn gentleman recently employed a novel mode of cleaning out an obstructed drain. He used a large eel, which worked itself through in two hours, followed by the water.

THE SUGAR CROP.—The New Orleans (La.) Cresent estimates the growing sugar crop of Louisianna (provided the weather hereafter proves favorable) at 350,000 hhds

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH B THACHER, in Dover by Chas A Tufts, in Exeter by C A Merrill, and in Newburyport by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the ladies (confidentially) by mail, in any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of the much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have the delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt $1 50 each; 1½ qt. 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 4.50; 4 qt., 5.00; 6 qt., 8.00; 10 qt. 6.00; 16 qt., 7.00. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

LEUCORRHŒA.

This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

CIRCUMSTANCES V. EDUCATION.—We do not intend to argue which of the evils is than the best position; but we are "educated" to believe that "under the circumstances" a grey haired person has better one HAIRMESTER'S HAIR COLORING, and take a "position" among "Young America."

LOCAL.

PERSONAL. — Frank W. Miller, Esq., publisher and junior editor of our lively contemporary, the Portsmouth Chronicle, is in town to-day, looking as pleasant and active as before his ascent of the mountains.—Lowell News, Saturday.

Not by considerable, Mr. News. It was our "junior" who was rusticating in your good city. If you don't look out, you'll set that great Alexander fellow afoul of us again—for if he thinks we are "abroad," he will see if he can't find something which we have forgotten and he has not, to rap us with.

By the way, we shall have to label that same junior, or keep him at home—for this is not the first time they have mixed us up—and while it is no disparagement to him, to be set down among the benedicks, yet if that "counts us out," we shall object.

F.

☞ Early last evening, a team belonging to Wm. Bagley, (who resides on the Robinson farm) came in contact with one of two cows that were fighting in Islington near the corner of Cabot street, by which both shafts were broken off, and the horse stepping back out one of his hind legs very seriously, leaving a small chance of recovery.

Earlier in the day a buggy belonging to one of our stable keepers had one shaft broken and the dasher about destroyed.

☞ We had a very heavy shower in this city on Sunday, about noon—but it was very limited in extent, for though the rain fell so copiously here, much less fell in Greenland, and none at all in Stratham.

A VILLAIN CAUGHT.—The Newburyport Herald says:—"In September, 1855, J. W. Randall, a native of Jay, Maine, was seduced from Hampton, on the idea of going to sea from Boston, and induced to go into a thicket near the old toll house on the Newburyport Turnpike, where Clinton Tinsley, alias C. H. Randlet, attempted to murder him. The circumstances will be fresh in the memory of the community, that was startled and indignant at the barbarous assault. Lately a man in Maine entered a house where two brothers lived, representing himself as a drover, and with a pistol endeavored to murder the man that he might rob their dwelling. In that he did not succeed, but escaped and stole a horse, and in another town was arrested for horse-stealing. After his arrest he was identified by Mr. Randall, who still resides in Maine, as the person who betrayed and assaulted him near the Newburyport turnpike; and now we learn that ex-Marshal Brown of Newburyport, having obtained a warrant from Gov. Banks, has gone to Maine to bring him to Newburyport for trial, if the authorities who now hold him should see fit to give him up. Of this there may be some doubt, since the crimes he has committed there are of a like character with his assault on Randall; but whether in Maine or Massachusetts, the fellow deserves the halter."

WAR OF RACES.—On Tuesday at the Norfolk House, Roxbury, two Irish waiters claiming that colored men had no rights that they were bound to respect, undertook to thrash the negro watchman, a steady, worthy man. The gentleman from Africa being thus thrown on his own resources, "went in," and when the police had arrived to rescue him, the two "Exiles of Erin" were "used up" individuals.—What will Senator Douglas say to such a practical disregard of the Dred Scott decision?

☞ The Lawrence Courier states the Essex Company has disposed of its lumber yard, saw mill, steam engines and machinery, including the right to use the mill pond, being in fact the whole property formerly used in connection with the lumber yard. The purchaser is Geo. W. Ela, Esq. of Concord, N. H., and the concern is to be devoted to a mechanical business of considerable extent. The property is of some $40,000 value. We understand from another source, that Downing's celebrated coach manufactory is to be located on this ground. This, with the new shoe enterprise, must help the Essex Company as well as to revive the other interests of the city of Lawrence.

SUICIDE IN OSSIPEE. — William Smith, aged 75, committed suicide at his son's residence, near Ossipee Corner, on Wednesday morning last. He was missed at breakfast time, and a search being instituted, his lifeless body was found suspended by a handkerchief to a ladder in the barn.—When discovered, his feet were resting on the floor. He had been in low spirits for some time previous, owing to a proposition for his removal to Salem, Mass., where he has a married daughter. Mr. Smith was remarkably regular in his mode of life. He will be well remembered by all whose business has called them to attend the Carroll County Courts, in which he for a long time acted as Messenger.—Dover Gazette.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS—THE INDIAN WAR IN OREGON.—New York, July 18.—(Tribune correspondence.) Col. Henry took dispatches to Minister Forsyth, conveying the President's views regarding the forced tax, and informing him that a steamer will be sent to Vera Cruz to convey himself and Legation to Mobile. Col. Forsyth had written to the department stating that after protesting against the forced loan, he had thought of demanding his passports, but had finally deemed it best to remain in Mexico, though he had suspended all diplomatic intercourse. It will be seen by the order to leave that this position is not approved here.

Col. Steptoe is severely censured for his conduct in Oregon, and will probably be court-martialed. Gov. Stevens and Gen. Lane have requested that the command be assigned to Gen. Harney or Col. Mansfield, and urge the calling out of volunteers. No decision has been made on these points, but a portion of the reinforcements for Utah will be added to the force for the Pacific. A supply of Sharpe's rifles has been purchased for the troops.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND KANSAS.—Washington, July 16.—[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press.]—Gov. Denver, although he has grown exceedingly cautious since his arrival in Washington, confirms the rumor that the vote against Lecompton, as it is presented in the English bill, will be enormous on the first Monday in August. The President is much harrased at the prospect. I know that he talks of little else than Kansas, and also that the presidential aspirants, in the Cabinet and out of it, who indeed him to change his position, and to desert Gov. Walker and Judge Douglas, have fallen greatly in his esteem. It is no less clear that Gov. Denver has always quietly doubted the entire Kansas policy of the Administration, even while obeying the orders of his superiors. What complicate this affair, at present, is the fact that the Washington Union some weeks ago arrogantly announced that, if the English proposition were voted down, Lecompton would still be alive &c. The rebuke which the popular denunciation of this bill will convey to all who have had any hand in the desertion of principles, cannot fail to be productive of healthy consequences throughout the country.

GREAT FIRE.—Leavenworth, July 15.—A destructive fire occurred here last night which destroyed thirty buildings, chiefly included in the block bounded by Cherokee, Shawnee, 2d and 3d streets. The fire originated in the Union Theatre, whence it spread rapidly to the other buildings, threatening at one time, owing to the want of fire apparatus and the panic among the citizens, to envelope the whole of that part of the city. The conflagration was finally arrested by a lull of the wind and a copious fall of rain. The loss is estimated at about $100,000, on which there is a trifling insurance.

A QUEER REGATTA.- The rage for regattas has reached the city convicts and paupers, and on Saturday last a grand boat race came off at Blackwell's Island under the auspices of some of the Alms House Governors, in which delegates from the various institutions on the "tight little islands" in East River participated. The boats entered for the race were the six-oared barges used for conveying passengers between the institutions and this city, and were manned as follows:—The Alms House boat by vagrants; the Work House boat by paupers; the Penitentiary boat by thieves, and the Lunatic Asylum boat by lunatics. The entry for each boat was $5, making a total of $20. The course was around Blackwell's Island, a distance of about four miles, and the race was witnessed with great interest by the Governors and their friends and a large number of spectators on the New York side. The Work House barge came in ahead.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, July 13.

Our neighbor of the Daily is terribly severe upon the "Spiritualists." The clergyman to whom he refers is presumed to be Rev. John Hobart, formerly of this city, and as he states himself, for sixteen years an accredited preacher in the Maine Conference. We have no faith in spiritualism, and regard it as one of the visionary things of the world, but there are thousands of good men who are in for it.—Bath (Me.) Organ.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION

TO DR. D. F. BRADLEY—DEAR SIR—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my recommendation of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, acute pains in the side, loss of appetite, and rapidly sinking debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case seemed most impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe colds, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. Cornelius Hoods.

This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hodges, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

☞ Great Discovery of the Age. ☜
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.

IT is a well known and incontrovertible fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of nearly all the most severe

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will test!—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.

THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE

HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

Bay State Range.

A NEW and improved Cooking Apparatus, invented by the maker of the celebrated Bay State Stove, of which so many are in use in this city. It has two large ovens and six boiler holes, giving it greater capacity for cooking operations than any range now in use.

It is complete in itself, and can be set in any chimney without cost; or it can be used outside of and independent of the chimney, if desirable. Water backs are introduced to give an ample supply of hot water for bathing and other purposes.

For families, boarding houses or hotels, this Range is unrivlled for capacity, economy or convenience. For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, long, harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOHN F. FAYSON, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Inimitable Hair Coloring, by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y., for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims.

W. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of the hair, matters at its roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not soil the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.

HIT HIM AGAIN.—The following is a good take-off to the "sensation stories," the first chapter of which is frequently inserted in journals as an advertisement. The man who indited it can take our hat:

The First Kiss.—"Am I really dear, Sophia?" I whispered, and pressed my bungling lips to her rosy mouth. She did not say yes, she did not say no, but she returned my kiss, and the earth went from under my feet, and my soul was no longer in my body. I touched the stars, I knew the happiness of the seraphim!"

The above is all of this deeply exciting story that we can publish. The remainder will be found in the New York Blower of April 1st, which has four million more subscribers than there are inhabitants in the world! Korn Kobb writes for it—P. Kunts writes for it, and 'tis "sold" everywhere in the world and out of it.

"Billy, spell cat, rat, bat, with only one letter for each word." "It can't be did." "What! you just ready to report verbatim phonetically, and can't do that? Just look here! c 80, cat; r 80, rat; h 80, bat; b 80, bat."

What a world of truth in this remark of Victor Hugo's; "There are some unfortunate men in this world. Christopher Columbus cannot attach his name to his discovery; Guillotin cannot detach his from his invention."

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to invigorate the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the diseases with which mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities recommend them to my patronage. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Charles Hall, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice, more than once, obviated the necessity of bilious complaints from any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Kaes, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly a valuable cathartic. Dyspeptics generally are benefitted in the disease of the human system, that they seem to work upon them clean. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use, and I have always mentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a fair trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, in bilious diseases of the bowels. Their superior coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Sweet, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I feel one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretions, thereby obviating the necessity of using other cathartics to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"You much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as I have, they will join with me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolifer of others that are worse. I believe costiveness is original with the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Sheldon Hoff, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and with your statements of their efficacy, I can only say they do all you claim for them, and cure all the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

Such testimonies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — GIDDINESS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"Truly, Dr. Ayer, I cannot answer you what complaints there are with your Pills better than to say of that we ever find a case to which they are applicable. Their great depend, and upon which confidence is so my daily practical with the same, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Many of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in the unskillful. We deem it our duty to inform the public that frequently follow its injudicious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of its ingredients is well known and of the best quality, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, with confidence. It supplies the safest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, as Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease, and since publication of the fact that it is known, this medicine has gradually become the best relance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best and most reliable remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any doubt or evidence on what men of every station certify it has done for them: if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous symptoms of the lungs yield to it: if we can depend on the testimony of the intelligent druggists, whose business is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of disease it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been forced upon the unsuspecting, they have failed, and been discarded. This has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable, from the nature of the case.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing inquiries.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are rivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions by being induced by unscrupulous to a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful restorative, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxurious growth—removes the dandruff, relieves all the cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age in its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or di-eased in scalp, to use it: and surely the young will not, as they now do, destroy their locks, in attempting to curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1866.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store and got a bottle of the article, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., REVEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 18'6.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head have been very thinning—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will add my testimony, that it may procure a market for it, and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in an honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled for the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50; tenths, $1. A certificate to each money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. Write your orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the public and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CRESSMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are a safe and certain passage for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, relieving all sleep, pain in the side, and restoring health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines offered to the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CRESSMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread among them, by recommending benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in the family way, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CRESSMAN, Box No. 4571, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

ALLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS,

This well known Summer Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its guests.

Bosomed as this Facility is, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The new and beautiful Packet
GOLDEN EAGLE,
Capt. GEO. PERKINS,

Will, after the 20th inst., run daily (Sundays excepted) from Pier W hart, Portsmouth, on the arrival of the morning train of cars from Boston, to the Island, and return in the afternoon.

June 12. THOMAS B. LAIGHTON.

The Gerrish House,
KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the Summer Hotel of William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are seldom felt. The house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave the house for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times.

ANDREW AMEE,
PROPRIETOR.

The Ocean House,
ON RYE BEACH,

WILL be opened on the 25th of June, for the reception of permanent and transient company.

The proprietors will run a line of Coaches from Greenland Depot to the Beach. Fare, in coaches marked "Job Jenness & Son," 25 cts. to any public or private house on or near Rye Beach.

Take the cars on the Eastern R. Road to Greenland, thence coach to the house.

JOB JENNESS & SON, Proprietors.

DEATH OF A FOREMAN.—Louis L. Crawford, son-in-law of T. J. Goforth, Esq., of Westport, Mo., and for a long time foreman of the Star of Empire office, was drowned last Sunday, while attempting to cross the Sin-a-Bar. At the time of the accident, his residence was not far from Sibley, in Jackson county. The Star of Empire says:

On Sunday last, wishing to hear the Rev. Mr. Young preach, he left home on a pony, in the morning, leaving directions with his young wife what to have for dinner. It is said that Mrs. Crawford begged her husband not to go, fearing, as she said, that the creek was too high for crossing in safety. He replied that one who had swam the ocean as much as himself would hardly be in danger crossing a creek. During the day his wife was nervous and agitated. She endeavored to prepare dinner, but broke every article she had her hands on; and did not get the noon meal at all. After waiting very impatiently for her husband's return, Mrs. C. caused search to be made, which resulted in finding the body on Tuesday morning. The pony and a little dog of the deceased were found on the bank, near where the dreadful accident occurred. It is thought that Mr. Crawford, being an excellent swimmer, was kicked or hurt in falling from his horse, which, on being washed down by the rapid stream, probably got entangled in brush.

REVOLTING CASE OF WHITE SLAVERY IN NEW YORK.—Late on Tuesday night, Sergeant Barney, with eight of the Mayor's police, and eighteen of the Fourth Precinct police, made a sudden descent upon a notorious house of infamy, kept by Pete Dawson and wife, at No. 58 Cherry street, arresting the keepers, his bar-tenders, musicians, female inmates and visitors—in all 33 men and 15 women. The girls arrested, expose a system of slavery known but to a very few in the city. On being taken to the squad room of the Mayor's police at the City Hall, yesterday morning, they made affidavits stating that they had, after being induced to go to Dawson's dance house, been deprived of all liberty; were not allowed to leave the premises, the bar-tenders at the entrance of the brothel keeping a constant watch over them, preventing them from even going to the door steps; that when they attempted to leave, Dawson invariably threatened them with a charge of larceny, he having got a advantage of them by secreting articles alleged to have been stolen, in their apartments, and always having witnesses ready to prove they had possession of the evidence of their guilt. One of the girls testified that she had been enslaved in this way for four years and a half, without in all that time being allowed to go out of the house.

It was further shown that the prostitution of these females was for the sole benefit of Dawson, who with his bar keepers, received all moneys at the bar. In this way Dawson was said to have become quite rich, and is worth upwards of $100,000. He is a most notorious character, having been arrested fifteen times within the last few years. Some of the police in the Fourth Precinct seem to have had a knowledge of this infamous system of slavery, and have been used by Dawson in frightening his girls into subjection. One of the girls stated that she was arrested a short time ago in attempting to leave the house, on a false charge of larceny, and that the policeman who arrested her, instead of taking her to the Police Court, locked her up in a room of Dawson's dance house. Complaint has been made against the officer in question, and he will doubtless be dismissed from the department.—The female prisoners seemed delighted with their rescue by the action of the Mayor's police, and were determined to have Dawson prosecuted. The Mayor held Dawson in $2000 bail for trial, Dawson's wife in $1000 bail, and detained the girls and other parties connected with the establishment as witnesses.

It was stated that Dawson was also extensively engaged in kidnapping sailors and shipping them while they were intoxicated.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

☞ In Salem, Mass., on Thursday, on complaint of the City Marshal, the following persons were arraigned before the Police Court for violating the liquor law:

Leonard Brown, for being a common seller, was ordered to find sureties in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the C. C. Pleas.

Bridget Jaques, on two complaints, was fined $10 and costs and 20 days in House of Correction, from each of which she appealed and in default of sureties was committed to jail.

Dennis Connors, one sale, was ordered to pay $10 and costs and to be imprisoned 20 days.

William Buckmaster, for one sale, received the same sentence as Connors, and appealing was committed to jail in default of sureties.

Alonzo D. Buxton, keeper of the Empire Saloon near Mechanic Hall, was committed for violation of the liquor law, fined $10 and costs and to be imprisoned 20 days in the House of Correction, from which he appealed.

A GHOST.—Between two and three o'clock, this morning, a female figure, robed in white, made its appearance at Fourth and Pine streets, and commenced a walk in the neighborhood of Dr. Brainerd's Church. The figure strode around the grave-yard in true phantom style, and paid no heed whatever to the queries of those who, with chattering teeth, ventured to question it. The figure continued to stalk backward and forward for some time under the shadow of the grave-yard wall, and it was not long before the rumor that a ghost was to be seen, gathered quite a crowd of gazers, even at that unseasonable hour. Several policemen were among the lookers-on, but they did not consider it their duty to meddle with unsubstantial visions, and her ghostship was suffered to continue her weary walk undisturbed for some time. Finally, an officer, who was either skeptical concerning "sperrits" as a class, or who considered it "writ down in his duty" to intercept all irregular individuals, whether real or spiritual, seized the ghost by the arm and became satisfied that she was flesh and blood. Encouraged by this discovery, he marched her to the Fifth Ward station-house, where it was found that the supposed spectre was a real substantial woman, who had got out of her bed at a house in Hurd street, in a somnambulistic fit, and scared a portion of the community from their propriety, by parading around a grave-yard in her night clothes. Even after reaching the station-house, it was some time before the somnambulist could be aroused.—Philadelphia Bulletin, 13th.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 21, 1858.

SINGULAR CASE OF PERJURY IN AN ENGLISH COURT.—A case has recently been tried in an English court, the defendant being a minister of the Established Church named Hunt, who was charged with a violent assault upon the plaintiff named Kennedy, a retired lieutenant of the English navy.—The plaintiff and defendant jointly established a school for young men, and the influence of the defendant, who had been head master of Wrexham College, secured for it a large number of pupils. A disagreement, however, took place, and the plaintiff sold out the school without the consent of the defendant, but the pupils refused to be transferred, and a large majority went with defendant. The allegation of the plaintiff was that while in his own house going over the accounts of the late firm with defendant's wife, the defendant came in and suddenly assaulted him, knocking him senseless to the floor. In proof of this he brought forward as a witness a clergyman named Hugh Nicholson, who was present. He testified that the defendant gave plaintiff a violent blow on the ear.—Several servants of plaintiff corroborated the testimony of Nicholson.

For the defence, however, Rev. Mr. Hunt and his wife swore positively that the plaintiff did attempt liberties with Mrs. Hunt by kissing her and pressing her hand; that he was intoxicated at the time; and that Mr. Hunt, in order to put a stop to the proceedings, merely pushed the head of Kennedy to one side. The servants of Mr. Kennedy testified that Mrs. Hunt had, at various times previously, called at the house and desired to see the plaintiff, which Mrs. Hunt indignantly denied.—Rev. Mr. Nicholson testified that Mr. Kennedy did not attempt to kiss Mrs. Hunt, and acted towards her in the most polite and respectful manner. The rank perjury apparent in the case, involving persons of the highest respectability, of course swallowed up the charge of assault. The fact was also brought forward that the plaintiff had threatened to ruin the defendant. After argument from counsel, the jury found a verdict for defendant.

THE "WAY OF LIFE," DEAD.—Burleigh, the New York letter writer for the Boston Journal, says of a new paper now no more:

We have a "Way of Life" in New York that leads no where—a path that has come to an abrupt termination. The new paper called the Way of Life, set up on the basis of the Union of all Evangelical sects—called a "revival paper"—owing its origin to the flood tide of religious emotion in all the land, the organ of the Young Men's Christian Associations—has come to a stand-still with the twelfth number, issued on the 10th of July. It is a matter wholly uncertain whether it will be resumed, or end its career finally. Mr. George P. Edgar, the principal publisher, and to whose energy the paper owes its start and vigor, was compelled by the pressure to suspend and make an assignment. His suspension carried down the Way of Life, and all matters connected with it.

Unless some one can be found to advance the cash and carry on the paper, its death must be regarded as complete. The success which it did have has vindicated the principle that a handsomely printed, sharply conducted, union paper, can live and have a wide circulation. But it is a costly business to begin and carry on a paper of this description.

It is no wonder it stopped. Its basis was too narrow, unless it had had a sectarian character, in which case the narrowness would not hurt it at all. It was a good paper of its kind—but its success was impossible. If any one should revive it, it will die again, unless its plan be altered.

☞ The name of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is excluded from the list of celebrated living preachers, in the two heavy octavos of pulpit eloquence recently published, and has no place in a volume of noted revival sermons just sent forth from the very scene of his labors. So, too, the name of Wendell Phillips is not found in the volume, entitled "The Hundred Orators of Boston." Yet Mr. Phillips is as great an orator as either of the hundred, and Mr. Beecher as great a preacher as either in the two octavos.

GREAT MEETING. — The Newburyport Herald says:—The Temperance meeting on the Mall, on Sunday evening, was very large, something like two thousand persons attending. There were several excellent speeches made. On such an evening, with clear fine weather by the side of that pond, in the most delightful spot in Essex county, it was pleasant to meet together for such a purpose. These meetings are having a good influence on the community, and the Young Men's Society are deserving of much praise for their labors.

DEATH FROM LIGHTNING.—The Bridgeport Farmer gives additional particulars respecting the death of Miss Godfrey at Reading, Ct., on the 11th inst. Miss Nancy Godfrey was sitting in her chamber by an open window, reading. It is supposed that the fluid was attracted by the metal about her person. Her artificial teeth were found at some distance from her, and the hoops in her dress were partially melted. The current pierced the bottom of her foot and gaiter, and thence passed to a post, against which Mr. Wm. Curtis was leaning, in the room below, shocking him so severely as to render him insensible. By the timely application of cold water he was resuscitated.

A DOCTOR TARRED AND FEATHERED.—A physician in Woodna, Orange county, N. Y., being charged with neglecting his family and paying too much attention to a fair widow, was subjected recently to rough usage by some self-constituted dispensers of justice in that neighborhood. He was ducked in a pond, then enveloped in a coat of tar and feathers, then hoisted on a rail, while the perpetrators of the deed, principally laborers of the town, were rewarded, it is said, with the cheers and smiles of their wives and daughters.

STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT. — The Rock Islander & Argus, of Illinois, asserts that "it is a world wide remark that the Republican party, during its short and irregular reign in the Northern States, has done more to sap the foundations of the religion, corrupt the morals, eradicate popular respect for the laws, and overturn the social fabric of the nation, than all the other parties that have existed since 1789."

The reader is particularly requested to keep his countenance so fixed as not to laugh at this owl like jeremiad.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A YALE STUDENT. While some of the club-boats were practising on the Connecticut river at Springfield on Saturday evening, preparatory to the regatta of the 23d, a collision occured between a light four-oared boat of the Yale Navy and a Springfield club-boat, by which the former was capsized, and one of her crew, named George E. Dunham, a junior of Yale College, was drowned. His body has been recovered.

☞ It was voted, on Monday evening, by the Committee of Arrangements for the Hartford Regatta, which was to have taken place in that city on the 26th inst., to postpone the Regatta to a future day, in consequence of the drowning of a member of the Yale Club at Springfield, Saturday.

FIVE YOUNG WOMEN DROWNED.—Five young women, belonging to the House of Mercy in New York, were drowned while bathing on Friday evening. They were walking out from shore with their hands joined, when they suddenly lost their footing, and were swept away, and being unable to swim they were drowned. Every effort was made to rescue them and to recover their bodies, but without effect.

☞ That distinguished statesman, Count de Montalembert, said in his place in the French National Assembly of 1850:—"Where there is a wine-shop, there are the elements of disease, and the frightful source of all that is at enmity with the interests of the workmen."

Smollett observed, in his travels, about one hundred years since—"that all wine districts are poor, and French peasantry were always more healthy when there was a scarcity of wine."

☞ A man named Lawrence, reported to be one of the heirs of the great Lawrence estate in England, lately died in Troy, N. Y. He had issued scrip, payable when he inherited his property, at the rate of one hundred dollars for every dollar invested, a large quantity of which was disposed of at Troy, and the holders are now ready to sell at a low figure.

A LOSING OFFICE.—It is said that the Liverpool Consulate (salary $7500) does not pay its expenses. Before the recent act of Congress went into effect it was worth $25,000 per year over expenses.—Mr. Hawthorne retired from it worth a fortune of $100,000.

☞ The North Congregational Church and Society in Hartford have unanimously invited Rev. L. Dimon of Fall River, to be an associate pastor of Rev. Dr. Bushnell, whose health has become so infirm as to prevent his preaching—at least for the present. They express the desire that his relation to them may cease only with his death.

☞ The Charleston Courier is informed that a burial case which was on board the ill-fated Central America has been thrown ashore near Beaufort, N. C.

PUNISHMENT MEET FOR THEIR SIN.—When Mr. Hardy of New Orleans was tried recently for shooting the seducer of his daughter, three young men swore that they had personal knowledge that she was unchaste. See how they were punished.

Simmons and Maurer were clerks at a cotton press up town. Simmons was to have been given an interest; but several banks notified the proprietors of the press that if he was in any way interested in their business they would decline discounting any more of their paper. The commission merchants who had cotton pressed and stored by the concern also sent them a notification that they would do no more business with them as long as Simmons and Maurer remained in their employ.—Simmons has been unanimously expelled from his lodge by the Odd Fellows, and both have been ignominiously turned out of houses where they formerly visited as favored guests. Ring is a married man, and his wife is one of the finest ladies in the city. Shortly after the trial he signified his intention to her of going to Blandon Springs; she told him to go, but not come back, as she never would live with him again. He is a cotton weigher and sampler by profession, but henceforth will have to follow some other calling, as all of his customers have notified him that they will not patronize him any more, and it is also intimated that he will be expelled from all connection with the masons."

"When I was miserably existing in the world, and looking to Berlin, I thought, in Berlin I will be happy; there I will find 'brave, loving hearts, and free men and women, and I will be happy.' And I have found the Berlin Socialists as brave and free as I expected, but I have discovered that no earthly, outside conditions can make me happy. I exiled myself from the world to save myself; but I cannot be saved!—and now, at last, I leap into oblivion! And here I write my protest against and utter my curse upon marriage! And I curse religion! And I curse 'God' the Father-Monster! Most of you will only think of me as having 'passed on' to a happier sphere; but I see no existence beyond, and think I know what death will be to me, and I welcome the 'great fate of silence' which the universe has in store for its abnormal child! I die—as I have lived—alone! Farewell!"

THE FREE LOVERS ABOUT TO EMIGRATE.—The free lovers of New York city and vicinity, under the lead of an ex-Rev. Mr. Tyler, have organized the "equitable emigration association," with a view to emigrating to some island of the Pacific, where they can have a nice little time, all to themselves.

CHINESE TESTIMONY.—A case of assault and battery, wherein Chinamen were the parties, came up for trial in Stockton, California, a few weeks since, when the complainant testified as follows:—

This morning, Chang Hing tookee my pan what I boil rice in—I want to make tea in it. Chang Hing talkee, talkee, talkee. I sassy him and he sassy me; by-by, he kicky me and knock me down four time with big stick.

A gentleman from Boston was bitten by a dog in this city on Thursday, so severely that he thought it necessary to consult a physician to dress the wound. He then called upon the owner of the dog, making some inquiries respecting the animal and his rabid propensities, which were not very satisfactorily answered. He then drew a pistol and shot the dog upon the spot, leaving the owner to make the best of it.—Served him right.—New Haven Palladium.

THE COST.—The Christian Register says,—it is calculated that the Clergy cost the United States, six millions of dollars annually; the criminals, nineteen; the lawyers, thirty-five; tobacco, forty; and rum one hundred millions!

☞ In Warren, Vt., July 11th, the men turned out upon a bear hunt, surrounding the woods, in which bruin was known to be, they gradually lessened the circle and fired a volley, killing not only the bear, who weighed 400, but a Mr. Cass, who was shot by some careless fellow across the ring.

The hunters dressed the bear, and gave him to the widow and children of their deceased comrade.

☞ A negro woman died on the 4th of July at New Orleans, aged 140 years.—She was born in Guinea, Africa, and retained her faculties till within a short period of her death.

☞ Mayor Tiedmann has commenced a vigorous crusade against the ticket swindlers, runners, and disorderly hackmen of New York.

'Corn bread?' said an Irish waiter, 'haven't got it; an' isn't it corn bafe yo mane?'

☞ A lady near New Market, Jefferson county, Tenn., was bitten by a rattlesnake, after which she undid her apron string and tied it over the bite, killed the snake, cut off a piece and applied it to the wound, and drank a quart of whiskey. At last accounts she was doing well.

SUSPENSION.—The Rockport Duck Mills are again to suspend operations on the 22d. The article of duck commands a good price, but there is not sufficient demand for it to keep the Mills running at present.

☞ Dr. Wilcox, of Elmira, N. Y., committed suicide on Friday. He amputated a man's leg, was charged with malpractice, and took poison to avoid prosecution.

☞ A Chinese theologian informs the Trinity Journal that the little tapers left on graves by the Chinese are for the convenience of the devil. That may be, but HEINTZELMAN'S HAIR COLOR is for the convenience of those who have grey hair, and wish it restored to its natural color.

LOST.—On Tuesday, about noon, between the store of Mr. Robbins in Daniel street, and Dr. Ryder's office in Congress street, a Fort Monroe, containing bank bills and specie. The finder, on leaving it at No. 7 Congress street, shall be suitably rewarded.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you save for the delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.50; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LEUCORRHŒA.

This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

The Great English Remedy.
DR. R. MES. CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.
Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke' M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.
THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.
TO MARRIED LADIES
it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.
Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.
CAUTION.
These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.
In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a power ful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.
Full directions accompany each package.

THE LAST OF THE OLD ELM TREES, on Daniel street, has met the unalterable fate of age and death, and is laid low forever. It long since showed signs of extreme old age, and as each week we passed beneath its wide-spreading branches and detected the sure signs of decay, we know that its days were numbered, and that only the veneration felt for so noble an old relic of past times, spared it from year to year; until, decayed in all its parts and likely to fall from its own weight of years, it slowly succumbed to the axe, and like an old giant, first shorn of all its beauty and nothing left but its massive trunk, in dreary grandeur it has passed away. Who does not love an old tree—one that has breasted the storms of a century, and has had pass beneath its sheltering branches, generations of men, until those who first saw its leaves put forth in the early spring-time, have long since gone down the dark valley, and are almost forgotten among their kindred.

What changes have taken place in the world's history, since this tree first lifted its tiny branches toward heaven! We know not its age, but before the watch-fires of the Revolution were lighted, it must have been strong and sturdy in its youthful glory. When this great nation was in its infancy, and all seemed dark and gloomy for the homes and firesides of our forefathers,—little children played beneath the shadows of this same old elm. How many of the great and good have passed beneath its shade, in all those long years, who are now almost forgotten, while this has lived; and as each spring time, the little leaves put forth and bloomed in beauty, it has gladdened the hearts of multitudes of mankind. We stopped beneath it, the last night before it fell. A brilliant summer night—the air clear and peaceful; the moon sinking in the west, cast long shadows all around, far up above us showing its bold outlines against the clear sky—the rugged trunk, with its projecting branches trimmed close and gaunt,—in its naked grandeur it loomed up a monument of by-gone days; and as the clock proclaimed the midnight hour, it seemed to toll a requiem for the last of its race—the noble old tree gone forever. CAPUT.

☞ We have received a long communication from we don't know who—complaining respecting the peddling of coal, in this city, by rich men. The game isn't worth the powder—at least to us. All rich men are not mean—neither are all mean men rich; but men do sometimes get rich by being mean—in which case it is neither charitable nor wise to envy them, for they have paid altogether too much for their possessions. It strikes us that a request to gratuitously publish such long communications as this referred to—not for our benefit, or that of the public, but of individuals—is of the same character with the transactions complained of.

☞ The beautiful pleasure yacht ZINGA, owned and commanded by Wm. H. Thomas, Esq., New York, reached this port on Tuesday afternoon, and was welcomed with a salute from Fort Constitution. She is 118 tons burthen, 95 feet long, 21 feet 6 inch beam, and her depth of hold is 7 and a half feet. Her cabins are fitted up in palatial style. She was launched in May last, and is considered by connoisseurs a perfect model of a sailing craft, having made twelve and a half knots to the hour during a portion of her initial trip. The Zinga sailed from New York one week since, having on board, besides her crew of five, a party of seven gentlemen, the guests of the commander. She now lies at Goodrich's Wharf, and attracts marked attention from all classes of citizens.

☞ This is the season for Sunday School Excursions. The Sunday School of the Christian Society at the Temple, went out yesterday to South New Market;—and that of the North Parish goes to-day if fair weather.

ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMER FULTON.—A despatch from Norfolk, under date of July 19, states that the U. S. Steamer Fulton, from the Gulf of Mexico for this port, has put in at quarantine, with machinery damaged.

☞ The Chicago Democrat says—"We have to-day in store in this city, a million bushels of wheat, and this, too, right in the face of an incoming crop."

To House Carpenters.

SEALED AND SEPARATE PROPOSALS will be received at the Store No. 70 State St., in this city, until Thursday, the 29th day of July, 1858, at 6 o'clock P. M., for putting in new flooring, making certain additions, and putting new pews in the Universalist Church in this city.—Plans and specifications can be seen at the above named store. C. H. MENDUM,

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE NORTH STAR.

Failure of the Telegraph Expedition.

NEW YORK, July 20—Steamship North Star, from Southampton 7th inst., has arrived.

There has been an arrival of 2500 ounces of gold from New Zealand.

New gold fields have been discovered in Australia.

In the Liverpool Cotton Market there has been an advance of 1-8d. Sales for three days 32,000 bales, the market closing firm. Some authorities say the advance was all lost and closed dull.

Breadstuffs are slightly advanced. Provisions were quiet.

THE TELEGRAPH EXPEDITION.—Queenstown, Ireland, July 5.—The Niagara and Gorgon arrived this morning. Three attempts have been made to lay down the cable. The Agamemnon and Valorous are expected here hourly. The squadron experienced very bad weather during the cruise. On the 13th of June a heavy gale sprang up, during which they were separated, but all met again at the rendezvous, latitude 52 2, longitude 33 18.

On the 1st attempt about ten miles of the cable was lost; on the second attempt about 120 miles. On the 28th the cable was again joined, and about 250 miles was paid out, when communication ceasing to be received, the cable was parted, and the Niagara and Gorgon proceeded to this place. Much to their surprise, the Agamemnon and Valorous were not in before them, as they had more than 200 miles start. The Agamemnon is reported to have suffered some damages in the gale.

AUSTRALIA.—The Times has the following despatch: The electric telegraph was completed from Melbourne to Adelaide.—The production of gold was on the increase, the supply being about 25,000 ounces in excess of last year. Money was plentiful; trade was healthy, and prices of goods tending upwards.

☞ The New Orleans Crescent concludes an article on Missouri with the following despondent remarks:

"We have but few more words to add in this connection to make our warning to the Southern people complete. Missouri is now almost a freesoil State, and will undoubtedly be so utterly in a few years; Delaware is freesoil, although nominally a slave State. Take those two Commonwealths, and add them to the seventeen free States now in the Union, and we have nineteen free and thirteen slave States.—To these nineteen add Kansas, Nebraska and Oregon—which Territories will probably be admitted at the next session of Congress—and we have twenty-two freesoil to thirteen slave states. This will give the free States eighteen majority in the Federal Senate, and their majority in the House of Representatives will be correspondingly overwhelming."

A MORMON TEAM.—The Utah correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune writes:

"There are arrivals from Salt Lake almost daily, and in the case of parties of emigrants some of the vehicles are as extraordinary as the motive-power which propels them. Gov. Cumming testifies to having observed a wagon, on the road from Salt Lake City to Provo, which was drawn by pigs harnessed to the tongue by an ingenious combination of straps and cords. In it was seated a fat man who excited his team even into a trot, by the aid of a black-snake whip."

A SON OF THUNDER.—Dr. Krummacher, the official preacher at the Court of Berlin, is a remarkable man. His writings on the Christian doctrine and the characters of the Old Testament, have had a wide circulation in the United States. He is tall, well proportioned, and has a stentorian voice. His laugh, when strongly affected, is like the lion's roar. His mighty voice is the same in preaching, praying, or saying grace at the table. "On a public occasion, at which Dr. Stevens was present, he introduced the dinner with a grace in German, which was roared out as if addressed to an army half a mile off!!!"

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.

BOSTON, Feb 27, 1845.

TO DR. D. F. BRADLEE—DEAR SIR—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my recommendation of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, acute pain in the side, loss of appetite, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe cold, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. OCTAVIUS HOGES.

This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hoges, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.

IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.

THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
Hon. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
Hon. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
Hon. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial. International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very thick and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. as: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. REV. R. KNOWLTON,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Sentiments so produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

SPEAKING BY THE CARD.— A country-man purchased a gallon of mountain dew; for want of a more business-like label, wrote his name upon a common playing card, which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle of the bottle. A wag coming by observed, "that's an awful careless way to leave the liquor!" "Why so?" says Tom. "Why? because some one might come with the eight of clubs and take it." Tom seized the handle and bolted.

PRENTICE'S LAST.—Our fire-eating friend of the Memphis Avalanche was recently presented with a new pair of boots, which he says are "admirably adapted for kicking." Another Southern editor a few days before received a fine pair of boots, perhaps not quite new, equally adapted to the same use. The gentleman who presented them did not see fit to take them off during the interesting ceremony!

The Washington Union says there is to be "no change in the Cabinet." There has been precious little if any in the Treasury for some time.

NOW AND THEN.—The Boston Courier, in speaking of Mr. Douglas, says that his recent speech at Chicago "is graceful, compact and easy." On the 18th of June the same paper said there is a vein of coarseness and vulgarity running through his nature, which is constantly coming to the surface and 'cropping out,' as the geologists say." He had not returned to his allegiance then. —Boston Journal.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the diseases that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many various complaints.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cavenaugh, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we have yet met with. Combined with extract of colocynth in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Nott, New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious in this class of complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Kneeland, Lowell, Mass.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all that is agreeable, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to seek upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other medicines I had used, and I have experienced more than I can be editorial in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a most trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious complaints and dysentery. Their superior operating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Sturtt, who practices as a Physician and Midwife, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion, when from any cause it is suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other in my practice."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. A. P. Dunglas, Montreal, Canada.

"So much result is said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, if others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious I have, they should be in every family. I have for years been in the habit of using other Pills and known them to fail in the hands of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although not enough in itself is the producer of others that are worse. I believe confidence to be upon the first time, that your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — NEURALGIA — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enslin, Mt. Pleasant, Philadelphia.

"You would be liable to be doing that your Pills purify the blood. Thus, that, I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. Your Pills are a valuable purgative, and of the important purpose of the blood, eradicating disease. They stimulate the action of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigorous health in system.

If you cannot say you prepare are a national benefit, and you have a great claim for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FEVER—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS — PALSY — ETC.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"Dear Sir, Some I recently answer you select complaints I have met with your Pills better than to say all that you say are true, and a popular medicine. I place great dependence on the natural cathartic, in my family practice with them, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we know, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from its cumulative consequences and the quantity required to elicit its effects. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every dose of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sanctioned and prescribed by the faculty of medicine, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, such as COLDS, COUGHS, CONSUMPTION, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes its facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually taken the first place among all the preparations of the kind, and indeed all the public, from the log cabin of the American pioneer to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose testimony is known to be true, in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have flashed in the pan and discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invaluable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.—These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same pronouns or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to gray or become bald in old age. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or ill-eased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, venture without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received a letter from Boston in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than 8 years, and have used almost every scurf and hair preparation

An Observing Child.—Children have sometimes a peculiar way of saying things very subversive of gravity in old folks.

Mr. Frederick Fitzgerald Smith had a luxurious growth of whiskers. The lower part of his countenance was entirely enveloped in hair from ear to ear. The pilous vegetation stood out in large, matted, tangled and curly magnificent masses all over his jaws and chin.

Nature, if too profuse in her gifts in one direction, is very apt to correct the redundancy by a compensating deficiency in another.

So it happened with Mr. Fitzgerald Smith. All over the under part of his head, below his ears, was very curly. But per contra—

"He had no wool on the top of his head,
In the place where the wool ought to grow."

Mr. Smith lodged one night and breakfasted at the house of Mr. John Simpkins, his friend. Mr. Simpkins had, like every parent who has children, a very smart little girl. It is surprising how many smart children there are now-a-days! At the breakfast table young Miss Arabella Simpkins could not take her eyes for one moment from the patriarchal countenance of Mr. Smith.

"Arabella, love, don't be so rude," nudged Mrs. Simpkins, primus.

"Arabella, eat your toast," frowned Mr. Simpkins, secundus.

But Arabella kept on staring at Mr. Frederick Fitzgerald Smith.

"Betty, remove this naughty girl from the table, cried Mr. Simpkins, in a rage.

"I don't want to go, I don't," squalled the smart Arabella. "I want to look at that man a little longer. Don't you see, ma, he has got his head on wrong side up!"

The young lady was living at last accounts, and doing well, but it is difficult to conceive how she can survive.

A Southerner on Steam Engines and Niggers.—Messrs. Phillips, Sampson & Co. of Boston, have received the following funny letter from one of the subscribers to the Atlantic Monthly in Louisiana:—

———, ——, June 24, 1858.

Messrs. Phillips, Thompson & Co.

Gentlemen,—In an article heded "What are we going to make," in the last No. of your Magazine, the writer thinks that the millenium for niggers is to be brought about by steam, on the ground that a bushil of coal led to a steam engin will produce more power than a bushil of Injin corn fed to a nigger, and that the great improvement that is to take place in these engine in 50 or 100 years will enable us to navigate our corn fields, and plow as much cotton, with one critter of this sort, in the same length of time, and at less expence, than with 10 niggers; consequently, we will free the niggers as a nusence, and take the engin instead. Now jest grant what he says about plowing by steem should turn out true—and cotton could be grow'd in this way—I gest want to ask him one question—When it comes to pickin out, where is his steem engin then. It takes fingers to do this sort of work, and no steem engin will ever be made to strike a lick like them. If we ever du plow by steem, which I won't deny mought be done, we'll turn our niggers into Pickers—make more cotton and sell it at 5 less price. He is what might be called a speculative genius, like a feller who lives not far from here; he thought he'd make an improvement in pick'n, and then monkeys would be the very article. One monkey would pick as much as a nigger, and one nigger could oversee ten monkeys. The monkeys was got and the trial maid; the only mistake about it was, instead of one nigger manageing 10 monkeys, it took 10 niggers to manage one monkey; so he has giv up experimenting and sticks to the old way of gatherin his crop. Some one says that every man is crasy on some subject. Your man is crasy on steem, but it's not exactly the right sort to elevate the ideas. Tell him to fire up and try again. You will excuse my saying that I think some of your articles is rather too hitalutin to abolishen subjects. Respectfully,

A Subscriber.

P. S. Tell your breakfast table man to go ahead—he's one of 'em.

Another Man Hanged by a Mob in Missouri.—It was stated recently that a man named Kessler had been hung by a mob in Gentry Co., Mo., for killing another, who was named Timmons. An accomplice, named Milligan, was arrested at the time, but his case was laid over until the next term of Court. A letter from St. Joseph, July 6, says:

"A guard was appointed to watch his prison. No appropriation was made for their support, and they became wearied with so thankless and tedious an employment, and abandoned their posts. The mob went to the County Court yesterday and demanded an appropriation for the expenses of a guard, and, upon a refusal, they proceeded to the prison, took Milligan out and led him to the same tree upon which Kessler had, ten days before, been hung. He requested to be baptized, which was done in a brook near by. Here he had an interview with his old father, which was deeply affecting. He was then taken back to the tree and hung until dead."

☞ A drop or two of the milk in the great Locompton cocoanut is thus accounted for by Forney's Press:

Senator J. C. Jones, of Tennessee, (old line Whig,) had a contract to supply 1700 horses, at $159 each, which will make the neat sum of $270,300. It is stated that the horses were to be of a particular color and size, but when they arrived at Fort Leavenworth, they were found to be of all sizes and all colors, but were nevertheless accepted.

The brother of Hon. J. A. Ahl, member of Congress for the Cumberland, York and Perry district, had a contract to supply for the army 300 mules, at $175 each, making $52,500; also an order for 200 from Russell and Major, government contractors, at the same price, amounting in all to $87,000. The kind of mules delivered could be bought readily at $120 each. It is unnecessary to add that Mr. Ahl voted for Lecompton and is a candidate for re-election.

Some of the other members of Congress from the rural districts have been providing for their friends at the public expense, in the way of contracts for barley, at fine prices.

A Startling Question.—We find in the Charleston Mercury the following recorded as the 13th regular toast at the Fifth of July celebration at Walterboro', S. C.:—

The Free States—They have violated the Federal compact in manumitting our slaves within their borders: Why should we not retaliate by confiscating the property of their citizens when found within our borders?

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. Patent Office, Feb 23, 1856.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1858.

MORALS OF CINCINNATI.—The Cincinnati Times says:—"During a long residence in this city, we cannot recollect of a period when we noticed so many abandoned women promenading our streets after nightfall. They can be seen in almost every street, singly and in groups. They are becoming exceedingly bold, and their loud voices in blasphemy can be heard for almost a square. They accost passers-by with a rudeness which at once speaks their character in unmistakable language.—They enter drinking houses and low confectionaries with impunity. They stand at the corners of the streets and converse together, or with base specimens of humanity of the other sex, in impious and disgusting language.

Respectable females no longer dare venture out alone after dusk, and gentlemen and ladies, when walking together, if not insulted by a direct appeal, are liable to have their feelings outraged by overhearing the remarks which fall from the lips of these women of the streets.

DISCOVERY OF A MURDER COMMITTED A YEAR AGO.—A correspondent of the Chicago Press and Tribune, writing from Onarga, Ill., July 13, states that the particulars of a murder committed a year ago, have recently been developed in that vicinity.—It appears that D. J. Stanley and Wm. F. Talcott last summer bought some land near Onarga and built a shanty, in which they lived together for some time in harmony. All of a sudden Mr. Stanley was missing, and as he was known to have considerable money about him, and left his business in an unsettled state, inquiries were naturally made for him. Talcott explained his absence by saying that he had gone to Chicago and would return soon. Stanley, however, did not return, and a short time since Talcott was detected in wearing clothing belonging to Stanley, and also carrying his watch. These circumstances aroused the suspicions of the citizens, who went secretly to work to ferret out the mystery, and a few days since discovered the body of Stanley buried on the farm where he and Talcott lived last fall. Talcott was arrested, and voluntarily confessed the murder, which he says he committed in a passion during a dispute with the deceased about building a house. They were hunting, and during the dispute he called Stanley a liar, upon which he (Talcott) rushed on him with his gun and struck him on the head, killing him. Talcott was held for trial. He says that Stanley's friends live near Portland, Me.

☞ The Washington Union contains another statement in reference to the Corcoran and Muruaga affair, which gives a somewhat different version of the original story. It appears from this statement that the first difficulty "arose in consequence of Mr. Muruaga's conduct towards a niece of Mr. Corcoran's, whom he most improperly and offensively followed through the streets of Washington, compelling her to resort to very annoying expedients for the purpose of avoiding him. Upon learning this fact, Mr. Corcoran expressed his opinion of M.'s conduct to that person in very decided language. For this Mr. M. demanded an apology. Mr. C. refused to give him one, because he did not believe that Mr. M.'s conduct in the premises was such as to entitle him to it. Upon this refusal, Mr. M. gave to Mr. Corcoran notice of a challenge. On the evening of the same day on which this notice was given, Mr. M., in response to a note from Mr. Corcoran's daughter, sent by her for the sole purpose of preventing a hostile meeting between the said parties, (the fact of the hostile message being known to her as well as to several others,) made his appearance in Mr. C.'s house in his known absence." It is already known that Mr. C. dislodged the intruder unceremoniously from his premises for this conduct, as heretofore stated, and hence the subsequent transactions as before published, and generally known by the community.

☞ Steam fire engines have come into great favor at Baltimore. Last week one was tried, weighing 6000 pounds, and costing $5000. With the large nozzle it threw a heavy stream upon the roof of a five-story warehouse, eighty feet in height. The "Alpha," purchased by the 1st Baltimore Hose Company, weighs 8000 pounds, and cost $4000.

Miss Antonia Quitman, second daughter of Gen. John Quitman, was married to Lieut. Wm. S. Lovell, U. S. Navy, a few days since, in Mississippi, by the Rev. J. H. Ingraham.

FIRE AT CENTRE HARBOR, N. H.—About 9 o'clock Sunday morning, at Centre Harbor, N. H., a fire broke out near the oven in the farm house of George W. Gilman, of the firm of Gilman & Huntress, landlords of the Senter House, at that popular summer resort. The inhabitants hastened to the spot, about two miles out of the village, but were unable to stay the progress of the flames, which consumed the house. The loss was about $2000, on which there was insurance for $1200.

☞ James Banks, Esq., member of the bar at Fayetteville, N. C., is in Cleveland, to carry out the will of the late Mrs. Perry, who appointed Mr. Banks to see that her six slaves, Caroline Perry and her five children, have their freedom and $10,000, as soon as the estate is settled. Mr. Banks brings the freed persons to Ohio—arranges with Judge Tilden to receive the money when he shall send it, and pay it over to and advise the new settlers how to invest it. The children are very light complexioned, with straight hair.

☞ A shocking accident occurred as the mail train from Boston was leaving Northfield, Vt. on Saturday. From some cause unknown, William Shattuck, engineer on board the train, either jumped or fell from the engine and struck his head against a tie where the rail crosses it, mutilating his face and taking the top of his head completely off. He was a young man 27 years of age, and much respected by all who knew him. His funeral was attended at Windsor.

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.—On Saturday afternoon, Hon. Gideon Haynes, Warden of the Charlestown State Prison, started from the East Cambridge Jail with Wm. Brightmore alias "Spunky," en route for the State Prison, where Brightmore was to serve out a seven years sentence for burglary and counterfeiting. The prisoner was handcuffed, but when near the draw of the Eastern Railroad managed to jump out, and ran for life, closely pursued by Mr. Haynes. On arriving at the draw he jumped into the water, where he sunk twelve feet, and on coming up he saw Mr. Haynes standing on the draw with a loaded pistol cocked in his hand. He cried out that he would submit, and was then secured, being taken up with a boat-hook by the crowd which was attracted to the spot.

☞ In Calais, Vt., on Friday of last week, a young man of 19, named Arial Martin, shot and killed Jenison L. Wheelock and Lucius Ainsworth, two young married men. He shot them in different places, very deliberately; he must have been crazy. The correspondent of the Boston Journal says:

No cause can be assigned for the horrid deed, Martin having always borne the reputation of being an honest, steady young man. The only reasons he gives for having committed the deed are that he "was mad at them and meant to kill them." He was ordered to be committed for trial at the September term of the Washington County Court. The deceased both bore a good reputation, and were both married about two years ago.

FATAL LIQUOR EXPLOSION.—At No. 16 South Williams street, New York city on Monday noon, a boy named Creegan, while employing in filtering liquor from one barrel to another, carelessly brought a light in contact with the liquor, causing a terrible explosion, which killed him instantly, and set the store on fire. The loss by fire was about $1500.

☞ Rev. A. Haviland, pastor of St. Michael's (Catholic) Church, in Chester, Pa., emphatically contradicts the statement of the Media Advertiser, (printed in that county,) that a Catholic clergyman of that county recently administered a severe whipping to a Mrs. Joanna Conner of his flock. The clergyman accused is the Rev. Charles Mangin, of Ivy Mills. The contradiction is specific and thorough, and we presume truthful.

☞ A novel application of artillery to road making has taken place in Department de l'Arriege, near the Pyrenees. The contractor found the process of blasting an overhanging rock rather difficult, and a battery of mortars of the 10th Regiment passing along, he telegraphed to Paris for leave to open fire on a crag sixty metres above the road over which it impended. A few rounds of ten-inch shell brought down the whole mass in fragments; 'twas an affair of ten minutes.

☞ Rev. A. K. P. Small, Baptist, of Buckfield, Me., has received an invitation to the Tremont Temple, Boston, lately occupied by Rev. Mr. Kalloch. He has also received an invitation from the First Baptist Church in Bangor, and will probably accept the latter.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for August, is the best number yet. Federhen & Co. of Boston have it, and so has J. P. Morse of this city, though we believe he does not "peddle" it, in the sense of the law. The closing article of this number, "The Pocket Celebration of the Fourth," is written with great power. "There is no need of qualifying ifs or buts; in every respect it would do credit to the ablest writer of our times, on either side of the Atlantic. The subject is the recent oration of Mr. Choate before the Young Men's Democratic Club. The reviewer does ample justice to Mr. Choate's scholarship and taste, and especially to his splendid rhetoric. No admiring follower of the great orator, even, has set forth his many excellencies with a keener analysis or a more generous appreciation. Having done that, the reviewer proceeds to the examination of the theory of politics laid down in the oration. With entire courtesy, but with merciless logic the great compromiser is driven from position to position until his last refuge is destroyed.—We can commend no greater treat to our readers than a perusal of this masterly article. Apart from its nervous strength, it is full of felicitous sentences and epithets, full of scholarly allusions, and bristling with native wit.

"Our Talks with Uncle John" is full of character: there are many wise and admirable observations scattered through the article;—or story, shall we call it? For it is both. It will be universally liked, we are sure. "The Romance of a Glove" is a fine story—a story after the orthodox pattern, and without disguise. It is from the pen of a practiced and powerful writer.

The Autocrat—what shall we say of him? Except that he is the wisest, wittiest, tenderest, most amiable, sentimental; freshest, most eccentric, sensitive, observant; funniest, daintiest, and most delightful of all despots that ever held people spell-bound with upraised forefinger and golden words. His present contribution concludes with a beautiful poem to the Muse."

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, July 20.—Our Leavenworth despatches of the 19th inst., per U. S. express to Booneville, say that private despatches from Washington state that new military posts are to be created at Big Timbers, and the Cheyenne Pass.

A despatch from St. Joseph's of the 17th inst., says the Saint Lake mail has arrived with dates to the 26th ult.

Gen. Johnson entered Salt Lake City on the 26th ult. Capt. Marcy was at the headquarters in the city.

The Mormons had been invited to return and take possion of their deserted homes. Provo was still the rallying point of the Mormons.

The express with orders from the War Department for Gen. Harney was only six miles in his rear. Grass was plenty on the route, and the Indians were peaceable.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE SONS OF MALTA.—Philadelphia, July 20.—The National Convention of the Sons of Malta reassembled this morning. A report was adopted for the formation of a consistory, consisting of two delegates from each lodge represented. The Convention then adjourned, sine die.

The Consistory subsequently met, and elected Dr. A. S. Jones, of New York, Chairman. It was resolved that this select body be hailed as the Supreme Grand Council of the Sons of Malta, of the United States, Cuba, and Mexico, to act in concert with the numerous grand lodges in Europe. The following officers were then elected:—Supreme Grand Commander, Howell Henry, of Pennsylvania; Vice Grand Commander, Curtis Guild, of Mass.; Grand Chancellor, Daniel W. Bess, of Ill.; Grand Secretary, H. L. Peterson, of Pa.; Grand Treasurer, J. T. Fisher, of Ohio; Grand Conductor, G. W. Dilks, of New York.—The supreme grand council adjourned at 4 o'clock this afternoon, till the second Monday in October, in New York city.

The visiting members from France, England, Germany, India and Havana were then admitted to the floor.

An universal convention of all the lodges in the world is spoken of, and will probably take place in 1859.

DEATH OF COL. DEVIN.—Savannah, July 20.—Mobile papers received here say that Col. Devin, recently appointed consul to Havana, died at his residence in Mississippi on the 18th inst.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Philadelphia, July 21st.—The downward train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad went through a bridge at Allentown, killing the engineer and fireman, and it is reported causing terrible loss of life among the passengers.

☞ Last Wednesday morning, notwithstanding the exceeding hot weather preceding, frost made its appearance at Oakland, Alleghany county, Md., and other points on the mountains, not, however, in sufficient quantities to injure anything.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses the advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

LEUCORRHŒA.
This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

LOCAL.

"The Christian cannot die before his time;
The Lord's appointment is the servant's hour."

No better application can be made of these lines, than to the demise of our highly esteemed citizen and beloved brother JAMES NOWELL. His steady, uniform, earnest course of practical christianity for five and twenty years, and till the last gasp of sinking life, is a rare example of consistent fidelity to a great principle, maintained through evil report and good report, and maintained too, with equal zeal in the one condition as in the other.

Mr. Nowell was a native of York, Maine, and came into Portsmouth about 25 years ago as a clerk to Mr. John F. Robinson, then a merchant here, in the grocery, corn, flour and provision business; proving himself a faithful and efficient clerk, he became a partner, and then the successor of Mr. R. in the corn and flour trade, in which, with buying and shipping country produce, he remained till his declining health closed his business life two or three years since.

His career as a merchant was scrupulously honest, beyond all suspicion; and honorable, altogether above and beyond the standard of hundreds who use the word honor a thousand times where he used it once. His standard was right—his aim was duty. He was cautious to do no wrong; he was gentle in manner and inoffensive in appearance; but entirely fearless of consequences when he saw or thought he saw the path of duty. In his business he was moderately successful;—and but for his great liberality and earnest desire to be useful and charitable, might have amassed a fortune.

But he had higher aims, to which the laying up of earthly treasures were always subordinate in his purposes and efforts. In the early days of the Pleasant street (orthodox) Church, he became a member of it,—and one of the first things we knew about him was, that out of his clerk's salary, (of perhaps $600,) he gave $100 toward the support of the ministry there.

This item may serve as an index to his standard of liberality and measure of duty. His rule of life was, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Thus, when he entered the church, his idea was not, how little can I do, just to "escape the damnation of hell,"—but what, and how much can I do, to honor him who went about doing good, and to benefit those of his needy friends and my fellow men who come within my reach.

With such views, he was the early, consistent, and steadfast friend of temperance, whose motives never could be questioned. He was the friend of the prisoner, the sot, and the slave,—and would deliver them, as he best could, from their sin, their follies, and their chains. And in these things, as in others of less note, he was never weary of well doing, up to his latest hour.

In this brief sketch, we do not design to state in detail, how or why, from being an ardent and efficient member of one church, he at length became only a member in regular standing of the General Assembly and Church of the First Born, whose names are written in Heaven, nor to enumerate his acts of charity to the "panting fugitive" fleeing from the law and gospel of oppression,—nor to tell of all his benefactions to the needy at his own door,—but we can sum up this part of his history in a word. He did "what he could," for every good object which came within his reach—and never said "be ye warmed or be ye filled," without a corresponding gift.

Brother Nowell was a devotional man in feeling and in practice, in public and in private. In his domestic and social relations, loving and beloved, he lived a worthy example, a blessing to the world, an ornament to the church—and died, at the close of a lingering illness, as he had lived, peaceful, dutiful, trusting in God, walking with him—and "he was not—for God took him!" T. R. M.

THE ZINGA.

"As brave a craft, and with as gallant men on board, as we would wish to meet upon the wave or on the land."

Messrs. Editors:—I had the pleasure this morning of visiting the beautiful yacht Zinga, which for the first time has divided with her keen cutwater the ripples of our blue Piscataqua, and through her burnished mouth-piece waked the echoes from its banks. It is not too much to say that, for a craft of her class, she probably surpasses anything that has ever sailed upon our waters, both as it regards her symmetry of model, her sailing qualities, and her interior finish, which is so finely adapted to convenience and comfort, and most elegantly and elaborately adorned. Indeed, in all her appointments, she is worthy the attention of every lover of nautical beauty. Captain Marryatt has waked in many a youthful brain the spirit of the romance of the sea, by his pictures of grace and beauty between keel and truck; but here is the realization of all and more than has ever presented itself even to his experience and fruitful imagination.

To give a detailed description of the various attractions on board the Zinga would be next to impossible; all who are interested must behold for themselves. The gentlemanly amateur officers, in their neat uniforms of blue, white and gold, add much to the attractiveness of a visit to the Zinga. I had not the pleasure of meeting the princely proprietor and commander, Wm. H. Thomas, Esq., but after beholding so exquisite a testimony to his good taste, we can but know him to praise.

Among the guests on board this morning was T. B. Aldrich, the poet and Home Journalist, with his uniform poetic eye and Willisian cast of feature; he is one of the Portsmouth boys on whom we may look with pride, and ever give him welcome to the homestead—but I am "parting my cable" of the Zinga. The Summer is waning, and Winter memories of the visit of the Zinga and its appurtenances shall cheer the fireside thoughts, and renew the hope for her annual appearance. N.

NOT QUITE SO BAD.—The Boston Traveller greatly over-states the difficulties of our new pedler law. It says:

The law is operating qu te disadvantageously to some of the citizens residing in New Hampshire near the Massachusetts line, and who have heretofore been supplied with provisions, bread and other stores, by persons with whom they had dealings in Massachusetts, and with whom, in some cases they made a mutual interchange of products. A person who should take or send from Massachusetts into New Hampshire for sale any agricultural implements, or even a couple of boxes of strawberries, or half a dozen oranges, would be liable to prosecution under this law.

He would not be unless he offered to peddle them. Again it says:

A drover from Maine cannot sell an ox, a cow or a sheep, as he travels through the State, without being liable to the penalty of the law, nor can the denizens of Kittery sell a pair of chickens or a quart of blueberries in the adjacent city of Portsmouth, without being placed in the same category.

Selling an ox in Market square would hardly be called peddling—and the chickens and blueberries from Kittery and Eliot will come here about the same as ever, almost every farmer and market woman having some shopkeeper here who will gladly bear all the brunt of the law, sell all the berries and chickens, and send the owner home with the proceeds in advance.

CHURCH GOING.—It was a very interesting sight, to behold, in one of our old churches, last Sunday, a family of nine children, seated in order and decorum, with the parents—thus ornamenting the church with living stones polished after the similitude of a palace.

☞ Wednesday was Commencement Day at Harvard College. Among the exercises we observe the following parts assigned to New Hampshire boys:

An Essay. "The Pepperell Family." John Pearse Treadwell, Portsmouth.

A Dissertation. "Burke in his Dotage." Henry Lyman Patten, Kingston.

An Oration. "Pericles and Lorenzo de Medici." Geo. Albert Wentworth, Wakefield.

A Dissertation. "Roman Watering-Places." George Washington Copp Noble, Somersworth.

A Dissertation. "The Tories of the American Revolution." Bradbury Longfellow Cilley. Exeter.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.
BOSTON, Feb 27, 1845.
To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—Dear Sir—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my recommendation of the Hungarian Balsam I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, acute pains in the side, loss of appetite, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe colds, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. OCTAVIAN HODGS.
This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hodgs, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.
IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS
to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.
TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.
THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.
Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box; A liberal discount to the Trade.
Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, and by recitations and examinations (in connection with them,) of which there are two every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or pursuits, at pleasure, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHOOLY LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, TROY, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached the fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to direction, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was entirely restored to its glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co., N. Y.: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.) for a few weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restoraive. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used: for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., TROY, N.Y.

CHARGE OF LIBEL AGAINST FRANK LESLIE. Alderman Beed, of the eleventh district, on Thursday appeared before Justice Quackenbush and made a complaint against Frank Leslie, otherwise known as Henry Carter, charging him with having in the issue of a paper known as Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, bearing date July 17, published, in the shape of a wood cut, a gross and malicious caricature and libel against him and other Aldermen. Alderman Reed and others, it will be remembered, were the Investigating Committee in the swill milk matter; and it is alleged that the cut referred to caricatures and libels them. The cut represents four men, a stable and a cow; one of the men is a masculine milkmaid, another is supposed to be the proprietor of a stable, and the others Alderman Reed and his companions. These three gentlemen have each whitewash brushes in their hands. Mr. Reed is engaged in whitewashing the stable. One of the others is putting a coat on the cow, and the other is whitewashing the milkmaid. The supposed keeper of the stable is in the act of putting into the pocket of one of the gentlemen a bag marked $50,000, and from the pocket of another a bag labelled $5,000 is protruding. Alderman Reed is of the opinion that this cut is intended to libel and caricature him as well as the others, and consequently makes the complaint. The magistrate issued a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Frank Leslie, and officer Smith, of the Jefferson Market Police Court, is in search of him.—N. Y. Herald.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. Many of the most prominent complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of distinction in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Gurnsey, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of cathartics, possessing excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and efficacious in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"My only care your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose, as experience has I find their beneficial effects upon the digestive organs and liver. I find that your Pills are the most prompt, most efficient, for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe they are a great blessing to mankind, and are worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used for my family, and I prescribed them in my practice with an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the disease of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies so commonly used. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent medicine where given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their superacting makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Hon. R. Stuart, also practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent for the purpose of the mother, if used when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to clean the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend nothing to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, which I find to be the parent of disease, and as offensive as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the sufferers who suffer from that complaint; which, although bodily enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are more dangerous, and which originate in the liver, for your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — ERUPTIONS — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Reuben Hall, Philadelphia.

"You ask me, as Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. I know so that I have used them of late years in my practice, and have found them to be a most valuable aid. They stimulate the secretories, and carry off the impurities that engender in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK-HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—COSTIVENESS—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—ETC.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"HERE TO ACT. I cannot answer you usual complaints I have used with your Pills better than to say all that are your Cathartic Pills are recommended. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily contact with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I feel no hesitancy in ranking them highly."

Ay Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its injudious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for CONSUMPTION, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptives in the advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts easier and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American pioneer to the palaces of the European. Throughout this active country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet, it contains CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yielding to it, if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, this is irrefutably proves that this medicine does cure the disease it is designed for, better than any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or other safe hand, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease and debility have been speedily treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are now under his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott Street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions now in vogue being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the nature of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where they can be had.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott Street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, procure circular around each bottle, and see one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful Restorative, which turns hair to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual and healthy natural fluid—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, venture to do without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Bedford, makes the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, and my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store, on the 3d of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length and quite thick. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact was bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving a benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

H. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 454 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have witnessed its virtues well and know others to be equally well and know others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely restores the head of dandruff and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the Legislature of the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer the public their opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well cared for as if they were present. The undersigned respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. Tickets will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to the place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the learned. Prizes range from $50 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

The Schemes that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, New Orleans Natchez, Picayune, Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading from view, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. IT IS KNOWN HEREBY, THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization, such as obstructions, painful or painless menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health to blossom on the sallow sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral poisons, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect what they already detailed. THEREFORE, as it KNOWS, that morning sickness and PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when PREGNANCY has been expressed under DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that Proclamation in order to be considered SENT AND GOOD; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHESEMAN, Cambridge, Box No. 4,231, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

HEALTH OF DAUGHTERS. — Mothers, is there anything we can do to acquire for our daughters a good constitution? Is there truth in the sentiment sometimes repeated, that our sex is becoming more and more effeminate? Are we as capable of enduring hardship as our grandmothers? Have our daughters as much stamina of constitution, as much aptitude as we ourselves possess? These questions are not interesting to us simply as individuals.—They affect the welfare of the community; for the ability or inability of woman to discharge what the Almighty has committed to her, touches the equilibrium of society, and the hidden springs of existence. Tenderly interested as we are for the health of our offspring, let us devote peculiar attention to that of our daughters. Their delicate frames require more care in order to become vigorous, and are in more danger through the prevalence of fashion. Frequent and thorough ablutions, a simple and nutritious diet, we should secure for all our children.

But I plead for the fair girl, that she may have air and exercise as well as her brother, that she may not be too much blamed, if, in her earnest play, she happen to tear and soil her apron. I plead that she may not be punished as a romp if she keenly enjoys those active sports which city gentility proscribes. I plead that the ambition to make her accomplished do not chain her to a piano till the spinal column, which should consolidate the frame, starts aside like a broken reed; nor bow her over the book till the vital energy, which ought to pervade the whole system, mounts into her brain and kindles the death fever.—Mrs. Sigourney.

AGE OF ACTORS.—One evening when Mrs. Hudson Kirby, an actress, was conversing with some gentlemen on the subject of health, she remarked that she knew of nothing so conducive to the preservation of that blessing as a meat supper taken regularly at twelve o'clock at night.—She stated that she had taken such a supper every night for twenty years, and had hardly seen a sick day in that time. So much for regularity, even in pursuing a bad practice. One would suppose, however, that the actor's life, with its turning of night into day, its expenses and anxieties, would be anything but promotive of health and longevity. There are few of us who realize the ages of those even with whose faces the public are familiar. Mr. Peter Richings, who appears on the the stage to be a vigorous gentleman of thirty-five, is seventy-one years old. Charlotte Cushman, whom no one would place beyond forty, is fifty-eight. Agnes Robertson, a great pet, supposed to be about twenty-three years old, is thirty-five, and her husband, Dion Boucicault, is fifty-five! "Old Burton" is sixty-one; Tom Comer sixty-three; James Wallack, Sen., seventy-four; the fresh looking Mrs. Barrow is forty-three, and Laura Keene is but one year her senior. Lola Montez is forty-nine, and W. M. Fleming whom our Springfield people supposed to be a youngish man just spreading himself, is forty-one. Gabriel Ravel, whose joints are made of India rubber and who possesses all the sprightliness of youth, is fifty-eight years old, and his brother Jerome is only four years younger. So the actor's life lasts well, and simply proves that nature will adopt itself to regular irregularity.—Springfield Republican.

FUNGUS FLOWER GROWING FROM A BOY'S LEG.—A letter to the Lancaster (Pa.,) Times gives an authentic account of the singular phenomenon which has been alluded to in the newspapers—that of a flower growing from human flesh. It appears that a certain child in Lancaster, at two years of age, become afflicted with the hip disease and lingered on and grew, having attained the age of fourteen years at the period of his death, a few weeks since.—During a period of nine months previous to his death, numerous abscesses were formed, and the lad was nearly reduced to a skeleton. A day or two previous to his death, during the night, a double stem and two flowers grew from the calf of one of his legs, a little below the knee joint, the limb being apparently much swollen. The writer states that "hundred of seeds were found in the room after the boy's death, similar to those of the passion flower," and that "all say the flower resembles the passion rose." The attending physician, Dr. Hawley, deemed it so wonderful as to require other witnesses to testify to the fact, and he accordingly called in Dr. Stevens, the Rev. Mr. Walker, and others. This flower (fungus) grew in one night to the height of three and a half inches, and has since been sent on to New York, where it is undergoing a thorough investigation, and will be no doubt lithographed and described by those having good opportunity to enter into the minutiæ.

☞ The Indianapolis (Ind.) Sentinel thinks that, on the whole, the crop of wheat in that State will exceed that of last year. In Laporte county alone it is estimated that there will be a surplus of 700,000 bushels for shipment. The grass crop is fine all over the State. Oats are unequal; in some localities an average crop, while in others there is almost a total failure.

OBTAINING SUBSCRIBERS IN A CHIMNEY.—On Saturday afternoon a lady agent for a book called "Travels in Africa," made her appearance in the navy yard for the purpose of obtaining subscribers. After passing through a number of shops, she proceeded to the new brick building, where a gang of men are engaged in building a mammoth chimney to be over two hundred feet in height. She made known her business and succeeded in obtaining several subscribers among the workmen about the building. The workmen at the top of the chimney, which is now over one hundred feet high, becoming aware of her presence, sent down word that if she would come up there, they would subscribe, little thinking she would accept their offer. Nothing daunted, however, she got into the box which is used to hoist the bricks, mortar, &c., which is propelled by steam, and up she went at 2:40 speed, and in less than a minute was surrounded by bricks, mortar and masons, the latter being much surprised at the appearance of the lady in their midst. She succeeded in obtaining eight subscribers, and after spending half an hour was safely landed on terra firma, not the least soiled by her journey through the chimney. If every book agent was as persevering as this lady, there would be quite a revolution in the book trade.—Boston Traveller.

The editor of Robinson Crusoe wrote two hundred books and ten pamphlets, and then died insolvent. This shows how just is the definition of an author, as a benevolent being, who, having nothing in his pockets, gives away his brains.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him, to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 21, 1855
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy towards the officers of the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of an questioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his clientlic attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B RENWICK, L. O. GALE, S. H. LAKE, T. R. PEALE } Principal Examiners.
THOS T. EVERETT, P. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. U. LANDON. } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. ELLIS FESSENDEN,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1858.

HARVARD COMMENCEMENT.—On Wednesday the usual exercises took place at Commencement in Harvard College. The church was completely filled at an early hour, and the parts were uniformly marked with such mental excellence and confidence of delivery, as to render this the most pleasing exhibition that has occurred for many years. The meeting of the Alumni was large, and the customary dinner at Harvard Hall was even pleasanter than ever before.

The graduating class number 88, the next class being much larger. The next Freshman class will number about 120.—Out of 122 who applied for admission, 18, an unusually large number, were rejected, 29 admitted free of conditions, and the remainder admitted on condition. A few more will be added to these at the second examination, in September. John P. Treadwell, of the graduating class, was the only student from Portsmuth. Four Portsmouth boys were admitted this week, all of whom were fitted at Exeter Academy. A pupil of Mr. Carlton, of this city, was also admitted.

☞ That Gulf Fleet of ours which was to "blow the British Navy out of water," appears to have been a remarkable collection of old hulks. The Arctic's machinery broke down on the way out. The Water Witch did not get there till the dispute was all settled. The Colorado was sent out with so much grass and so many oysters on her bottom as to spoil her sailing, and now her hold proves to be so foul and filthy that the crew have to be put ashore to save them from the Yellow Fever!

REV. ORA PEARSON.—The last Vermont Chronicle announces the death of Rev. Ora Pearson, which took place at Peacham, Vt., July 5th, at the age of 60 years. Mr. Pearson was a native of Chittenden, Vt., graduated at Middlebury College in 1820, studied theology at Andover, and after preaching two years in New York State, he settled as pastor of the Congregational church in Kingston, this State, in 1826, where he remained six years; and afterwards labored in Compton, Canada East, as Missionary of the New Hampshire Missionary Society three years; after which, and after other labors, in 1844, his eyesight failing him, he became a Volume Agent of the American Tract Society, in which service he continued from 1845 to 1851. Since that date he has resided in Peacham, having been nearly blind. Mr. Pearson possessed a well balanced mind, and was devoted to his Lord's service. As a man he was distinguished for his mild and amiable disposition, his humility and low self esteem, his conscientiousness, his social turn, and attachment to his friends.—He was a man of prayer; God was with him and now has taken him.

THE DEATH OF WM. T. PORTER.—Wm. T. Porter, long known as the editor of the New York Spirit of the Times, and of various sporting publications died in New York on Monday morning. The Post says that Mr. Porter, after leaving the Spirit of the Times, in which he had gained a wide reputation, established about a year or two since a new periodical entitled Porter's Spirit, of which he was editor at the time of his death. He was a man of much cleverness as a writer in his department, and of a highly social and convivial temper. His loss will be widely regretted in sporting circles. Mr. Porter was attacked on Friday by chills and fever, and died on Monday morning at nine o'clock. His health had previously been impaired. He was 56 years of age, and was born in New York.

☞ A romantic looking, comfortable brick mansion, with a splendid garden contiguous, on Fifty-first street, New York, has the reputation of being haunted; the owner cannot get a tenant for it at half price. At 12 o'clock every night the ghost makes an exhibition of himself at the windows. The place was searched by the police and others the other night, but his ghostship kept shady.

☞ Michigan is the first to inaugurate an Agricultural College. As yet it has only accommodations for one hundred students. At the commencement of the present term there were but twenty-eight vacancies, while ninety-three applicants appeared and were examined.

☞ Francis Rouache, in New Orleans, has been sentenced to fifteen years hard labor in the penitentiary, for killing his slave by a long course of inhuman treatment.

THE DE RIVIERE AFFAIR.—Miss Emily J. Blount, the heroine of the De Riviere scandal, was examined before Judge Ogden at Bergen, N. J., on Tuesday. Her testimony fully confirmed that elicited on Monday, relative to her removal from Hoboken to Gloucester by Huncke and Mulford, and her subsequent return to her father in spite of the efforts of Mulford's brother to induce her to meet Riviere and to go to Hoboken. She states that she left the hotel at Hoboken between two and three o'clock at night, without any knowledge of her destination, except that she was going into the country to get out of the reach of her father. She states that she meant to return to her father as soon as she could, when she was first taken away. She was not consulted about going, and did not consent to go; her mother consented, and she went because she was told to. Her mother wanted her to marry Riviere. There had been no ill treatment on the part of her father.

The young lady appears to have escaped from the hands of the villains who were in league with Riviere, through the result of their own management. She was taken to Dr. Mulford's, the brother of Riviere's counsel, in Gloucester, and remained there several days, when Riviere suddenly appeared one Sunday night, about 1 o'clock, saying that he had seen a young man on the train at New Brunswick whom he thought was coming after Miss Blount. It was immediately decided, without consultation with the young lady, that she must be removed, and she was at once called up and taken in a carriage to the house of Mr. Lodge, brother-in-law of Dr. Mulford, and a farmer, to whom she was introduced (without her consent) by the name of Mary Loud. The Doctor told her to say that she came from Philadelphia, but not to talk much, "and it was so common an occurrence that they would think nothing of it." The young lady was sick all the time she remained at this place, most of the time confined to her bed. She told Mr. Lodge that as she was very sick, she had better get back to her father, and he finally consented to convey her to the cars.

On the way she told Mr. Lodge who she was, at which he was much surprised. He wanted her to see Dr. Mulford again. Upon reaching the cars she stated to one of the officials who she was, and he promised to see her through, which promise was fulfilled. Dr. Mulford appeared before she left and endeavored to induce her to return, but she refused, when he proceeded in the cars with her, for the purpose of changing her determination of seeking her father, but happily without success. The transfer of Miss Blount from Dr. Mulford's to Mr. Lodge's, caused by the alarm of Riviere, completely thwarted the plans of the conspirators. She was thus placed in the care of a person ignorant of her name and circumstances, and through this fact enabled to make her escape. The appearance of Miss Blount in the court-room is thus described:

She is a handsome girl, quite young and innocent in her appearance, and very pale. She was dressed with taste, but not showily or richly—a blue dress, and over it a thin embroidered gauze or crape mantilla. She gave her evidence in a plain, straightforward manner, and without any appearance of trepidation or embarrassment.

☞ A family named Stearns, residing in Corinth, N. Y., were recently arrested for cruel treatment of a young girl who was bound to them. Mrs. Stearns, besides ordering her husband and son to administer sundry severe whippings, had at one time tied the girl's hands behind her, and then, with a shoemaker's awl, pinned her up to the door by her ear! For this fiendish conduct the wretch was fined the sum of $1.

GREAT FIRE AT CAPE GOOD HOPE.—A letter from Port Elizabeth, Cape Good Hope, dated May 17, has been received in Boston, stating that a great fire occurred at that port on the previous night. All the finest warehouses there were destroyed, and the amount of loss is estimated at £119,000.

☞ Good wheat was sold four miles from Bristol, Tenn., on the 20th of June, at 37½ cents, cash, per bushel; and, it is stated, could readily be bought at 40 cents per bushel, though the place is connected directly by railroad with Lynchburg and Richmond.

☞ The General Association of Congregational and Presbyterian Ministers of New Hampshire, will hold their next meeting at Hampton, (church of Rev. John Colby,) on the fourth Tuesday (24th) of August, at 10 o'clock A. M.

☞ The New Hampshire Domestic Missionary Society, and the N. H. Bible Society, hold their Annual Meeting at the same place. The meetings continue three days, viz. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

ANDOVER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The examination of the Junior Class in Sacred Philology will commence on Monday, Aug. 2d, at 9 A. M.; and of Middle Class in Theology, on Tuesday, Aug. 3d, at 8 A. M.

The year 1858 is the semi-centennial anniversary of the Seminary, and the Trustees have made the following arrangements for its celebration. On Wednesday, Aug. 4th, the exercises of the Graduating Class will commence at 8½ A. M., and will conclude at noon. The afternoon of Wednesday, will be devoted to Class meetings of the Alumni; and in the evening of Wednesday, there will be a social reunion of all who have been members of the Institution. On Thursday, Aug. 5th, a commemorative discourse will be delivered by Rev. Leonard Bacon, D. D., commencing at 9 A. M.; after which the Alumni will assemble at a public dinner, when there will be a series of speeches from appointed members of the body, upon persons and themes connected with the past history of the Institution.

☞ Henry Ricketts and Katherine Stout were married at Wimborne Minster on Sunday. Their united ages amounted to thirty, being respectively fourteen and sixteen years. The bridegroom is fulfilling the situation of errand boy to a grocer in the town, at five shillings a week.

☞ At its late Annual Meeting, the Maine (Congregational) Conference passed the following resolution in relation to the Tract Society, without opposition or discussion:—

Resolved, That we approve of the position taken by the American Tract Society at Boston.

☞ The 5th Annual Meeting of the New Hampshire State Teacher's Association, will be held in Concord, on the 3d, 4th and 5th days of August. The first session will commence at 2 o'clock P. M., Tuesday, August 3d.

☞ The very extensive contract for the iron pipe for the water works at Washington has been given to the Glasgow company! What will the ironworkers of Pennsylvania say to this?

☞ Judge Cato, of Kansas notoriety, has resigned the office of U. S. District Judge of that Territory, and gone into the practice of law in Kansas City, Missouri.

☞ The New York Christian Enquirer says, that the first need, perhaps, of the church at the present day, is not so much mind as muscle.

☞ Charles H. Bell, Esq., of Exeter, will deliver an oration before the Alumni of Blanchard Academy, at Pembroke, on Wednesday, August 18th.

☞ James Russell Lowell is said to be the author of the "Pocket Celebration of the Fourth" in the August number of the Atlantic Monthly.

☞ A poor black in St. Louis has been sent to prison for four months, on a charge of "being a free negro without a license."

CHARADE.

Just see that young lass, how she wieldeth my first;
Every corner and nook she'll have clean.
So, Tom, do not think to go there with your dust,
Neither morning, noonday, nor at o'en.
In the dreary old forest my next you will find,
On our noblest ships o'er the sea;
Near the gurgling brook in the famed hazel dell,
It grows neath the green willow tree.
Then a trip up to Enfield—it's there you will see
How they turn out my whole workman-like.
The Shaker is neat and proud of his craft;
Be sure for high prices he'll strike.

BOILING ROCK.

☞ Answer to Charade in last week's Chronicle, Girl-Hood.

☞ In a pecuniary point of view, the manufacture of linen on an extensive scale in this country has proved a failure. The large mill in Fall River, owned by the American Linen Company, which has been in operation about four years, is to be converted into a cotton mill.

EARLY CORN.—Col. B. P. Walker, of Claremont, N. H., has the honor this year of sending the first lot of green corn to the Boston market. It arrived yesterday, and the ears were well filled out with plump kernels. It is a little singular that "bleak New Hampshire" should be ahead of supposed warmer latitudes in the production of this almost tropical esculent, but there can be no doubt that the corn in question must be sweet, for it was grown on the banks of Sugar River.—Transcript, 21*st*.

☞ Lincoln, the republican candidate for the U. S. Senate in Illinois, is a native of Kentucky, a slave state. He is a strong anti-slavery man.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.
SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1 50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

LEUCORRHŒA.
This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

YACHT CLUBS AND BOAT CLUBS

Are fast becoming permanencies, in our sea-fringed and river-slashed border states, and the more general the current of fashion sets in the direction of such sports, the better for the brains and the muscles of this generation. These are the sports to develope a race of hardy, self-reliant, outdoor men,—men of brown complexions, hard hands, tough tendons,—rough and ready men, whose outdoor life upon the waves gives them a double advantage of strength in the contentions of the court room, or quickness in financial transactions at the broker's board or at the counter. These are the independent men who, if occasion requires, may drop their pens and their yard sticks, to wield their paddles, and haul at the braces of the yard arm. With brains to direct the expenditure of their acquired physical force, their cultivated power of endurance, and their nautical skill, at once represent a capital upon which they may fall back when fees fail and stocks fall.

Let no young man of sedentary life content himself with the simple routine of his daily employment. Physical developement is what he needs,—is what he ought to have, and what he can have, and that without neglect of his regular occupation, but with enhanced means for its pursuance. Join a boat club, learn to pull an oar, learn the art of boat sailing, so that the winds and waves, instead of being to you a treacherous foe, may be a safe and reliable source of pleasure—for who is not safer with ordinary skill, and the tiller in his hand, than with the reins of a capricious horse, who may in spite of restraint, break his trot and his driver's neck.

Of course every boy who lives near the water learns to swim, or should learn.—Water sports are inexpensive, pleasant and healthy, and may be enjoyed by a far larger class than those who now participate in them.

Wanted, several boat clubs, to be formed at once, for the river Piscataqua. The materials may be taken from Market street and Market Square and its vicinity. None however will be admitted unless warranted to work well. N.

A New Man Behind the Scenes.—The Springfield Republican speaks of a Wm. Dietz, an African negro, as having exerted great influence in inducing Mrs. Dudley to take the side of the Scientific Council, in the controversy between them and the Trustees of the Dudley Observatory, and says that "he has the entire care of her property, valued at over a million of dollars." Of course the absurdity of such an assertion to those who know the motives of Mrs. Dudley, in making her liberal donation to the observatory, and her warm interest in its success, is too obvious to need exposure. Who Mr. Dietz is, may be learned from the following paragraph in the Radical Abolitionist:—

"The 'Inferior Race'.—The Scientific American some time since contained an interesting account and an engraved illustration of a 'magnificent project, by Mr. Wm. Dietz, of Albany,' of a new railroad for Broadway. It turns out, according to Douglass's paper, that Mr. Wm. Dietz of Albany, is a colored man. Suppose his invention should get patented, or be sold to our city corporation, or Mr. Dietz should be employed to construct a railroad on the model, would it be held that the scientific inventor has 'no rights which white men are bound to respect?'"

Hard Times in Canada.—Last week the Canadian Government announced to Parliament that a general reduction of salaries had been resolved upon, commencing with those of the Ministers of the Crown, and extending to the whole body of government employees. The salaries of members of the Executive Council, which are now £1250 ($5000) a year, are to be reduced to £1000 ($4000), and those of the Solicitors General from £750 ($3000) to £600 ($2400). Ten per cent. is to be deducted from the salaries of public employees in the different departments of the government. The salary of the Governor General remains untouched. It is £7777 15s 4d a year—upwards of $31,000.

The Harvest in France.—Says the Paris correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce:

"The harvests are begun in the middle and southern parts of France; the weather has been and continues the best possible; abundant crops are therefore certain; and the vines promise a quantity and quality in which the whole of Christendom may rejoice. It is ascertained that the crops in Spain will be about on an average. The silk crop in this and other countries is expected to prove better than was expected."

Philadelphia, July 21.—The reported accident at Allenstown was exaggerated. The bridge over the little Lehigh broke down as the up coal train was passing. Joel Fields and Wm. Lands were killed.—Nobody else was injured.

A despatch from Allenstown to-day, says the cars which went through the bridge were empty. The bridge consisted of two spans, supported by a pier. One of the spans was broken down and ten cars were precipitated into the river.

The train is said to have run off the track, which is the assigned cause for the breaking of the bridge.

Shipwreck and Suffering.—The Boston Courier publishes the following letter, dated Lubec, Me., July 17:

"We noted the arrival yesterday (16th) of Daniel Joy and S. M. H. Tinker—the former pilot and the latter seaman of the scooooner Ann Denman, which vessel was lost on the coast of Labrador on the 25th of June—in an open boat of 19 feet keel. They made the pasage in 19 days, a distance of nearly 1200 miles, through a dense fog and drenching rains, accompanied with strong gales of wind, stopping but twice on the passage. When they arrived here they were nearly perished, having been drenched with rain on the whole pasage and having but very little food to eat. This is considered rather a remarkable case of seamanship, and one which demanded great courage and skill. The parties are in good general health, notwithstanding the severe exposure."

Washington Items, July 21.—Contrary to the published statement, it is well known that Col. Kane will not publish a report of his Utah mission. Sufficient reasons are assigned why this would not advance the public interests.

There is good reason to believe from recently received information, that our government is now in a fair way to acquire the island of Cuba. This is derived from an unquestionable source.

New York, July 22.—At the picnic, yesterday, of the Attorney Street Methodist Church, at David's Island, a pleasure boat was upset by a squall, and three persons drowned, viz.: Mrs. Ann Eliza Jacobs, aged 22, Mrs. Isabella Furguson, aged 18, and Miss Emma Dennitt, aged 18.

A broker named Allen Clark was arrested yesterday, on a charge of swindling Cyrus Cummings out of $15,000, connected with the sale of a bogus concern in Maryland, called the Mount Airy Coal and Iron Comp any.

☞ The London Globe says the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon preached in the open air at old Surrum on the 4th inst., and stated that he should no longer preach in the Music Hall of the Surrey Gardens. ☞ The Philadelphia papers state that the new crop of hay, which is a luxuriant one, is coming into the market quite rapidly. It sells at from 35 to 45 cents per hundred pounds.

☞ The total shipments of grain to Chicago this season amounts to 10,197,818 bushels, which is an excess of 5,700,000 more than the entire shipments up to the same time last year.

☞ Notice of a motion has been given in the English House of Lords for a commission to consider "whether the Liturgy of the Church of England is not capable of such alterations as may render it more profitable than it now is for the religious instruction and edification of the people."

☞ The most dangerous form of alcoholic indulgence is now found in Paris, and especially among the army in Algiers, to be "absinthe"; its action on the nervous system is disastrous.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.
Boston, Feb 27, 1845.
To Dr. D. F. Bradley—Dear Sir—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my testimony in favor of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, acute pains in the side, loss of appetite, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe colds, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. Octavian Hodgs.
This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hodges, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

☞ Great Discovery of the Age. ☜
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.
IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS
to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.
TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the tobacco know well to testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.
THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES
are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used, being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.
Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.
Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University,
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
Hon. Joel Parker, LL. D., Royal Professor.
Hon. Theophilus Parsons, LL. D., Dane Professor.
Hon. Emory Washburn, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twelve weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
Scribner Lake, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. Hagan, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to direction, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. Myle Seaman.
Essex Co. ss: Myle Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb. 1858.
Joel F. Patten, Justice of the Peace.
Pittsford, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. Wm. Kingsley,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This effect is produced in whom dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

A WEALTHY PAUPER.—Charles Stautz, a youth about 18 years of age, was sent to the Infirmary of this county about two years since, being without friends, and subject to temporary fits of insanity.—Through kind and experienced treatment he has quite recovered from the spells of insanity, and has made himself quite a favorite in the family of Dr. Moreller, the physician and director of the institution, and last week it was ascertained that by the death of an uncle residing near Rochester, N. Y., he had fallen sole heir to an estate worth $100,000 or upwards. The estate was owned jointly by the father and uncle of the youth, but by the death of the father, some years since, it fell into the hands of the uncle, who deceased some weeks since, having willed the entire bulk of the property to Charles. The little fellow was astonished when the news was imparted to him. No wonder! Older heads would have been startled quite as much.—Columbus (Ohio) Paper.

Prentiss, the witty imp of the Louisville Journal, was reported a little while ago to have joined the total abstinence society.—Since then his jocosity has been more profuse than ever, literally running over, like the Mississippi river. His jokes come so fast that they fairly tread upon each other's heels, and his cotemporaries are kept so busy clipping them that scissors grinders will eventually reap a rich harvest in resharpening those editorial adjuncts.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints and ailments that afflict humanity originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are adapted to cure many varieties of disease.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, wondering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of the maladies will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter, and a direct address shown.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinis in friends.

In particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of the mind, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superiority in regulating the monthly courses of females. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name, they are represented as useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call upon the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine, the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so very cheap.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a fine growth of hair—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids:—and hence, it imparts a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to wear the locks as the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the glossy curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agents of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEAR SIRS, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I enclosed your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was a fine thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Fowl, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respects, REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving wonderful in my family—the front, and also the back part of my head almost lost by covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well stocked with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever, I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and introduce your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for the benefit of my concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other whatever. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original condition of color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it or the linen on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery Office of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their proceedings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in a fair and honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all tickets being dated for the last drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and a result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Book. Write your orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHERLAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily advertising themselves as learned and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether wives, or widows, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are always the certain pancacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they STOPS correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex: more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other nostrums thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when all other means have been resorted to and proved ineffectual, by the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread from mouth to mouth, as a everlasting benefit—always promising that said Procedure in one case must be considered SILL and VOID; that is to say IF PILLS EVER not be taken when they have been in an extreme condition, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4,751, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists everywhere throughout the United States.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is now open for the season. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Located at the Point of Land in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics and its freedom from those and other exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The new and beautiful Packet

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, at a reasonable rate. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort Sullivan, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the mansions of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around the adjacent islands are seldom known.

This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave twice daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times. ANDREW AMES,
PROPRIETOR.

CHARLES H. RUNDLETT.

This scoundrel is the one who tried to kill J. W. Randall, a hired man who lived at Hampton Falls three years ago, and who wasenticed to Newburyport by this same Rundlett, pretending to go to sea. The Newburyport Herald gives the following story about him.

Ex-Marshal Brown, who is deserving of much praise for his perseverance in following up rogues whom he spotted during his administration of police matters, has returned from Maine, where he fully identified Charles H. Rundlett, of Mount Vernon, as the villain who assaulted J. W. Randall, out by the Turnpike in 1855. It appears that Rundlett, after that offence, escaped to Gloucester, as was supposed, and was taken thence in a vessel and landed to the eastward. A year later, he married a respectable lady in the town of Readfield, Me., and soon after robbed the store of her father to the extent of $1,300. He is the son of a wealthy father, and being the son-in-law of the robbed, the matter was compromised and he went to the west.

He returned to Maine last May, and in June committed a murderous assault upon two brothers, Charles and Uriah Welch, of Mt. Vernon. They were bachelors, living by themselves, doing their own housework, and possessed of money. They were noted for keeping large fat oxen; and supposed to have ready cash in their dwelling. One night about 12 o'clock, this man called at their house, representing himself as a drover wishing to purchase cattle, and was invited in. Uriah Welch remained in bed while Charles set about preparing supper for the supposed drover; and while doing so Rundlett drew a pistol and fired three bullets into him, when he fell. Uriah Welch sprang from the bed, but not before he had received two bullets, and grappled with him; and after he had struck him a severe blow with a cane, on the head, Rundlett beat a retreat and escaped with an accomplice who waited his call at the door. One of the Welches has nearly recovered, and the other is not expected long to survive his wounds.

Rundlett went to Vienna, where he stole a horse, which was in his possession, disfigured and colored to prevent detection, being about starting for Canada. He was committed to Augusta jail, but subsequently bailed out and arrested for the attempted murder and robbery of the Welches, and committed to the Farmington jail to take his trial in October. His father offered to bail him at $10,000, but was refused. Both the Welches identified him as the man who attempted to murder them.

Mr. Brown, believing him to be the same man that decoyed Randall and endeavored to murder him, went to Maine for investigation. Randall upon going to the jail identified him, and gave an affidavit to that effect. There is no doubt that Rundlett is one of the most abandoned and bloody scoundrels that ever went unhung, and the positive proof of his guilt, though he denies all knowledge of these affairs, has created an intense excitement. The people, fearing his escape, keep a constant guard over the jail; and also about the residence of the Welches, apprehending that his accomplices may attempt to make away with them to get rid of their evidence. As the crime committed in Massachusetts is no more aggravated than those in Maine, it is not probable that he will be delivered up on the requisition of Gov. Banks.

ABOUT GRINDSTONES.—The following is from a correspondent of the Progressive Farmer:

I speak without fear of contradiction, when I say that more than one million of dollars have been lost by the farmers in the United States, during the last half century, by their poor economy in the use of grindstones. He loses enough in one season to buy a good one. We will suppose that the time spent by a farmer and hired man in grinding during the year, amounts to twelve days; then, if one-third of this could be saved by using a good stone, there is a loss of four days' work, which with board, cannot be less than four dollars, which would buy a stone of the first quality and all its fixtures. But the loss of time occasioned by grinding on poor stones is far from being all the loss that arises from the use of such stones.—The tools cannot be ground near as well, therefore the workman cannot perform as much labor, nor do it as well, as if the tools had been properly ground. In my opinion many a farmer in this country loses from two to five dollars every year by using a poor grindstone.

MRS. SOUTHEY AN EX-MILLINER.—Mrs. Southey had been a milliner at Bath, a certain Miss ——; a lovely creature, as I have been told, as very Bath milliner ought to be, and no doubt a very estimable person. After her marriage she used up her remnants in a truly conjugal and beautiful manner, in binding strongly and very neatly such of her husband's books as required it. I possess one of these bound with a bit of gingham, and another in a piece of Irish poplin; both volumes are likewise adorned by the autograph of the Author of Madoc; they are, therefore, on all accounts to be cherished.—Hogg's Life of Shelley.

ACCIDENT AT FAYAL.—The painful intelligence has just been received of the death at Fayal, Azores, of Alfred Buckminster Frost, the youngest son of Rev. B. Frost, lately pastor of the Unitarian Church in Concord, Mass. Mr. Frost, Mrs. Frost their son Alfred, about ten years old, and a female friend, Miss Fuller, have been living at Fayal several months, in hopes of benefit to Mr. Frost's health. About the first of June, the boy became one of a party to visit the peak of Pico, a mountain upon the island. Miss Fuller was of the party, but the state of Mr. Frost's health was such that his wife was unable to go. The party consisted partly of sea captains, with whom young Frost had made himself a great favorite. Returning from their visit, and while upon the mountain, they got out of their path, and began to explore for the purpose of finding it. Seeing an opening, one of the men told Alfred to run along and see what he could find there. He did so. A moment after he was heard to scream that he was falling. The company rushed to his aid, but it was too late. He had fallen from a precipice seventy feet high. His back was broken, and he received other injuries. He was taken home, a distance of nine miles, and lived three days, having his consciousness the whole time, and talking with his parents and friends. He had hardly ever in his life been separated from his father and mother even for a day, and this sudden accident and death must be a terrible blow to them, as it has excited much sympathy among all who knew the family.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations prosecuted. Applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office. He has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LAPE, } Principal Examiners.
T. R. PEALE, THOS. T. EVERETT, P. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD, Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.—Last evening three ears of corn were shown to us, the growth of the present season, the kernels full and plump, and the ears well filled out. This we believe is the first corn in the market this season. It was grown by Col. B. P. Walker, of Claremont, N. H. and demonstrates conclusively that he is a skillful farmer. —Boston Journal, July, 21st.

FIRST GREEN CORN.—We received on Tuesday last, July 20th, from T. Gerrish Furber, Esq. of Newington, the first sample of new Corn that has appeared in our market. Last year we received from him some of about the same quality on the 25th, showing that there is about five days difference in the season.

The first green corn appeared in market in 1857 July 25; in 1856, July 23; in 1855, July 18; 1854, July 20; 1853, July 22. We have no record of receiving it on any previous years earlier than the 26th.—Journal.

"Though on pleasure he was bent,
"He had a saving mind"—

Was said of the renowned Gilpin, when he made his flying excursion into the country. The old cockney hero therefore would not have objected, like the editor of the Exeter News Letter, to accepting the invitation to the White Mountain Excursion; saying that he could neither afford the time nor expense. As to the latter item, had the editor seen the efforts one landlord made to discover the individual who paid for a tumbler of beer at the bar—protesting against having one cent of the company's money left there—he would have had a different idea of expense. The liberality of the whole arrangement was such, that no one was called on to pay one cent for any expense of railroad, stage or horse riding, sailing or refreshments, during the ever memorable four days. On this occasion, for once, Nature's magnificent Temple was purified of all "money changers and those who sold doves."

AN INCIDENT OF THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.—When the recent editorial party were returning from the summit of the White Mountains, they met a clergyman (Rev. Mr. Eames, of the Episcopal church, Concord) and his wife, who had just started from the Cold Spring to ascend. The clouds were threatening, and soon after rain commenced falling. It was late in the afternoon, and fears were entertained that darkness would set in and that the wayfarers would be lost ere reaching their journey's end. A correspondent of the Tribune, who spent that night on the summit of the mountain, at the Tip Top House, thus speaks of their adventure:

"We had just seated ourselves around a little charcoal fire for an hour's talk, when a faint halloo made itself heard through the darkness and fog.—A Concord clergyman and his wife had been expected to spend the night; but the weather was such, and it had grown so late, that we had given them up. The instant they heard the shout, our host ran leaping like chamois down the hill, and in the course of half an hour brought up the lady in his arms. She and her husband would have been within sight of the house on a fair night; they were only a little way out of the path, and close by the spot where the young woman perished two or three years ago. The poor estrays were drenched through, and the weaker one was almost dead with exhaustion. Her husband had been hallooing for half an hour, he thought, and was making up his mind to spend the night where they were when his deliverer appeared. They had started from the Crawford house at two, and from Cold Spring at 5 o'clock."

The lady in question had spent several days among the mountains and was inured to fatigue, but, although the ascent is comparatively easy in the path, the strongest muscles would soon be relaxed in jumping from boulder to boulder, over a trackless waste.—Boston Journal.

LIGHTNING.—On Tuesday afternoon we had some heavy thunder. The lightning was seen to strike the rails on the track near Newmarket Junction, and it descended on the rods of the house of Commodore Pope at the Navy Yard. Several individuals in the house felt its influence, but no one was injured, nor were there any marks left of the lightning. They were much endangered from the rods being disconnected while making repairs.

The thunder shower in the vicinity of Dover, on Thursday afternoon, was very severe. We learn that one of the large factories was struck, the lightning leaving the conductor and passing down the steam pipe. Several of the girls near the pipe were thrown down, and the waste house was set on fire, which was soon extinguished. No one was seriously injured.

MUNICIPAL.—In board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, petitioners for extension of State street to Cass street had leave to withdraw.

Bill in amendment of Ordinance 48, relating to pay of watchmen, indefinitely postponed.

In executive session, the following Watchmen were appointed:

Andrew S. Marden,	William Cate,
Henry Wallace,	Charles H. Kenney,
David W. Twombly,	Jere. M. Teague,
Daniel H. Spinney, Jr.,	Henry A. Maloon,
Samuel Taylor,	George E. Smart,
George A. Jackson,	Edderson Carroll,
R. Gilman Randall,	Moses B. Reed,
Augustus Brown,	Samuel W. Walden,
Charles W. Littlefield,	Abraham Locke.

Senator J. P. Hale has given the ladies of the Abbott Female Academy, at Andover, some sensible advice, on the subject of Women's Rights. The privilege of suffrage, for which some are contending, he thinks would not tend to their moral elevation. "Every female of delicacy must revolt at finding herself in contaminating contact with the influences of the polls; as she would thereby be placed in conflict and on a level with every blackguard."

DOVER POINT FERRY.—The steam ferry boat has again commenced running across the Piscataqua at Dover Point, and a stage has been put upon the route by Messrs. Kimball & Thompson, of Dover. There ought to be travel enough over this route to sustain the enterprise, and if the business intercourse with Portsmouth was what it was thirty years ago, there is no doubt it would be a profitable investment. But the channel of trade and travel has been so greatly diverged by the railroads that this cannot be expected.—Dover Enquirer.

The prospects of the mackerel fishermen are very poor. Thus far the catch has been small, and the prices are comparatively low. The hard times seriously affected the sale of mackerel last winter, and a much larger stock than usual is lying over on the hands of speculators, who will lose by their operations, and at the same time prevent the realizing of advanced prices for the new makerel when they shall come in.—Newburyport Herald.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 26, 1858.

THE LAST WILL.—At the Probate Court for Cheshire county, holden on Tuesday, the 20th inst., the last will and testament of Capt. John Towns, late of Keene, was brought up for judgment. The tenor of the instrument, says the Keene Sentinel, is quite extraordinary and remarkable, as evincing a purpose on the part of the testator render his estate of some fifty thousand dollars as worthless as possible to every living person.

He devises mainly to a generation yet unborn—to the eldest sons of his four sons, one-fourth of the estate to each, at coming of age:—So far as these devisees shall never exist, or shall not come to majority, the estate is given to the eldest daughters of the four sons in the same way:—So far as both of these lines of his posterity shall fail, the estate remains unbequeathed, and his own children are left to enjoy the contingent prospect of an inheritance, as remote, probably, as the last days of their lives.

The heirs at law objected to the establishment of the Will of course—they thought the provisions would properly raise a doubt of the capacity of the maker and of that they ask the benefit.

Some evidence was offered tending to show directly the incapacity of the Testator;—but it was not sufficient, and the will was sustained by the Judge.

The case will undoubtedly be carried up to the Supreme Court for trial.

It ought to be set aside, as absurd and contemptible, says Uncle Toby. The poor testator seems to have been dreadfully afraid that some of his children should spend his money—as if money was good for anything except to spend.

AMERICAN MANUFACTURES IN ENGLAND.—It is a fact significant of the progress of our American manufacturing skill, that the Birmingham (English) manufacturers imitate the trade marks of American manufactured cutlery, and sell it as imported from the United States. The London Times of the 1st inst., has the report of a trial of the Collins Company v. Reeves, in which it was proved that the latter imitated all the trade marks of the former, an American company, even to the fac-simile of S. W. Collins' signature, which is stamped on the cutlery.

SENATOR DOUGLAS AND THE DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN PARTIES.—The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce writes as follows:

Now that war in Kansas is over, and peace has broken out in Utah, all eyes are turned towards the triangular contest in Illinois. Upon the result of the election in November depends the future political complexion of a State that hitherto has never failed to throw her vote for the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. * *

The struggle that is now going on in Illinois cannot result favorably to the Democratic Administration side of the question. Victory lies between Mr. Douglas and the straight-out Seward Republicans. Whether Mr. Douglas is right in his supposition that the same schism will shake the Democracy in several other Western and Middle States, is yet to be seen.

To the Southern States, this Illinois feud is especially unwelcome. Whatever may be its issue, it bodes no good for the Union Democratic party of the South.

The above writer is well understood to be a Buchanan Lecompton man.

☞ A late rumor is that the illustrious John Calhoun of Kansas, is indignant at his removal from the office of surveyor general, and is about to print certain mysterious documents received from distinguished gentlemen in favor of the doctrine of popular sovereignty. It is stated that he will also show that while he is supposed to have been the prime mover in the desertion of Governor Walker, he has simply been used to pull the chesnuts out of the fire.

OVERLAND ROUTE TO FRAZER'S RIVER.—The citizens of St. Paul, Minnesota, have recently held a public meeting for the purpose of calling attention to the fact that the cheapest, shortest and most direct route to the newly discovered gold regions is from St. Paul overland, proceeding northwesterly on the usual path of the Red River trains, to Pembina, (450 miles,) and thence up the valley of the Saskatchewan to the mouth of Frazer's River. The whole distance is estimated at 1650 miles; expense about $180 per man; making the cost from New York to the gold mines about $225.

☞ A Battallion of Canadian Volunteer troops have arranged for an excursion to Portland from Montreal some time in the month of August next.

VERMONT AND NEW YORK MURDERS.—The Burlington Free Press says, "A gentleman who is well acquainted in Calais, and returned here from that vicinity yesterday, has given us the following explanation of the mysterious double murder in Calais, Vt. Martin, the homicide, became, a while since, it seems, a convert to Spiritualism. He was much under the influence of a Mrs. Dodge of Calais, whose intellect was quite shattered by an attempt of her insane husband upon her life, several years since—a terrible affair, in which the man, after beating out a portion of the woman's brains, took his own life by stabbing himself in various parts of the body. She barely recovered, and has since supposed herself to be a medium and prophetess of high order. Acting under orders from the "spirits," young Martin took the lives of his victims and was intending, as he avowed, to shoot four more persons, living in the vicinity. The affair causes great excitement in that region."

On Friday afternoon, July 16, in Maine Village, N. Y., about 16 miles from Binghampton, Oliver Howard, a man about 30 years of age, murdered two of his children, boys of six and four years.—The father, now that he is in jail for the crime, says that he was in fear of the Lord, and thought he was commanded by the Lord to kill his two boys.

Fanaticism seems to have been the cause of all this slaughter.

PORTLAND CITY AFFAIRS.—According to the Advertiser, an ordinance was offered in the Portland Common Council on Tuesday night, by Mr. Morrill, "prohibiting the removal of buildings through streets in which there are trees over one story high!" It was referred to the Committee on Cemeteries.

HOW THEY DO THINGS IN PORTLAND.—In the Argus of the 20th inst. was the following editorial paragraph:

Not to be enforced.—We have information from sources which we deem entirely authentic, that it has been decided by the Maine Law men, not to enforce the liquor laws of last winter, until after the election.

In the Argus of the next day, 21st, was the following paragraph:

The Board of Aldermen, last evening, voted, that the Mayor be authorized to have printed, copies of the liquor and nuisance laws, and that the City Marshal be directed to distribute the same among the dealers in Portland, and at the same time give notice that said laws will be enforced.

FRENCH WINE STATISTICS.—The first number of a semi-weekly journal, Le Vigneron, devoted, as it name imports, to the interests of the wine trade, has just been issued in Paris. Its "programme" contains some interesting statistical information concerning the wine product of France. It appears that more than 2,000,000 hectares of land are now covered with vines, of which 400,000 hectares have been planted within the last five years; and the average total yield of wine is 50,000,000 hectolitres, valued at 800,000,000 francs ($160,000,000.) The value of the barrels made each year in France to meet the wants of the vintners, is 80,000,000 francs, and the expenses for transportation by sea, river, canal, railroad, &c., are computed at not less than 30,000,000 francs. The tax on liquors of all sorts yields to the French treasury a revenue of 120,000,000 francs, while the entire sum which changes hands in the various stages of the wine trade in France exceeds 1,000,000,000 francs a year.

BUSINESS SOUTH.—The Savannah Republican regards the business prospects of the South as very flattering. It says:—"The country is, for the most part, in easy circumstances, and the crops of all kinds promise an abundant yield—a combination of circumstances that never fails to inspire every department of trade with confidence and activity. The planter and farmer, being prosperous, and in a condition to meet their engagements, the merchants can lay in their stocks with confidence, and enter upon their fall speculations without fear of disappointment, either in their sales or collections. Upon a general survey of the field, we think we can see the indications of increased prosperity in every branch of trade and industry."

☞ Rev. S. H. Weston, one of the priests of Trinity Church, New York, who was recently elected Bishop of Texas, has declined the honor, prefering his comfortable quarters and $4,700 per year to a bishopric and $3,000.

SUICIDE.—Mrs. Adaline Plumer, wife of Mr. Joseph Plumer, of Milton, committed suicide on Wednesday of last week, by hanging herself in the shed adjoining the house. No cause is assigned for the deed, other than she is said to have been at times subject to despondency. Mrs. P. was the daughter of the late Hon. Moses Baker of Great Falls.—G. F. Advertiser.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strenght or aroma escaping. One fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

DR. DUPONÇO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's price, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

WATCHMAN! WHAT OF THE NIGHT?—A respectable citizen, residing in Water street, informs us that the frequenters of the groggeries there, made night hideous by a grand battle on Thursday night. The fray began about 10 o'clock in a drinking and boarding house, by a quarrel between two men said to be stone-cutters. When one was drinking beer, the other threw a glass tumbler at his head, and a blow was returned; other parties pitched in, and a general fight ensued, which, without adjournment, continued in the street, aided by brickbats, clubs and other missiles, in the hands of many combatants of various nations, including the Celts; embellished with sundry broken heads, and enlivened by a chorus of oaths and curses not to be rehearsed in ears polite.

Two watchmen were near the fray very soon after it began; but prudently stood out of the way of so large a force, and soon went off for more help. The fight went on till the combatants were tired:—and was renewed near the same place early next morning, very much to the scandal of good society in that locality.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, July 23.

Before Justice Odell.—The case State vs. Simeon Smiley and others, police officers, for assault on one Sullivan, who was taken up for keeping a gambling house, was finished, by discharging the policemen from arrest.

Thomas Hubbard was accused of stealing money, ($54) from A. H. Lowry, and was held to bail in $400. Committed.

On a previous day, Pelatiah Moulton was sent to the House of Correction for three months, as a common drunkard.

Charles Marshal went to jail for 40 days for stealing rigging.

And a fine of $1 for profane language, and of $10 for assault, were imposed on a party who appealed and gave $150 bonds to prosecute the appeal.

LIGHTNING.—The showers of Wednesday and Thursday were copious, and the lightning sharp. At the Navy Yard on Wednesday two persons, a lady and child, were shocked; and on Thursday one of the cotton mills at Dover was slightly injured, and several girls thrown down. The fluid descended by the rod, but the rod was not sufficient to carry it all to the ground; hence some portion of it followed other attractions.

The shower or showers were very extensive, the lightning striking in Lawrence, Boston, and many other places. — The house of Stephen Tucker, Esq., (formerly a teacher in this city,) in Boston, was struck and injured. In Cambridge an Irishwoman was killed. She had a knife in her hand with which she had been cutting bread for her children.

☞ Orders have been received at this Naval Station to put the U. S. Ship Portsmouth (just arrived here from a cruise,) in thorough repair; and for this purpose she has been taken into the Dry Dock.—The repairs are estimated to cost about $70,000.

The U. S. Ship Fulton, previously ordered here, has put into Norfolk quarrantine, and will not proceed to this station.

☞ The Peak Family, well known Vocalists, and musical Bell Ringers of the first class, give a concert this evening in the Temple, cheap enough at 15 cents per ticket, to furnish music for the million.—Their bills announce this as their fifteenth annual tour.

☞ A rich display of fireworks was made from the yacht Zinga on Friday evening, to the gratification of a large crowd that had gathered to witness them. Just before dark a small balloon was sent up. It ascended in fine style, but the wind being rather fresh, it soon was lost to view in the north-west. A second, with a light attached was sent up soon after. The Cornet Band favored the assemblage with several fine pieces. The Zinga was to sail at 4 o'clock this morning, for New York, with a possibility of touching at New Bedford.

☞ Weather permitting, the race of Seaver against time, which was to have taken place on Thursday, will come off at 3 o'clock this afternoon, at the Plains.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

☞ President Buchanan has written to some friend at New York, that he shall pass through that city in September, on a visit to New England.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

A DAMAGING DISCLOSURE.—F. P. Stanton, Secretary of Kansas under Gov. Walker, in a late speech at Lawrence, made the following statement:

He (Mr. Stanton) came to Kansas in '57, believing it to be the intention of Mr. Buchanan to deal fairly with the people. Had not this been his opinion, he would never have accepted the position of Secretary, nor Walker that of Governor of the territory. Justice demanded the admission that he still believed the intention of the administration to have been good originally. Its present line of policy was an afterthought. Until the month of September, he and Governor Walker were sustained throughout by the Administration. He would mention one circumstance, which was not generally known, as showing this conclusively.

On the 1st of September, General Whitfield and Dr. Tebbs of Kansas, who were then in Washington, signed a letter "expressly stating that the course of Gov. Walker and Secretary Stanton was acceptable to the people of Kansas, inasmuch as an undoubted majority were in favor of a free State." This letter was written at the special request of Mr. Buchanan, who was anxious to shield himself from the assaults then being made upon him by the South. Through Mr. Buchanan's agency, the letter was sent to the Union office, and was actually in type, accompanied by editorial comments endorsing the character of Dr. Tebbs, as a "gentleman of unimpeachable veracity," when it was seen in proof by a Southern member of the Cabinet, who ordered its suppression. From that day to this the course of the Administration toward Kansas has been a most unscrupulous and shameful one.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

SANDY HOOK, July 23.—Steamship America, from Liverpool 10th inst., has passed this point.

The house of Commons has passed the India bill.

Lord Malmesbury has announced that the British cruisers were to be withdrawn from the Cuban waters, and the blockade of the African coast to be continued.

There is nothing additional in regard to the cable. The Agamemnon had not arrived at Queenstown when the America left.

Liverpool, July 10.—Sales of cotton for the week 60,000 bales. The market opened at an advance of 1-16d a 1-8d.

250 Cords Hard Wood Wanted.

SEALED and separate Proposals will be received at the City Clerk's Office, in this city, until Wednesday, the 11th day of August next, at 5 o'clock P. M., for furnishing for the use of the Alms House in this City, 100 Cords of the first quality of Hard Wood, to be delivered at the Creek Bridge, on or before the 31st day of October next.

Also, 150 Cords, more or less, of the same quality, to be distributed at the door keepers, in such quantities and at such times as shall be directed by the Overseers of the Poor, during the ensuing year.

The Overseers reserve the rights to reject any offer, if they deem that the interests of the City require it.

By Order of the Overseers of the Poor.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.

BOSTON, Feb 27, 1845.

To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—Dear Sir—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my testimonial of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, pains in the side, loss of appetite, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now checked, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by exposure, and by the dust of a paper mill in which I was employed. OCTAVIAN HODGE.

This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hodges, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit.

☞ Great Discovery of the Age. ☜
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.

IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed sadly testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.

THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE

HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) or when there are ten or very week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in May, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

SCHOOLCRAFT LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PARTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims.
W. KENDRICK,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Besides, this color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

PRAISEWORTHY ENTERPRISE.—William B. Astor, says the New York Daily News, has determined to build three large steamships, so constructed that they can be used for commercial or naval purposes. The object that Mr. Astor has in view is to give work to several thousand suffering mechanics and laborers at present out of employment.—When the vessels are completed he will offer them for sale to the United States government, and in case that it should decline, to the European powers. Any surplus that may remain after the cost of construction and a reasonable interest, Mr. Astor intends to divide among the workmen. The cost will be about $3,000,000.

This was the news one day; next day it was contradicted.

Last Sunday afternoon a shocking affair took place in Chester. John Ladd, while drunk, brutally stabbed and butchered a man by the name of Robert Thompson, a Scotchman. Ladd was immediately arrested. Thompson was alive Sunday evening, but there was little prospect of his recovery.—Boston Journal.

The colored servant, alluded to in the Dudley Observatory controversy as having great influence over Mrs. Dudley, is Wm. Dietz, a pure African negro. He has the entire care of her property, valued at over a million of dollars.—Charlestown Adv.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many variities of disease.

Testimonials and the endorsements from some eminent physicians, of their efficacy in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Chenoweth, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the best we possess. They keep the bowels in excellent condition, especially in children. They are mild, but very active and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to me in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver most decisive. I have in my practice, prescribed them extensively for the cure of bilious complaints, than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a preparation which is worthy the confidence of the medical and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you when kind enough to send me have been all used in our practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an excellent pill. I find they act mildly and promptly, the Science of the human system, that they seem to work upon a certain plan. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, that I thought no other remedies would cure. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in estimation one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent cathartic in those cases where we wish to avoid mercury and calomel. Their sugar-coating makes them very agreeable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. E. Stuart, the celebrated Physician on Physiom and Lifeafe in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are sufficient to remove all the natural, stoppage, from which, wholly or partially suppressed, and also any of female complaints to which, and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, I think they would be more generally used. I for the benefit of my patients, who suffer from that complaint, which, although not enough to result in the production of any other disease, is productive of much misery, recommend the use of your PILLS, affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Rev. Jas. Boyer, Pastor Zion Church, Philadelphia.

"I can speak better in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my family, and we find they do all that is claimed for them. They purge the system, and carry off the impurities which lurking in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the action of the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigorous health throughout the system."

"For a cathartic we pronounce them a real and beneficial, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR ERYSIPELAS — SORE HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — FILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — &c. &c.

From Rev. Jas. Boyer, Pastor Zion Church, Philadelphia.

"Dear Sir: I have never yet found any valid complaints I have made use of your PILLS better than in my all that we claim for them. I have prescribed them in my practice, and know no other pill which is to be compared with them in the cure of most of the diseases for which they are recommended. I do not hesitate to say that I have suffered in the best we have, I do so in the value they highly."

Mr. Mark of the firm in market contain Mercury, which, although it is a valuable remedy in skilful hands, it is dangerous in a public pill, from the scientific confusion that frequently follows its indiscriminate use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of its preparations is fully worthy the confidence of the public. It is tested and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the purest remedy the world ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. Its wonderful cures of Pulmonary Complaints are known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the sufferers from the lung cases of the American peninsula to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this extensive country, and in every other civilized land, almost every family is familiar with its virtues. CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it, if we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of Gonorrhœa have been successfully treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in removing all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article with similar sounding or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who may be in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have seven commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They invite the attention of lottery ticket buyers to investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same are received. A double ticket in the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the prizes that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Philadelphia Ledger, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SAMUEL SWAN & CO., Savannah, Ga.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Biscoed as this locality is, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The new and beautiful Packet

Capt. GEO. PERKINS,

Will, after the 20th inst., run daily (Sundays excepted) from Pier Wharf, Portsmouth, on the arrival of the morning train of cars from Boston, to the Island, and return in the afternoon.

June 12. THOMAS B. LAIGHTON.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the residence of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy logs which hang around mainly watering places are not known.

This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times. ANDREW AMBROSE, PROPRIETOR.

THE BLOUNTS.—The melodrama of the French impostor and the Blount family, after having afforded several columns of gossip for the papers, is fast drawing to a close. The final developments show that the French adventurer had no funds, and the game would not have been brought to so sudden a termination if the hotel keepers and lawyers had not found that no money was to be had, and they were being victimized. During the chase the counsel of the Frenchman left the young lady at a strange hotel, alone with the impostor, at midnight, and after this she seems at last to have waked up to the reality of her situation, and desired to return to her father. About this time, too, probably the mother and daughter, as well as the landlords and lawyers, found that the bold dragoon had no money with which to sustain them.

It is stated that Mrs. Blount, when a young lady, was sent by her parents to New Haven for an education, and that while there she was noted for her wild, daring and mischievous intrigues. Many wild pranks of hers were the talk of all the city. Finally, to the affliction of one knows not how many sighing young gentlemen in the pin-feather stage of existence, her mother removed her to Alabama. One, now the grave and staid head of a family in New England, was almost in a phrenzy of grief at the inevitable separation, as perhaps were half a dozen others who, like him, had exchanged with the enchantress vows of eternal affection and fidelity.

Soon after her return to Alabama, Mr. Blount, the present husband, met her and was captivated. Miss J. was taken to her maternal home in Clark or Monroe county, Ala., where, for some reason, Blount's visits were forbi. This prohibition, however, as might be expected in such cases, proved but an airy obstacle to interviews. To prevent this the young lady was finally placed in a nunnery near Mobile, in the strictest restraint and surveillance of the saintly sisterhood. Hence, in a short time, she escaped, eloped, and was married to Blount.

Lola Montez has remarked that run-away matches, like run-away horses, end generally in a smash-up. It would hardly be fair to bring into public notoriety the past and early eccentricities of a lady, but that the publicity of her present situation, and the melodramatic adventure of mother and daughter, with Capt. De Riviere, form a fitting sequel to the precedent history now told.

During the late examination the judge expressed his doubt of Mrs. Blount's sanity, a doubt which is pretty widely shared. Her early life, as revealed by a Western paper, gives evidence at least of utter absence of all womanly feeling, and a looseness of conduct which, although not criminal, clearly betrays an unsound intellect.

A RELIC OF MUNGO PARK.—A relic of Mungo Park's travels in Africa has been discovered by Lieutenant Glover, of Baikie's West Coast expedition. The incident is related by the Cape Literary Magazine:

"Lieutenant Glover, one of the officers under the command of Capt. Baikie, has stumbled upon a valuable relic of Mungo Park, and has of course, secured it. Passing through a native village near the scene of Park's melancholy death, an old man accosted the lieutenant, and showed him a book which had for years been in his possession. It was a volume of logarithms, with Mungo Park's name and autographic notes and memorandum. The possessor offered it to Mr. Glover for 200,000 cowries. Inestimable as the prize was, the price demanded was enormous, and it was impossible to pay it. After some consideration the lieutenant took from from his pocket a clasp knife, and asked the native what he thought of that. This was too tempting a bait to be refused, the native joyfully took the knife, and the lieutenant still more joyfully secured his valuable memento of the distinguished African traveler."

☞ The Italian Medical Gazette states that a woman, aged 30, was delivered of five daughters at a birth on the 15th ult., at Rovigo, after a pregnency of seven months. One lived only two hours, and the others dropped off one by one in the course of forty-eight hours. Three of the latter had, the above named journal asserts, a full compliment of front and back teeth.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has proved a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office; and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, } Principal Examiners.
T. R. PEALE, THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.

From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. ELLIS, ACTUARIUS,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 26, 1858.

LETTER FROM KENSINGTON.

KENSINGTON, July 21, 1858.

I do not know that I should have written again if I had not made two discoveries, which I wish to bring before the public, as they seem to me quite important.

The first is a suitable man for the next President, in the person of Mr. John Howard, of Virginia. I do not know whether the blood of all the Howards runs in his veins or not, but he certainly is a Southern man with Southern principles. I advise the readers of the Chronicle and all others to read his speech in the case of Pleasants vs. Pleasants, in the Virginia Court of Appeals. I will only quote a line or two:—"Wise and prophetic, even to inspiration, as were the great fathers of the republic and the illustrious statesmen of Virginia, their vision failed and faltered in the prospective of the vast, the immense and manifold agency of slavery in developing the untold and immeasurable resources of this continent," &c., &c.

Now a man who can make such discoveries beyond the framers of the constitution and founders of the republic, must be superior to Mr. Adams or Mr. Choate, and ought to receive the highest honor in the gift of a free and generous people. Will you second the nomination?

The other discovery is, that the extreme heat and want of electricity in the air, last week, was owing to the speeches made by Messrs. Cushing and Choate on the 5th. It must have required no small amount of electricity to utter a "paragraph of two hundred and sixty-six words without pausing to take breath, and another of five hundred words," even if they contained nothing but "glittering generalities." Mr. Cushing tells us that he considered his subject, the wrongs of the South inflicted upon them by the North, in "an hour of mural idleness, under the shade of green trees, and the melodies of the many-voiced sea to lull him into the mood to tranquil contemplation." This does not sound very electrical, but still I am right, and I am certainly entitled to the credit of making two discoveries in one week. Why, some people pass through life without making one. I hope I shall not be too much lifted up, but attribute it to my having written for the Chronicle.

Vegetation is coming forward finely.—Corn is heavy and of a fine color, though not very high. Potatoes promise well, and some have got their hay in without wetting, so that farmers have much to be grateful for. We probably reached the maximum of heat last Saturday and Sunday week, and shall have more equable weather. Does there not seem to be a sort of turning point or crisis, like a fever in the human system?

We need another Franklin to demonstrate to us the uses of electricity. Is it not the connecting link between spirit and matter? Will it not be the agent made use of in the resurrection and restoration of these bodies to their spirits again?

In your Battle of the B's, you left out the Baptist B's. I doubt not Mr. Beecher would carry off the palm in the matter of credibility, but I do not think either have suffered enough to take away their excess of self-love. I am glad Mr. Beecher has taken the course that he has. It is time that Bible morality was preached and practiced, if the world is ever to be converted.

We see in the conduct of Mr. Sumner's family, in giving up the thirty thousand to the wife's relations, what Christian integrity is. We should expect it of a man who could send a present to the widow of Brooks, but how does it stand out in contrast with the action of lawyers and bank officers who strive to smother inquiry and keep stockholders out of dividends for years to pay up a deficiency needlessly if not fraudulently made. Yet such men take their place at the table of him who said "Blessed are the pure in heart," and call all that they have done a "fair business transaction."

What does the North American mean in saying that "an angel had troubled" the fountains of his being, in that sketch of John Phillips? I hope that staid publication is not becoming transcendental. With all due respect for the North American, I think they are mistaken in thinking that the "frown on his face" was caused by any thought for himself. He was living and laboring for the young, and it probably pained him to see any departure from that respect for age and authority to which he had been trained. Perhaps he foresaw in spirit the lawlessness and want of reverence that has since prevailed.

But he did not see what has since taken place—rum-drinking and gambling practiced by students who were reaping the benefits, or rather abusing the benefits of his munificence. If he had seen it he would probably have razed the building to its foundation. I should think the trustees would buy it and open a mission school in the house where he lived and died—out of respect to the man who lived and died there.

A bronze statue of Whitefield in a marble pulpit, resting on a granite base, would be no disparagement to the lawn fronting the Academy, and would be a fitting monument to the man who preached his last sermon there.

If their "notes and stocks" are productive, they have six thousand income without anything from tuition fees, at six per cent. interest. They ought to have a gymnasium and a bathing establishment, and a French teacher, and let such pupils as do not intend to go to college take French instead of Greek. They would find it more useful to them in after life, as it is the language of courts, and negotiations are frequently carried on in it. If Mr. Phillips "made posterity his heir," females as well as males are entitled to its benefits. Is there any technicality to prevent it, if the trustees should so will?

What a cheering picture of human nature does the life of George Stephens present. A true man, that wealth and honor and even flattery could not spoil. How does he contrast with those who would sell their birth-right and that of their posterity for a mess of pottage.

"I have seldom," says Dr. Channing, "perhaps never, met a human being conscious of what was in him." "Heaven saves all beings but itself that awful sight, a naked human heart," says Dr. Young. How are both assertions verified in a newspaper. On one column we have the disinterested purity of a Sumner, a Phillips and a Stephenson; on another the whipping of a woman by one in the shape of a man, and the holding her clothes up by another. "Shame, where is thy blush." Probably there were and are undeveloped powers of good in the former, and evil in the latter, that circumstances or greater exercise of energy might bring to light.

I hope the zeal with which the new pedler law is enforced will wake up the friends of temperance in your city and Exeter particularly. I wish they had passed a law prohibiting six-feet men, with hands fit to hold a plow, from teaching music, and selling tape, ribands, laces, &c. Some men are born musicians, and carry with them the impress of their birth-right.—Such men I welcome, but they are few, very few. And as to the rest, I should advise them to buy a piece of land and raise corn and potatoes, and let the women take their places.

I should like to write you every week, if I knew what day you would like to have the letter mailed. I do not love to write until I have seen the last one in print, lest I should say the same thing twice.

VERITAS.

COMMENCEMENT AT BROWN UNIVERSITY.—The Providence Journal says that the exercises at the next anniversary of this University promise to be more than usually attractive. On Tuesday, August 31, the address before the Phi Beta Society will be delivered by Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, editor of the North American Review.

NEW RAILROAD IRON FROM OLD RAILS.—The rolling mill of Smith & Co., near Fairmount, is running full time, with over 100 men employed, in making railroad iron from old rails. A heavy contract with the Reading Railroad is being completed. The process of transforming the old rails into new ones is as follows. The old rail is cut into pieces of about four feet in length, and then tied into a bundle with wire. It is then passed through the various rollers, untill it is stretched out some twenty feet, and assumes the shape necessary for railroad use. The rails thus made are said to be better than the new ones, as rolled iron improves by frequent working. The cost is about one half that of the new rails.—Phil. Ledger.

At the meeting of the Alumni of Harvard, on Wednesday, the President submitted a letter, which he had received from Charles Saunders, a graduate of 1802, in which that gentleman offered to give the sum of $5,000 towards the erection of a theatre for the University, provided the sum of $55,000 in addition was raised by the faculty.

☞ John H. George, Esq., of Concord, is beginning to be urged by his friends as the next Democratic candidate for Congress in that district.

The felt hat factory at Salisbury Point is doing a good business, their old stock having been all sold and there being a ready demand for their manufactures.

Both parties continue to fire into Senator Douglas of Illinois; but at the same time both intimate that he may possibly be re-elected.

THE NEW GOLD REGIONS.—A Washington letter remarks that since the rush of emigration from California to Frazer River has occurred, and the Hudson's Bay Company have attempted to interpose obstacles, our own energetic authorities are begining to wipe their official spectacles, and to hunt through musty tomes to discover the bearings of their charter, and inquire what degree of protection may be afforded to those enterprising Americans who are now deserting one set of mines in pusuit of richer veins. That charter will expire next year, and there always has been a certain degree of doubt as to its potency beyond a certain limited jurisdiction. It has stretched and stretched with elastic convenience, just as British pretensions have done in Central America, where they now quadruple the original claims described on their own maps. That the effect of this movement must be serious on the production of gold and the population of California, is attested by the fact that the deposits of gold dust at the Mint and the private assay offices have already diminished about $500,000 a week, or at the rate of $21,000,000 a year. Whether California is to be compensated for these sources of loss by increased trade with the new region, remains to be demonstrated. Thus far the price of labor has been materially affected there, for all the wages of all mechanical trades have advanced nearly 25 per cent at the first bound.

THE THAMES.—A member of the House of Commons, Mr. Tite, who especially studied the river question, found that ninety millions of gallons of sewerage matter was daily poured into the Thames, while eighty-seven million gallons of water were supplied from it by the companies; so that the whole of this water, taken out in a pure state, was returned impure; the sewate matter, carried down to the sea, is partly decomposed and a great portion is returned at flood tide. Another member hazarded the assertion that the whole of the metropolis was poisoned; it would require six millions sterling to drain London; a glass of simple water was now a dangerous indulgence; the consequence would be a considerable increase in the consumption of ardent spirits, and spurious wine—worse poison in the end.

MASSACHUSETTS SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—The quarterly session of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance, was held in Boston, on Wednesday. There was a good attendance. The report of the Grand Scribe shows that during the last quarter 1216 members have been admitted in various Divisions, while but 85 have withdrawn. Five deaths have occurred. The whole number of members is 3499. During the quarter 873 lady vistors have been admitted. Whole number of lady visitors 3055. Twelve new divisions have been instituted. During no quarter since the order was instituted in this State, have so many persons been admitted to the Divisions."

☞ The controversy on the subject of swill milk was renewed on Thursday evening in the New York Board of Aldermen, by an ordinance introduced by Alderman Tucker, providing that depots and carts from which such milk is offered for sale, shall be placarded in plain, legible letters—"Swill Fed Milk." The matter was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

COLONEL STEPTOE'S DEFEAT.—An officer of the army, writing from Washington Territory relative to Col. Steptoe's defeat, says the route eastward and northward of Colville is now virtually blockaded; that no one can cross Snake river, and that it will require a force ten times as large as is now there, before peace can be restored.

HANDEL'S CREATION?—The Report of the Commencement at Harvard College, given in the Boston Atlas & Bee, has this item:—

The next piece was a dissertation on "Handel as a Religious Composer, by Charles Henry Learoyd of Danvers. He found the basis of Handel's fame in his religious nature and experience. The various styles of music found in his works—especially in the "Creation" and "Messiah,"—were commented upon. Sublimity was pronounced as one of Handel's characteristics. The oration was vigorous in thought and nice in judgment.

Whether the orator made the blunder, or whether it was made by the reporter, we cannot say, — but a blunder it is, to ascribe Haydn's great musical work, "The Creation," to Handel.

☞ The N. Y. Sunday Atlas says that the famous John J. Eckel has married Mrs. Cunningham, and that they are now living together, as of old, in New York city.

☞ Nathaniel P. Banks, "the greasy mechanic," was dubbed L. L. D. by Harvard University, at its recent commencement, on the same day that Lord Napier, of the highest British aristocracy, and representative of the British Queen, received the like honor.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Stephen E. Branch, editor, and Daniel Adee, printer, of the "Alligator," were arrested yesterday for another libel on Mayor Tiemann, and also for a libel on Simeon Draper.

CHLOROSIS.

The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

Cheap Music.

THE subscriber has been appointed Sole Agent for the sale of Wieber's Cheap Music, consisting of Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, &c., arranged for the Piano Forte; published in serial numbers, on fine Music Paper. About forty pieces are now published, which will be sold for 12 cents each, or 10 for $1.00—being less than half the usual price for the same class of music.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

LEUCORRHŒA.

This weakening disease is one of the most obstinate in resisting ordinary medical treatment, simply because it is regarded too much as a local affection. By attacking the constitutional cause, by improving the general tone and vigor of the system, the PERUVIAN SYRUP is of itself able to remove speedily this exhausting form of female disease.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND No. 33 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply retailers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP.

There are in Portsmouth, nine churches. To most of them, during the year past, there have been considerrble additions.

There have been received into the Methodist Episcopal Church in Portsmouth, from May 1, 1857 to July 1, 1858: to full membership, 65; now remaining on trial, 100.

To the North Church, Trinitarian Congregational, from June 1857 to June 1858, 34.

The Christian Society, (Temple,) reports its Admissions for one year, including the first Sabbath in July, 138.

New Membership in the Universalist Church for the year ending with the first Sabbath in July, 54.

The Middle Street Baptist Church received 6 members by baptism, June 14, 1857. From that time to January 1858, there were no changes. From January to July inclusive, received 39 by profession and 4 by letter, and dismissed 3.

☞ The new pedlar law of New Hampshire seems to have created a turmoil in the newspapers—but not much anywhere else, so far as we have been able to to observe. The N. H. Patriot began to "'spound and 'splain" upon it; the Gazette followed, and then the Chronicle, &c., &c. Papers out of the State talk about it, some. But Uncle Toby has bought his peas, and butter, and huckleberries, and so forth, from Maine, sometimes from a Maine wagon, and sometimes from such shopkeepers as Paine, Wells, Moses, and others on his side of the town—just the same as ever;—he don't believe he is a sixpence poorer for the law—and doubts if anybody else is.—The farmer there can sell as well, and we can buy as well, as ever. Practically, then, nothing strange has happened. And it would not be very strange if the law should enjoy public favor, as much as the small bill law, or the individual liability law.

NEW STEAM SLOOPS-OF-WAR.—From Washington the New York Herald learns that the eight sloops-of war, for which appropriations were made at the recent session of Congress, will be constructed at the following places:—One at Pensecola, one at Norfolk, one at Kittery (Maine), one at San Francisco (side wheel, and to draw three or four feet of water), two at Philadelphia and two at New York.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, July 23.—The Kansas Herald says that Gen. Calhoun has issued certificates of election to all those elected under the Lecompton constitution. The free-state members from Leavenworth county receive cirtificates, which gives the party a majority in both branches of the Legislature. The returns for the State officers will be made to the Legislature, in whose hand the whole subject rests. The Herald exhorts the people to vote and settle the question, without further strife and agitation.

From the Plains.—A despatch from Independence, dated the 19th inst., per express to Boonoville, says the Santa Fe mail has arrived, with dates to the 1st inst. All the water courses on the route were very high. Great preparations were making at Sahta Fe for the celebration of the 4th of July.

The surveying party on the Canadian river report the country splendid, with an abundance of water and grass and every way suitablhe for a railroad.

The mail party had suffered no molestations from Indians; Some of the trains which left here in the spring had arrived at Santa Fe. Those on the the Plains were getting along finely. The grass was never better.

Later from Utah.—Leavenworth despatches of the 20th, via Boonoville, say: The express which left Fort Leavenworth on the 2d inst., with orders for Gen. Harney to halt and wait instructions from Washington has returned. Gen. Harney was overtataken 15 miles east of the crossing of the South Fork of the Platte, on the 8th inst.

The General intended going to Ash Hollow to meet the principal chief and a considerable body of the Cheyennes, who, being aware of the presence of Gen. Harney in the country, were desirous of holding a council with him for the purpose of renewing their assurances of friendship towards the whites.

Capt. Simpson, who was despatched with orders countermanding the advance of a portion of the reinforcements, was met at Fort Kearney on the 11th, and probably came up with Gen. Harney's headquarters by the 16th. The troops and trains were all getting along well, although the latter were somewhat delayed by high water.

Col. May's column was met on the 9th, near O'Fallon's Bluff, and Col. Morrison's at Plum Creek on the 10th. Col. Sumner was in camp near Fort Kearney, on the 11th. Majors Emery and Whiting's column was near the Little Blue on the 13th.

The Fire at Leavenworth.—Several parties burned out at the late fire at Leavenworth, have commenced rebuilding, and vigorous measures were being taken to organise a fire department. Some of the apparatus arrived this morning.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with color ing matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

THE EUROPEAN MAILS.—The Secretary of the Navy has not yet decided on the application to change the terminus of the Collins line to Portland, which is now favored by the Post Office Department, as is believed with authority under the existing law. In consequence of this delay, the arrangements for the oceanic mails are not yet completed.

PERJURY.—Huncke, the keeper of the Hotel Napoleon, and his barkeeper, Davis, were held to bail in New York, July 23, for perjury, on the de Reviere case. Mulford, the counsel in the same case, for whom a warrant is also issued, has absented himself. All three appear to be as arrant scoundrels as ever graced a Court House.

☞ The Rev. Mr. Weston of New York declines the Episcopate of Texas, on the ground of the misapprehension under which he was elected, as to his being a Southern man, taken in connection with some of his actual antecedents in their bearings upon Southern principles and institutions.

☞ A farmer named A. W. Biggs was arrested at Earlville, Ill., for using postage stamps a second time. Biggs had been detected once or twice before, and was warned not to do it. He persisted, and will now have to pay dearly for it. The fine is fifty dollars in each case.

A HUMBUG.—Gov. Randall, of Wisconsin, says that he knows nothing of the "American Homestead Land Company," and that his name is advertised as vouching for it without his knowledge. Emigrants to the West must beware.

☞ This is the time that is ordinarily considered the height of the watering place "season;" but there are fewer guests than usual at Rockaway, West Point, Newport, Saratoga, Niagara Falls, and all the places of fashionable resort.

☞ A two-story passenger car for horse railroads has been invented at Philadelphia. The upper story is reached by a small winding staircase from below. It is not accessible to crinoline passengers, and is intended for smokers.

☞ It is said that one Patent Skirt establishment in New York gives employment to 600 girls. Probably 600,000 girls are employed to carry the skirts about the streets, and display the beauty and excellence of the article.

☞ One of the most estimable citizens of Spencer, Mass., Mr. Erastus Sanderson, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon, while at work in a mill, by the bursting of the main drum.

☞ The degree of A. M. was conferred on James T. Fields, Esq., of Boston, at the late commencement at Harvard University.

☞ It is said a guide recently told a traveller in Venice that there had been "no house built in Venice for three hundred years!"

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
ANOTHER GREAT AND PERMANENT CURE OF SEATED CONSUMPTION.
BOSTON, Feb 27, 1845.
TO DR. D. F. BRADLEY—DEAR SIR—In compliance with your request, I cheerfully give my recommendation of the Hungarian Balsam. I have been afflicted for nearly two years, with a severe inflammation of the Lungs, attended with a hard, dry cough, sharp pains in the side, loss of appetite, and increasing debility, which brought me into a very feeble and dangerous condition. Several physicians whom I consulted, declared that I was in a deep consumption, and that a cure of my case was almost impossible. I tried several popular medicines, without receiving any essential relief, until I took the Hungarian Balsam.—This medicine relieved me at once, and in a few days changed my whole condition for the better. My cough is now abated, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has improved, and I consider myself in a fair way to recover my former health and strength. My complaint was caused, at first, by severe colds, and by the dust of a mill in which I was employed. OCTAVIAN HODGE.
This may certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Octavian Hodges, and was a witness of the relief which he received from the use of Buchan's Balsam. I have also used this medicine in my own family, with great benefit. FRANCIS A. LIDSTON, Painter.

☞ Great Discovery of the Age. ☜
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.
IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS
to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.
TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Loss of Nerve, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.
THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES
are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.
Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.
Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

SCHOON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased therewith, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my hair became quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

PREJUDICE AGAINST COLOR.—In a recent speech in parliament, Lord Brougham told the following anecdote in illustration of prejudice against color.

"Lord Lyndhurst gave me a short time since an anecdote of a gentleman who was connected with the Hague, and on one occasion received an invitation to the house of a Cuban gentleman, a negro proprietor of a large estate, where he was received with the utmost hospitality and treated elegantly. He said he was rather entertained, when, after dinner was over, his colored host said that he was a man without any prejudices whatever, and that whenever he found a person honest, honorable and respectable in every point of view, he held out the hand of fellowship to him, even though his color was white as that table-cloth."

In other words, the sable Cuban considers "a white man as good as a nigger, if he only behaves himself."

☞ The Isle of Wight papers mention that a robin has built her nest inside the organ of the Arreton Church, in the island, and is rearing this year's second brood there It appears that after rearing the first brood, she built her nest in a pew in the church, but it was torn down just as it was completed, and then the poor bird returned to the organ.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are the most universal cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Carterside, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any of purgative medicines. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dill, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked. They have in my practice proved more efficacious for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have uniformly proved that they are truly an efficacious cathartic. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured many cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Owen, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver is decidedly an excellent virtue, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, will generally remove the cause of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vanzie, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our profession knew as much of them as I know, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitude who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the ground-work of others of a more fatal character. I believe costiveness originates in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Ezekiel Hall, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and have found them uniformly of great efficacy. They stimulate the viscera into healthy action, and carry off the impurities which, if left to stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

"Such remedies as you prepare save a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHES—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FEVER—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you other complaints I have met with your PILLS better than to say all that we ever tread with a purgative pill. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best one we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, though in some cases a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a popular pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it is made to do its work with invariable accuracy and skill. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. Its supplies to the public during twelve years have been for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INFLUENZA CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in the advanced stages of the disease. As time passes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been forced upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted that can never be forgotten, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number have been cured upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutiny.

The medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 31 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, affording relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions which are practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will find no difficulty in getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—31 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair. Then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from turning to extreme age in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value their locks, be left to the witching curl, even for the without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEER RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation to induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 454 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I feel state, as whomever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find your very much superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KIRK.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. Their offer to the public is fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that Georgia is the largest State in which to procure tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be opened, and drawn throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme there is one prize to every ten most drawn tickets. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, that is so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $10,000; one prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity have fled from the world, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether men, women, or children, that the CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correct the irregularities, stopping palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married women, in whom they are wholly on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, be it known to all, that the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will consider this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered well and true; that to every one THE PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

COOKERY.—Effect of Heat upon Meat.—A well cooked piece of meat should be full of its own juice or natural gravy. In roasting, therefore, it should be exposed to a quick fire, that the external surface may be made to contract at once, and the albumen to coagulate, before the juice has had time to escape from within.

And so in boiling. When a piece of beef or mutton is plunged into boiling water, the outer part contracts, the albumen which is near the surface coagulate, and the internal juice is prevented either from escaping into the water by which it is surrounded, or from being diluted or weakened by the admission of water among it. When cut up, therefore, the meat yields much gravy, and is rich in flavor. Hence a beefsteak or mutton chop is done quickly and over a quick fire, that the natural juices may be retained.

On the other hand if the meat be exposed to a slow fire its pores remain open, the juice continues to flow from within, as it is has dried from the surface, and the flesh pines and becomes dry, hard and unsavory. Or, if it be put in cold and tepid water; which is afterwards brought to a boil, much of the albumen is extracted before it coagulates, the natural juices for the most part flow out, and the meat served is in a nearly tasteless state.

Hence to prepare good boiled meat, it should be put at once into water already brought to boil. But to make beef tea, mutton broth, and other meat soups, the flesh should be put into cold water, and this afterwards very slowly warmed, and finally boiled. The advantage derived from simmering—a term not unfrequent in cookery books, depends very much upon the effects of slow boiling, as above explained.—Prof. Johnston's Chemistry of Common Life.

THE INDIANS OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY. The recent reports of Indian hostilities in Washington territory, and of the disastrous defeat of Col. Steptoe's command, are wholly discredited by those best acquainted with the territory and the condition of the Indians. The truth probably is that the corps of army constructors is getting hungry, and that a new attempt is to be made to rob the treasury under pretence of carrying on a distant war.—The last Indian war in Oregon was proved to have been chiefly a war upon the treasury, and the new war in Washington territory will probably have a similar history. The Pelonses, who were reported to have routed Col. Steptoe's command, numbered 80 warriors, and the co-operation of the Snakes with them is wholly improbable, as they are two hundred miles distant, on the frontiers of Utah. The Indian population east of the Cascade mountains, where Col. Steptoe's reported defeat was located, does not exceed 7000 in all, being less than 1500 warriors, and five-sixths of these are and have been friendly. It is believed that when advices are received from Col. Steploe himself, it will be found that the late reports are wholly fictitious or greatly exaggerated.—Philadelphia Adv.

The awful death of Madame Palesikoff, one of the most charming amongst all that bevy of charming Russian ladies who sometimes gladdened the winters of Paris, has created a terrible shock in the circles she embellished. The unhappy lady left Paris but a short time ago on a summer tour to Germany. While stepping from the door of the opera house, at Berlin, to gain her carriage, she let fall one of her bracelets close to the pavement. Stooping to pick it up, she noticed at the time, laughingly, "that one of the horses belonging to a carriage standing at hand had dropped his head so close to her face that he had touched her, and left a moist kiss upon her cheek." In a few days the unfortunate lady was taken ill with that most horrible disease, glanders, and in a few days more breathed her last, in spite of the attendance of the best physicians in Berlin, and every resource to be obtained by wealth or by ceaseless vigilance of friends.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office. He has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 27, 1858.

NEWS FROM APAR!—The Essex Banner, of Haverhill, Mass., has an article on the pedler law, abounding in errors, among which we read:

The climax of oppression and contemptible meanness is shown in the case of the two women who went from Kittery, Me., over the line with a few quarts of huckleberries. They were arrested and their berries taken from them, and why? because they did not go to the authorities and pay fifty dollars for a license to sell about five dollars worth of berries in the course of the summer!

This huckleberry case is dreadful, to say the least of it,—that is to say the truth is not half told. Not only did two women come over from Kittery and Eliot, but more than twenty! The were all arrested, not by officers, but by shopkeepers and and citizens—and their berries taken away from them at various prices, from 10 cents a quart to 20; and if 40 more women should come, they would lose all their berries in the same way. We should not suffer a huckleberry to go back over the bridge.—Nobody has been arrested by officers here, on this law, but a patent medicine agent, selling by sample.

The Lowell News says:

Even the children from Kittery can no longer carry huckleberries to the Portsmouth people, and the residents of Salmon Falls find a ban on their supplies of hay, wood, vegetables and meat from the suburbs of their village which lie over the Maine border. Haverhill, Lyme and Lebanon can no longer be visited by the sellers of grain, shingles and horses from Bradford, Thetford and Hartford.

To sell a load of hay, or wood, or shingles, or a bag of grain, or a horse, is just as much peddling as it is burglary, and no more so. It is quite amusing to see how much nonsense has been expended on this subject—but it must be about all expended, we think, by this time.

But seriously, Market Square, or, as we used to call it, the Parade, in Portsmouth, has been an open and free market place for half a century to our knowledge, and we suppose it has been so for a whole century. And no part or portion of the hawker or pedler law, new or old, forbids the sale in this or any other market place, of farming or country produce of any sort, in quantities large or small, raised in this this State or Maine.

The same paper says:

To show that this law is no dead letter, it is stated that the fine cracker-wagons of the Bonds of Wilmington—so familiar through all this vicinity, and for many miles over the line—have been stopped, and their owners prosecuted. It remains to be seen whether a State has a constitutional right to lay an embargo like this.

So it does; but they probably have the right. But the law has yet to be construed by the courts, where the judges we presume will be guided somewhat more by common sense and sound law than by the jargon of the newspapers and the gossips. In the mean time, we have seen one of the fine cracker-wagons here, delivering bread, as they undoubtedly have a right to do, to a store or agency in this city.

As to the Messrs. Bond's peddling their bread from door to door in this State—they can do so by getting a New Hampshire man to take a horse and drive the cart, paying a $50 tax for the privilege. Our bakers, who live in the State, pay taxes; so do our shopkeepers who sell Bond's bread. And why should not they, or those who peddle it? The Bonds, we think, used to have a bakery at Dover, N. H., as well as Wilmington. It might do to revive that bakery at Dover or Exeter, rather than to lose their large trade in New Hampshire. It is pretty certain they will try some way to keep it.

The Concord Democrat, edited by two lawyers, says, speaking of the old and new laws:

Both are evidently aimed at professional "pedlers and hawkers" who make a business of "carrying to sell and exposing for sale, goods, wares and merchandise from town to town and from place to place." Both contain absolute prohibitions of all such "hawking and pedling" without a license. And neither has the least reference to any other class of men than "hawkers and pedlers." This every lawyer and every man of ordinary intelligence who has no motive to deceive, will discover at once.

We understand that an impression is sought to be made in the border towns of this State, that, under the new law, it is not safe for citizens of Vermont, Massachusetts or Maine, to bring eggs, fish, meat or other provisions into New Hampshire for sale. All such impressions are false. The act will bear no such construction. In relation to this kind of traffic, the new law differs not a shade from the old. One is just as sweeping as the other, and no more so. Neither prohibits, nor is meant to prohibit, any kind or form of traffic not technically known as "hawking and peddling."

ELDER BURNHAM IN HAVERHILL.—Noggs, the Haverhill correspondent of the Boston Traveller, attended a lecture on Modern Spiritualism by Rev. Edwin Burnham, of Newburyport, which drew such a crowd, that hundreds could not gain admission to the house. He says, however, that open windows and the stentorian voice of the speaker, made an outside position quite as agreeable as any. The speaker admitted the fact of spiritualism, but denied that it is the work of the spirits of persons who have died. He claims that it is demons who take the possession of persons as in the day of the New Testament. To prove that such was the case, and that men could be "possessed" as in those days, the speaker sat down in a chair and very soon a demon entered, producing a variety of twitchings and contortions, finally causing him to jump up suddenly and speak in an "unknown tongue." The Elder said if he had entertained this demoniacal spirit much longer it would have caused him to jump off the platform.

His positions were that there is in the universe a personal devil—that there are a multitude of evil spirits called demons having an invisible existence and occupying a position in the order of creation between God and man—that these spirits are the ones that take possession of people, and not the spirits of the departed, for he held that after death the spirit knows nothing and has no consciousness whatever till the resurrection. He quoted Scripture quite freely to support him in his position, and also to prove that evil spirits always act thro' media, but good spirits never of necessity. As an instance he cited the account of evil spirits that were sent into the herd of swine. There, said he to the spiritualists, were your brother mediums.

There were evidently two strong parties in the house who manifested a disposition for discussion, which was suppressed by the introduction of a motion by Dr. J. N. Smith, "that it is the sense of this meeting that the speaker has sustained his position by argument," which motion was carried in the affirmative. The effect of this motion was to declare, 1st, the existence of a personal devil; 2d, the existence of demons that take spiritual possession of men and women; 3d, that at death we all pass into an unconscious state till the resurrection: theological points enough, one would suppose, to settle in one night.

Elder Burnham himself publishes a card in the Newburyport Herald, correcting and explaining some things in the above statement. He says:

1st. I did not entertain a demon, when I sat down in the chair, but only professed to show how those persons sometimes act who do entertain the demons.

2. I did not say, "if I had entertained the demon much longer I should have jumped off the platform"—but said, "when the mediums entertain the demons long enough they do, sometimes, fall to the floor."

3d. I did not try to prove that the dead do not know anything at all, but only that they don't know anything about the affairs of this world; and this I am prepared to prove to any man or body of men.

THE HORSE TAMER.—Mr. Rarey's career has unexpectedly been stopped in England. He had cleared some £15,000 to £20,000 by his horse-taming secret, when suddenly Routledge, the cheap publisher, got hold of a pamphlet published by the horse-tamer in America, and printed it. It contains in a small compass all the art of horse-taming; and the subscribers who had bound themselves not to divulge the secret under a penalty of £500, became furious, and Mr. Rarey had to release them from their pledge, in a letter to the London Times.—Of course his profits will now be reduced to a minimum, since every subscriber is henceforth at liberty to practise upon wild horses publicly, and to communicate his knowledge to whomsoever he pleases.

☞ Harper's Magazine, for August, is a number of unusual richness. The sixth paper of "A Winter in the South," "The Romance of Wyoming," and "Vagabondizing in Belgium," are all highly illustrated and very interesting. The entire list of contents is good. For sale by Joseph H. Foster, Portsmouth, and A. Williams & Co., Boston.

The Pennsylvania Railroad give notice that they have made a reduction of three dollars on their tickets to all parts of the great West.

It is not a rare thing to put fares too high, as well as too low. The old, low fares on our roads hereabout—before they wasted millions and had many thousands stolen—paid better than high ones do now.

DEPARTURE OF THE BLOUNT FAMILY FOR HOME.—Col. Blount, his wife and daughter sailed on Saturday for their home in Mobile, Alabama. The public would now be glad to hear of the capture of the adventurer calling himself De Riviere, and the judicial awarding to him of his just deserts.

BERWICK ACADEMY.—Berwick Academy is the oldest educational foundation in the State of Maine, having been founded in 1791, through the exertions of a number of gentlemen of York County, who succeeded in obtaining from the Legislature of Massachusetts a grant of ten acres of land upon which to erect a suitable building. The site was selected upon an eminence overlooking the village, from the summit of which one of the most glorious and diversified prospects is visible. The original building upon this spot was destroyed by fire in 1852, but in the following year a handsome and commodious structure arose from its ashes.

An examination of the School took place July 20, which was very satisfactory,—and other exercises which reflect the highest credit upon the Principal, Ichabod Goodwin, Esq., A. M., who is equally admirable as a preceptor and as a disciplinarian. A letter was read from Mr. Lord, President of Dartmouth College, announcing that the Cogswell and Tredick Scholars from Berwick Academy were gaining distinction, by their meritorious conduct, for that institution as well as for themselves. Mr. Hayes, the President, then addressed the scholars in a brief and highly impressive manner, concluding by introducing John P. Lord, Esq., the oldest living alumnus of the Academy, who studied there during the last century, and entered Harvard College fifty-seven years ago.—His eloquent address testified to the warmth of feeling with which he still regards the venerable Academy. He was followed by Dr. Goodwin, President of Trinity College, Hartford, himself a former student there, and the proceedings closed with a prayer by Rev. Mr. Harriman.

HOW TO TREAT APOPLEXY AND SUN-STROKE.—The common practice, in cases of sun-stroke and apopleky, of bleeding the subject, is not approved by Dr. Saml. Dickinson of London, who asks, "Instead of extracting the material of repair from the system when reparation is most needed, why not apply remedies at once to the nervous system, without which the heat of the sun could by no possibility be felt.—Twenty-two years ago I printed and published the result of simply dashing cold water over the head and supporting the worn and fatigued men with brandy and water, in this very sun-stroke in India in the regiment of which the present adjutant general was then colonel. Almost every man recovered. Their convalescence was accelerated by ammonia and quinine.'

CASH AND HONOR COMBINED.—At a special general court of the East India Company, held at the India House, London, on the 7th inst., a resolution granting an annuity of £2000 per annum to Gen. Sir Colin Campbell was confirmed; and also a like resolution granting £1000 per annum to Gen. Sir James Outram. The reason assigned for these grants was, that as the Queen had determined to raise Sir Colin to the peerage, and to confer on Sir James a baronetcy, they would need the income to support their new dignities.

THE VIRGIN BUSINESS OVERDONE.—Our readers will remember that at various times some French or Italian girl, having professed to have held an interview with the Virgin, has at once become famous in the Romish church, and been the subject of much petting. The thing, however, has been overdone, and when, recently, in a village of the Pyrennees, an ignorant peasant girl had again "seen the Virgin in bodily form" that she was seen in at Salette, the prefect sent her to the lunatic asylum, and announced his intention of doing the same to every pilgrim frequenting the magic cave where the vision took place, and applying the act against "false news" to any one who maintains its reality.

☞ Rev. Sullivan Holman, late minister of the Methodist Church in this city, and now at Great Falls, is shortly to remove to Fort Edward, New York, to be connected with the large Educational Institute there, as one the instructors and managers. The institute has about 500 members or students at the present time.

MAIL CAR DESTROYED BY FIRE.—The baggage and mail car on the Saturday morning train on the New York Central Railroad, due at Albany at 2 o'clock, was destroyed by fire at St. Johnsville. The fire is supposed to have originated from some combustible article among the baggage.—The contents of the car were nearly destroyed, and the mails from Buffalo and intermediate stations lost. There was on board a safe of the American Express Co., containing half a million of dollars, which was uninjured.

☞ Albert G. Eldridge, a young man of good standing in Toledo, Ohio, became so dejected on witnessing the favor which a lady whom he loved bestowed upon another young man during a recent trip of the steamer North Star to Detroit, that he jumped overboard in a fit of desperation and was drowned.

☞ Female domestics are said to be growing scarce in New York city, in consequence of the great falling off in foreign imigration. There are, however, many thousands of females unemployed, more than sufficient to supply the demand, if they would only offer for servants. Nothing but the silliest pride prevents it.

☞ The papers mention the death, at Biarritz, (France,) on the 2d of July, of Mr. Bushnell, recently married to Miss Catherine Hayes.

☞ Mr. Brunnell, the projector of the Great Eastern, still remains seriously indisposed in the South of France.

A CARD.

Head-Quarters Laconia Engine Co. No. 2, PORTSMOUTH, July 23

THE Officers and Members of LACONIA Engine Co. No 2 are desirous of making this public acknowledgement to Benjamin Shaver & Son, for the prompt and faithful manner in which they made our uniform, particularly that portion which forms the American Shield. Gentlemen, you have done all you agreed to do, and may you prosper in doing well.

To A. E. G. Rewlstone.—Sir, you have given us entire satisfaction, (though we have never met you face to face, having done all our business through Lawn Express) for which you will please accept our warmest thanks.

To Ex-Chief Engineer Josiah G. Hadley.—We feel ourselves deeply indebted to you for your favors to us, and we only wait an opportunity to reciprocate. Be assured we shall always remember the kindness received at your hands, for you have proved yourself "a friend in need" to the Twos.

To Andrew Lowd.—We should be ungrateful indeed, did we not acknowledge our just and high appreciation of those beautiful belts. May your countenance always shine as bright as did those belts. Per Order Company.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.

LOWELL, Oct. 7, 1846.

To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my case, and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as a "stripper," in the carding room. The great changes from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, brought on a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very serious and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a severe pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. From that time to this, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose—The only thing that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but actually eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is now wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.

Yours, truly, EDWARD TURNER.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

CHLOROSIS.

The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physiological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke' M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the first three months, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a power ful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MOSES, (late L. G. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

LOCAL.

☞ Eighty-four carpenters were taken on at the Navy Yard on Monday morning to aid in repairing the Portsmouth.

But for the dodge of allowing the vessels ordered here to stop at a southern station (as in the cases of the John Adams, St. Louis and Fulton,) our yard would now present a very lively appearance.

☞ The steamer Bibb (U. S. Coast Survey,) Capt. Murray, arrived here on Monday evening, from Gloucester.

☞ At the Adjourned Meeting of the Eastern Railroad Corporation, held in Boston on Monday, the last year's Directors were re-elected, almost unanimously.

☞ At Newburyport, on Monday, Mr. John Currier, Jr. launched one of his best built ships, of 1000 tons burden, called the "Star of Peace." She is owned by Messrs. Moses Davenport, and John Currier, Jr., of Newburyport, Charles Hill of Boston, and Capt. Wm. Lambert of this city, who will command her.

☞ CONCORD GRANITE.—This light, beautiful and durable stone is coming into general use. The new Custom House here is being constructed of it; and the Statesman says Messrs. L. Roby & Son are filling a contract for a new residence in Medford, Mass., being built for Peter C. Brooks, Esq. The quantity demanded for the house of Mr. Brooks is about the same as that for the Portsmouth Custom House. A lofty and neat Monument of this granite, is also to be erected in the Union Cemetery, on Elm Street in this city.

STRANGE DEATH.—In Wenham, Mass., a young lady by the name of Ellen L. Webber, about 20 years of age, brought up as an adopted daughter in the family of Mr. Amos Gould, was married on Wednesday evening, to Mr. Jacob Burton, a young man, a native of Vermont, who has been employed for three or four years past, in a store in Wenham. On Friday the young woman killed herself,—for no cause yet known. She had been observed to be depressed for some months past, but no one apprehended suicidal intent.

BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETY ACTION.—The North Hartford Association, Connecticut, passed resolutions against the recent action of the Managers of the American Bible Society, in giving up their standard edition of the Bible. Also, disapproving of the action of the American Tract Society at New York. Similar Tract resolutions have been passed by the Congregational church in Stockbridge, and the Payson church East Hampton, Mass., and by various churches and Associations in the West.

OBEDIENCE.—What it takes to make "a good Democrat" is very aptly and clearly defined in the following paragraph from the speech of a Mr. Bonney, who figured as one of the chief leaders at the Buchanan Democratic State Convention in Illinois:

"It is characteristic of the good democrat that he is as perfect in obedience as he is absolute in command. While he is a private in the ranks, he feels it to be his duty to obey the behests of his party; when he is promoted to leadership, he exacts implicit obedience to the authority which has been vested in him. When we elected James Buchanan president of the United States, we also at the same time elected him president of the democratic party; and he, together with the cabinet, and the democratic senators and representatives in Congress, are tribunals which the party itself set up in 1855 to declare what are democratic doctrines and democratic measures."

☞ A drunken Protestant Irishman named Phillips, last Sunday week, attacked the Catholic priest at Haverhill, and might have done him injury but for some Irishwomen, who fell upon Phillips and would have devoured him on the spot had not an officer interfered.—Exch.

☞ Alfred Keevil and Bernard Perry, convicted last week of selling lottery tickets in the Court of Quarter Sessions, at Pittsburg, Pa., were sentenced to pay a fine of six and one-quarter cents each, the costs of the prosecution, and to undergo an imprisonment of twelve calendar months in the Penitentiary.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, July 24.—The Canadian Company's screw steamship Indian, which left Liverpool on Wednesday, 14th inst, passed the station at River Du Loupe at an early hour this morning, and arrived at this port about four o'clock this afternoon. Her news is interesting.

The Agamemnon and Valorous returned to Queenstown on the 12th. The final break in the Atlantic Cable was just below the stern of the Agamemnon, after 146 miles had been paid out of that vessel.—The Agamemnon then returned to the rendezvous in mid ocean and cruised there for five days in anticipation of meeting the Niagara. On her arrival at Queenstown it was resolved to coal and start for the final attempt on Saturday the 17th, there being still 2500 miles of cable on board both ships.

The Agamemnon encountered furious storms, and rolled so heavily that great fears were entertained for her safety. She sustained considerable damage.

The cause of the breaking of the cable is unknown, the strain upon it at the time being quite light. The electric instruments were all injured by the heavy rolling of the ship.

GREAT BRITAIN.—On the 12th, in the Lords, the bill permitting the Commons to admit Jews into Parliament was passed, as also were the reasons of the Lords for objecting to the Commons' bill on the subject.

In the House of Commons, on the 12th, after an animated debate, a proposition to discontinue the practice of authorizing men-of-war to visit and search vessels under foreign flags with a view of suppressing the slave trade, was rejected—24 to 223.

The proposed visit of the Queen is the subject of sarcasm; and one paper requested the government to man a fleet in the British Channel, and invite the French Emperor over to see how England is ready to resist invasion.

Two hundred persons had been injured in consequence of an explosion at a pyrotechnic establishment in London.

Sir Allen McNab, it was rumored, is to be appointed Governor of New Caledonia.

It was reported that the government intended to raise £3,000,000, by loan, to be expended for the purification of the Thames.

Astley, Williams & Co., in the South American trade, in Liverpool, have suspended for a large sum.

The London Times of July 13, contains an article, advocating the annexation of Cuba, to the United States, as a measure calculated to do away with the slave trade.

From France we have a rumor that another Italian plot against the life of the Emperor had been discovered.

Over twenty persons had been massacred at Jiddah—including the English and French Consuls, and the wife of the latter official.

Three ships had been ordered to proceed to Jiddah by the English goverment, with directions to use force, if necessary, to bring the authors of the massacre to justice.

ANTHONY BURNS.—Some Southern papers to throw discredit on the cause of emancipation, are publishing the tale concocted by some border-ruffian press at the north, concerning Anthony Burns, who was taken out of Boston by a whole division of the State troops and a marshal's posse comprising the bullies of nearly every house of ill-fame in Boston and a large share of the blackleg, at the public expense, to "save the Union." The story is that Burns purchased from his master and set free, is now in Massachusetts state-prison for robbing. This is entirely untrue, as he is a worthy student of theology at Oberlin College, Ohio. His conduct ever since his liberation has been highly creditable to him.—Lowell News.

☞ Some unknown donor has just released the English church in Paris from debt, by handing in a check from the whole amount—$19,000. Some persons say this handsome gift emanates from Lord Ward, while others declare it must proceed from Miss Burdett Coutts.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strenght or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what it is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.

Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are two every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.

Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.

They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.

The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.

The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.

Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

IMPORTANT TO

TOBACCO CHEWERS.

DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S

TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,

The Great Substitute for Tobacco.

IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exerts a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

JAMES E. BOWERS, Druggist,

LAND AT AUCTION

—ON—

SAGAMORE ROAD.

I shall Sell at Auction,

—ON—

SATURDAY, JULY 31, AT 12 O'CLK, NOON,

if not previously disposed of at private sale,

THREE FIELDS, bounding on the Sagamore Road, extending easterly from said Road to Piscataqua River, and about one mile from Market Square, containing about 15 acres. The grass now standing on the premises, which will yield probably about 15 tons of Hay, has by agreement been sold, to be taken off; but if any person should apply seasonably to purchase the land at private sale; an arrangement may be made to retain the grass if desired. There will be sufficient pasturing for six or seven cows for three months, after the grass is taken off. For terms apply to ABNER GREENLEAF, H. F. WENDELL, Auct.

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness which left me about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I purchased your Heimstreet's Hair Color, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days I was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

CHARLES A. RUNDLETT, who nearly murdered a man on Newburyport Turnpike, and is now in Jail in Maine for several crimes, is supposed to be the person who attempted murder in Brighton, a few years ago, by blowing up a dwelling house with powder. The Traveller says:—

In the dead of night the house of Mr. Wethern was blown up and partly demolished, the family, who were sleeping in the chambers at the time, having a narrow escape for their lives. It was ascertained that a keg of gunpowder had been placed in or near the cellar kitchen, and fired.

At the time, the suspicions of Mr. Wethern fell upon some boys with whom he had had some trouble, but a searching investigation brought to light no testimony against them, and the general opinion was that they were entirely innocent of any complicity in such a terrible crime. It now appears that Rundlett was about that time in the employ of Mr. Wetheren, and as his subsequent crimes prove that he is capable of any atrocity, there are many who are disposed to believe that he may have had a hand in the Brighton outrage. Rundlett when in Brighton, had the reputation of being a rather "green" young man, but when taunted with it by a companion, remarked that he was not so "green" as he seemed; adding that he had as lieve shoot a man as not.

The PHYSICAL SYSTEM.—No keenness of culture of intellect, says a recent writer, that does not embrace the culture of health—no wealth, no morality and not even a religion, that does not embrace the preservation of the physical system from all deterioration, and its cultivation to the highest perfection will ever last long. No nation or people will ever preserve the weight of influence to which they are naturally entitled among others, without manliness of development as the reliability of character. All that tends to produce these is so far a vital good.

This year, the Fourth of July came on Sunday, which made the clergymen fourth of July orators, and many of them spoke upon national topics. The first of August will also come on Sunday; and the clergy will have the emancipation field to themselves. From the forty thousand pulpits in this country, it would be reasonable to expect ten thousand sermons in favor of emancipation and in denunciations of the sin of slave-holding, next Sunday.—Newburyport Herald.

A NUT FOR THE DOCTORS.—"The opinions of disinterested and intelligent patients, as to the beneficial results from the use of a medicine, ought to be as good as the opinion of interested physicians, who know nothing about it." The above truthful remark was made in our hearing, yesterday, by Dr. F. Coggswell, of Antiphlogistic Salt celebrity, and we cordially say Amen to it.—Traveller.

A FEW words on the rational treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhea or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may easily removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (postpaid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st street, New York City.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and Drawings, prepared for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States, Great Britain, &c., place him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1858.

THE WASHINGTON UNION AND SENATOR DOUGLAS.—The Washington correspondent of Forney's Press, under date of the 16th, thus writes:—"The attack of the Washington Union of to-day upon Judge Douglas is an invocation to the formation of a new party, and is the strongest appeal to disorganization to the States of the Union that has ever been made. In Illinois, Douglas has not only the Democratic principle as laid down at Cincinnati, but also the Democratic organization. Elsewhere, in a very few States, the partizans of the Union have the Democratic organization, but nowhere do they respect or recognize the Democratic principle. The Union would exclude all from the Democratic party who do not accept its idea of the Democratic policy, while it denounces as factionists and disorganizers those who recognize the organization, and the principles of the party, as we find them asserted and laid down in Illinois. Upon this the Democratic party could not exist to-day; and it is apparent that the Union's article looks to a ruptured party before 1860."

THE DOUGLAS FEUD.—The Washington Union continues its warfare upon Senator Douglas with increased asperity. It scorns the charge that the administration is at all allied with the Republicans of Illinois in opposing Douglas, and maintains that both Lincoln and Douglas are in actual league against the glorious Democracy. It says:

The alliance, during the whole winter, between Judge Douglas and the Republicans against the national Democracy, was conspicuous, avowed and exultantly vaunted by the allied parties. It is a matter of history; and the disgrace of it will stick to the Illinois Senator as a shirt of Nessus to the day of his political death. We shall not express in merited language the sentiments we feel for one who, after six months' open and boasted alliance with the foe, can demean himself so far as to complain of any imputed alliance on the part of others. If such an alliance be a crime, what must be the blackness of the Senator's criminality for last winter's career! If the liaison be a degradation, to what a depth of infamy did he not sink himself in the amours of the long session! If it were true that the national Democracy of Illinois are in alliance with the "glorious" Republicans, old line Whigs, and Know Nothings of that State, the Senator should be, for very shame's sake, the last man to complain of it. If it were true, it would only show that an avenging Nemesis was already at his heels for the crimes of last winter.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—It was the intention of Mr. Choate to deliver the principal address this year before the Societies of Dartmouth College, but owing to some disorder of the eyes he has been compelled, by his physician, to decline doing so. This will be a disappointment, as extensive preparations had been made to receive and entertain the great orator. Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, in compliance with the urgent wish of the College authorities, consented to go to Hanover on Tuesday, and address the Societies on Wednesday. The obliging spirit manifested by Dr. Holmes on this occasion deserves the thanks of the faculty. The Courier says:—"Nothing but the inflexible decision of his physician would have prevented Mr. Choate's fulfilling his engagement.—His address was completed some days ago, and he was himself most anxious to attend the college celebration this year."

EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE.—A letter from ex-President Pierce has been received by a gentleman in Baltimore. The General left Funchal in a sailing vessel on the 12th of June, and anchored in the Tagus on the 20th. During the voyage Mrs. Pierce suffered severely from sea-sickness, but recuperated rapidly after being installed in comfortable quarters. During his sojourn at Madeira, (which was eminently gratifying,) Mrs. Pierce, though feeble, was enabled to ride out and enjoy the invigorating influences of the balmy air almost every day. He was to leave Lisbon for Cadiz on the 24 of July, thence in ten days for Marseilles, thence for Vevay in Switzerland, to enjoy the last of summer and early autumn upon the shores of Lake Leman.

☞ The coroner's jury on the bodies of those killed by the late accident on the Lehigh Valley Railroad have brought their labors to a close at Allentown, Pa. The verdict is that the company did carelessly allow the bridge to become unsafe by permitting the timbers to become decayed, and that the company was grossly negligent, and endangered the lives of passengers travelling on their road; and that the remaining span should be removed without delay.

☞ In Princeton, Ohio, Daniel Elliot, a respectable butcher, after dinner went to his slaughter house to clean it out. While there he was plaguing the children, and placing the rope with which he hoisted cattle around his neck, told a boy to turn the windlass and hoist him up a short distance, and then told his daughter to go and tell her mother that he was going to hang himself. When the child told her mother what he had said, she paid no attention to it, as he was in the habit of plaguing her and the children, being a very lively person and fond of sport. But it appears that the little boy turned the windlass too far, and the ropes suddenly slipping, caused a large iron hook which was fastened to the rope, to sink into the back part of his neck, and he was suddenly strangled. He carried his fun too far and lost his life.

NEW BOOK.—We have just received a copy of The Farm; A Pocket Manual of Practical Agriculture; or How to Cultivate all the Field Crops. With a valuable Essay on Farm Management. By the author of "How to Behave," "How to do Business," "The Garden," etc. New York: Fowler and Wells, 1858. [Price, postpaid, in paper, 30 cents; in muslin, 50 cents.]

To the readers of "The Garden" it is necessary only to say that this excellent little farm-book is by the same author, and is fully equal in value to that popular manual.

☞ Marshal Baraguay d'Hilliers, at Nantes recently, made a distribution of St. Helena medals to the old soldiers of the Empire. Among the number was a woman named Jeanne Louise Antonini, who served, in male attire, ten years in the navy and fifteen in the infantry, where she attained the rank of non-commissioned officer in the seventieth regiment of the line. She received nine wounds while fighting.

GRASS IN GUTTERS.—The Baltimore Patriot has the following curious paragraph: "The large amount of rain which has fallen during the present season has caused the grass to grow so luxuriantly in many of the gutters, particularly of those streets where little business is done, as to offer quite a serious obstruction to the flow of water, and which, unless removed, will soon decay and become offensive."

JUST AND RIGHT.—In the U. S. District Court, for Massachusetts District,—July 26, was closed the case Chester Knowlton v. sch Triumph and cargo. The schooner Triumph was wrecked off Cape Cod a few weeks ago; and all the hands left the vessel except the libellant, who was cook, who staid on board and succeeded in getting her into Provincetown. His libel is for salvage. The parties was heard last week before his Honor Judge Sprague, at Beverly, who to-day entered a decree for the libellant in $300 and costs.

☞ A young man named John R. Cribbs, only nineteen years of age, who murdered his father two years ago in Gibson county, Tenn., was discovered on a raft at Memphis, on the 17th, and arrested. He confessed the act, and says it was done in a quarrel, when both he and his father were drunk. He states that since the murder he has known no peace of mind.

☞ Two of the three swimmers who started to swim from Hartford to Middleton, on Thursday, gave out, one half a mile, and the other a mile below Hartford bar, and were taken on board the attendant boat. The third, George T. Wiley, swam to near Wethersfield, when he too caved in and was taken aboard. He made four miles in one hour and forty-five minutes.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC.—The French journals publishes a letter from the Cape of Good Hope, which states that an independent State composed of white men, has lately been established in Southern Africa, under the name of the Republic of Trans-Vaal. Its citizens are composed of men from various parts of Europe, who were chased away from the Cape in revolt and made a settlement where they now are, as far back as 1836.

ROBBERY.—On Wednesday afternoon, a glass-ware pedlar named William Conorel, while watering his horse at a place known as "Hawks' Brook," in Methuen, on the Haverhill road, was knocked off his wagon by a powerfully built fellow, in evident disguise, who robbed him of $21 in money, and threw some of his goods into the brook. The robber escaped, but the Haverhill police are endeavoring to ferret him out.

Love to our fellow man is essential to a manly character.

"PERSONAL."—The sea-serpent, or something like unto it, has again been seen off Hampton Beach. It was in shallow water, and its gyrations furnished much amusement to spectators. Last Sunday it was off Plum Island, directly back of the hotel.—Newburyport Herald.

Sea Serpents, elephants, and other monsters, may be expected to be seen all summer, round the Hotels on the Coast.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—Capt E. E. Morgan, who has crossed the Atlantic 156 times, suggests that the cable can be laid safely if it is attached to a three inch Manilla rope, so that it shall sink gradually and thus not be broken by its own weight. He would dispense with all machinery to check the cable, and let it run out as fast as it might.

☞ At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Granite State Bank, Exeter, on Tuesday the 20th inst., the act passed by the Legislature last June, reducing the Stock to $100,000, and creating new shares, was accepted, and the proposition to prosecute for the recovery of certain losses was dismissed.

☞ A Deaf and Dumb Boy, was overtaken by a train, while walking on the side of the track of the Hudson River Railroad, and by the mere force of the current of air, put in motion by the passage of the train, he was thrown with such violence against the rocks, through which the road is excavated, just below the sugar house, as to cause instant death.

☞ A little son of Adam Gardner, at Reed's Ferry, Manchester, N. H., about five years of age, on Saturday last was playing in a ferry boat with another child, when it fell overboard and was drowned before assistance came to its relief.

☞ Mr. Bourne, from Westerly, R. I., the man who was struck suddenly deaf, dumb, and blind, and after eighteen days was suddenly restored, will speak on the subject of religion and relate his experience at the old South Meeting House in this city, on Sunday morning and evening next, at the usual hours of public service. Free for all who wish to hear.

☞ It is said that the use of Rum, costs the United States one hundred millions of dollars annually. If to this is added what we are obliged to pay, indirectly, for rum on account of criminal costs, prison expenses, pauper charges, &c., the sum will be increased to an almost incredible amount.

A MAJOR GENERAL ON A SPREE.—Maj. Gen. Lytle, of the First Division of Ohio Militia, and late Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was arrested Monday night and placed in the Cincinnati lock-up, for disorderly conduct.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—A little daughter of Mr. Wm. G. Lewis, of Framingham, Mass., was bitten about four weeks since, by a mad dog. Her face was much lacerated, being bitten in four or five places. All the wounds except one at the side of her mouth had entirely healed before she showed any signs of sickness. On Thursday last the fatal symptoms first made their appearance. During the progress of the disease, she would frequently complain of hunger and thirst, but when offered food or drink, it would distress her greatly, and she would turn away shivering, and hide her face. Convulsions became very frequent and severe, the child losing consciousness while they lasted.—An attempt was made to administer ether, but it affected her so violently that it had to be discontinued. Dr. Whitney succeeded on Saturday in giving the child some morphine, repeating the dose frequently, and keeping her under its influence, as it appeared to mitigate the severity of the spasms, which gradually lessened until death relieved her from misery on Sunday after.—

EXTREMES.—The Bath (Me.) Organ says:—

The extremists of the South claim that the slave element in their population tends to promote democratic equality among the higher classes, or as expressed by Mr. McDuffee—as we have heard him quoted—removes the necessity of an order of nobility, and is thus the corner stone of our democratic institutions. The northern laborers, our factory operatives, mechanics, &c., are the "mud sills" of society according to Senator Hammond; and by a large portion of the South are considered the counterpart of their slaves—the slaves of the north! But did they ever reflect that the northern slaves and "mud sills" are better educated as a class, and better informed every way than their aristocracy? Did they ever reflect that northern slaves go South to teach southern aristocrats and their children? that northern slavery is superior in general intelligence to southern nobility?

Dobbs speaks very emphatic at times.—He thinks if some of our "nasty little powder horns"—his own language—that the President sent down to the Gulf had met the English cruiser that went into the search business so extensively, they would have cut Styx for home.—Charlestown Ad.

REWARD OF GENIUS.—The recently published life of George Stephenson, the great railroad progenitor in England, gives the following interesting incident of the alleged origin of this now common power:

Solomon de Caus, who was shut up for his supposed madness in the Bicetre at Paris, seems to have been the first to conceive the idea of employing steam for moving carriages on land, as well as ships at sea. Marion de Lorme, in a letter to the Marquis de Cinq Mars, dated Paris, February, 1641, thus describes a visit paid to the celebrated madhouse, in the company of an English Marquis of Worcester:

"We were crossing the court, and I, more dead than alive with fright, kept close to my companion's side, when a frightful face appeared behind some great bars, and a hoarse voice exclaimed,

"'I am not mad! I am not mad! I have made a discovery that would enrich the country that adopted it.'

"'What has he discovered?' asked our guide.

"'Oh!' said the keeper, shrugging his shoulders, 'something trifling enough; you would never guess it: it's the use of the steam of boiling water.' I began to laugh. 'This man,' continued the keeper, 'is named Solomon de Caus; he came from Normandy four years ago, to present to the King a statement of the wonderful effects that might be produced from his invention. To listen to him you would imagine that with steam you could navigate ships, move carriages: in fact there is no end to the miracles which, he insists upon it, could be performed. The Cardinal sent the madman away without listening to him. Solomon de Caus, far from being discouraged, followed the Cardinal wherever he went, with the most determined perseverance, who, tired of finding him forever in his path, and annoyed at his folly, shut him up in the Bicetre.'"

LINDLEY MURRAY.—It is generally known that this "prince of English grammarians" was an American, and born within the present limits of Lebanon county, East Hanover township, then Lancaster county. His father was a miller, and followed that occupation when Lindley was born, but afterwards devoted his attention to mercantile pursuits, and amassed a considerable fortune by trading to the West Indies.—Lindley was the eldest of twelve children, and when about seven years of age was sent to Philadelphia, that he might have the benefit of a better education than could be had at Swatara. He studied law in New York, and at the age of twenty-two was called to the bar, and gained for himself the reputation of an "honest lawyer." His "Grammar of the English Language" was composed in England, in 1794, and published in the spring of 1795, many million copies of which have been sold. He resided in England forty two years, most of which time he was an invalid. He composed many works besides his Grammar.—He died in 1820, in a village in Yorkshire, being upwards of eighty years of age. He is represented as a Christian and philanthropist. He left legacies to a number of relatives and friends, and sums of money to many religious societies. He also directed that the residue of his property after the decease of his wife, should be devoted to pious and benevolent uses. He was a Quaker, and interred in the burying-ground of that sect, in the city of York, far from father and fatherland.—Lebanon Advertiser.

The poetess, Mrs. Estella Anna Lewis, has obtained a decree of divorce from her husband; but this is nothing very remarkable—almost all men and women of letters fight like dogs and separate. Great minds mould beautiful ideals, and exhibit a peculiar passion for combining in one person all that is lovable in human form. The actual, the real of life, never coming up to the ideal, they, the creators of the beautiful, with all their foresight, are most generally disappointed in their highest aims of happiness, and hence that conjugal misery which too often makes drafts upon our sympathy. Great minds are generally inconsistant to everything but their sins and follies.—Charlestown Advertiser

That "Time works wonders with us all," is very true; but no more so than that Heimstreet's Hair Coloring transforms the greatest of all its changes, working wonders with old Time himself.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

CHLOROSIS.
The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physiological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Exeter by Chas. A. Tilton, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—At the meeting of this corporation, there was one speaker, a Mr. Parsons of Boston, who took a retrospective view of the affairs of the road and condemned the season ticket system.

The President followed in a statement to the following effect. At the commencement of the present administration of the road, the debt was over three millions and one hundred thousand dollars, of which seven or eight hundred thousand was floating. He then submitted the following:

Whole earnings for three years,	$2,007,071 28
Whole expenses for three years,	1,110,831 47
Net earnings,	896,239 81
Interest paid,	418,371 24
Remains to pay debt,	477,868 57
Land sales and other receipts,	425,297 00
	$903,165 57
Paid for extending Saugus Branch, filling bridges, &c.,	122,847 89
Paid for reducing debt,	770,317 68
	$903,165 57

The President had examined the figures carefully, and had convinced himself that the season ticket business as conducted by the Eastern Railroad would be a good business for any road. He had found that their prices for season tickets was full as high as any other road, and higher than the average.

The old board were retained, and with them the season tickets.

PIC-NIC PARTIES.—On Tuesday the Sunday School of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this city, with a large number of other persons, went out to the Pic-Nic Grove in South New Market, near the Junction Depot on the Concord Road.

On the same day, a very large pic-nic party from the Methodist Church in Lynn, Mass., came over the Eastern Rail Road and spent the day at Kittery, in a grove near the Portsmouth Bridge.

And to-day a similar party from the Universalist Church or Churches in Lynn, are to spend the day at the same place last mentioned.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting, next Sabbath morning, at the Middle street Church, Rev. Dr. Lamson's.

To be continued at Fleet street Vestry during the week following, from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning.

MRS. PARTINGTON AT SARATOGA.—"Every back is fitted for its burden," said Mrs. Partington as she stood by the Congress Spring, from which one had just emptied the eighth tumbler down his spacious gullet, "and every stomach for its portion,—Heaven that tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, I dare say, will likewise also temper the water to their compassity to bear it, for we read that Apollos shall water and that the increase will be given, which must mean Saratoga water, and the increase the debility to hold it, though how folks can make a mill race of their elementary canal is more than I can see into."—Roger stood looking at the victim, as tumbler after tumbler disappeared, when he turned round to Mrs. Partington and asked her if she remembered what Macbeth said to the Fifer, in the play. She couldn't recall the name of Macbeth, but remembered having heard the name of Macaboy somewhere mentioned. He told her that the remark alluded to applied to the scene then enacting, for the hard drinkers seemed to be saying by their acts, "dammed be he who first cries, 'hold enough.'" "I think they all hold too much," remarked the dame. Roger nodded and smiled, saying, "and need damming, too." Ike stood watching the boy who drew up the water, pocketing the half dimes so coolly, and wondered what he was agoing to buy with all his money, and thinking how he could make it fly if he had it. He had invested all his available funds in red crackers, and hadn't a cent to bless himself with.—Sat. Gazette.

The Richmond South congratulates its readers upon what it alleges as a fact, that should the people of Kansas reject the English Swindle, they would be "disabled from coming into the Union for several years." If Congress shall adopt this view of the case, and reject the Free Constitution which will doubtless be presented next winter, the Pro-Slavocracy will be "disabled" from gaining possession of the White House for the next twenty years.—The "disabling" game is something two can play at—the people as well as Congress.—Statesman.

SALE OF A WOOLEN FACTORY.—The valuable factory property of Henry D. Stone, at Oxford, was sold at auction by the assignees, on Saturday, for $3200, subject to mortgages amounting to about $25,000, making the whole amount a trifle more than $28,000. It cost Stone $90,000, and we understand that the woolen machinery alone in it, which is new, cost $35,000.—The purchaser was Col. Alexander DeWitt. At this rate, Stone's creditors will not realize a heavy dividend.—Worcester Spy.

An item in the Boston Journal, a few weeks ago, described an accident as happening to George Shattuck of Exeter, N. H., smashing his face from the eyes to the mouth. The name of the town should have been New Ipswich, N. H., where the accident actually occurred.—News Letter.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.
ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 26.—The steamship Europa, Capt. Leitch, from Liverpool on Saturday, the 17th inst., has passed Cape Race. She was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press, which has arrived here with a summary of her news.

The Atlantic telegraph fleet would leave Queenstown as before stated on the 17th instant, and should by this time have reached the ocean rendezvous.

The India bill had passed to a second reading in the House of Lords.

The Jidda massacre had attracted much attention in Europe, and the Turkish government had promised to avenge the outrage. It was currently reported that England and France would occupy the place.

It was expected that Parliament would be prorogued on the 31st of July.

The dates from Bombay are of July 19. The Calpee rebels had defeated the Scindia troops at Gwalior, and a large number of the latter had gone over to the enemy.

A strong British force was making preparations to recapture Gwalior.

The British forces, and all Europeans, were suffering terribly from the effects of the intense heat.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, July 17.—There has been a decline on the week of 1-16 a 1-8d per lb., holders still offering freely, but evincing no disposition to press sales.

BREADSTUFFS MARKET, July 17.—The weather continues favorable for the crops, and a decline has taken place in all qualities, the market closing with a downward tendency.

The Brokers' Circular reports the decline on the past week in Flour, at 6d à 1s per brl.; in Wheat 2s, and Corn 6d.

The Provision market generally has a declining tendency.

FROM CALIFORNIA.
TWO WEEKS LATER.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Steamer Moses Taylor, from Aspinwall, with a fortnight's later California dates, has arrived. She brings $1,200,000 in treasure, and about 200 passengers.

IMPORTANT FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, July 26.—By the arrival of the steamer D. A. January, at Booneville, we have Leavenworth dates of the 23d inst. Mr. Livingston, an old trader on the plains, arrived there last night from Salt Lake City, with dates of June 30. The army had marched from the capital for Cedar Valley, forty miles below. Brigham Young and the heads of the Mormon Church, had returned to the city, and the people are following en masse. All was quiet in the Valley. Some of the returned teamsters are circulating a report of gold deposits in the vicinity of St. Vrain's Fort. Their statements do not receive full credit, in the absence of information from authentic sources.

Despatches from St. Joseph, dated 22d inst., per the steamer D. A. January, state that advices from Salt Lake City to July 3, have been received. The Mormons had all returned to the city, and their houses in different part of the Territory. Gen. Johnston had passed through the city with his forces, and encamped 30 miles the other side of it. No troops were in the city. The government officers had been duly installed in their various offices, and were preparing for the proper discharge of their duties. Brigham Young was anxious to be tried on the charge of treason, but insisted that the Jury should consist of Mormons only.

A WOMAN HANGING FROM A FOURTH STORY WINDOW.—As Officer Patterson, of the Sixteenth Ward, was patrolling his beat, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, he heard the cries of a female. In a minute or two he discovered a woman hanging by her hands on the window-sill of the fourth story window of the dwelling house No. 195, Seventh Avenue. He immediately rushed into the house, and succeeded in reaching the room in time to save her life. The woman, whose name is Mary Duffy, is an Irishwoman of intemperate habits, and has recently been suffering from delirium tremens. Her friends were cautioned to keep a sharper eye on her, and not to allow her in future to sleep at such an elevated hight from the ground.—N. Y. Times.

"THE WORLD OWES ME A LIVING."—When you hear a man say that the "world owes him a living," ton chances to one you will see a lazy good-for-nothing fellow; and you might as well hint as much to him and quietly observe that if the world does really owe him a living, he had better fly round and collect his bill.—Charlestown Advertiser.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strenght or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes up and out of the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts, and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SURGEON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to direction, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & CO., Troy, N.Y.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large proportion of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these organs, and consequently those PILLS are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. R. W. Carswell, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the perfection of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of chronics."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but in the regulating of all effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at hand a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry I. Ewer, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and I feel bound to say that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work much more like a charm than anything else I have ever seen of the kind. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found, either singly or in combination with other pills, and an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. B. Stuart, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are in much high repute with my people, and I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness, of which we have heard a great deal from those who suffered from it. I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Pair Restoratives, and that I find yours much superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance, and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are insertions in his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the diseases they profess to cure.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to the wonderful properties which your hair will take to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all extraneous matters—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids; and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in Portsmouth, has received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the last of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was bald. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. YOURS WITH RES., RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact I have used but two and a half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and I feel that I have received a benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and know others who use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours much superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance, and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it uses his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without authorship. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As these makes these facts wider and better known, its sale ever has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the final relief and cure of disease of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we witness the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originally have established the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to follow the one received after the order. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of figures to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Picayune, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SAMUEL SWAN & CO., Savannah, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Beomed as it is by a cality, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

June 12. THOMAS R. LAIGHTON.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is ten minutes walk of the mansions of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are not known. This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave twice daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times. ANDREW ADAMS,

PROPRIETOR.

The Ocean House,

ON RYE BEACH,

☞ Great Discovery of the Age. ☜
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.
THIS well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS
to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.
TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—and it has ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.
THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, rendering the taste favorable to the Tobacco, which of itself has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.
Persons who are conscientiously undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Trochies immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.
Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, Canada, England, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not possessed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that some of the SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has been uniformly successful, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of foreign and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1858.

CONVENTION OF COLORED CITIZENS AT NEW BEDFORD.—The colored citizens of Massachusetts will meet at New Bedford on Monday next, Aug. 2, in convention. It is the anniversary of the West India emancipation, and an appropriate time for the gathering. Tickets can be obtained at half price, good from Saturday till the Wednesday following. We presume the assembly will be a large one, and enthusiastic. The committee, in their circular, say to their brethren:

There never was a time when a convention such as is proposed was so much needed as now.

The general government, a majority of the States and Territories, are growing more malignant and oppressive towards us generally. The present aspect of affairs in this country furnishes no grounds of hope, and the future is equally ominous of evil. The design of the government evidently is to perpetuate and extend the area of slavery far beyond its present limits by the revival of the slave trade, and whatever may tend to the accomplishment of said object; as is already provided for by the passage of the Fugitive Slave Bill and the Dred Scott decision.

Let there be no division among us on this great occasion, an object in which we are all equally interested. Whatever may be said respecting the past, the first of next August ought not to be spent in festivity, but in earnest work—united and determined action to better our condition. We, the colored citizens of Massachusetts, enjoying greater advantages than our brethren in other States, ought to inaugurate this movement, sincerely hoping that the other States may be incited to similar action.

They are correct (says the Atlas) in the statement that the general design of the government is to perpetuate and extend the area of slavery, and they do well to protest against and oppose it; but they are wrong in saying that there is no ground of hope for relief and reform. It is not the purpose of the people of the nation to allow the present pro-slavery party to hold the general government much longer, and there is much ground of hope for better things in the future. We trust that not only will the deliberations of our colored friends be free from divisions, but that they will be tempered by good sense and controlled by wisdom. Their zeal should not outrun their discretion, and they should look calmly and carefully about to see what they can really do, to ameliorate or remove the wrongs inflicted on their oppressed race. So far as this purpose is concerned, they must have the candid sympathy of every humane and Christian man, and we hope their convention will result in good.

☞ The shipping interests continue to be very much depressed both in the United States and England. The tonnage arrived at New York, from foreign ports, for the quarter ending June 30th, is much smaller than it has been in the same quarter since 1850. The total number of vessels was 999, and tonnage 438,532, against 1259 vessels and 591,188 tonnage in the same quarter of 1857. The proportion of one-third foreign and two-thirds American vessels is still preserved. The coastwise commerce has fallen off quite as much as the foreign. The shipping interest has never been so depressed in England as at the present time. A great many British ships are hauled up, there being no business attainable that will pay running expenses, to say nothing of interest and depreciation. The large packet ships to New York are loading deep with full and heavy cargoes, and freight lists of £500, not half enough to pay their expenses in port.

☞ Robert Barnet, a constable of Allegheny township, Westmoreland county, Pa., met with death on Tuesday, 10th inst. During the day he hired a buggy and conveyed a pauper to the poor-house. He started homewards after dark. On Wednesday morning about 7 o'clock he was discovered by a mail boy lying in the woods of the road, about a mile and a half north of Greensburg, quite dead. It is supposed that he was overcome with sleep, fell out of the buggy, and his legs becoming fastened in the wheels, he was dragged for about four miles to the spot where he was found.

AGASSIZ.—The feature of the Alumni dinner at Cambridge on Thursday, which caused the liveliest applause, was Prof. Agassiz's announcement that he regarded himself "no longer as a European," (upon which the whole company rose and cheered)—saying that he designed to remain in America, if for no other reason, to show the world that learning here could be free from the trammels of routine, as our forefathers made our government free from all external powers.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamer Europa arrived at Halifax Tuesday morning. The steamer Royal Charter had arrived at Liverpool from Australia £400,000 in Gold.—It is officially announced that the English Government will not proceed further against Mr. Thomas Alsop, for whose arrest a reward had been offered. Lady Bulwer had been liberated from the madhouse. The Turkish Government promises that the Arabs who committed the atrocious murders at Jeddah shall be severely and promptly punished.

The Cork papers contain full particulars of the experiences of the Agamemnon during the great storm, of the 20th, 21st and 22d of June. The ship, during a portion of the gale, rolled at an angle of 47 degrees, and all the coals that were stowed on the main deck broke adrift and went bang down into the engine room, causing some confusion and inconvenience there.—The ship also strained considerably, and some of the deck planks parted, but no lives were lost, as had been reported. A few slight accidents only occurred, one man having received some injury while engagaged in arranging the portion of the cable that had got shifted, and a story is also told on board of another man having lost some of his fingers in rather a curious manner. In consequence of the rolling of the ship, hardly any one could keep on his feet, and a man on one of the lower decks was holding on by a supporting beam above him. In the straining of the vessel an opening took place between the beam and the planks which were laid on it, into which his fingers got, and immediately after the interstice closed again as tight as before, and took several of his fingers off. All the men and officers behaved admirably during the storm.

☞ The California news by the Moses Taylor is unimportant. Business is dull, except in miners' provisions. Two or three large fires have occurred. The Frazer river excitement continues without abatement, the reports from the mines are almost fabulous. Troubles with Indians are reported, however, and an indiscriminate massacre of the miners is feared. The State of Oregon has held its election, and the democratic party has been successful. Advices from South America are included in the mails of this arrival.

A WHALE.—The Rev. B. Jenkins, writing from Shanghai to the Southern Christian Advocate remarks:—"A remarkable occurrence took place when H. M.'s screw steam gun-vessel Nimrod was proceeding, under steam, for the entrance of the river Min, on the 16th inst. When about four miles outside of Sharp Peak, a violent concussion was experienced by all on board, as if the ship had struck the ground, but knowing from the position that such could not be the case, the real cause was soon evinced on looking astern, on their discovering a large whale, severed nearly in two, blowing convulsively and bleeding so profusely as to redden the water all around. The whale had, doubtless, been struck with much violence by the screw propeller; and, indeed, the engines were brought to a momentary stand-still by the shock. Unusual and unlikely as this may appear, it is, nevertheless, a fact."

TRAIN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The Manchester Guardian gives the particulars of a railway train struck by lightning on the Birmingham road, England. The passengers say the flash was instantly followed by a report of a most unusual sound, not that of the sudden explosion which often accompanies thunder-claps very near, but resembling the crack of one hundred rifles exploded close to the train. The report and the flash were almost simultaneous.

The engine driver and stoker felt themselves, as they describe, "wrapped round in a sheet of blue flame." The stoker experienced a shock at the back of his head, which for a time rendered him unconscious. At the same time the electric fluid seemed to run through the entire train.—Every person in the train felt the shock; those who were nearest the doors on the off side more than the rest, the lightning having the appearance of running along the rail on that side. No person was seriously injured.

WOMAN SUED FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.—In Clark county, Ohio, Mr. Alvin E. Patton has sued Mrs. Jane Baldwin Reinard and husband for breach of promise on her part, laying his damages at $25,000.—What adds to the poignancy of his grief is the fact that the faithless damsel was possessed of $200,000.

ROCKPORT.—The Cotton Duck Mill has not suspended operations—it is in a prosperous condition, and has had an improved engine and machinery added recently.

"THE BEST LAID PLANS OF MICE AND MEN," &c.—In 1797 Peter Thelluson of England died, leaving three millions in personal property and twenty-two thousand dollars a year in real estate, the whole to be held by trustees during the lives of his sons and grandsons. By thus cheating his children, he expected to leave to his heirs, some seventy or eighty years after, the most magnificent estate the world has ever known, not less than one hundred and forty millions of dollars. But the property has been so eaten up by lawsuits and consumed by its guardians, that at present it scarcely equals the original amount.

☞ John Ghent, a Postmaster in West Florida, who had been carried to Pensacola for trial on a charge of robbing the mail, terminated his life at that place in the following manner:—The United States Marshal, having no confidence in the security of the jail, removed him to a room in the third story of the St. Mary's Hotel, had him heavily ironed, and a guard kept night and day over him. About two o'clock on the morning of the 15th, while the attention of the guard was for a moment diverted, he jumped out of the window, which is about 32 feet from the ground; and although he alighted on his feet, the injuries received caused his death in about three hours.

DECIDEDLY BAD LIQUOR.—The Chelsea Telegraph and Pioneer says that James White, keeper of a shop on the corner of Division and Third streets, in that city, the contents of whose demijohns were poured out on the ground some five or six weeks ago by the City Marshal under the nuisance act, has given that functionary notice that the liquor has spoilt the water in his well, and threatens prosecution for damages unless the Marshal shall cause the well to be cleaned out.

☞ The Springfield Republican says that the "Highland Maid" completed her sixty hours' walk at 12 o'clock on Saturday night, amid the applause of a large crowd. She was not badly used up by the effort, though at one time it was her private opinion that she should die after she got through. She is 18 years of age, and ought to know that she could do many better things.

☞ The ship Competitor, of Boston, Capt. White, recently arrived at Havana from China, with a lot of coolies. She sailed from Swatow with about three hundred and eighty on board, and before she reached Havana one hundred and twenty-seven had died on the passage. The ship made a very short voyage, or the number of deaths would have been much larger.

☞ The Burlington (Iowa) Gazette of the 21st instant contains a descriptive account of racing between the steamboats "Keokuk" and "Tishomingo," and the "Ben Campbell" and "Keokuk." The boats were crowded with passengers and all seemed to enjoy the sport. We shall next hear of an explosion and terrible loss of life.

☞ In Palmer, Mass., last week, an Irish girl was taken sick with an attack of colic, when one of her sisters was posted for a doctor. In her simplicity she ran to the house of Rev. Dr. V——, who returned with her to the bedside of the sick girl. He administered what consolation he could, when the girl recovered,—which might not have happened if the other doctor had been called.

☞ The Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche says that a negro man, slave of Mrs. Stork, in that city, recently came to his death from the brutal treatment of a fiendish overseer, named Wm. S. Montgomery, who administered a series of whippings extending over ten days. The first punishment consisted of five hundred stripes.—When it was ascertained the negro would die, the scoundrelly overseer made his escape.

NEWBURYPORT WOMAN ROBBED.—The Boston Traveller says that on Monday a Newburyport lady paid a visit to that city, in company with her husband, the first which she has made for a long time. Unfortunately her experience was not of the most favorable character, for while there she had her pocket picked of her purse containing $22 in gold and silver, and a certificate of one share of the Eastern Railroad Company.

☞ A runaway slave was discovered in the attic of a Methodist church at Washington, D. C., on a recent Sunday morning. He had lived there four or five months, unsuspected, had used up the communion wine, and picked up his food by nightly sorties into the neighboring pantries.

☞ Wm. F. Talcott, who murdered D. J. Stanley at Onarga, Ill., last September, for which crime he was recently arrested, formerly kept a daguerreotype gallery in Palmer, Mass., and was more recently a merchant in Stafford, of the firm of Talcott & Hyde, where he also married the daughter of a respectable farmer, and was only two years ago the Democratic candidate for the Legislature.

☞ There is an idea quite prevalent that the majority of visitors to Newport are Southerners. Such is not the fact.—Out of 231 arrivals, taken at random, only 20 were from the South; and we suppose the ratio will hold good for any number of arrivals.

☞ A beef panic prevails in and about Savannah, Ga. Many of the cattle there are diseased, and this has had an effect to produce a general suspicion among the consumers of beef, which is not only working harm to those who supply the market, but to the people at large. Good beef is said to be a drug in the market, the apprehensions of the people preventing them from buying it.

☞ A correspondent in the Crescent City writes as follows: "Here is something I saw myself. A few days since a verdant youth with his blushing bride arrived at one of the principal hotels in this city.—The head of the family registered his name as 'S. B. Janes and lady, Alabama, on a bridle tower.' Is not this a new way to inform the public you are in the hymeneal halter?"

☞ Rev. S. A. Colline, of Taunton, Mass., has accepted a call to become the pastor of the Baptist Church in Great Falls.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

CHLOROSIS.

The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a power ful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada
JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALDWIN & CO.) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to have the Pills published, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

BURNING OF A BAGGAGE CAR ON THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.—A singular accident occurred on the New York Central Railroad, near St. Johnsville, on Saturday morning at 2 o'clock, by which a baggage car with its contents was entirely destroyed by fire, and four men had a narrow escape from burning to death. The fire was not discovered until the train was nearing St. Johnsville, and in a few minutes the car was one mass of ruins.

The train was composed of six passenger and two baggage cars, the latter being filled with baggage. Four men, including the baggage master and messenger, narrowly escaped with their lives, and it is reported that the messenger was burned, but to what extent our reporter could not learn. The baggage and mail, with the exception of two or three trunks, were entirely destroyed. These trunks were rescued by the conductor, who dashed into the buring car. It is said that he was scorched.

The loss is variously estimated at from $25,000 to $50,000, while some reckon the damage even beyond $50,000. Many of the trunks had large sums of money in them. A lump of melted gold was found near the car, worth nearly a hundred dollars. Owing to the delay caused by the fire there was no connection with the Hudson River Railroad on Saturday morning. On the arrival of the train in Albany there was quite a rush for the Superintendent's office by the passengers who had lost their baggage, to receive pay for it, which many did on producing their checks and making an affidavit as to the amount of baggage contained in their trunks. The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks from the locomotive.

An old lady and gentleman were on their way to California, and everything that belonged to them was in their trunks, which were destroyed. As soon as the old lady heard that her baggage was destroyed she wept like a child. Another young man was also on his way to California, with a quantity of valuable articles, including watches, money, jewelry, &c., which were also destroyed. A lady living in Maine had three large trunks filled with valuable clothing.

The train stopped under the water tank at St. Johnsville, but whether the employees were so excited that they forgot to let the water descend on the flames, or whether they were afraid of setting fire to the tank, is unknown; the train was however, moved from the tank.

☞ The latest advices from Buenos Ayres and Port au Platte represent business as being dull.

At Galveston, on the 14th, the shippers' cotton press and sixty bales of cotton were consumed by fire.

The crops in Kansas have been much injured by the late heavy rains. Bridges have been swept away.

The Naushon House, at Woods' Hole, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning.

☞ The Detroit Free Press learns that the steamers Canada and America, lately taken down the rapids of the St. Lawrence river, have been sold by their proprietor, Mr. N. P. Stewart, for the sum of $200,000. Their destination is said to be California, where they are intended to run between San Francisco and Frazer river, the new gold mining district. The upper works will be removed during the voyage out and replaced at San Francisco.

☞ Dawson, the proprietor of a vile female slave pen in New York, has been sentenced to a confinement of two months in the Penitentiary and to pay a fine of $50, for confining white girls in his house against their will, and compelling their debasement to men of all grades and colors.

☞ Three sperm whalers arrived at New Bedford in the twenty-four hours ending Friday morning, bringing 4300 barrels of sperm oil. During the last week eight whalers arrived at that port, three of which will lose to their owners about $70,000.

"Old Dominion!" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strenght or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually escapes over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

For families, boarding houses or hotels, this Range is unrivalled for capacity, economy or convenience. For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.
LOWELL, Oct. 7, 1846.
To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my case, and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as "stripper," in the carding-room. The great changes from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, brought on a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very serious and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a severe pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. From that time to this, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose—The only thing that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but constantly eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is now wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.
Yours, truly, EDWARD TURNER.

Just Published, Gratis, the 20th Thousand.
A FEW words on the rational treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhea or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.
The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may easily be cured without MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.
Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (postpaid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st street, New York City.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached the age of twenty-four, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as fresh and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. as: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and states that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been received by the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Besides, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Law School of the University
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL.D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL.D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the diseases that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many various complaints.

Followed by the testimony from some eminent physicians of the city in their practice.

As a Family Physic.

Extract, W. Cornwell, of New Orleans.

"Your cathartic pills are perfect gems. Their excellent qualities are known to my family and friends, who will not buy any other pills, and attribute to them the action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of our families."

For Dyspepsia and all Liver Complaints.

Rufus Pa., Chandler Hall, of New York City.

"Your pills are the best we have ever used in our family practice, and have cured us of many complaints, for which we know of no other remedy. They have in my practice, cured a great deal for the benefit of my patients, for which I am very grateful. I can recommend them to the world as a most valuable medicine, which is worthy the confidence of the people."

Dyspepsia — Indigestion.

From Dr. Brown J. Kane, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you very kind enough to send me have been all used by my patients, and have satisfied me that they are a valuable addition to our materia medica. I scarcely ever prescribe any other cathartic, and I find the results attended to the disease of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alike. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint, which had resisted the skill of the best of our medical men. Indeed I have cured nearly every case that I have prescribed them to be efficacious in almost all the complaints in which you recommend them."

Dysentery — Diarrhœa — Relax.

From J. G. Foss, of Chicago.

"Your Pills are the best cathartic I have yet met with, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best medicines I have ever found. They evidently exert a strong influence upon the liver, making them a cathartic of extraordinary speed, when the ordinary dysentery and diarrhœa. They also cure bilious fevers, and are very mild and efficacious in the cure of Women and children."

Intestinal Obstruction—Worms—Suppression.

From Mr. B. Stuart, who prescribes them as a Painless and Mildly Aperient.

"I find that two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, accomplish the purposes of the natural agent, than any vegetable or mineral with which I am acquainted. I intend to change the diet and liquid drinks. They are so much the best product we have that I recommend another to my patients."

Constipation — Costiveness.

From Dr. J. P. Temple, Montreal, Canada.

"Your pills seem to well of your Pills for the cure of constipation. In others of our practice have found them to be the best of any pills we have used, and we shall use them in our practice, and recommend them to our friends, as we think it is the duty of the profession who offer to us the best remedy which we know of, which is found to be your pills, which we have found to be the best of any we have used, and we shall use them in the future, and have found them equal and even the best."

Impurities of the Blood — Scrofula — Erysipelas — Salt Rheum — Tetter — Tumors — Ulcers — Pimples — Pustules.

From Dr. Dodd, of N. Y., Author of Medical Works.

"I do not hesitate to express the opinion that your Pills purify the blood. They do so. I know it from a host of late cases in my practice, in which your pills have driven out of the system the lurking poison of the most inveterate disease. They have cured me of a long and painful disease, and have restored vitality and vigor to my system. I regard your pills as a national benefit, and you merit a great share of it."

Fever and Ague — Sick Headache — Foul Stomach — Costiveness — Piles — Paralysis — Rheumatism.

From Dr. Dickerson, of Nashville, Tennessee.

"I have used your pills in my family and in my practice for many years, and I know you are doing a great deal of good with them. I find them to be the best of all the cathartics we have in our country, and I shall use them in my family and recommend them to my friends as the best pills I know of."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

This preparation is recommended by a practical chemist, and every one of its ingredients is such as will recommend itself to every intelligent mind. It is a compound of the most powerful vegetable, and some mineral, can be relied on as a remedy, without sanctioning, or even the slightest remedy the world has ever known of for those of all pulmonary complaints, such as Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Chronic Bronchitis, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and the untold of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease, have been cured by this medicine, when all other means failed, and many, who now are gradually between the best relief of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European Kings. Throughout this and other countries of the Western Hemisphere, and almost every hamlet in continent, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In such foreign countries it is extensively used by those who have proved its efficacy. Nothing but its merits can so obtain for it such a world-wide reputation. Its agents are everywhere, and ask only a trial of this medicine, that they may convince you of its virtues. Clergymen, who are the best judges of the benefit it has done for them, if you can trust our own assertions when we say the disease is conquered, or the lungs healed to all, if we can depend on the testimony of our friends, and if experience has taught us to know, in deed, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then it is positively proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the nature and extent of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been imperfectly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letters, addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE CORDIAL PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and universal virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article which is represented by the same name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine can be had.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—Medical accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair, covers the bald of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—cause it to stand forward the natural fluid—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call upon the old, the young, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, not be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper that "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and it proved to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Peet, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, REUBEN PEARY.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering, and I have used but two bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. The Scalp is free from dandruff without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully, D. B. TEMPLE, M. D., No. 424 Vine street.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: I take the pleasure of informing you that your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that it has been a perfect success. Its regular use will prevent gray hair, but if used with a habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find scurvy vastly superior to any other I know. It effectually removes the dandruff and keeps the scalp healthy. Yours respectfully, JAMES CANNON.

one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without discoloring the hands in applying it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WM. WOOD.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. Address orders to SAMUEL SWAN & CO. Every ticket must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the lottery. Prizes range from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, and the amount of prizes to which is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no postage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, and the days of freezing are beginning away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether married, widows, or single, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain pancer for the the troubles incident to female disorganization, such as those coming with painful menstruation, arousing palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married women, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Wherefore, this is to announce to the world that PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will rejoice at the tidings, and spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one month from date, shall be sent, and yours; that is to say the PILLS MEST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Cheesman's Chemistry, Box No. 4,731, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal,

C. C. CHEESEMAN, M. D.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Beacomed as this locality is, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from all malarious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The new and beautiful Packet

GOLDEN EAGLE,

Capt. Geo. Perkins,

Will, after the 20th inst., run daily (Sundays excepted) from Pier 9 Wharf, Portsmouth, on the arrival of the morning train of cars from Boston, to the Island, and return in the afternoon.

June 12. THOMAS B. LAIGHTON.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Portsmouth, Isles of Shoals, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the mansions of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here is delightful and unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are seldom known. This locality presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Rooms and tables are always ready for the good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave twice daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland; every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times.

ANDREW AMES,

PROPRIETOR.

The Ocean House,

ON RYE BEACH,

WILL be opened on the 25th of June, for the reception of permanent and transient company.

The proprietor will run a line of Coaches from Greenland Depot to the Beach. Fare, in coaches marked "Job Jennes & Son," 25 cts. to any public or private house on or near Rye Beach.

Take the cars on the Eastern R. Road to Greenland, thence coach to the house.

JOB JENNESS & SON, Proprietors.

STREET BEGGING.

In Portsmouth we have some of it, but need not have any.—Our Overseers of the Poor, Howard Benvolent Society, Ladies Charitable Society, and City Mission, justify every good householder and true christian giver, in sending every new or unknown beggar to the City Clerk or City Missionary. There is however no good reason why any family in the city which is able, should not in a private way relieve the wants and cheer the heart of their poor neighbor, whose character and condition they know.

In Boston, it would seem that there is not a good understanding and efficient co-operation, between their public and private characters. We can think of no good reason for this state of things,—and of no reason at all, except that the overseers of Boston are chosen by a combination of ignorant and bigoted Irish immigrant votors with the thousand loafers, swindlers, and criminals who make common cause with the groggery nuisances. Such people do not desire to correct the abuses—they fear the light.

The reader will be interested to read, in this connection, the following extract from a late report of the Boston Society for the Prevention of Pauperism. In it the Secretary, Frederic R. Woodward, calls attention to the subject of street begging, alms-giving, and "out-door relief." He says:—

"In the present state of affairs with regard to public, associated and private charity, no system can be effectual in carrying relief to the worthy poor, checking street beggary, imposition, and indiscriminate alms-giving, and preventing pauperism, but one based on a thorough registration of all applicants for aid. This movement should originate with, and carried out by the Overseers of the Poor. It is a work of magnitude, but easily accomplished. A tithe of the annual expenditure of the Overseers would induct it, and once made, it would be less labor to keep it in operation than it is to assess the annual tax or water rates. A full statement of every case should be recorded, and as changes occur or new facts arise, they should be entered; and the personal history of each case would generally decide who were proper objects of public, associated or private charity; what cases should be aided only in the State or city Almshouses, and what cases it would be desirable to send out of the city to other towns, States or counties, where they had relatives or friends, or where their condition might be bettered. Such a system of registration, with a city workhouse for vagrants, street beggars, and drunkards who neglect their families, would be a step forward in remedying street beggary, vagrancy and their kindred evils. To such a system we must come sooner or later, and the sooner the better. As a matter of economy, a large saving would be made annually, not only to the city, but to those who contribute to the support of almsgiving societies, and also to that numerous class of benevolent-hearted persons who are ever ready to put their hands in their pockets at every real or seeming tale of distress. It is a question thats admits of discussion whether the present modes of relief do most harm or good. Our special charities need fostering but even in some of these, discrimination is necessary. Our 'out-door relief' and general charities might be wiped out of existence possibly with less injury to the community at large, than to have them dispensed as they sometimes have been."

HEMP AND TOBACCO.—The Missouri Democrat says:

"The best tobacco grown in Kentucky and the best hemp raised in Missouri are both the product of free white labor.—The former fact we know from personal observation in the central part of that State—the latter fact we are advised by one of the most sterling houses of this city, who receive, themselves, much of the hemp raised by the Germans of Lafayette country."

Mr. Olmsted says that the best cotton raised in Texas is raised by Germans.

☞ The Hon. William F. Gordon formerly for several years a prominent and much respected member of Congress from the Albermarle district of Virginia, died at his residence in that county on the 21st inst. He was standing conversing with his son, when, feeling faint, he requested to be laid down, which was done, and he immediately expired.

☞ It is stated that the Mount Vernon cot on factory, in Alexandria, Va., has been sold to northern capitalists for $35,000. The purchasers have commenced putting the machinry in good running order, and expect to commence operations in August. Hands are now being employed with this view.

American and Foreign Patents.
E. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE, he confidently he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official disclosures relating to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

THE NEW PEDLER LAW.

Having noticed quite a number of articles in the papers, both in and out of the State, upon the new "pedler law;" having considerable opportunity of becoming acquainted with public opinion; and having noticed articles in the Chronicle favoring the law and endorsing it as "nothing new," and upon the whole beneficial, with your permission I propose to show that there are really two sides to this matter, and will endeavor to show some of its disadvantages. But before I proceed to the remarks I may offer, allow me to state that there is a very general feeling upon the subject, nor does it excite surprise among those who know that a large and respectable class of our citizens have been seriously injured in their business.

Without attending to others, I will endeavor to show that the loss to the State for one year, to one class of citizens, cannot fall short of one million of dollars. I refer to hotel-keepers. In support of my statement, I from some investigation assert that there are fifteen hundred regular pedlers in the State, independent of pack pedlers. And I further state that there are five hundred pedlers from out of the State. These last can no more come here. We have then two thousand pedlers traveling in carriages till this law stopped them, at a cost of two dollars a day, being $4000 paid daily by pedlers to hotel-keepers. But to narrow it down to its lowest limit, allow one thousand of these to stop with the farmers or at private houses, and to pay but one dollar a day, and then you have $3000 a day. But should any say this is a high estimate, for argument we will allow these two thousand to travel but half the time, and the loss will be $500,000. yearly.

You will please keep in mind I have but touched upon the loss to one class of our citizens; and if I am correct, and I doubt not I am, the loss by this law is from one-half to a million of dollars annually—not to mention the manufacture and repairs of carriages, harnesses, horse-shoeing, &c.

I hesitate not to state that the law is considered injurious, oppressive, and uncalled for; and but few tolerate it. In my humble opinion a law breaking in so suddenly upon the interests of so many of our active, enterprizing men should have been duly considered, rather than on the heel of the session, pushed through without one of the many and proper amendments offered, and not even a call for the negative in the Senate the last morning of the session. It may be that the "Sage of Sagamore" said truly in his seat, "If you pass this bill it will return to trouble you." FREE TRADE.

A private letter says:

"If you think the law is very popular, you, or I, are very greatly deceived. Mr. (——), Senator from (——) district, told me he should have voted against the bill if he had had an opportunity, and that he received five letters advising the Senate not to pass the bill, the Friday evening before the Saturday of adjournment. I have seen several of our large manufacturers who condemn the law and say they must change their votes next spring.

(——) of (——) has many pedlers. He has paid for one license, and tells the County Treasurer, "I shall for the first time change my own and 30 to 50 votes next March." The large firms in Dover and Great Falls will change as they say, 500 votes. (————) says he cannot but condemn the law and shall vote for no man in favor of it. And I know of hundreds who are turned out of employ and will labor for its defeat. The feeling is greatly against the law, and you do not seem to know it."

We are much obliged to our correspondents above, for their able presentation of this dark side of the pedler law, with statements and figures. We add a few notes, which may be of some interest.

1. Our correspondent Free Trade knows more of the matter than most who have written upon it, having had much experience in the business and travel in this State.

2. The Sage of Sagamore, when he said this bill if passed may return to trouble you, referred to bill respecting the city of Portsmouth, and not to the pedler bill, which he treated lightly, neither knowing nor caring much about the peddling interest any way.

3. In the city of Portsmouth, no effect has been produced so far as we can see, except the stoppage of a few foreign pedlers, and the establishment of agencies in stores here, for the sale of such goods as used to be sold from the carts. Our own tin pedlers here, continue their business nearly as usual; and as they have not generally sold many foreign wares, but mostly their own, made in the State, they did not need to make much change.

4. Our ideas of the "popularity" of the law were but moderate, and were expressed as follows:—"it would not be very strange if the law should enjoy public favor, as much as the small bill law, or the individual liability law." If our correspondent and readers will recollect how popular these laws were, they can appreciate our remark.

5. The peddling business, if as large as Free Trade estimates, is one of great importance in the State;—and we shall cease to wonder that Boston papers and others out of the State made complaints against this new law, if five hundred foreign pedlers were perambulating New Hampshire, pay-$1000 per day to tavern keepers, and other great expenses, and making money themselves, but paying no State, County, or Town taxes in New Hampshire, beyond a $20 license, and many of them, if we have been correctly informed, not paying any thing, but going without a license.—And if there are 2000 pedlers who travel with horses in the State, we do not wonder that the store keepers are troubled and used up by them.

6. We do not see how or why any large manufacturers in New Hampshire would be troubled by a pedler law which permits them to peddle their wares without a tax or restriction of any sort.

LAW IN DOVER.—The Dover Enquirer, speaking of the pedler law says.—"The Judge of our Police Court has already decided that the law applies only to those known as professional hawkers and pedlers. Merchants and trade s from other States can come here and take orders for goods as usual. Bakers can bring their bread, and farmers th ir produce, fishermen their fish, and sell the same without any infringment of the law."

AFRICAN COMMERCE.—Accounts from the west coast of Africa, by the mail steamer, state that Capt. Pretot, commanding the French squadron, had lately returned from a visit to the King of Dahomey. His object appears to have been to obtain the exclusive privilege for the French to purchase slaves at Whydah and the Dahomian ports. The application was, it is said, supported by a present of six handsome brass field-pieces, superbly mounted; but it proved a complete failure, the large and increasing legitimate commerce of the Bight of Benin, and the eagerness of the natives to cultivate cotton, having raised the price of slaves from $100 to $120, a price beyond the figure to which the contractor is limited.

☞ An open-air demonstration against the confessional was made in London, by at least ten thousand of the Protestant inhabitants of Belgravia. They met in the grounds of the Pavillion, and adopted, amidst loud cheers and waving of hats and handkerchiefs, a memorial to the Queen and a petition to Parliament, praying that steps might be taken for the immediate suppression of the confessional system now attempted to be introduced into the Church of England. It is stated that the Archbishop of Canterbury has confirmed the decision of the Bishop of London as to the revocation of the license of the Rev. Alfred Poole, whose proceedings have led to the excitement on this question.

A Tennessee fellow named J. P. Perkins left the Glen House at the White Mountains in great disgust, because he was rebuked for summoning the waiters at the table by a whistle. Several other chivalrous southerners went with him, and got laughed at for their folly.—Portland Adv.

They hardly deserve the name of Southerners;—they must be south western boors, who know no better.

ORDINATION.—At Ossipee Centre, July 21st, Mr. Thomas L. Ambrose was ordained a minister of the gospel, and Missionary to Persia, under the appointment of the American Board. Introductory services by Rev. Marvin Leffingwell, of Wakefield; Sermon by Rev. Cyrus W. Wallace, of Manchester, (text, Ex. 34: 2, 5); Ordaining Prayer by Rev. Stephen Merrill, of North Wolfborough; Charge by Rev. John K. Young, of Laconia; Right Hand of Fellowship by Rev. Ambrose Smith, of Boscawen: Address to the Congregation, by Rev. John H. Merrill, Tamworth; Benediction by Rev. Thomas L. Ambrose.

WORCESTER, July 28. — An Irishman named John Black, 80 years of age, partially palsied, was killed this morning by the train of the Norwich & Nashua Railroad backing out of the depot. No blame is attached to the employees of the road.

BALLOONING. — At Manchester, N. H., on the 29th, says the American, in the afternoon, at twenty minutes past five the grand ascent was made in capital style, the balloon with the car containing Messrs. King and Allen, gracefully and slowly sailing upward at an angle of 45 degrees, amid the shouts of the multitude. The balloon followed the valley of the Merrimack to Martin's Ferry, passed over the highlands east of Hooksett village, then over Allenstown and Epsom, gradually veering to the east. At Concord it appeared in sight at 6 o'clock in the southeast. The balloon was visible at Pittsfield village till aft r seven. It was then over the eastern part of Northwood, was apparently descending, and probably landed about 8 o'clock in Strafford, some forty miles from Manchester. Our Deerfield correspondent thinks they landed at Barrington.

They made land on the farm of Andrew J. Otis, in Safford, four miles from Rochester, at about o'clock.

They rose 00 feet in an hour after leaving M. Bow Pond they went low enough to a some men what kind of fish they were fishing. They responded—"Pickerel!" After leaving here, the mercury sunk 60 degrees, but the rays of the sun were so strong as to produce a stinging sensation, and they hung up their coats to scare them.

MAN OVER THE FALLS.—Yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock, the citizens in the vicinity of the Falls were startled by the cry of "mover the Falls!" and in a few moments hundreds rushed to the rescue, but all the efforts to save him were unavailing. He was seen by a comrade a moment or two after he went over, after which he disappeared, and as yet his body has not been found. The accident occurred as follows: He was standing on some planks which projected over the platform of the mill directly above the Falls, turning a log with a "cant-hook," when the hook slipped, and he fell backward down the precipice. He rose to the surface of the water and attempted to swim to a ledge of rocks within a few feet of him, but was swept down by the strong current. He who thus been sent into eternity without a moment's warning, is a young man from Palermo, Maine, by the name of George W. Wood.—St. Anthony News, 1

ANOTHER STREET AFFRAY!—New York, July 18th.—In consequence of some recent publications in the newspapers, the Surveyor of the Port (Mr. Hart) and the late General Appraiser (Mr. Dillaye) had an affray on Nassau street this afternoon.—Mr Hart met Mr. Dillaye's face, whereupon the latter said he was armed, called Hart a d—d scoundrel, and attempted to draw a weapon. Hart then struck him on the head with a cane, and soon afterwards delivered himself up to the police.

Seizure of a Slaver.—The barque Lyra, Capt. Bailey, has been seized at Key West as a slaver. The captain escaped.

LOUISVILLE, July 28.—The steamer Falls City broke her piston and drove out the cylinder head. Five deck passengers were badly scalded, and two drowned. The accident occurred thirty miles below Memphis, and on her upper trip yesterday.

A KEARD.

THE Officers and Members of AGONY ENGINE Co. No. 5, feel very desirous to publicly express their thanks to Obadiah Swift-iron-cast & Son for the satisfactory manner in which they made their uniforms, particularly the gilt edging and brass buttons on the coat tails.

To Hezekiah Goodfit.—You have give us entire satisfaction; just enough elasticity for the frequent swelling of our heads, and all without ever hurting our faces. The least we can say is "take our hat."

To Ex-Chief Engineer Put-'em-through.—We feel ourselves deeply indebted to you for the many favors received at your hands, including sundry treats, and if any of our boys should ever meet you in a bar room we hope they will ask you up.

To Pelinah Leather Shoe.—Nothing should be branded with boundless ingratitude did we not acknowledge our high appreciation of those magnificent sheepskin belts. May your phiz ever radiate with as much brilliancy.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the hue of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

CHLOROSIS.

The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the first three months, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used these Pills public.for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies for those health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1 Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's price, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

STREET BEGGING.

After all that has been done for the suppression of Street Begging in this city, we are sorry to know that there are parents among us who still persist in thus employing their children. So many enquiries have come to us within a few days, that we feel it due to the public to say that, in our opinion, it is no charity to give to such.

We might give the names of several such children, who, as they call at our doors, have the appearance of being modest and unaccustomed to such employment, but who in reality have been thus employed for months or years. We have labored faithfully with their parents; have placed the children in school, or provided older ones with good places where they would have been well cared for, and might soon have been able to aid their parents. But no sooner were they clothed than they were taken away by their parents, to pursue again a life of vagrance.

Persons wishing for farther information in reference to any such, are requested to call at the house of the subscriber, No. 31 State street. N. MEDBERY.

Our readers will find an article on the above subject, under the same title, on our first page, which article was in type before the city missionary gave us his notice.—Families who wish to do good with their alms, should not give anything to street beggars. Their worthy poor neighbors, whom they should relieve privately, are not apt to beg.

☞ The Universalist Church in this city needing increased and improved pew accommodations, are about to remodel their meeting house, so as to make more and better pews on the lower floor! and by a little enlargement at the west end of the house to place the pulpit in a recess, without destroying the symmetry of the building.

The house as it is, will probably be used for the last time, next Sabbath; on which occasion Rev Mr. Patterson, the pastor, will give, in the afternoon, a historical sermon, embracing the rise and progress of the society, notices of the ministry, &c.

The house was dedicated in 1808, and the floor pews have remained 50 years without change.—The society dates back to 1777, where Rev. Noah Parker began his ministry with six brethren as parishioners.

PICNIC AT THE SAGAMORE.—We received an invitation a few days since to attend a picnic at the Sagamore, and after due deliberation we accepted, and at one o'clock on Wednesday, the 28th of July, we started for the promised land. The day was one of the best of the season, and the place selected by the committee was admirably adapted for such a gathering. The cool and refreshing breeze from the river, and a fine grove of trees to shelter us from the rays of the sun, made it a most desirable spot. Flags suspended from the trees guided us to the groups of smiling faces which we found interspersed about the grounds. We were soon pressed into a whist party, which we enjoyed for an hour. The band having arrived, we took a partner for the merry dance, which was followed by cotillions, polkas and waltzes, until the welcome sound of the ten-bell called us from our healthy and pleasant exercise. We found a bountiful repast spread upon the green turf, and without much ceremony we all gathered around the festive board and regaled ourselves with the luxuries spread before us. After the supper had been duly attended to, songs and sentiments from various members of the party were listened to with much pleasure.

New recruits having arrived from the city, we formed again for dancing, which lasted until about nine o'clock, when we were requested to adjourn to the bridge to see the fireworks, which, for the occasion, were very fine, lasting nearly an hour. Carriages from the city were then in attendance, and we were all safely conveyed to our homes. The getters up of this very pleasant picnic are deserving of much credit for the pains they took to entertain their guests, and we hope, when they have another of the same style, they will favor us with an invitation.

VACATIONS.—Dear Uncle Toby—I rejoice to be able to say, that the girls of the High School in this city, are enjoying a vacation, as they ought to do, at this season of the year, and that their vacations are to be six weeks instead of four.—But I am sorry to add, that in one school district, the North, in obedience to an ignorant and stupid clamor, the vacations are reduced from six weeks to four.—The same thing was attempted in regard to the High School, as I understand,—but the girls there had learned something about physiology, and knew that some play time was needful. One class of 25 dwindled down to 7, by parents' consent, that their girls might have the recreation needful to preserve life—and then came the vacation.

Now, Mr. Editor, why should not the smaller children have a play time as well as the larger?

Will some stupid parents say they wish to have their children out of the way, and so protest against vacations? So they have said; but such parents know nothing about study, their children are not usually constant, and so get some respite—but the more industrious and regular scholars suffer, if they have not requisite vacations.—Shall we not have uniform vacations of at least six weeks per annum in all the schools? A PARENT.

☞ Mr. Lloyd, a colored man, who is fitting himself for a teacher in Liboria, and who is recommended by Prof. Agassiz, Rev. Dr. Blagden, J. V. C. Smith, John P. Hale and others, is now in this city—and will give, with good help, a Literary and Musical Entertainment—probably on Saturday Evening.

☞ Mr. Bourne, from Westerly, R. I., the man who was struck suddenly deaf, dumb, and blind, and after eighteen days was suddenly restored, will speak on the subject of religion and relate his experience at the old South Meeting House in this city, on Sunday morning and evening next, at the usual hours of public service. Free for all who wish to hear.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting, next Sabbath morning, at the Middle street Church, Rev. Dr. Lamson's—at half-past 8 o'clock.

To be continued at Fleet street Vestry during the week following, from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning.

☞ The regular monthly meeting of the Mercantile Library Association will be held this (Friday) evening, at 8 o'cl'k.

FROM LEAVENWORTH.—St. Louis, July 28.—Leavenworth advices of the 26th have been receive per U. S. express from Booneville. A man named John S. Scoggins, notorious as a leader of a band of horse thieves and robbers in the South, has been arrested, in that city, and messengers have been sent to Fort Scott to procure evidence against him. Several murders are charged to have been committed by Scoggins, both in Fort Scott county and on the Big Blue.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We happend for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—e have had in use now, for over two months, one! the e much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion any length of time you choose, and yet lose none the delicate aroma or strength. This desirabled is attained by a simple but ingenious contrance, in the shape of a condenser, with dou syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, op the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicio flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In alr experience of coffee drinking, we never found thing equal to what we now have daily at ourrning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—(Phelphia Evening Journal.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.
LOWELL, Oct. 7, 1846.
To Dr. D. F. BRADLEY—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my case, and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as "stripper," in the carding-room. The great changes from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, gave me a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very serious and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a severe pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. From that time to this, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose—The only thing that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but actually eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is now wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.
Yours, truly, EDWARD TURNER.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOHN F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Law School of the Univ rsity.
At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, to which new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are two every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a cause, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Association is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

Ayer's Pills

are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and diseases arising from disparity of the blood. A single part of all the ills to which flesh is heir, may be traced to some disease originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills have cured many early and apparently hopeless cases of disease.

Published from the following, in no way connected with any other medicine:

AT FAMILY LEVEE.

"Your Pills are in use in my family, and they possess their excellent qualities among my children with equal success. They are mild, but very searching in their effects on the bowels, which makes them invaluable as a family medicine, and consequently they are in daily request.

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

"Your Pills are in great demand in this place. Their excellent qualities empower them above all others. They are mild, but very searching in their effects on the bowels, which makes them invaluable as a family medicine, and consequently they are in daily request.

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

Dr. Jayne's Pills are selling well here. They are a good article, and do what we have been all our life looking for, namely, a pill that they are truly an aperient, and not a cathartic, and that they effect this without the disorder of the system, that they seem to work with a kind of magic, and I have tried some cases of dyspepsia and costiveness with them, and they have effected a cure when other means failed. Indeed I have experimented rather too much with your Pills, and I am fully convinced that there is always all the good in them that is claimed for them."

DYSPEPSIA — DIARRHŒA — REHAB.

"Your Pills do well in my practice, and I find them a valuable addition to the list of aperients I have ever found. They seem to exert upon the liver rather more than other aperients, and when they do not do so they act upon the stomach and bowels, and cleanse the system thoroughly and effectually. Their ready coating makes them very acceptable, and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, will prevent the occurrence of intermittent fever when whole or partially suppressed, and also keep the bowels in a healthy state, and regular order. They are so much the cheapest as well as the best I prescribe, and I confine to my practice."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

"I find your Pills, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Montreal, Canada.

"Your Pills are the best of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. I have tried many, but have found them the cheapest, as I find, in the end, I have to take more of other pills to get the effect of one of your Pills, and I am in the habit of using other Fair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It cures the worst cases of costiveness, and I have found it effective in clearing the head of dandruff and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color, and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without disordering the hair, or to apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair."

Respectfully yours, WINSOR KING.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounding their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred diseases, of a private nature, have been entirely treated by empyrics, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described much his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same or similar sounding name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, and hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—renders a tender head free from fluid—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call upon the ladies to try it, if their hair is soiled in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, at the value the flowing locks, or the witching curls add to their beauty, be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative a few weeks since:

DEER RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than 20 years, I have been to some cost to cure scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper advertisement of "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches long, and my dandruff is all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may use my name for any of the benefit it is known here. Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—but since I used it, I find a good half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried many preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: At your request I write to inform you of the wonderful effect your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that for years I used (and known other) hair preparations, that, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It effectually cleansed the head of dandruff and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color, and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without disordering the hair, or to apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WINSOR KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have seven commissioners, who have to witness their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. The lottery offers a good opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the State laws. Persons who send for tickets will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the head of dandruff and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color, and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without disordering the hair, or to apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Becomes a Home for the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from mosquitoes and other exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a course of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The new and beautiful Packet

GOLDEN EAGLE,

Capt. GEO. PERKINS,

Will, after the 20th inst., run daily (Sundays excepted) from Pier Wharf, Portsmouth, on the arrival of the morning train of cars from Boston, to the Island, and return in the afternoon.

June 12. THOMAS B. LAIGHTON.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Portsmouth, Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the mansions of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are seldom known. The house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid for the weary, for the pleasure seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Wines and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave twice daily for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

Terms, very reasonable, in accordance with the times. ANDREW SMILEY,
Proprietor.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

HAS long been a household word throughout the country. It is recommended by a skillful chemist, and every year it gains new strength in the public confidence, as its wonderful properties become more generally known. It is a sound and potent remedy for lung complaints, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without misgiving. It surpasses the surest remedy the world has yet given for the relief of consumptive complaints. Its Cement, Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping-cough, Hoarseness, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease, it does wonders. Its virtues are well known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the millions from the Big waters of the American Pontus to the palmy of Tampico Bay. Throughout this entire continent, it is now quite and city, and indeed almost every house, it contains. Due at Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In every hospital, asylum, it is relentlessly relying their wonted influence, and in the hands of the faithful physicians of every nation, it is found to be the surest remedy for the diseases of the lungs yield to it, if we can depend on the testimony of the physicians, who, from long experience, ought to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon medicine, this it is, it is certainly proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any other, and is a most valuable acquisition. Nothing but its intrinsic value, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been forced upon this community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounding their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred diseases, of a private nature, have been entirely treated by empyrics, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described much his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same or similar sounding name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

No Inquest Needed.—A letter from J. K. Hoyt, Esq., acting Coroner of Warner, contains in substance the following statement:—A man in that town, by the name of Daniel Locke, was found dead in his field on the morning of the 9th inst. He was buried the next day in the usual manner. Subsequently suspicions arose that he came to his death by violence or casualty, which produced so much excitement in the town, that the Selectmen authorized an inquest upon the body. Accordingly the acting Coroner, with the assistance of the County Solicitor, investigated the case as far as they were able, and came to the conclusion that there was not sufficient cause for exhuming the body and holding an inquest. Mr. Hoyt says, "It is my belief that he came to his death by diseases contracted by a long, habitual and excessive use of adulterated and intoxicating spirits."

A Shark was caught in the Connecticut River at Lyme, N. H., above Hanover, on Wednesday of last week, by Reuben Lester.—The fish was a regular man-eater, 8 1-2 feet in length and 3 feet 9 inches round, and weighed 250 pounds. It had triple rows of teeth, of a formidable appearance.

If the ocean tide has begun to ebb and flow at Lyme, the above item of news now "going the rounds of the papers," may be credited: otherwise it is hard to believe that the ugly salt water fish would venture, if he could, on such a perilous expedition.

Be Cheerful. — There are not a few who, even in this life, seem to be preparing themselves for that smileless eternity to which they look forward, by banishing all gaiety from their hearts and all joyousness from their countenances. I meet one such in the street frequently,—a person of intelligence and education, but who gives me, and all that passes, such a rayless and chilling look of recognition, something as if he were on of heaven's assessors, come down to "doom" every acquaintance he met, that I have sometimes began to sneeze on the spot, and gone home with a violent cold dating from that instant. I don't doubt he would cut his kitten's tail off, if he caught her playing with it.—Please tell me, who taught her to play with it?—Holmes.

Revival in Massachusetts.—The Newburyport Herald says:

In the revival of temperance in Massachusetts, that has grown out of the religious interest of the past winter, the Sons of Temperance are enjoying a season of unexampled prosperity. In the last six months they have increased their numbers more rapidly than in any corresponding period since the great excitement almost twenty years ago. The "Guiding Star" Division in Newburyport is prosperous and growing, and we hope it is destined to do much to suppress the great evil of the times, and save men and women from the greatest curse that could befall them.

The great accessions to the First Universalist church at North Danvers, Rev. Mr. Putnam's, during the past winter, has rendered their present place of worship wholly inadequate to their wants. A more commodious church edifice is now being erected, a short distance from the old one.

Outrage at Weare.—John Martin, a rowdy about Manchester, about 30 years of age, and with a face badly pitted with the small pox, is alleged to have committed rape at South Weare last week. He was arrested at Manchester, but by one of the artifices by which rogues so easily circumvent police, he managed to escape. Whether guilty or not of the crime alleged, he is a worthless scamp, and good for nothing but a forty years' service on in a State Prison.

☞ Rev. D. B. Bradford has been dismissed from his pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Raymond. He has accepted the second call (he having declined the first) from the Congregational church in Salmon Falls, and will enter on his labors there immediately.

☞ Rev. J. H. Shepard, of Kingston, N. H., has been unanimously invited to be pastor of the Sixth Universalist Church in New York City. He is to begin his labors there on the first September.

☞ Rev. Wm. T. Herrick was dismissed from the pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Candia, on the 21st inst.

☞ Rev. William Page has asked a dismission from his pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Salem, N. H.

☞ Rev. Morris Holman was, upon the 7th inst., dismissed from the 2d church in York, Me. He removes to Kennebunk.

☞ On Friday night last week, snow fell upon the top of Mount Washington, covering the ground to the depth of two inches. Rather a cool retreat for dog-days.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Pats.,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Bos.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, &c., and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Inventions made into American Foreign works, to determine the validity, utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This agency is not only the largest in England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed if not immeasurably superior to, any which are offered them elsewhere. The testimonials given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would say that he has abundant reason to believe, and prove, that at no other office of the kind are charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during the twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States. I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

CONCERT WORTH HEARING.—We received a call on Friday morning from Mr. Leo L. Lloyd, a native of Nubia, about 26 years of age, who has been in this country from his childhood, and received a good education. He has spent some time with Prof. Agassix, and brings high testimonials from him, as well as from Bayard Taylor, Dr. J. V. C. Smith, J. P. Hale, Rev. Dr. Blagden, and other gentlemen of eminence. He purposes to return to Africa in November and labor in the advancement of the colored race. He is one of the Apollo Trio club, composed of Miss Charlotte Williams and Miss Anne Hall of Baltimore, all well educated free colored people, and a good specimen of what education can do for the colored race. Their programme presents a choice selection, such as can give no offence to the most refined audience. Of Miss Hall, Dr. J. V. C. Smith remarked that there is more musical sound in her voice than he ever knew to come from one of her size. We hope to see a good attendance at the Temple on Wednesday evening.

A meeting has recently been held in New York, of colored men, to consider the propriety of migrating to some region where they can enjoy more privileges than are accorded to them in the United States. Addresses were made in favor of Hayti, the advantage of Liberia, &c. A committee of three was appointed, with power to investigate the subject and call further meetings, if thought best. A letter, warmly approving of the project, was read, from Rev. Theodore Bourne, of the Compensation Emancipation Society. He maintains the idea of an independent nationality of Anglo-Africans," and suggests "that the object contemplated by the meeting involved the general interests of humanity and civilization; that a nation of Anglo-Africans would develop energies and resources now obscured and promote their best interests," &c.

We learn from the Christian Register, that the Unitarian Society of Portsmouth, N. H., have made a donation to the Rev. A. M. Bridge of Hampton Falls, on account of the recent destruction of his residence by fire. A few acquaintances in Exeter and other towns have also nobly come to his aid in this hour of need; and it affords us great pleasure to announce that Mr. Bridge has also received substantial sympathy from several kind friends in Boston and elsewhere; among them an anonymous letter of condolence from Newport, R. I., enclosing the sum of $50. This must be quite cheering to the worthy recipient, and though, of course, inadequate to make good his loss, cause him to cherish in grateful remembrance those tokens of regard and affection.—Boston Trans.

THE PEDDLER LAW—WHAT IS PROHIBITED AND WHAT IS NOT.

From the Independent Democrat.

We give the first and second sections of an "Act in relation to Hawkers and Peddlers," from the Compiled Statutes—being the Act in force until June, which the new law supersedes and repeals:

SECTION 1. Every peddler or other person going from place to place, either on foot or with a horse, or otherwise, carrying to sell or exposing for sale any goods, wares or merchandise, or taking a store, or shop, or residence in any town, for that purpose, for a less time than one year, without license, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

SEC. 2. The provisions of the preceding section shall not apply to any citizen of the State who shall present to the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas a certificate from the selectmen of the town in which he resides, of his inability to earn a subsistence by manual labor, by reason of ill health or decrepitude, nor to any person going about or otherwise, selling or exposing for sale, fish, breadstuffs, meat, ointments, or any articles of the growth, produce or manufacture of this State, except distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry.
Compiled Statues, Chap. 180, page 281.

The prohibitory words of the above Act, passed by a hunker Legislature in 1848, are substantially the same, and precisely as sweeping as the prohibitory words of the new Act. Will the hunkers pretend that under the new "peddler law" citizens of the neighboring States are liable to prosecution and fine for taking chickens, eggs, milk, butter, potatoes, &c., into New Hampshire for sale! Why was this not discovered before? Why was nobody ever prosecuted under the old law, which remained in force ten years, for selling milk, butter, eggs, potatoes, &c., not "the growth, product, or manufacture of this State?" Simply because none of those articles are included in the prohibition of that statute or the present statute—none of them are included in the legal term "goods, wares and merchandise." These words have a settled technical meaning, and comprise exclusively and inclusively only permanent articles of commerce usually bought and sold by merchants. Neither fruits, provisions, ordinary articles of food, cattle, swine, sheep or horses, are, in legal or ordinary parlance, "goods, wares or merchandise." And none of these articles are prohibited from being brought into and sold in the State by any person, to any extent and in any manner.

The new "peddler law,"—the prohibitory portion of it—reads as follows:

AN ACT in relation to Hawkers and Peddlers.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened: That no person except as hereinafter provided, shall travel from town to town, or from place to place in any town in this State, on foot, or by any kind of public or private conveyance whatever, by land or water, carrying for sale, or offering for sale any GOODS, WARES OR MERCHANDISE whatever, whole or by samples or otherwise, under a penalty of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars. * * * * SEC. 2. * * * * But nothing in this chapter shall prevent any citizen of the State from selling any fish, fruit, provision, farming utensils or other articles lawfully raised or manufactured in this State.

Act passed June Session 1858.

By comparing this Act with the law of 1848, which we give at the head of this article, it will be seen that the articles prohibited to be "peddled and hawked," in both cases are precisely the same. They are "goods, wares or merchandise," and nothing else. Now, do these terms embrace any of the articles which farmers raise upon their farms and carry to market? No one will pretend that poultry, butter, milk, fish or meats are "goods and wares." If they come under either of the terms of the act, it will be under that of "merchandize."—Let us see, then, how Webster's Dictionary defines that word. Here is Webster's definition:—

"MERCHANDIZE.—1. The objects of commerce—wares, goods, commodities, whatever is usually bought or sold in trade. But provisions daily sold in market, horses, cattle and fuel, are not usually included in the term, and real estate never.

Here we have the highest authority known to the English language, for our position that the new peddler law does not interfere with, nor have the slightest bearing upon the business of carrying provisions, food or fuel to market, either by citizens of New Hampshire or anybody else; nor to buying, selling or "peddling" cattle, horses or other live stock. To the same effect is the definition in Bouvier's Law Dictionary, and judicial decisions there cited. There is no legal authority for a different or contrary definition. There is no pretence of authority for any construction of the law, to interfere with the bringing by citizens of another State into any town or city in this State, any kinds of provisions, produce, food, wood or coal, or any such like articles, at any time, in any quantities, and peddling them out by ounces or spoonfuls, in every street and at every door in New Hampshire.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1858.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

The exercises of Wednesday began at half past ten with the oration of Dr. O. W. Holmes before the Phi Beta Kappa Society. After an introduction complimentary to Mr. Choate, who was to have been the orator, Dr. Holmes asked the attention to an oration written for a very learned body, and not for this occasion. The question belongs to primative strata, if one might so speak. It was the relation of poetry and science.

Science consists of general laws which bring out the truth; poetry of general laws which show the beautiful. We must distinguish between truth and beauty.—The two are distinct, and it is only under certain circumstances that truth excites the beautiful. The poet and the man of science coincide in their love of the beautiful. He did not know as the poet had a greater sense of the beautiful than the man of science. He spoke at some length in illustration of this, and brought up examples of poets and scientific men. He spoke also of wit, and characterized puns as the lowest species of humor. A pun was like an electric flash. In hearing it we have a sense of a joke—a laugh—and then new trains of ideas. He showed the difference between science and poetry, as well as of poets and scientific men. The distinction between these two classes of minds is this: One class writes ideas to produce the beautiful, and the other writes them to arrive at the truth. We see that ideas brought together by these two classes are analogous, but not identical. They reason in nearly the same manner, but to different ende.—Poets and men of science never pull well together. They follow different paths, because they have different mental organizations. It is next to impossible that one should be both a great man of science and a great poet. There were men, however, who were illustrious in both, for example Goethe, Haller and others, but they were not equally noted in poetry and science. The poet is apt to be more religious than moral, and the man of science more moral than religious. The amount of all differences between these two classes of men may be summed up by saying that they are radically different in body, mind and soul. He closed by a poetical description of both poetry and science.

The poem was read by Wm. Pitt Palmer of New York, before the united literary societies. It was marked by great beauty of versification and contained some concluded hits.

The exercises in the church concluded, the Alumni had a meeting in the college chapel. There were some three hundred present.

It was voted to procure an Alumni hall, and to publish an English catalogue. Rev. Dan'l Green, Hon. Emory Washburn, Hon. John P. Hale and Dr. O. W. Holmes were elected honorary members.

Hon John P. Hale said:

Why should I speak at Dartmouth when there are so many things which bid me be silent. The sons of Dartmouth who have passed away speak to me, as well as those present. In such a place as this I can truly say I tremble to speak. He repeated a story of a friend of his which caused much laughter. There was one word he wished to say to those present, which was to let their labor be felt. We should all battle with the wrongs which we see around us. It was wrong, the reckless expenditure of the government in the wrong direction. It was a reproach and a shame to see all the branches of industry checked, and to see war preparations going on. Let all to-day re-write upon their tablets that in the sphere they labor, they will put forth all their powers to give new force, new life, new energy to their country.

Speeches were also made by Mr. White, President of Wabash College, Hon. Emory Washburne, John Wentworth, Geo. Kent, and others.

CONTROVERSY.—Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D. of Boston, published a sermon last May, which he had preached in his own church and at Hollis Street, on the Reasonableness of Future, Endless Punishment. This was reviewed, in the Christian Freeman, by Rev. S. Cobb, the editor, who, at the close of his review, invited Dr. Adams to undertake the proof, in the Freeman, of "the Scripturalness of Endless Punishment." Dr. Adams has accepted the invitation, and the discussion of this matter between Messrs. Adams & Cobb, will soon commence.

☞ A fool of a man, named Nathaniel Spofford—a farmer in good circumstances, 35 years old—poisoned his wife, child and a servant girl, on the 26th inst., at Troy, N. Y. His wife died. Spofford has been paying particular attention to a young woman in Shaftsbury.

☞ The venerable Thomas Hastings has been dubbed Doctor of Music, by the New York University. We believe Lowell Mason is the only man who had previously received that degree in this county. How richly both these benefactors of their race deserve the honor—if, indeed, titles are honors.

☞ MR. KALLOCH, the Rev. Isaac S. Kalloch, has been unanimously invited to resume his pastorship at the Baptist Church at the Tremont Temple, Boston,—and he has accepted the offer. The Atlas says, "Mr. Kalloch will resume his labors on the first Sunday in September, when, invigorated by vacation and travel, he will be greeted by his hearers, the number of which will be limited by the capacity of the Temple. The same paper says, "we believe that the Tremont Society would not have survived six months had not the step now recorded, fortunately been taken. Since he left, its numbers have thinned down to a dreary few and the congregations have been scarcely one-quarter the size as when under his efficient administration."

This is one of the queerest items of ministerial and ecclesiastical news which we have had for a long time.

☞ The Boston Herald gives an account of a School Agent at Meredith Village who did not like the courting of a young schoolmistress by a schoolmaster, and who undertook to chastise the latter, but got beaten and whipped by the schoolmastor, who was the more muscular man of the two. We hope these tactics are not to be introduced into our educational system!

☞ We have just received the interesting Ninth Report of the New England Female Medical College, published in Boston by the Trustees of the Institution. From very small beginnings, they have now attained to the number of 20 medical students, besides trained and instructed nurses. They have, moreover, secured valuable endowments—and troops of friends. The report shows rapid progress and permanent establishment.

SADDENED SENSIBILITY.—In the case following, this degenerated to suicide. Died, in Ossipee, Mr. William Smith, aged 74 years. He was found dead Wednesday morning, 14th inst., suspended from the round of a ladder by a handkerchief, in the barn. He has been failing mentally and physically since the decease of his wife, which is about four years. About two years ago a son died suddenly, with whom he contemplated spending the evening of his days, where he has for years resided.—This second bereavement seemed to give a new impulse to his case.

For the last eighteen months he has been so feeble that he has not been from home, and a part of the time confined to his bed. He could not bear excitement or exercise, as there was an enlargement of the heart. Although he always received the kindest attention from his children, especially a son who has long been his principal support, and an estimable grand-daughter who has been assiduous in her attentions for the past six months, which he always appreciated when in his right mind, but when partially deranged he refused to be comforted,—earth had no charms for him, life was a burden. He was an honest man, an affectionate husband, a kind father, and obliging neighbor. His sudden death will be lamented by all his acquaintances.

ARE LOST.—The Newburyport Herald says a man named John Janvrin of Seabrook, while drunk, laid down to sleep upon the railroad track, between Salisbury and Seabrook, on Wednesday afternoon, and when the last evening train from Boston was passing, he was not seen in season to check the train until after the locomotive and baggage car had run over him, completely severing his arm from his body. He was then taken up and carried to Seabrook.

☞ A terrible excitement was lately created at Kingston, Jam., by a report that the British cruiser Styx had been captured by U. S. frigate Wabash, and taken into a port in the United States. They calmed down on hearing that they had been hoaxed.

A CALL.—Rev. J. H. Towne, formerly of this town, has obtained a dismission from his recent parish in Bridgeport, Conn., in order to accept a call to a congregational society in one of the upper wards of New York, with a salary of $3000.

☞ During the thunder storm on Sunday, the 11th inst., a buttonwood tree near the Congregational Church, in Bernardston, Mass., was struck by lightning, thoroughly arousing all of the sleepers in church, and stunning a few persons.

☞ J. W. Davis of Holyoke caught an eel, last week, in which was found a gold ring worth four or five dollars.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

REIMSTEDER'S HAIR COLORING helps nature to secrete the proper coloring matter that makes up the tone of the Hair, and secures a complete triumph over the effects of time and age. The Hair is not merely chemically colored after it has grown out on the head. On the contrary, it helps to supply the roots of the hair with coloring matter, so that when the hair grows its color grows with it. This Hair Coloring has already secured a very extensive and wide spread reputation. In addition to an extensive sale in this country, it is sold in nearly all the Capitals of Europe.—[Troy Budget.

CHLOROSIS.

The prime cause of this disease is diminution of the red globules of the blood, from a deficiency of the iron which is an essential ingredient in their composition. The PERUVIAN SYRUP presents this necessary iron, as a protoxide, the only form in which this element can enter the vital fluid, as proved by physological chemistry. The result is, of course, a speedy cure.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been in use in the United States, and the Principal Cities of France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public for the benefit of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females for those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1 Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THEACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. None will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.
J. DUPONCO, Proprietor.

THE CHRONICLE.—With this morning's issue, closes the sixth year, and the twelfth volume, of the Daily Chronicle. On Monday we shall commence our seventh year, with prospects brighter than ever before; and with experience enough to satisfy ourselves and convince every body else, that what was by most regarded as a doubtful experiment, six years ago, has become one of the institutions of our city, with as much of prosperity and permanence as it is possible for a business of the sort to possess. We may have something more to say, on Monday, respecting ourselves; till which time we wish all our readers—all our patrons—as full satisfaction with their progress in business, as we ourselves enjoy. Especially would we remember with grateful thanks, the goodly number of subscribers who started with us—in fact, started us—and have continued on our list to this day. We hope they may all enjoy long life,—and always take the Chronicle! F.

☞ Mr. Bourne, of Westerly, R. I., is to speak on the subject of religion, at the Old South, to-morrow, morning and evening, as heretofore announced.

☞ See Auction column for sale of Groceries this forenoon, and of Land at noon.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting, next Sabbath morning, at the Middle street Church, Rev. Dr. Lamson's—at half-past 8 o'clock.

To be continued at Fleet street Vestry during the week following, from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

SEWING MACHINES are certainly a great institution. Two patterns and patents are advertised in our columns—one of which we know to be good, and the other appears to be richly worth the small price asked for it.

Snooks says the prettiest sewing machines he knows of, are made after a very old model, and wear gaiter boots!

New Hampshire has got a pedler law which mercifully allows any person to sell fresh fish manufactured or raised in the State.—Bath Organ.

Yes, and we allow our Maine neighbors and all others to "blow" at it, to the extent of their bellows.

PIRATES SENTENCED.—On Wednesday, at Portland, Judge Ware pronounced the sentence of death upon Cox and Williams, found guilty of murdering Quenton D. Smith, on board the brig Albion Cooper, of that port.

The Judge asked Cox if he had anything to say. He replied that he never murdered a man in his life, he would say it if it were the last words he had to breathe. He was a cripple, and how would he dare to do it. As God was judge and will judge him at the last day, he never murdered a human person. Williams, through his Counsel (Mr. Talbot) signified that he had nothing to say; but when the judge closed his sentence he said in broken English, "He was not used well, he was drawn to it by bad treatment. These things come of cruelty to poor sailors, beating them with slung shots, and tying them up by the arms, and flogging them—these things were so—that it was that that brought me to this condition. It was the cause of it all."

They are to be hung August 27th. The Advertiser says that 'in the deportment of the prisoners there was a marked difference. Cox (the negro) stood erect, with his arms folded, and eyes fixed on the Judge—immoveable as a statue. Williams stood bending, over his eyes cast down, not raising them at all, but with a mien of great depression.'

Ship Albert Gallatin, Salter, Liverpool for New York, spoken July 24 off George's Banks.

NAVAL.—Key West, July 12.—The Wabash and Macedonian sailed this afternoon for the Mediterranean, the Constellation for Boston, and the Saratoga and Plymouth will leave to-morrow or Tuesday. Thence the Plymouth goes to Vera Cruz to bring our Minister, Mr. Lamb. The Dolphin is in search of the Jamestown, and both are expected here hourly. The Colorado has been ordered home to Boston, and will leave here on Saturday evening or Sunday next.

Washington, July 29.—The frigate Sabine is preparing at New York to join the Brazil squadron as the flag ship. The sloop-of-war Cyane is at Norfolk preparing to join the Pacific squadron. The steamer Fulton at Norfolk is ordered to Washington to prepare for the Paraguay expedition, and the steamer Vanderbilt is also ordered to be prepared at Washington for the same object.

CROOKED ENOUGH.—Speaking of the Rio Grande, a writer says:—

"Imagine one of the crookedest things in the world, then imagine one twice as crooked, and imagine to yourself a large river three times as crooked as all these put together, and you have a fair idea of the crooked disposition of this crooked river. There is no drift wood in it from the fact that it is so crooked that timber cannot find its way far down enough to lodge two sticks together; but few snakes, because it is not straight enough to swim in; and the fish are all in whirlpools in the bends, because they cannot find their way out. Birds frequently attempt to fly across the river, but light on the same side they start from—being deceived by the crook. Indeed, you may be deceived when you think you see across it; and some of the b'hoys say it is so twisting there, but one side to it."

The fashionable ladies of Brunswick will yet tar and feather that married old bachelor of the Telegraph, if he don't look sharp. In his last he tells of nearly "splitting his throat yelling" to make one of the crinoline angels hear in the street, the distance at which he was kept by her hoops preventing his voice being heard when raised simply to a reasonable pitch. He thought she was barehead until she turned to go from him, when by the aid of a glass he discovered a wisp of straw fastened to the back of her head by a not of colored ribbons!

☞ The citizens of Berlin Heights Ohio, have resolved to purchase the property now held by the Free Lovers in that town, with the purpose of effecting the entire expulsion of that disgraceful rabble from the place.

☞ John Pond, aged fifteen, son of Charles Pond of Milford, has died of congestion of the lungs occasioned by bathing in the water too long; and a companion was brought to the verge of the grave from the same primary cause.

☞ At Chester, S. C., on the 9th, John O. Darby shot his step-father, J. I. Jobert Wilcox, who was trying to handcuff Mrs. Wilson, the boy's mother, in order to cowhide her. The whole family was in liquor.

☞ The arrest of a farmer, named Jas. Messenger, at Sinking Spring, Ohio, for passing counterfeit money, revealed his connection with the "Mystic Circle of Alchemy," a regularly organized gang of counterfeiters in Philadelphia.

☞ The Bangor Times, in rather a poetry article, continues an apostrophe to the "Shades of speculating land plunderers! Spirits of gun-boats brokers! Dead directors of broken banks!"

DECLINES.—Rev. J. G. Adams, of Worcester, Mass., has concluded to remain in his present connection, declining the urgent call he received to the Second Universalist Society of Lowell.

☞ The Lewiston Falls Journal speaks most encouragingly of the growing crops in Maine except hay—that is likely to be cut off! Up this way, they can't get sunshine enough to cut it off.

☞ Eggs have been so scarce in Greenfield, Mass., lately, that the grocers import their supply from Boston.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

For families, boarding houses or hotels, this Range is unrivalled for equality, economy or convenience. For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.
LOWELL, Oct. 7, 1866.
To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my case, and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as "stripper," in the carding-room. The great changes from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, brought on a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very serious and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a severe pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. From that time to this, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose. The only thing that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but actually eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is now wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.
Yours, truly, EDWARD TURNER.

Just Published, Gratis, the 25th Thousand.
A FEW words on the rational treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.
The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and folly of youth, may easily removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small treatise, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.
Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (postpaid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st street, New York City.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1868.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age, my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to direction, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1868.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1867.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. The hair after dyeing is not prepared as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Law School of the University at Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL.D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL.D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL.D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are two every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which a case, previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquisition of a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceedings.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, 23 weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is open, warmed and lighted, for the use of the Members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1868.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to the Librarian of the Instructors at Cambridge.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood, a large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are the most universally useful cathartic of disease.

Testimonials are the statements from some eminent physicians of their efforts in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. B. W. Lawrence, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the best cathartic we know of. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and unerring in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of children."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills decidedly adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find that in bilious affects they have a very marked effect. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that they will do a great deal of good, which is worthy the consideration of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you even kind enough to send me have been all used, and I have found them a very efficacious cathartic, in extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the wellbeing of the human system, that they seem to work upon it of themselves. I have every confidence in them, and shall not hesitate to prescribe them in preference to the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally tried them to be effectual in almost all the complaints in which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Cook, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the system, when they are given in small doses, for bilious disorders and dyspepsia. Their sugar coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Shuart, who practices with Phelps and Kinsley in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, will effectually remove the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are a much better physic we have that I recommend nothing to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Pimple, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, of which I have suffered much. Many of my acquaintances as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although not enough in itself to prove fatal, is productive of so much misery, that I cannot refrain from recommending your Pills to every one who is prone to costiveness, or, in fact, to any other complaint, but, at the same time, I have found them to be a most valuable family medicine."

INFLUENCE OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Ezekiel Bell, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. Never so much. I have used them of late years in my practice, and have found them to be the purest cathartic I know of. They eliminate the corrupted humors of the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They do not irritate, but act expectantly, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

Such testimony as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — FLESHORA — PARALYSIS — DEAFNESS, ETC.

From Dr. Edward Reed, Baltimore.

"Dear Dr. Ayer: I cannot answer your kind complaints I have found with your Pills better than to say of them that I prescribed them in my practice with great success, and esteem as efficient cathartic in my daily conflict with disease and bodily ills as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have. I of course value them highly."

☞ Dr. Ayer's Vermifuge, or Worm Destroyer, Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its injudicious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

This long have manufactured by a practical chemist, and every dose it makes has own virtue with invariable accuracy. Those. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies a medicine for the public use, in the place of the crude remedy the unprofessional have been compelled to use, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could certainly maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior compounds have been thrust upon the community, have faded and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, and the benefits on the afflicted have proved such as never forget, and whose cures are numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of the medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full directions for using will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are recorded upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific, never producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by unprincipled persons who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they can be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so one can doubt.

PROF. WOODS' HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all who wish a fine head of hair, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, keeps the skin of all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will keep it in any desired position, while living to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, let their locks flowing freely, allow the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff over on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about Wood's Hair Restorative's cure. I called at your store on the list of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to come in, and now it is over three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of it has been used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—DEAR SIR: YOUR Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal experience that it will indeed induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will say, for whom it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find your article superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original position, color and texture, leaving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend it to all persons in the desire of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILLES KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify the correct Schemes printed with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well attended to as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to order tickets from Georgia, as the charters of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled on the earliest day to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and only one ticket from one number. Write plainly and distinctly the name and place of residence of persons to whom you intend to send tickets, to prevent mistakes.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Book. Write your orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as is the other lotteries.

BRASS COATS AND BLUE BUTTONS!—Perley, the able Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, writes thus—or the paper says he does:

The greatest drain upon Mr. Cobb's money bags leads through the War Department, although avowedly for the construction of the capitol and the aqueduct, military roads in Oregon, boundary surveys, West Point, &c., &c., in addition to the pay and rations of the army proper. But wherever gentlemen in blue buttons and brass coats are "in charge," there money is squandered like water, economical disbursements being rare exceptions. For this the country can thank Senator Jefferson Davis, under whose autocratical sway at the War Department these military men were placed in authority, and who has since sustained them, backed in Congress by the ultra Southern vote, and by such Northern men as could be dragooned into his ranks, &c., &c.

APPLYING LEECHES.—"Well, my good woman," said the doctor, "how is your husband to-day? Better, no doubt."

"Oh, yes, surely," said the woman, "he is as well as ever, and gone to the field."

"I thought so," continued the doctor; "the leeches have cured him! Wonderful effect they have. You got the leeches, of course."

"Oh yes: they did him a great deal of good, though he could not take them all."

"Why, my good woman, how did you apply them?"

"Oh, I managed nicely," said the wife, looking quite contented with herself; "for variety's sake, I boiled one half, and made a fry of the other. The first he got down very well, but the second made him sick. But what he took was quite enough," continued she, seeing some horror in the doctor's countenance, "for he was better the next day, and to-day he is quite well again."

LIBERIAN MARINE.—The brig George C. Ackerly will sail from New York, on next Saturday, July 31st, for the West Coast of Africa—thus furnishing a direct opportunity of sending to the Liberian Republic and the African squadron. The G. C. Ackerly is a fine brig of three hundred tuns and is the pioneer vessel of the "Liberian line" to run between New York and Monrovia. She is the property of E. J. Roye (colored) merchant, of the latter named place, and is intended as a trader along the western board of Africa, as far as the Bight of Benin—thus fairly entering into competition with foreign ships and traffickers. This is an encouraging indication of the growth of African commerce and the enterprise of the Liberians. There are some thirty small vessels engaged in the coast trade of Liberia, the firm of McGill Brothers, colored men, own two schooners of some hundred tuns burden each. One of these, the President Benson, has recently sailed from Baltimore, homeward bound, with a valuable cargo.—Philadelphia Ledger.

DEATH FROM INTEMPERANCE.—Mr. Enoch Webster, of Pattagumpus, a lumberman, came to this city on Thursday, from upriver, in good health and put up at the Franklin House. He immediately commenced a continual debauch of drunkenness, obtaining his rum at the vilest places and of the vilest quality. He rapidly declined under the effects, and although care was taken by the landlord to prevent his going out of the house for a day or two past, he would elude his vigilance and drench himself with the horrible beverage. He died miserably this morning at 2 o'clock, and his body was immediately taken to Mount Hope, whence it will be forwarded to his family. Deceased was about 35 years old, and leaves a wife and two children.—Bangor Evening Times.

"Can you let me have twenty dollars this morning, to purchase a bonnet, my dear?" said a wife to her husband one morning at breakfast.

"Bye and bye, my love.'

"That's what you always say, my dear; but can I buy and buy without money?"

The husband handed over.

One of the most amusing applications of a provincialism we have ever heard, was that of a youthful Southerner, who explained his sum in addition as follows:—"Ad dup the fust colyum, set down the units, and tote the tens to the next colyum."

Charles Matthews, Jr., son of the actor, was brought up as an architect. The father was once asked by a friend what profession the young man was to be. "Why," said the comedian, "he is to draw houses, as his father does."

Lord Kenyon's housekeeping was not liberal, nor his temper good, and Jekyll summed up both facts by saying—"It is Lent all the year round in his Kitchen, and Passion Week in his parlor."

Prospero tells Caliban that his mother, "the foul witch Sycorax," with age and envy, "was grown into a hoop." It is to be hoped that no such accident as this will occur to the present generation.

HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.

PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations prepared, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.

British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington. He begs leave to refer those now acquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 22, 1858.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

"NEW PEDLER LAW."

As you seem pleased that some one has accepted to take the "dark side of the New Pedler Law," you will no doubt allow me to reply to one or two of your comments.* In your note No. 3 you have assumed my side of the subject, via, that Hotel Keepers † would suffer a serious loss, for you say "in Portsmouth the law has produced no other effect than the stoppage of a few foreign pedlers." This is precisely what I am endeavoring to show, and as these would have paid their expenses, a loss has already commenced in Portsmouth. You also state that "your tin ware pedlers continue their business nearly as usual." Possibly,‡ but I have lately conversed with a pedler from one of your tin ware shops and he gives a different version, has traded but little since the passage of the law, and expects soon to stop, as dares not sell other than N. H. manufactures. The most valuable business of pedlers of tin ware is articles from out of the State, and if one should now sell a row of pins,§ they are liable to pay from $50 to $200.

I find to answer No. 5. fully would consume much time, and necessarily be lengthy, therefore I pass to the last sentence; and in so doing I must depart from my first intention, which was to show a loss to one class of citizens only. You remark "and if there are 2000 pedlers who travel with horses in the State, (I allowed these to travel but half the year,) we do not wonder that the storekeepers are troubled and used up by them." Now I venture to assert that the store keepers, at least in the country, do not generally favor the new law.‖ They purchase largely of the manufacturers from other States, and most of their articles, and all the articles usually in show cases and which make a considerable portion of a stock in trade, are purchased of the wholesale pedler. And the traders find it far more convenient, and can replenish at their own counters. But even allowing that it "troubled or used up the trader," does it not prove clearly that the preference is in favor of the pedler? and that the demand exists which they supply? And if so, would you create a monopoly to enrich the trader at the expense of the consumer? Certainly for one I prefer my own motto "Free trade" both in theory and practice. If the pedler can give me better bargains than traders, allow me the opportunity to buy of whom and where I please.

But in No. 6 you say "you cannot see how large N. H. manufacturers are troubled by the law." Now others if not the "Chronicle," have enlarged upon the fact that New Hampshire felt bound to protect themselves against other states having somewhat similar laws. As I understand the large manufacturers of N. H. they had hoped (a) those States, Maine in particular, would have repealed the most obnoxious parts of their laws. and allowed the manufactures of New England to be sold on liberal terms; but now, these States will feel bound to "protect" themselves by a continuance of such laws, and soon the manufacturers of each State will have but their own state to sell in. Thus, under our new law the manufacturer of scythes in Maine or Mass., cannot sell them here as formerly, (b) nor can the extensive establishment of Phillips Messer & Colby sell in Maine.(c) Can any intelligent business man believe such laws beneficial? Surely not, to say the least it is a narrow, illiberal policy, and I doubt not will be so regarded(d)

FREE TRADE.

NOTE on the above letter from 'Free Trade.'

*Not only allow it, but be glad to have that side as fully presented as possible.

†Some hotel keepers have told us that they could not possibly keep up their houses without the sale of intoxicating drinks; and if this were true, the loss of the pedler plank may prove their destruction.

‡Certainly, one of the principal men concerned in the business gave us our information. We put the question for the purpose of knowing.

§The sale of this row of pins, being foreign goods, was forbidden by our last two pedler laws before the present! In this respect the new law is precisely like the old; and this argument rests with the same force against one as the other.

‖We have found some traders here who experienced some inconvenience, and yet received some advantages, from the law, in agencies, &c. But it is quite certain that some men, or classes of men, must have supposed their interest to be injured by pedlers, or that their gains would be increased by their suppression, or that the public welfare would in some way be promoted by the new law. It was no hobby of a party, national or sectional; and if 'Free Trade,' or anybody else, can tell us of its origin, we should like to know. The principle of the old laws was nearly like the new, only the latter is more restrictive and the fines heavier. We have heard it suggested that of the 2000 pedlers, foreign and home, there were very few who had any license, or paid any tax, unless they paid it through the taverns.

It is somewhat doubtful whether the "wholesale peddler" is any peddler at all, under this law. And it is pronounced certain by legal men, that such articles as farming tools, edge tools, &c., are not touched by it at all.

¶We are well aware of the force of this argument. It is the strongest one used by Free Trade. Let us apply it to the late law, of 1848, which allows any person "going about or otherwise selling or exposing for sale, fish, breadstuffs, meat and animals, or any articles of the growth, produce or manufacture of this State, except distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry."

Apply it also to the old law of 1843, which says:

The preceding provision shall not apply to any person going about selling or exposing to sale any articles, the growth, product or manufacture of the United States, except feathers, distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry.

Why these exceptions in these old laws? Certainly not because there would not be a demand for jewelry and rum, cards and feathers, aye, and tickets, if they were peddled! But if grog were peddled from the wagons, it might damage the taverns, and if the same pedlers sold rum and jewelry, feathers and cards, there would be no limit to the cheating. Yet this restriction is not free trade—and yet all our old laws make this restriction—and the law of 1848 is, as the reader will see, almost as restrictive as that of '58.

(a) Restrictions are commonly met by restrictions.

(b) They can sell them exactly the same, as the law distinctly allows it.

(c) We have not seen that law of Maine If that has been belied like this, we would like to see it stated.

(d) If this law is too narrow, by all means let it be widened. But let it be understood, before it is either praised or blamed. We will state that, up to this time, Aug. 2, only one complaint has been made under it in this city—so that nobody here takes much interest in its enforcement.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—At the late commencement, the following honorary degrees were announced: — Degree of D. D. on Prof. Elijah P. Barrows, Andover, Mass.; Prof. Edward A. Lawrence, of East Windsor, Conn.; and Rev. Amos W. Burnham, of Rindge, N. H. That of LL.D. on Hon. Jonas Cutting, of Maine, and Pres. Geo. Ticknor, of Boston. That of A. M. on William H. Y. Hackett of Portsmouth, Austin F. Pike, of Franklin, Arial J. Cummings of Roxbury, Mass., Charles C. Frost, Brattleborough, Vt., Edward Danforth, New York; Charles Dana, Woodstock, Vt.; Benj. T. Tredick, Philadelphia; and Wm. L. Coggswell, New York city. The degree of LL. D. was also conferred on Hon. Ira A. Eastman, and Hon. Jonathan Kittredge.

TROUBLE WITH THE MACKEREL FISHERMEN. A letter to the Courier du Canada, written from Percy, on the 11th inst, complains that fifty-one American schooners employed in mackerel fishing, had anchored the 9th inst. in Percy bay, within two cables length of the shore, among the nets of the Canadian fishermen, causing them infinite damage. Not content with this, their crews paraded the streets of the village in a drunken and disorderly condition, attacking and beating in a most cruel manner the unoffensive fishermen.—The Courier is of opinion that an official statement of these facts should at once be laid before his Excellency, and that the imperial executive should immediately apply to the American government for redress.

ABOLITION OF SLAVERY BY PORTUGAL.—By recent decrees of the King of Portugal, slavery is abolished entirely in Macao, and the African Province of Angola, and is respectively abolished in all the remainder of the Portuguese colonies, the children of female slaves hereafter born being declared to be entitled to their freedom on reaching the age of twenty years.

☞ Rev. S. S. Hunting, of Brookfield, Mass., has accepted the invitation to become pastor of the Unitarian Society in Manchester, N. H.

☞ The English papers state that the manuscript sermons left by the late Rev. E. Kempe, of Richmond Terrace, is about a ton weight of paper.

☞ We find the following resolution in one of our exchanges, credited to the Tennessee Baptist, of June 12th, which says that it was passed by the King's Mountain Association, North Carolina:

Resolved, That it is inconsistent with the faith of Baptists to invite into our pulpits Pedobaptists, to exercise with us in religious worship in any way whatsoever.—Also, to receive persons into fellowship who have been immersed by them, without baptizing them.

The Congregational Journal remarks on this.

Before our Baptist brethren at the North will be forced to take such a position upon a plea of consistency, they will, we think, call in question the principles upon which the plea is raised.

Peter Dawson, who was recently arrested in New York for keeping the vilest kind of a brothel, where women were actually imprisoned and not suffered to step foot outside of the door, was in 1855 a member of the New York Assembly, elected by the Democratic party. Dawson is supposed to be worth $100,000.

Does any one think this to be strange? If so, let him consider that a religious society in Boston have just re-settled Mr. Kalisch.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH BY A DOG.—A singular death occurred in Baltimore on Tuesday. A youth aged 16 years, named James Shannessey, while passing through the street, was assailed by a vicious dog, belonging to H. Thomas. The dog rushed upon him, but without inserting his teeth in his person. The youth, as though overcome, fell to the pavement, then arose and staggered against the wall of the house, and fell down again. Several persons passing raised him up, when it was discovered that he was already dead. The dog was afterwards killed by police officers with their revolvers.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Dale was at Santa Cruz the 9th of June. Commander Blair reports to the Navy Department that the officers and crew are in good health, and that of the 107 previously on the sick list 2 died. The Vincennes and returned to Port Praya, and the Mariom had gone South.

☞ At Mercerville, Va., on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, last week, a man named Jacob Barks drank a quart of whiskey, and laid down in the public road, where he died in the course of a half hour.

☞ The Lancaster (Pa.) Inland Daily Times says that Mr. Isaac Bear, of Warwick township, in that county, and one Garber, drank seven gallons of whiskey in 13 days, when Bear died of mania a potu, leaving Garber master of the field.

☞ In the S. J. Court report of the Boston Courier is given a decision that where the United States has a vessel buil by contract, the lien of the material men can be enforced after the vessel has come into the possession of the government.

DECLINE OF BEEF.—The New York Times of Thursday says that the cattle markets of that city on the previous day were completely overstocked, and prices of beef were lower than on any market day for half a dozen years past.

☞ A foolish girl of 20 married one of the Sioux Chiefs, recently, at Washington. When she reached his princely wigwam, she found it a mud hovel occupied by two other wives!

☞ The proprietor of the National House, George Ross, in New York, has been arrested for rape on a young girl, whom he enticed into the bar-room and drugged with liquor.

☞ Thomas Goddard at Newport, R. I., died 24th ult., at the advanced age of ninety-three years. Mr. G. was for many years health officer of the port, and had been a subscriber to the Newport Mercury for more than sixty-five years.

VALUABLE ROCKS.—At the Queen's last state ball, the Marquis of Westminster, the richest man in England, wore four jewels in the hilt of his sword, one of which was a diamond valued at $150,000.

George Thompson, the English abolitionist, has returned from a residence of two and a half years in India, in a critical state of health.

☞ Rev. R. S. Rust of Haverhill, Mass., has accepted the presidency of a new college at Xenia, Ohio.

AN IMPROMPTU.

TO A BEE.

"Gossip Bee," I know thou'rt coming,
By thy loud and constant humming;
And I know the omen well,—
Pleasant news thou hast to tell;
For as you enter through the door,
The morning sun shines on the floor.

If the pleasant noon were past,
Then thy presence would have cast
O'er my heart a shade of sorrow,
For the sad and dark to-morrow;
When my soul in anguish deep,
For the loved and lost might weep.

So I thank thee, "busy bee,"
For thine early call on me;—
And in the future should'st thou roam,
With buzzing wing toward my home,
I pray thee, enter by the door,
When the morning sun shines on the floor.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THAURER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of this city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

GENERAL DEBILITY.

This convenient term includes numerous ill-defined and supposed incurable forms of disease, accompanied by general lassitude and exhaustion, without any ascertainable external or internal cause. The PERUVIAN SYRUP sends its renovating influence to the inmost recesses of the system, and has relieved in our community many cases of supposed incurable disease.

E PLURIBUS UNUM.
GREEN ISLAND, N. Y., March 6, 1856.
Mr. W. E. HAGAN.—Dear Sir:—I have used your Hair Coloring with excellent effect. It will do all that you recommend it to do. It fully restored my hair, which was quite grey, to its natural color, thickening it up very much.—My wife has also used it, and it has restored her hair, giving it new life. Respectfully,
JOHN I. GOODELL.

FIRE.— Soon after half-past 10 o'clock, on Monday evening, an alarm of fire was given, occasioned by the burning of the one-story wooden building corner of Daniel and Penhallow streets, being a portion of the old Waldron estate, and at present being the property of Mrs. Barnes. It was occupied by Messrs. Gray & Coffin, Painters, and J. Brett, Shoemaker. The fire is supposed to have been set in the paint-shop, on which there was no insurance. A portion of the stock of Mr. Brett was removed, and he is said to have been insured $400. The building, which was totally destroyed, was probably insured.— Our new Fire Police was not in active operation, owing to the neglect of the city to furnish badges.

On Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock, fire broke out in the large two-story wooden house, situated next the building burned the evening previous. This fire caught from the ruins of the first, and was soon put out by the engines.

☞ The pews, pulpit, &c., of the Universalist Church, are to be sold at auction this morning, for removal, prior to the repairs and remodeling of the house.

FROM EUROPE AND ASIA.

By the Vanderbilt and Persia, we have Liverpool dates to July 23d, containing interesting accounts. In Great Britain, says the Globe, the continued favorable state of the weather is strengthening the conviction that the crops will yield abundantly, and the declining tendency of the corn market shows that a satisfactory result is anticipated. The information received from time to time, is not without some influence on the stock exchange markets, which being guided in some measure by the prolonged easiness of money, and the influx of gold at the Bank of England, are now presenting a much more buoyant aspect than for some time past.

The Paris Moniteur, in an article on the subject, ridicules the idea of an invasion of England by the French.

The Niagara was off Cape Clear on the 18th, 4 A. M., and the Agamemnon at 11 A. M. the same day, bound to the ocean rendezvous.

The following telegraphic despatch was received at the British Foreign Office July 22d— :

The steamer Candia arrived at Suez on the 14th, with dates from Calcutta of June 19, Madras 5th, Galle 29th, Hong Kong 7th, and Aden July 11.

The forces under Sir Hugh Rose attacked and retook Gwalior on the 20th of June, after a severe fight of four hours.

The forts at the mouth of the river Peiho, China, mounting 138 guns, backed by a large body of troops, were attacked by the English and French gun boats, and taken with a trifling loss to the French and English. The Chinese stood to their guns very fairly. On the 22d, the forces commenced advancing up the river. The weather was cool and the squadron in good health and spirits.

Six thousand French troops, originally destined to Cochin China, are on the way to Pechelle.

At Canton on the 2d of June an ineffectual attempt was made to rout the braves on the mountains in the vicinity.

Nangpo is in possession of the rebels, and the English merchants of the place had taken refuge on board Her Majesty's ship Surprise.

GREAT BRITAIN.—There was an interesting debate in the House of Lords on the Jeddah massacre, in the course of which Malmesbury said that all necessary steps had been taken to demand immediate redress from Turkey, but there was no intention of occupying Mecca.

The House of Commons discussed at length a motion by Roebuck, that the Hudson's Bay Company, about to expire, ought not to be renewed, and that such territory held by them as was needed for purpose of colonization, ought to be assumed without delay by the government.— The motion was finally withdrawn.

The attempt to raise funds for the completion of the steamship Great Eastern had failed, and it is now proposed to raise a new Company to purchase her.

There has been a sudden change in the programme of Queen Victoria's visit to Berlin. There are to be no fetes, no salutes, and no demonstrations, as usual on such occasions. The cause of this change is not fully known, but there are rumors of the ill health of the Princess Frederick William.

The Paris Moniteur says the French government will join England in demanding reparation for the Jeddah massacre.

The Times' Paris correspondent says Queen Victoria will arrive at Cherbourg on the eve of the 4th of August. The Emperor and Empress will make their entrance into the town on the afternoon of the same day. Their Imperial Majesties will remain in Cherbourg on the 5th, 6th and 7th, and on Sunday, 8th, will embark on board the Bretagne, screw line-of-battle ship, to proceed to Brest.

The first interview between the sovereigns of France and England will take place on the 5th. Their majesties will pass the 5th in the roadstead. On the 7th, the inauguration, benediction and immersion of the dock Napoleon III. will take place, and in the afternoon the 'Ville de Nantes,' screw-liner, which has been built on one of the slips of the Neirdock, will be launched.

In the evening there will be a grand ball offered by the town. A grand dinner will be given by the Emperor to the persons attached to his suite. It will take place under a tent fitted upon the deck of the Bretagne.

All plenipotentiaries forming a part of the conference at Paris have received invitations for the fetes at Cherbourg.

The Times has the following :—The funeral car of the late Emperor Napoleon, about to be presented to the French, is at length finally ordered to be completed at Woolwich. In addition to the man who acted as coachman to Sir Hudson Lowe at St. Helena, and who has given some information descriptive of the decorations and other portions of the carriage as arranged for the funeral bier, and which are at present wanting, a second veteran who also served as guard over the imperial captive, and who assisted in preparing the carriage for the purpose of the funeral, has been met with and has described every particular required, so that no difficulty now remains in transforming it to its original condition.

The Herald says :—We understand that a general officer has been sent to Jeddah by the Turkish General, and that this officer has been entrusted with powers of life and death.

A monument to Madame Sontag has been erected at Marienthal, near Dresden, by the Duke of Mecklenburg Strelitz.

Madame Champagneaux, only daughter of the celebrated Madame Roland, has just died in Paris.

The Sultan is seriously ill.

Accounts from the silk crop in the south of France continue favorable, and the yield shows an improvement upon last year.

Trade throughout France continues to improve. Large orders for tissues have been received from the United States, and the wholesale houses in Paris, who have scarcely bought any thing for months.—The Bank of France has discounted a good many bills within the last week. Harvesting is going on actively in France, and a heavy fall in Breadstuffs is anticipated.

LATER FROM BRAZIL.—New York, Aug. 2.—By the arrival of the barque Ellen we have Rio dates of June 17. The yellow fever was prevalent in various parts of the empire, particularly at Maranham and Bahia, but was on the decrease at Rio Janeiro, only one death being reported there on the 15th.

Paraguay is about evacuating the territory between the Parana and Uruguay rivers, and negotiations are progressing for the surrender of the military posts to Buenos Ayers.

SNOW AT THE MOUNTAINS.—On Friday last, there was a snow storm on Mount Washington. Such a fact has never been recorded before. Snow has fallen in June and August, but the present occupants of the Mountain House assert that although spits of snow have been known to fall in July, that the present is the only instance on record of its falling to a depth sufficient to cover the ground in that mantle. The roof of the house on the mountain top was completely covered, and the party, thirteen in number, who passed the night, indulged themselves before breakfast in a game of snow-balling. The mercury fell to 30°, and ice was found in the pools on the summit. We believe that no instance is cited of a like character.—Portland State Maine, of July 27.

ANOTHER LIQUOR SEIZURE.—The police officers seized another wagon load of liquors, yesterday—about twenty jugs in all—in West Lynn. There were two men on the wagon, but one of them deserted his lot of goods when the officer came in sight. The other, who was arrested, stated that he knew nothing about the liquors, as "he had just got on the wagon with the driver, to take a ride." He was put in the lockup, just to stay over night, and be examined before the Police Court today. The rum was the property of some persons, in Boston, as that seized several days since. They seem determined to follow the Lynn market, probably on the principle of 'quick sales and small profits.'' Lynn News.

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.
THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the bean retained. A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for one:
THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—(Philadelphia Evening Journal.

A NEW and improved Cooking Apparatus, invented by the maker of the celebrated Bay State Stoves, of which so many are in use in this city. It has two large ovens and six boiler holes, giving it greater capacity for cooking operations than any range now in use.
It is complete in itself, and can be set in any chimney without cost; or it can be used outside of and independent of the chimney, if desirable. Water backs are introduced to give an ample supply of hot water for bathing and other purposes.
For families, boarding houses or hotels, this Range is unrivalled for capacity, economy or convenience. For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.
LOWELL, MASS., Oct. 7, 1846.
To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my case, and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as "stripper," in the carding-room. The great changes from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, brought on a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very serious and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a sore pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. From that time to this, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose.— The only thing that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but actually eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is now wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.
Yours, truly, EDWARD TURNER.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLS SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myls Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOS. F. FAYSON, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Law School of the University At Cambridge, Mass.
THE INSTRUCTORS IN THIS SCHOOL ARE
HON. JOEL PARKER, LL. D., Royal Professor.
HON. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D., Dane Professor.
HON. EMORY WASHBURN, LL. D., University Prof.
THE course of instruction embraces the various branches of the Common Law; Equity; Admiralty; Commercial, International and Constitutional Law; and the Jurisprudence of the United States. The Law Library consists of about 14,000 volumes, and as new works appear they are added, and every effort is made to render it complete.
Instruction is given by oral lectures and expositions, (and by recitations and examinations in connection with them,) of which there are ten every week. Two Moot Courts are also holden in each week, at each of which cases are always previously given out, is argued by four students, and an opinion delivered by the Presiding Instructor. Rooms and other facilities are also provided for the Club Courts; and an Assembly is held weekly for practice in debate, and acquiring a knowledge of parliamentary law and proceeding.
Students may enter the School in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits, and at the commencement of either term, or in the middle, or any other part of a term.
They are at liberty to elect what studies they will pursue, according to their view of their own wants and attainments.
The Academical year, which commences on Thursday, six weeks after the third Wednesday in July, is divided into two terms, of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.
During the Winter Vacation, the Library is opened, warmed and lighted, for the use of the members of the School.
The exercises of the next term will commence on Monday, Sept. 6, 1858.
Applications for admission, or for Catalogues, or any further information, may be made to either of the Professors at Cambridge.

VENERABLE RELIC.—In Marblehead stands the mansion of Col. Lee, built in 1762. It has for many years been occupied by the Marblehead Bank. A few days ago, during a heavy rain, it was noticed that the pavement in front of the house was laid with the date 1763, represented in small white stones. For ninety years the stones have been daily travelled over, yet nobody had noticed the chronological mosaic under their feet, until a careful soul looking down for the dryest place to put his foot, happened to discover it. The building is still in good repair.

This house is an interesting relic of old times. The entire woodwork inside, including the doors, window cases, stair banisters and ceiling is of solid mahogany. A remarkable feature about the building is, that the same paper is upon the walls in every room that was put on them when the house was built. The paper is of the most ancient and picturesque character.—In the reception room, where were received Generals Washington, Lafayette, and other distinguished heroes of the revolution, the carving of the wood is magnificent. In one room are some excellent specimens of the old Dutch tile. Col. Lee was famous among the Masons at that day, and the pavement in front of the building was covered with Masonic emblems.—Salem Observer.

THE EIGHT OLD SISTERS ALL TALKING.—Not many days ago we had an item about eight sisters (the youngest being over sixty years old) at a meeting in Salem, sitting in one pew, and hearing their old minister once more. Now hear from them again:

J. L. Page, formerly of Salem, Mass., resident in Washington for twenty years, now in his eightieth year, and with his wife enjoying the sea-breezes of old Salem, writes thus to his son, Prof. Page, of his mother's sisters:

The eight sisters are all here together, and their average age is seventy-one and a fraction, making an aggregate of five hundred and sixty-eight years; and they talk over their young days and old days with such volubility that I cannot undertake to call them to order.

RAILROAD IRON.—The miserable economy practiced by many of our railroads, of purchasing inferior English rails in preference to paying a trifle more for substantial home made ones, was painfully illustrated by the recent slaughter on the New York and Erie road. The breaking of a rail was the sole cause of the accident. That rail was made in Wales, expressly for the American market; and because our railroads demands cheap rails, they were cheaply and carelessly made of inferior iron. Accidents from the same cause are of frequent occurence, on the roads laid with rails of foreign manufacture, while on those laid with the best American iron, accidents arising from the inadequacy, of the track are exceedingly rare, and the yearly outlay for repairs much less. It neither motives of true economy, nor regard for human life, serve to change the policy of these roads, why not lay a duty on the foreign article sufficient to make it equal in price the domestic manufacture?—Worcester Transcript.

SKELETONS OF MEN TEN FEET HIGH.—Mr. Wm. D. Frazer writes to the Cincinnati Gazette from Winchester, Ind., that a hall a mile northwest of that place there is an old fort, including about thirty-six acres of ground within the fortification.—The mound in the centre is about twenty-five feet high, while the fort or breastwork is only about fifteen feet. Directly east and west of the mounds are openings or gateways, around which are other forts. A quarter of a mile northwest of the fort is the burying ground, where bones have been exhumed of men that were perhaps ten feet tall. Any one who doubts the latter statement, he says, may call at his office and see the evidence.

JUSTIFIABLE ROBBERY.—At one of the gaming establishments in Germany, Baron de K—— had lost large sums at play, when one morning, on opening his secretary, he found that a sum of 40,000 florins had been extracted from it, and what made the matter worse was, that the thief was an old servant named Fritz, who, from his long services, was treated as one of the family. The man had disappeared. Some time had elapsed after the discovery, and the young Baron had begun to be somewhat reconciled to the loss, when he one day met the servant walking along composedly in the street. "You rascal!" exclaimed the Baron, going up to the offender; but a knowing smile from Fritz somewhat surprised him. Questions and explanations followed, and the result was the delivery to the Baron of a receipt for the 40,000 florins from his own father, who, Fritz thought, would be a safer banker for his son than the proprietor of the gambling house.—Galignani.

IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S
TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES,
The Great Substitute for Tobacco.

IT is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will testify—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved entirely successful in a multitude of cases. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the system, restoring the taste which has become vitiated and destroyed by vicious indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned, to whom all orders should be addressed.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

CURE OF INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, BAD COUGH, PAIN IN THE SIDE, &c.

LOWELL, Oct. 7, 1846.

To Dr. D. F. BRADLEE—SIR—At the request of your friend, Mr. Jones, I send you a statement of my cause and the benefit I have received from the Hungarian Balsam. I have been nearly all my life employed in cotton mills. For eight years, I was employed as stripper, in the carding-room. The great change from heat to cold which I suffered, together with the dust and impurity of air, brought on a difficulty in my throat and lungs, of a very painful and distressing character. My chest seemed to be stuffed full of phlegm, and frequently came near suffocating me. I had a severe pain in my side; my breathing was hard and difficult; and I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I also lost my appetite, and became very weak and feeble. This was about a year and a half ago. During all that time, I have been sinking very fast, and have done no work. I have taken much medicine, but to no purpose—The only relief that relieved me was tobacco. I have not only chewed, but actually eaten, large quantities of tobacco, and when nearly choked with phlegm, I have swallowed enough of the juice to kill any man in health. The relief which I gained, however, was only short, until I took the Hungarian Balsam, and the change in my condition is as wonderful to behold. The phlegm has been cleared from my chest, the pain in my side is gone, my appetite has returned, and I feel like a new man. I am still, however, rather thin and feeble, and shall continue to take the Balsam until I am completely restored.

Yours truly, EDWARD TURNER.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries; specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examinations into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, was one of the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1858.

THE OREGON SENATORS.—General Joseph Lane, one of the United States Senators elected by the Oregon Legislature, is well known to the country at large: but his confederate, Delazon Smith, does not enjoy so much popularity. The New York Times sketches Mr. Smith as follows:

The advancement of Delazon (better known as Delusion) Smith is a full grown specimen of that extraordinary luck which sometimes rewards reckless adventurers.—Delusion's earlier days, some twenty years ago, were spent in Western New York, where he figured as a sort of political Joe Smith. He was a flippant, idle, noisy talker, busying himself chiefly with idle Democracy and Atheism. To say that he was popular would be a departure from the truth; and to assert that he was respected would be liable to the same objection. Feeling such to be the case he took his talents to some other market. The first responsible purchaser proved to be Capt. Tyler, then in the zenith of his unpopularity. For once in our history there was an administration with fewer adherents than offices to dispose of. It was manifestly the golden opportunity for Delazon Smith, and he put forth his hand to seize it. But such was his reputation that even Tyler was coy. For months the Executive turned up its nose. But importunity prevailed, and a roving commission among the South American Republics was assigned to "Delusion," He accepted, got his papers, and departed. For some two years he ranged over the Southern continent, doing what, no man could tell. The administration grew tired of such an emissary, and would fain recall him. But "Delusion" headed that movement. He took good care not to be found. So long as his salary was running, he too kept running.—Yet all things have an end. The close of the Tyler dynasty brought him home. After paying his respects to the Treasury and pocketing the balance due him, he set his face toward the Columbia River. No one who knows him will be surprised at his election to the Senate. He is one of those singular creatures with whom no one fate is more or less probable than any other.

Although the State Legislature of Oregon has met, and has made haste to elect United States Senators, yet its proceedings are clearly invalid, that territory not having yet been admitted into the Union. The Oregon bill passed the Senate, but failed in the House for want of time. The territory will undoubtedly be admitted at the next session of Congress, but it remains to be seen whether the Senate will overlook the informality in the election of the new Senators, or send them back to have their credentials properly verified. The question is an interesting one.

SAD IRISH.—In Boston, on Saturday, Bridget Feeny, an Irish girl, tried to throw herself overboard, having been deceived and wronged by one "Charles King, a native of Portsmouth, and a resident of Bath, Maine, a gay deceiver, twenty-two years of age, and a married man." King has got into jail—and it is probable he will get into further trouble in the way of a trial. The young woman is only about 18 years of age, is well appearing and intelligent.—King is a gay-looking, dashing young fellow, and one of those plausible young villains who infest all cities and prowl about the country.* We do not know any such King belonging here; though it may be so.

In Roxbury, about midnight, four Irishmen came out of a groggery, in a snarl, and Martin Killbride, one of the party, got stabbed, for which stabbing two more of them got into jail. Josiah Ford was sent to the House of Correction for two months, for borrowing an iron bar and then trying to sell it. A short time ago he served out a similar sentence for borrowing a handcart and selling it. The object was in both cases to obtain money to buy liquor with. Fore is married, and a few years ago was as promising a youth as ever lead a young bride to the altar, but the passion for liquor has been his ruin.

In Charlestown, early on Sunday morning, Mrs. McKenny, an Irishwoman, cut her throat in a drunken fit, and was carried bleeding to the Poor House.

☞ Harper for September is promptly received from A. Williams & Co., Boston, per J. H. Foster—and is an unusually fine number of an always-readable Magazine. The illustrated poem, "The Finishing School," is as good as "Nothing to Wear;" and of course shows up the follies of fashionable education in their true light. The illustration of that ridiculous fashion ladies have, of wearing trailing skirts, and then continually raising them high enough to clear a sheep or a wheelbarrow, is capital, with the title of a "five-barred gait."

BLOWERS AND STRIKERS.—The journeymen glass blowers throughout the State are said to be on a strike; not for higher wages, but because the employers will not observe certain rules they have adopted concerning apprentices.—Newark (N. J.) Mercury.

TRIP TO THE DENTAL CONVENTION.

NO. III.

BOSTON, August 12.

Friend Miller:—My last letter was dated at Cincinnati, and therein I promised to write you again on my way home. The provoking fog upon the Sound last night, which delayed the noble steamer "Connecticut" for the space of an hour, thus bringing me into Boston too late for the morning train to Portsmouth—while it adds another to my nineteen days of absence, yet enables me to keep my rash promise.

The Dental Convention held its usual session of three and a half days. Of course an hundred and twenty-five men could do a vast amount of talking in this period, and I am free to say that very many of the members used their jaws quite skilfully and to the edification of all. For my own part, I place a high value on these annual gatherings—not so much because of the facts elicited by the discussions—for to secure these we have only to read the published reports—but because of the excellent opportunity which is afforded for uninterrupted social intercouse with my brethren. I am heartily tired of this exclusiveness, which makes a dentist's laboratory a castle, into which no respectable brother of the profession may enter—his professional views and opinions a sealed book, which might as well perhaps be a blank one.—When the time shall arrive in dentistry, as it did a century ago in general medicine, that secrecy shall be considered quackery, when the motto of our profession shall be, "freely ye have received, freely give,"—then may we indeed look for its elevation. It is the opportunity for friendly conversation upon topics of mutual interest, with those whom these conventions call together, that give them their high value in my esteem. I regretted that New England furnished but three members to this convention, and that but for my presence New Hampshire would have been wholly unrepresented.

We had a short discussion on Thursday, upon the subject of the painless extraction of teeth by the aid of electricity. The theory found a few warm advocates and not a single opponent. I took pains to investigate pretty thoroughly at Cincinnati the claims of this new agent, and subsequently at Baltimore in the office of Prof. Harris; again on reaching Philadelphia; still more perseveringly at New York; and to-day at the office of Drs. Brown & Daniels on Bedford street. I arrive at the conclusion that as a local anæsthetic or sense destroying agent, electricity, properly applied, must prove highly valuable—and certainly cannot but be perfectly harmless. An imperceptible current is found to be the most efficient, while a galvanic "shock" is wholly useless. The batteries employed in Boston are manufactured by Messrs. Palmer & Hall, 158 Washington street, expressly for dentists' use, and are admirably adapted to the purpose. I have secured one of their best instruments, and shall bring the results of my experience in this direction, to the aid of such as may desire, on my return.

While the convention was discussing this subject of electricity, a member interrupted the progress of the debate by stating that a gentleman had just entered the hall with an announcement which must excite the most vivid and glad emotions in every heart. The president, a strict parliamentarian, enquired if the announcement bore any relevancy to the subject under consideration, and being assured of its entire pertinency, permitted the member to introduce Mr. Mussey of the Cincinnati Daily Gazette, who stated to the assembly the gratifying intelligence of the success of the Atlantic Telegraph—another triumph of electricity! The effect was electrical! Every member arose to his feet, and three tremendous cheers bespoke the general sentiment of joy!

Cincinnati, as you know, is only separated from the State of Kentucky by the intervention of a narrow, muddy stream, put down on the maps as the Ohio river. This river, which is the pride and boast of the genuine "Buckeye," cannot compare with the noble Piscataqua; its width, at the time of my being ferried across it, was about equal to the distance between the store of my friend Sise in Market Square and the steps of the new North Church; but the marks of its ravages on either bank for the space of a quarter of a mile, give some idea of its probable magnitude when swollen by the added waters of its thousand tributaries.

I could not miss the opportunity of treading the soil of old Kentucky—every foot of which is hallowed by the memory of Henry Clay. So at sunrise on Thursday morning I crossed the river to Covington. Just above high-water remark, on the Kentucky side, is located an extensive establishment for the manufacture of railroad iron. Here, stripped like Vulcan at his forge—naked to the waist—were an hundred men, handling with their huge tongs the ponderous bars of glowing iron, which from a mere shapeless mass were converted into straight and symmetrical T rails, in far less time than it would take to describe the process. Night and day, summer and winter, the work goes on, and even on the Sabbath the fires are constantly replenished, though active labor ceases during the twenty-four hours of sacred rest.

The dentists of Cincinnati honored the convention with a grand banquet at the Melodeon on Thursday evening, to which were invited several members of the medical profession and other leading citizens.—The best band of music in the city was in attendance, and the duty of preparing the elaborate supper was devolved upon the most popular and skilful caterer. I pocketed one of the "bills of fare," which I have a mind to enclose, that you may see what kind of edibles the profession were expected to exercise their teeth upon.—Speech and sentiment followed the removal of the cloth, and at midnight the entertainment was at an end.

The convention adjourned at noon on Friday, to meet at Niagara Falls on the first Tuesday of August, 1859; and at 6 o'clock on the morning of Saturday we were on our way toward Baltimore—seven hundred miles distant. Twenty-seven hours of unceasing travel over that enduring monument to human labor and skill—the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad—now ascending or descending two thousand feet of mountain grade, again threading our way through some rocky tunnel of a mile or more in length; in one hour chilled by the biting air of the hill-top and sweltered by the sultry atmosphere of the valley and the plain—and at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, we were in Baltimore, glad to avail ourselves of a bath, cleanly attire and a day of rest. P. P.

WARNING TO GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.—The Washington Union, being a very innocent paper, has seen it "reported that a tax is levied upon the persons employed in the government service," but is "quite ignorant" of the fact. But being, also, a strong partizan sheet and the organ of the present Administration, it has "just this to say on the subject," which every government officer, throughout the country, if he knows what he is about, will pay attention to, viz:

"If there is a person in the public service who does not voluntarily contribute the amount, at least, of two dollars and a half a year on each thousand dollars of his salary, to support the cause of the democracy, he should be dismissed at once, and his place filled by one who is patriotic enough and liberal enough to double the contribution. We believe the cause to justify its support, and those who refuse to aid in that patriotic work, should be the last to complain if they are deprived of the special favors of those in power. We would recommend no system of espionage, no mean efforts to hunt out the miserable scavengers who devote four or five hours of indolence at their desks and the balance of their time to assaults upon the democracy; but that forbearance which keeps them in office a moment after their treachery is known, is sadly misplaced. It is a notorious fact that more than one half the patronage of this government is bestowed upon such unworthy and untrustworthy men.

Madame de Genlis, in her Memoirs, describes the training she underwent to fit her for Parisian society in the last century:

"I had two teeth pulled out; I had whalebone stays that pinched me terribly; my feet were imprisoned in tight shoes, with which it was impossible for me to walk; I had three or four thousand curl papers pat on my head, and I wore for the first time in my life a hoop. In order to get rid of my country attitudes, I had an iron collar put on my neck; and as I squinted a little at times, I was obliged to put on goggles as soon as I awoke in the morning, and those I wore four hours. I was, moreover, not a little suprised when they talked of giving me a master to teach me what I thought I knew already—to walk. Besides all this, I was forbidden to run, to leap, or to ask questions."

Billy P. was making a journey in a stage coach over the hilly roads in the western part of this state, and amused himself on the way by frequent resorts to the comfort of a mysterious black bottle which he had with him. Suddenly the coach came in contact with a large stone, which, without doing any other damage, deprived Billy of his equilibrium, and down he rolled on the ground. "What on earth are yer doing?" said Billy; "how came you to tip the stage over?" The driver informed him that the stage had not been overturned at all; and the passengers assured Billy that John was right. Billy approached the vehicle again, and now remounted slowly to his former seat outside. "Did not upset, d'you say?" "Not at all," replied the driver. "Well, if I'd a known that, I wouldn't ha' got off!"

☞ Hugh White of Liberty, Bedford county, Va., has discovered upon his estate a paint bank. It is said to be one of the most extensive bodies of decomposed ochrous iron in the world.

A TRUE ARTIST'S SUCCESS.

GRAND RECEPTION IN BELFAST OF MONS. ANDRIEU'S NEW WORK.

PRESENTATION BY THE LADIES OF SEARSPORT. EXHIBITION IN STOCKTON—AND LETTER OF REV. S. THURSTON.

It is very unusual for us to notice at length in our columns, a work which is presented to the public in the shape of an exhibition. But in the instance of the new and magnificent work of M. A. Andrieu, we cannot refrain, in view of the many humbugs which are constantly calling on the public, and as an act of simple justice to the artist, to depart from our usual course.

The new work of Mr. Andrieu, as a work of art, is one of the most splendid we have ever seen. Its object is to picture the course of a most familiar vice —INTEMPERANCE,—and its consequent miseries, contrasted with the opposite virtue. This is done in an unobjectionable manner, without exaggeration, in a series of some twenty-five pictures, (with a moving section showing night scenes in New York,) in life size and in magnificent style. Its great success is the life-like truthfulness in which the artist has shown the life of the intemperate man, and the progress of intemperance. We came from it with impressions on our mind which will remain, and which no language could convey.

The reception of the work in this city was most flattering. For two nights and one afternoon, Peirce's Hall was well filled with gentlemen and ladies whom we have seldom, if ever, seen at an exhibition of the kind. As the curtain rose in many of the scenes of misery, a tearful silence prevailed throughout the entire audience.—Some of the scenes were enthusiastically applauded by the audience. On the whole it was one of the most magnificent exhibitions we have ever seen.

At Searsport, where the artist has been residing for some time past, his work had a most flattering reception. The ladies of the place, at the close of the exhibition, presented the artist with two beautiful volumes of Chambers' Cyclopædia of English Literature, splendidly bound in gold, through Dr. Hopkins of that place.

At Stockton, the large church, (Universalist) was filled. At the close, Rev. Mr. Thurston spoke of its merit as a painting, and the effect it must produce. Below we give the letter of this gentleman, (whose taste and judgment in such matters is very superior,) to the artist, which corroborates all we have said or can say:

"I have had the pleasure of witnessing the exhibition of Mr. Andrieu's new Panorama, styled The Rake's Progress.

While I am no professed critic in the fine arts, I cannot suppress the opinion that it is a work of great artistic merit, showing in its conception and execution distinguished ability. Some of the scenes represented appear to me exceedingly fine.

The Drunkard's Family is a picture of extreme wretchedness. The Fashionable Saloon is a splendid representation of one of those fashionable places where are nurtured appetites that lead to ruin. The Farm in the West, in both its states, is very life-like. In its improved conditions, with its surroundings, the artist has given us a landscape of surpassing beauty. Then the scenes of Governor's Inauguration are exceedingly rich. And the two Diorامic representations are highly artistic and striking.

But while admired as a work of Art, the Panorama derives its chief value from the moral lessons it conveys. The declining progress of the young man in fashionable life—the wretchedness he inflicts upon a confiding family, and his miserable death, afford an impressive warning against the first steps toward the downward inclination; while the rising course of the drunkard's son, and his honorable career, illustrates the value of temperance principles and resolute industry, and are fitted to stimulate young men of inauspicious beginnings to noble aims and efforts. If the painting does not impress these lessons, and exert a salutary influence, it will prove that men are slow to learn wherein lies their true interest.

My best wishes go with Mr. Andrieu, that he may reap large benefits to himself, and bestow them upon the community by exhibiting this new work of art. S. THURSTON.

Searsport, Aug. 6, 1858.

SEARSPORT, Aug. 9, 1858.

MR. ANDRIEU—Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, having witnessed with gratification the first exhibition of your new work, the Rake's Progress, in common with the citizens of every place where it has been exhibited, feel a desire to see it again; and we request you, if consistent with your other engagements, to stop one night more in our place, and give an opportunity to those who could not get admittance at your first exhibition, to enjoy such a rare treat.

Signed by Rev. S. Thurston and sixteen other prominent citizens of Searsport.

This Mons. Andrieu is the same gentleman who designed ane painted the Panorama of the South, West and East, advertised to be exhibited next Thursday eve'g.

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique

No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 40 Cents.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE SIEGE OF CORINTH.

It is said that one of the former political divisions of this State took its name from two famous lines in this poem—namely—

"The foes that he singly kept at bay,
Outnumbered his thin hairs of Silver Grey"

We cannot vouch for the truth of this, but we do know that under the effects of applications of REINSTADT'S already famous HAIR COLORING "Silver Greys" rapidly become (in appearance at least) members of "Young America."—(Troy Budget.

THE TOILET.

There are but few preparations designed for the Toilet, that possess any merit—many of them are injurious, some positively poisonous. The new cosmetic, "PERSIAN BALM," is an article particularly adapted to fill a vacancy in toilet preparations that has long been felt. It is designed especially for Cleansing the Teeth, Shaving, Shampooing, Bathing, and improving the Complexion. It has been most carefully prepared and thoroughly tested. If our readers require a really fine Toilet article, purchase the Persian Balm.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND No. 83 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excessive or obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada
JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 5 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

LOCAL.

☞ We print in another column, a continuation of the interesting sketch of Dr. Fuller of this city, of his recent journey to Cincinnati, to attend the Dental Contion. The publication of this letter has been unavoidably delayed a few days—and even now we are obliged to defer the conclusion till to-morrow. It will not lose its interest, however.

The Boston papers have stated that a dentist from a town in Massachusetts, was the only representative from New England in the Convention ; when the fact is; the old Granite State was represented—and well represented, too—by Dr. Fuller ; who is at once, one of the ablest practitioners and best informed men in the profession. His taking so long and expensive a journey, to confer with his professional brethren, and acquire all new discoveries and information in dental science, is evidence of his devotion to his calling, as well as his energy and past success.

☞ At last, to-night, we are to have a Concert, at the Temple—and we should suppose, that amid the great dearth of good concerts which our citizens have suffered for a long time—there must have grown up considerable longing for opportunity to hear something of the sort. The entertainment by Messrs. Packard & Marsh is worthy of patronage, in itself—eminently so, doubly so, inasmuch as it is a double entertainment—and for another very important reason, which we will consider presently.

First, a musical and floral display, in which a large number of children take parts in themselves beautiful and interesting anywhere ; must be especially attractive to the relatives and friends of those children, and to all persons fond of youth, as well as those citizens who wish success to crown all laudable undertakings in our city. For an attractive programme, see the bills circulated.

Then the performances of Messrs. Packard and Marsh themselves, would alone constitute a concert better than we usually get. Mr. Pennell has a fine baritone and falsetto voice, pleasing and powerful, and which he modulates with skill ; and Mr. Marsh's tenor runs almost as high as his violin. Together, they form a powerful and spirited duet ; and their music is all composed or arranged for their peculiar voices ; while their violin accompaniments add not a little to the attractiveness of their novel singing.

Besides, these gentlemen are rendering our city a service, in thus instructing and developing the powers of these children. The fact that they only do this for their own emolument, does not alter the case at all—it only renders it more incumbent on all who have any regard for music, to see that they have this their due reward, in the shape of a full house. Judging from the smallness and inefficiency of our church choirs, as compared with former years ; and the fact that we now have few or no concerts by native talent ; and that there is no singing-school in all the city, and no music taught in our public schools (alas!) —all this would seem to say that music is at a low ebb here.

And so we are glad our friends have come to wake us up a little ; and we hope they will have the best success to-night—as we doubt not they will.

☞ In another column will be seen a very just and complimentary notice of Mons Andrieu, the artist who painted the Panorama which was exhibited in this city last week. Nothing of the kind approaching it in merit or interest, has ever been shown here before ; and we advise all who enjoy the fine arts, to see it, next Thursday evening.

☞ In the record of deaths will be seen the name of John Gee Pickering, Esq., of Greenland, at the age of 54 years. He was the Postmaster of the town, and a pleasant, estimable man ; and much known as a musician and skilful maker of musical instruments — bass-viols, violins, bass-drums, &c. His cheerful ruddy face, and unwearying violin or bass-viol, as it led the dance, has inspired many a heart that will feel a pang at his departure. He was playing his violin at home, Wednesday evening, when smitten with paralysis, which soon entirely disabled one side of his body, and rendered him insensible ; and on Saturday he slept to wake to heavenly harmonies.

☞ The Rockingham Convention of Universalists will meet at Kingston, on Wednesday.—Tickets to go and return on the Concord Road, will be at half the usual rates—and probably but not certainly on the Boston & Maine.—The train leaves this city at 10 : 50 A. M.

STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.—We were much gratified yesterday on dropping into our neighbor Thachee's on Market Square, to be shown some very rich and delicate stereoscopic views, many of which were views of some of the public buildings in the city of Paris.

These pictures give a life like representation of persons and things, each object, even to leaves of trees and blades of grass, being clearly defined, and standing out in bold releif. These are well worth examining, and we are assured friend Thacher will have even more calls than usual, when our readers are informed of the treat which is in store for them.

☞ Are you going to the Pic-Nic to-day? See Hilton's advertisement. He knows how to do the thing up in good shape.

☞ Our two United States Senators from New Hampshire, Hon. Daniel Clark and Hon. John P. Hale, visited this city, the Navy Yard, &c., last week.

The Blacksmith.
TUNE—Anvil Chorus.
When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand debating Hall,
'T was proposed by that sly Mercury
That they should have a ball.
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll cast it at your feet;
And on all the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology ;—
Now let us turn the table,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel ;
The Axes, Mauls and Adzes
Of Iron and of Steel,
For carpenters and farmers,
And all good working men ;—
They'll make the tools so handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make you wait ;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways ;

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to all its distinguished qualities. REUBEN KIDDER, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

ORIGIN OF BRANDY.—Brandy began to be distilled in France about the year 1313, but it was prepared only as a medicine, and was considered as possessing such marvellous strengthening and sanitary powers that the physicians named it "the water of life," (l'eau de vie,) a name it still retains, though now rendered, by excessive potations, one of life's most powerful and prevalent destroyers. Raymond Lully, a disciple of Arnold de Villa Nova, considered this admirable essence of wine to be an emanation from the Divinity, and that it was intended to reanimate and prolong the life of man. He even thought that this discovery indicated that the time had arrived for the consummation of all things—the end of the world.

☞ The whortleberry crop of New Jersey is much smaller than last year. Ocean county, it is estimated, will furnish only $8,000 or $10,000 worth, from localities which last year furnished from $30,000 to $40,000 worth. The whole crop from Burlington, Ocean and Monmouth, it is estimated, will not exceed $20,000 in value.

☞ There are fifty-seven schools and colleges in the city of Richmond, Va.; forty-eight of them private schools, and nine free schools. In the private schools there are 2390 pupils, in the free schools 700; so that there are 3000 children under instruction.

Ayer's Pills

are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A dose of one of these pills, taken at night, will affect most of the functions of the system, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Prepared and for sale by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. J. P. Kennedy, of Baltimore, Md.

"Your Pills are the chosen family physic. Their excellent qualities recommend them to general favor. They are mild, but very positive and effectual in their action on the bowels, and are easily administered to children. I have found them invaluable in my practice, and in the daily treatment of myself and family."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Hunter, of the New York City Hospital.

"I find your Pills admirably adapted to the purpose for which they are intended, viz.: to produce prompt and decisive effects upon the Liver when needed indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious for the cure of complaints of this class than any other medicine. I cordially recommend them as being a purgative pill which is worthy the confidence of the medical profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Harris, of Lewis, C. W.

"The Pills you sent me some time since, I have been from all need to use before, but have satisfied me that they are truly an excellent Pill. Indeed, so peculiarly are they adapted to all the purposes of a family medicine, that they will recommend themselves to every one who shall once put them upon the shelf. I have used your Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, which had created the other medicine so universally well. Indeed I have experienced nothing but what I can say in favor of all your preparations to which you recommend your name."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Cross, of Georgetown.

"Your Pills have built a busy trade in my practice, and I hold them in the highest estimation as a family medicine. Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, and Costiveness, are the most prevalent. Their elements effect on the liver makes them an excellent regulating medicine in small doses for Bilious Complaints, and in larger doses for Dysentery, Diarrhœa, and Costiveness. They are very mild and effectual for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL CONSTITUTION—WORMS—SCROFULOUS.

From Dr. E. Sears, who attends as a Physician and Druggist.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, will prove more effective of the natural operations of the system than a dozen of any other pills I have ever heard of. My family are constantly supplied with your Pills. They are so much superior to any other pills, I recommend no other to my patrons."

CONSTIPATION — CONVENIENCE.

From Dr. J. P. Fonda, Florence, Canada.

"I cheerfully bear testimony in favor of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. My wife and children have found them effectual in relieving them of that complaint, and I have found them a most convenient and efficacious family medicine. I have no hesitation in recommending them to the public."

J. S. ——, Esq., of Boston, writes:

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are more effective of the natural operations of the system than a dozen of any other pills I have ever heard of. My family are constantly supplied with your Pills. They are so much superior to any other pills, I recommend no other to my patrons."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — ULCERS — COLD — MERCURIAL.

Rev. Dr. Sprague, of Albany, writes:

"You ask my testimony to the fact that your Pills purify the blood. I have used them of late years in my family, and have seen the effects of their alterative power upon the system, when they have been taken for other purposes than purging, in the expulsion of humors which had long lurked in the blood, and which, but for the use of these Pills, would, probably, have remained there for years."

Rev. Dr. Chapin, of Providence, writes:

"Your Pills, Sir, are in such universal use in this city, that your fame is in every mouth. I have used them of late years in my family, and have seen the effects of their alterative power upon the system, when they have been taken for other purposes than purging, in the expulsion of humors which had long lurked in the blood, and which, but for the use of these Pills, would, probably, have remained there for years. They eradicate the poison from the blood, and leave vitality and vigor in the system."

Rev. Dr. Pierson, of Jacksonville, writes:

"Pills so perfectly free from injury are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for their production."

FOR HEADACHES—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FEVERS—FOULNESS—FEVERISHNESS—IRRITATION.

From Dr. Pollard, Bath, Pulaski Co., Ky.

"Sir: Dr. Arthur Conner, among you, what complaints I have suffered for the past five years, than to say that one box of your Pills has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken for the time, that I do not hesitate to say that I believe your Pills effect a cure, and I think, in my case, a permanent one, for I have not had a return of the disease since I used your Pills."

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and receiving a timely relief, we feel assured that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by other pretending to some order and care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter, by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGENERATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtues in removing all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some specious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

To those who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE—

We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased with any of the ills of the hair, to try it will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEER RIVER, CONN., July 22, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth:—Dear Sir—I was troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing—it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. Please send me two bottles more by Mr. Foot, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with real, REUB PARRT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact none. I have used but two bottles (recommended to me by a friend) and now the hair of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. Let your Restorative be generally introduced, and none but the vain will be without it. Yours respectfully, JOHN R. WILLIAMS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VICKSBURG, LA., June 22, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Sir: I have been using the manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative. I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that it is a most valuable preparation, and I, Sir, can say, that I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. Your's truly, ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

One month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance, and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of restoring the color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. There is no the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

The drawings of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dey Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SAMUEL SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned, BUT NOT KNOWN THINGS, of the day, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whom; more especially to the MARRIED PERSONS, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from minerals, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the object already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, as hundreds of females have experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always provided Prudence and Economy in one case must be considered sure and you; that is to say the PURCHASE MONEY not be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box, Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4431, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

VOL. 13. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1858. NO. 15.

THE MORMONS.—Advices from Salt Lake City report that the Mormons are returning there, being assured of not being molested. They are described as a destitute and poverty stricken people. Women are travelling barefooted, and the men are almost without garments. Everything witnessed by the Gentiles confirms the fact that the accounts by the Mormons of their power to contend with the United States troops were the most idle and ridiculous boasts, meant to deter the President from sending an armed force into that country.

The Mormons are about to make a bold effort to be admitted into the Union. When that question comes up there will be a great deal to say on both sides of it, and before the question is decided there is no doubt that this combination of cunning sensualism on the one hand, and ignorant fanaticism on the other, will fall to pieces from its inherent rottenness.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer gives the following statements:

A piteous spectacle was witnessed on this road, which pointed indubitably to the vile degradation of the Mormon people as a mass. We saw two women hitched to a cart, dragging it along through the dust like oxen, or, in the disgusting language of Heber Kimball, like "cows," while the barbarian, their husband, walked beside the cart, driving them on! We looked to see the brute get in the cart and be hauled by his wives, but for shame—if indeed he is capable of such a feeling—he did not, so long as we observed him. Let womankind in the Christian world pity woman in Utah! Nowhere is woman so degraded, so trampled upon, as in this country.

Women here are little else than mere chattels, bought by the highest bidder; or, what is the same thing, compelled, for many reasons of necessity, to marry persons of known fidelity to the church. Many industrious young men cannot get wives at all.

All the women I have seen are poorly clad, many of them bare footed, dirty and destitute almost of clothing. As we passed along the Provost Road, meeting hundreds of these poor, deplorable women, many a bright eye gazed at us imploringly and hopefully, as if expecting from us the means of their amelioration. I am satisfied that but comparatively few of them voluntarily submit to the plurality system at first. They have been decoyed here by the honeyed and deceptive promises of Mormon emissaries abroad.

Many women—the best and most enlightened in Mormondom—practise all this from necessity, who do not, in their hearts, believe in Mormonism, with all its vile and absurd doctrines. Some think Brigham a divine prophet. The leaders know they are impostors"

UTAH.—The last advices from Utah state that there would be no difficulty with the Mormons, and they would come in as a State of good and quiet citizens, if it were not for polygamy. That is the rock on which they are most certain to split. To any interference with this they say they will not submit under any circumstances. They declare come what will they will recognize no attempt to break up the system of plurality of wives.

While they are obliged to tolerate gentiles among them and come into daily contact with them, they will not long be able to sustain polygamy. It will gradually crumble away and they will become a divided and scattered people. Already, we perceive, there are indications that Brigham Young's power is waning, and that many of the Mormons will leave Utah, some for the States and others to Mexico. The mass of them are said to be unusually poor and destitute of the commonest necessaries of life.—Traveller.

KANSAS ELECTION.—The Leavenworth correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, gives some additional returns from Kansas and says:—

"They aggregate upward of 8000 for 'proposition rejected' and only 500 for 'proposition accepted.' Lecompton, Kickapoo, Lexington, Shawnee, Tecumseh and other pro-slavery towns, are included. It is supposed that there will not be a thousand votes for Lecompton, and fourteen or fifteen thousand against it. In only two towns has the swindle had a majority—in Kickapoo the majority was 32, and in Lexington, Johnston County, 9. In a large number it has not received a vote, and in others only two or three votes."

The Richmond Enquirer does not join the Washington Union in its determination to keep Kansas out of the Union, in case she wishes to come in. It thinks it will be bad policy to leave that issue for 1860. It adds:

There is no inconsistency between the admission of Kansas, with a subsequent constitution, and the principle of the English bill. The adjustment measure of the late session may be as readily repealed as any other law of Congress. Upon that repeal Lecomptonites and anti-Lecomptonites can readily unite.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st., cor. Kilby st., Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1858.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1858.

☞ The Bath tri-weekly Organ, and the Daily Times of the same place, have been united, and the Bath Daily Times is now edited by J. T. Gilman, Esq., of the Organ, a very able writer. Both papers were of the Democratic party; but they kept up a continual jargon. Now we suppose there will be peace. Mr. Clarke, of the Times, says in his Valedictory:

It is an unfortunate aspect in the affairs of a party to have its harmony disturbed by the clashing councils of contending interests within its own organization; and while these interests are fanned into continual excitement and commotion by rival presses in the same localities, it cannot be reasonably expected that the great and more than paramount concerns of the party, irrespective of merely local and personal considerations, will be consulted with that singleness of purpose and devotion of heart, so imperatively required by the startling exigencies of the times.

Very startling indeed, for freedom to outgrow slavery, and for Kansas to trample down the English Lecompton humbug.

Mr. Gilman says in his Introductory:

It is proper for us to say in this connection that we claim for this new feature in the press of Bath no triumph of one party over another, no victory of one paper over its rival, but rather a happy reunion of interests that should never have been divided.

Success of Emancipation.—We understand that the facts submitted by Rev. C. W. Dennison, (recently U. S. Consul in the West Indies,) on the actual workings of the British Emancipation Act, have been well received by the audiences he has addressed on the subject. It is much to be desired that all such authentic statements should be widely disseminated. What the people want is light. If it can be shown that emancipation has really worked well in the West Indies, (as would seem to be established by the fact that France, Holland and Denmark have abolished slavery in their adjacent colonies,) it is time that it should be done.—Atlas.

This has been shown over and over again, on the best authorities. But some persons in this country, and in Cuba, interested in slave-holding, slave-trading, and fillibustering, have for years kept up a fusilade of lies, misstatements and perversions, lest some progress should be made in anti-slavery sentiment here.

Installation. — The Congregational Church in Salmon Falls, destitute of a pastor since Rev. Mr. Atwater's removal to New Haven, Conn.—about ten months since; on Wednesday 11th inst., settled as their minister Rev. D. B. Bradford, late of Raymond. Rev. Mr. Whiting of Portsmouth preached the installing Sermon, Rev. Mr. Richardson of Dover gave the Charge, Rev. Mr. Palmer, pastor elect from Rochester, gave the Right Hand of Fellowship.

This youthful and growing society, with their beautiful sanctuary and growing numbers, have much to encourage them. They have just adopted Congregational singing and removed their organ to the left hand side of the pulpit. A chorister leads the assembly. A devout and attentive Congregation engaged in the installation services.

Not Correct.—The Cheshire Republican stated last week that C. J. Amidon of Hinsdale had been appointed State liquor agent; and said "he is a personal friend of Gov. Haile, and it may be that he has got his lucrative office with the understanding that the profits are to be divided between them."

The Keene Sentinel says:—

The above we see copied into several of our exchanges as a correct news item, with abbreviations and comments. The Cheshire Republican is not considered in this section, the organ of Gov. Haile, and of course we did not copy the statement.—We subsequently learned that Gov. H. had made no appointment of State Liquor Agent. The Republican we suppose got its information from the same source that it received the statements of Gov. Haile in relation to the interpretation of the pedler law.

Why Young Don't Preach.—It is reported in Great Salt Lake City that Brigham Young has received a revelation from the Lord commanding him to hold his voice for a season. The secret of the "revelation" was exposed by one of Brigham's wives in conversation with a Gentile, when she said, "Brigham will not preach again so long as there is a Gentile short-hand reporter here to take down his discourses."

Does any Sunday School boy remember the story of Sampson, who said, if somebody had not plowed with his heifer, they would not have found out his riddle! If brother Brigham don't look out for his heifers, there will be much plowing with them for a year to come.—But Brigham and his saints appear to have outwitted and bamboozled the U. S. Commissioners—for the present.

TRIP TO THE DENTAL CONVENTION.

Boston, August 12.

NO. III—CONCLUDED.

At the sunset hour we walked the streets of the truly beautiful city of Baltimore, and looked upon those Monuments which have given it a distinctive title, the world over. The most imposing of these structures is the monument erected to the memory of Washington, by the state of Maryland. It is a plain shaft of marble, 168 feet in hight, surmounted by a colossal statue of the Father of his Country—its bare forehead stained and disfigured by a thousand elemental conflicts. The shaft stands upon a huge base, thirty feet in hight, which rests upon the highest point of ground in the city, and the column, with its colossal surmounting, may be seen for many miles around, loaming up an hundred feet above the tallest spires.

I can hardly account for the feeling of satisfaction which accompanied me on my walk through the city of Baltimore. The strongest and most memorable description I had ever heard of it came from the lips of that celebrated revivalist, "Elder Knapp," who, twelve years ago, in my hearing, condemned it as "an ungodly city, more like unto Sodom and Gomorrah than a city of this great republic"—and I was prepared to witness the desecration of the Sabbath—the quiet serenity of that twilight hour broken by rude and boisterous mirth, perhaps by acts of open rowdyism. But though the streets were crowded with whites and blacks indiscriminately; the porches, porticoes and steps leading to private residences, thronged with bonnetless ladies and hatless gentlemen, resplendent in white attire, I saw no undue levity—nothing but the strange admixture of races, and the singular variety of complexion and airyness of dress, to convince me that I was not walking Beacon street Mall, on Boston Common, as I had done two weeks before at the same hour.

We accepted an invitation to dine with Prof. Chapin A. Harris, of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, on Monday, and were delightfully entertained by his charming family. We felt that we were highly honored by this invitation to partake of the hospitalities of the leading dentist of the world. To this title Prof. Harris has for years held undisputed claim, alike because of his skill and experience as a practitioner. His contributions to the literature of the profession—which exceed by more than twenty fold those of any other writer, living or dead—and his acquirements in the fields of science and general literature. His immense library teems with the rarest and choicest works, while gems of art adorn wall and nook and ceiling.—The doctor exhibited to us a rare old volume, believed to be the only one of its kind in the country, its every leaf riddled by ravaging worms. It was a commentary or dissertation on the Book of Job, printed in Latin, its letter-press executed with the identical types used in printing the first Latin Bible. It had no title-page—its imprint being in red ink at the beginning of the first chapter. Four hundred years have elapsed since this volume was issued from the press.

My traveling companion and myself had engaged passage on the steamer "Richard Willing" for Philadelphia, and were most un-willing-ly compelled to tear ourselves away from our kind friends in Baltimore, which we succeeded in accomplishing after numerous fruitless attempts. We reached the steamer just in season to see the gang-plank drawn in, and to render it necessary for us to scramble on board as best we might, aided by a stalwart pair of hands belonging to a dark-complexioned individual, whom I did not see in the passengers' saloon during the voyage. I shrewdly suspect that he "belonged to the boat"—tho' I was told that very few slaves were held in Baltimore. Down the river, out into Chesapeake Bay, and after a comfortable night's rest we found ourselves at the landing in Philadelphia.

We spent a period of 24 hours in the Quaker City, and I improved the opportunity in visiting several of my brethren of the profession. I had a most pleasing and instructive interview with Dr. J. D. White, editor of the "Dental News Letter"—(one of our most readable quarterlies,) and till recently a Professor in "Philadelphia College of Dental Surgery." I had never before had the pleasure of meeting Dr. White, and certainly did not anticipate the kind greeting which I received at his hands. I found his saloon filled with a throng of waiting patients—patient waiters they must have proved if they managed to sit out our lengthened interview—and sent up my card by the colored servant in attendance. I felt that my turn could not come for a long time, and had picked up a volume of Hood's Poems, resolving to see the thing through, when to my surprise the doctor stood before me, having singled me out from the crowd at a glance. He instantly withdrew me into an adjoining apartment, where we sat for an hour or more in close and familiar conversation. Vainly did I strive to depart, or express my fears that I was trespassing upon his valuable time; the invitation to protract the interview was of such an urgent and cordial nature, and my pleasure was so great in listening to his remarks, that I was fain to be content. Dr. White has of late given considerable attention to the microscopic investigation of dental formations, and exhibited to me a volume of drawings from his hand—the result of his labors in this direction—by the aid of which he is enabled to propound a new and novel theory in regard to the formation of the teeth, and the peculiar action of certain chemical agents upon them. I longed to beg the privilege of copying by photograph his elaborate drawings, but hesitated to ask so great a favor.

We visited old "Independence Hall," and from the belfry which surmounts it took a bird's-eye view of the city; we sauntered through some of the numerous beautiful parks, abounding in squirrel and deer, attended a monster concert in the evening; and at 6 o'clock on Wednesday morning took the Camden & Amboy cars for New York. The day in the great metropolis was passed in sight-seeing and in visits to professional friends, and at five o'clock last night we embarked for Boston over the Norwich route, on board the steamer "Connecticut." After dark, a dense fog enveloped us, and only the thorough knowledge of Sound navigation possessed by the captain enabled us to reach Allyn's Point before daylight. At New London my constant friend and travelling companion, Dr. L. W. Rogers of Utica, came to my stateroom to say good-bye.—We had passed many days together, attending like shadows upon one another in all our sight-seeing excursions. Nothing but the hope that I should reach dear old Portsmouth and the loved ones at home at 10 o'clock, reconciled me to his departure; and even in this I was to be disappointed. for the train was an hour late, and my day must be passed in Boston.

And so I have sat me down here in my room at the "American," and devoted an hour to this hurried record of my journey homeward. I shall presently entrust myself to the safe and commodious cars of the Eastern Railroad, and hope once more to walk at nightfall the familiar streets of our quiet "city by the sea."

And thus, for the present, endeth my journeyings. F. F.

☞ A suit has been commenced in chancery by two of the Trustees and two other members of the Baptist Chapel, St. Mary's, Norwich, Eng., against the minister, (the Rev. G. Gould) and the other trustees, for practising "open communion," the trust deed prescribing "that none but Baptists believing in the doctrine of limited or particular redemption shall be entitled to admission into the church, congregation or chapel, or to be members of the church."

☞ The fellows who are supposed to have been guilty of the shameful indecency of defiling the Bible and pulpit of the Orthodox Church in Westminster, Mass., and of other outrages, also, on account of their spite against temperance, were arrested week before last, and taken before a Justice in Leominster, who sent them to jail, as they could not find bail in the sum of $3000.

The Very Latest from the Atlantic Cable—Important if True.—We stop the press to state that a stranger, with the least bit of a brogue, has just informed us that it has been thought best to have the first despatch over the new telegraph come by the steamer.—New York Post.

At the rate at which things don't progress, the above has "something in it."

This, the reader will see, is a day or two old—but 'twas a good joke before it turned stale.

The celebrated racing stallion "Ambassador" was killed by lightning on Thursday last, on the plantation of his owner, Mr. Charles N. Merriwether, about ten miles from Clarksville, Tenn. Ambassador was the winner of the great Alabama stake of $28,000 in 1854, and his time is among the best on record.

It was a Yankee who Hitched It.—"Columbus, pho!" exclaimed a friend of ours, the other day, in his excess of enthusiasm about the Atlantic cable, "Columbus, pho! he discovered America to be sure, but it took a Berkshire boy to hitch it on!—Berkshire County Eagle.

They say that woman has found her true "sphere" at last. It is about twenty-seven feet round, and is made of hoops and crinoline.

How is it proved that Adam was orthodox in his sentiments?

Because his belief was undoubtedly Eve angelical.

BONNETS.

Of all the charms dear woman wears,
Of all her many traps and snares,
For real effect there's naught compares
With a truly pretty bonnet;
For when or wherever you chance to meet
One that is perfectly modest and neat,
You may depend 'tis proof complete
That the head has more in it than on it.

No matter whether she's pretty or not,
How much or how little money she's got,
Whether she live in mansion or cot,
'Tis a fact, depend upon it:
The woman to make a man happy thro' life,
To make a model mother and wife,
Is one who, scorning the milliner's strife,
Wears a plain and tasteful bonnet.

Now a bonnet of genuine beauty and grace,
Worn on the head in its proper place,
Shadowing faintly the wearer's face,
Is a theme for a song or a sonnet;
But one of those gay and gaudy things,
Made up of rainbows and butterfly wings,
A mixture of flowers, ribbons, and strings,
Is dreadful, depend upon it.

A vulgar mass of "fuss and feather,"
A little of everything thrown together,
As if by a touch of windy weather,
A wretched conglomeration—
A sort of cup to catch the hair,
Leaving the head to "go it bare,"
A striking example of "Nothing to Wear,"
Is this bonnet abomination.

It makes a woman look brazen and bold,
Assists her in CATCHING nothing but cold,
Is bad on the young, absurd on the old,
And deforms what it ought to deck;
For look at her face, no bonnet is there,
See at the side, it hangs by a hair;
View it behind, and you will declare
That the creature has broken her neck.

No matter where you may chance to be,
No matter how many women you see,
A promiscuous crowd or a certain she,
You may fully depend upon it,
That a gem of the very rarest kind,
A thing most difficult to find,
A pet for which we long have pined,
Is a perfect "love of a bonnet."

☞ In Attleboro', Mass., the steam factory of Mr. V. H. Capron was burnt on Monday night. Loss $30,000; insurance $16,000. About 150 persons are thrown out of employment.

In Pawtucket on Monday morning, a boiler burst, in the yarn factory of Dexter & Brother, injuring the fireman and a boy, and doing damage to the mill and contents to the value of 8 or $10,000.

☞ There is an ordinance in the city of London requiring a five-eigths inch tube to be inserted near the ceiling in every room, for the purpose of letting off the gas in case of accident or carelessness.

THE SIEGE OF CORINTH.

It is said that one of the former political divisions of this State took its name from two famous lines in this poem—namely—

"The foes that he singly kept at bay,
Outnumbered his thin hairs of Silver Grey."

We cannot vouch for the truth of this, but we do know that under the effects of applications of Heimstreet's already famous Hair Colouring "Silver Greys" rapidly become (in appearance at least) members of "Young America."—[Troy Budget.

THE TOILET.

There are but few preparations designed for the Toilet, that possess any merit—many of them are injurious, some positively poisonous. The new cosmetic, "Persian Balm," is an article particularly adapted to fill a vacancy in toilet preparations that has long been felt. It is designed especially for Cleaning the Teeth, Shaving, Champooing, Bathing, and improving the Complexion. It has been most carefully prepared and thoroughly tested. If our readers require a really fine Toilet article, purchase the Persian Balm.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"Old Dominion."—It you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion Coffee Pot, until we tried it.

The Old Dominion Coffee Pot.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes out over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of Coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.
ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique.
No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingle-side." Price only 40 Cents.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ALLEN & PAINE,
Number Fifteen Market St.,
Have received, and offer for sale, one of the most perfect and best selected stocks of DRY GOODS in the State. Every article is selected for their own retail trade and is perfect of its kind, of the latest and most beautiful style, and unsurpassed in quality,—and, as they buy and sell only for cash, visit the market often, and keep comparatively a small stock, they offer their customers some real bargains. Read their advertisement in another column, and, when convenient, call and see them.

The only place in Portsmouth where a fine Mellotype (taken on Glass and by the aid of heat brought in the glass,) can be procured, is at SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,
Congress Block.
Melainotypes, beautifully colored, (imitation of Ivory Painting,) taken in superior style, on light or dark ground.
Photographs, Ambrotypes, Oilographs, plain and splendidly finished in oil, any size up to Life Size, from $3 to $35.
Pictures taken on Patent Leather, Enamelled Cloth and Bristol Board for sending in letters, or to put in Hats, Caps, Porte-Monnaies, Albums, &c., very cheap.
Please call at Salen's Daguerrean Gallery, Congress Block, only one flight of stairs.

☞ Reader, do you want the picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor neighbors to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the most durable Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his old stand No. 33 Congress street, where he is ever happy to fix the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

THE CROPS.

Messrs. Editors:—The important events of the day, vis., the passage of the new Pedler Law, and the final success of the Atlantic Cable, have occupied the attention of the readers of the Chronicle to so great an extent that they are probably not sufficiently posted in regard to matters transpiring in the immediate vicinity of your city—more particularly of agricultural interests.

Thinking that a brief account of the condition of crops at the present season of the year would be acceptable, I send you the result of my observations in this section.

The condition of vegetation generally is such as to insure a good harvest. The haying season is about over, and, although the weather has been unfavorable, and croakers have grumbled, and extravagant estimations, relative to the quantity of hay damaged or spoiled, have been made—as far as I can learn, the loss is comparatively small, and a large quantity of good hay has been secured.

The rust has made its appearance on the potato vines to a very great extent, and some signs of the "rot" are apparent.—There are not many in the hill, but are unusually large, and it they escape the rot (which is hardly probable) there will be a good crop.

Corn looks finely, notwithstanding the coldness of the season—the prospect is good for an abundant yield.

The apple crop is not so promising as it was two months since, a large quantity having dropped off. Nevertheless, there is a quantum sufficit on the trees at the present time—if no more fall off—to insure a good yield.

Squashes, melons, cucumbers, &c., look well generally, but need the sun to prevent the rust, which is very deleterious to vines of all kinds.

Beets, carrots, turnips and roots of all sorts are in a flourishing condition.

Although astronomers tell us the axis of the earth has changed its position, it has had no apparent effect on the crops, and we hope for and expect a rich harvest.

Perhaps some will call this the bright side of the picture; but I think I have made no exaggerated statements, and a ride through the "suburbs" will corroborate them. TYPO.

☞ An immense throng of the citizens of Lynn, (who seem peculiarly addicted to pic-nicing down this way,) passed through this city over the Eastern Railroad, on an excursion to Portland, on Tuesday. We believe there were nineteen cars, drawn by three engines, containing 1200 to 1500 persons, and accompanied by three Bands of music. They 'pic-niced' at a Hall in Portland, and returned home in the evening.

☞ Hilton's Hucklebery Excursion to Candia, Tuesday, was a success. Four cars were filled with young and old, who had a grand time generally, ruralizing,—berying, singing, dancing, &c.

☞ Dr. Whelan, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Medicine & Surgery, visited this Naval Station on Tuesday, and was received at the Navy Yard with the usual salute.

☞ The Old Dominion Coffee Pot advertised by Mr. Carleton, is as much superior to any of the old patterns, as a clipper-ship is to a Dutch galliot, a blood horse to a jackass, or a cup of gunpowder tea to a sailor's Bohea boiled in an iron kettle. The fact is, you can't make coffee in anything else after you try that.

☞ The bells of this city were rung on Tuesday noon in honor of the complete Atlantic Telegraph communication. Bells and guns were jubilant on the occasion, all over the country.

☞ Why in the name of music, don't "Sensitivus" get the Portsmouth Cornet Band out, and let us have those out-door Concerts? He had ought to be "drummed out" himself, if he don't.

☞ The Rockingham Convention of Universalists will meet at Kingston, on Wednesday.—Tickets to go and return on the Concord Road, will be at half the usual rates—and probably but not certainly on the Boston & Maine.—The train leaves this city at 10:50 A. M.

☞ A regatta took place on Monday afternoon in Boston harbor, the sail-boats ten in number. The course was about seven miles. The White Squall, of Portsmouth, entered by Wm. R. Martin, took the prize of $4 offered to boats of the second class. Her time was 1 hour and 47 minutes.

☞ The Festival of the Graces was omitted last night on account of the storm,—but will take place to-night.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH IN OPERATION.

THE QUEEN'S MESSAGE RECEIVED.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TRANSMITTED.

The following is a copy of a dispatch which was on Monday afternoon received from London:—

CYRUS STATION, N. F., Aug. 16.

To the Directors of the Atlantic Cable Company, New York:

Europe and America are united by Telegraph.

Glory to God in the Highest; on Earth Peace, Good Will toward Men.

Signed: DIRECTORS ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY, GREAT BRITAIN.

The above was promulgated about four o'clock Monday afternoon. The Queen's greeting was received soon after; but it was withheld from the public until the President's answer could be procured.—The two epistles were received in Boston at half past one o'clock Tuesday morning.

QUEEN VICTORIA TO PRESIDENT BUCHANAN.

To the Hon. the President of the United States:—

Her Majesty desires to congratulate the President upon the successful completion of the great international work, in which the Queen has taken the deepest interest.

PRESIDEN BUCHANAN'S REPLY.

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 16, 1858.

To Her Majesty, Victoria, the Queen of Great Britain:

The President cordially reciprocates the congratulations of Her Majesty the Queen, on the success of the great international enterprise, accomplished by the science, skill, and indomitable energy of the two countries. It is a triumph more glorious because far more useful to mankind, than was ever won by conqueror on the field of battle. May the Atlantic Telegraph, under the blessings of Heaven, prove to be a bond of perpetual peace and friendship between the kindred nations, and an instrument destined by Divine Providence, to diffuse Religion, Civilization, Liberty and Law, through the world. In this view, will not all the nations of Christendom spontaneously unite in the declaration that it shall be forever neutral, and that its communications shall be hold sacred in passing to the places of their destination, even in the midst of hostilities.

JAMES BUCHANAN.

MESSAGE OF SIR EDMUND HEAD TO THE QUEEN.

TORONTO, C. W., Aug. 16, 11 P. M.

To the Right Hon. the Secretary of State for the Colonies, London, England:

The Governor General of British North American presents his humble duty to the Queen, and respectfully congratulates Her Majesty on the completion of the telegraphic communictaion betweeen Great Britain and these Colonies. EDMUND HEAD.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Steamers Arabia and Europa in Collision.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., August 15.—The steamship Europa, which sailed from Boston on the 11th inst., and from Halifax on the 13th, arrived at this port at 1 o'clock to-day. She having been run afoul of on Saturday, 14th inst., at 10.30 P. M., by the steamship Arabia, from Liverpool for New York, which vessel mistook the Europa's light for the Cape Race Light. The cutwater and stem of the Europa were knocked off, and much other damage done. She will have to repair at this port. The Arabia, after boarding, lay by the Europa some time, and then proceeded on her voyage to New York, not much injured.

The Arabia's despatches for the Press were not put on board the Europa, but Liverpool dates of the 7th were obtained.

The rebellion in Central India had been effectually put down.

Lord Canning's proclamation holds out no hope of pardon to any persons who were immediately concerned in the murders of British subjects.

It was suspected at Paris that the Credit Mobilier was winding up its affairs, and would effect a fusion with the discount bank of M. de St. Paul

Mr. Disraeli favors the repeal of the paper tax, if the Chancellor of Exchequer will spare the amount.

There has been a large embarkation of troops for India.

The success of the Atlantic Cable was received on change at Liverpool, with glorious enthusiasm, and with the declaration that the electric union of Great Britian and America will lead to the unity of all nations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The ceremonies yesterday of laying the corner stone of the new Cathedral of St. Patrick, in this city, drew together an audience of from 50,000 to 60,000 persons. A sermon for the occasion was preached by Archbishop Hughes, who stated that the subscriptions of $1000 each now amount to 103. Contributions to a large amount were also deposited on the corner stone.

An exchange tells of an editor who went soldiering and was chosen captain. One day at parade, instead of giving the orders, "Front face, three paces forward," he exclaimed, "Cash, two dollars a year, in advance."

READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KIMBERLY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Besides, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

THE REASON FOR THE WAR OF ENGLAND UPON CHINA.—The London Times says—A Chinese Mandarin has more power to tax the English public than any single member of the House of Commons. The rebellion at the antipodes has already cost our industrious classes much more than would have been required to cleanse the Thames and purify the Serpentine. The Imperialist armies before Nankin are all paid from the Shanghai duties, all of which are levied upon the cottons we sell and the tea and silk we buy. These duties have of late years been enormously increased, and now are still being increased for the purpose of maintaining that idle army.

Hon. L. M. Keitt, in his late speech at Williamston, S. C., is reported to have said:

The Democratic party, he thought, was sounder now than it had been for years.—It was so because the South was now the majority in that party, and had driven off from it numbers of the tainted, timid and feeble members of it from the North. He would not predict, but in his judgment, the Black Republicans would win the election in 1860.

KILLED.—In Boston, coroner Moore was called Saturday evening, to view the body of an unknown Irishman, who was taken to the Police Station about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, while apparently drunk, and who died about 8 o'clock. He had a rum bottle in his pocket, which sufficiently explained the cause of his death. Atlas.

Ayer's Pills

are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and diseases arising from a disordered state of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these organs, and it is generally these first to be found to cure many and grave classes of disease.

Purgatives are the abominations of all sensible physicians, and their office is in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. E. S. Cochrane, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the finest specimen of the art I know of. Perfect gentlemen compose my entire circle of patrons. They are mild, efficacious, and sugar coated, so that children take them readily, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR DYSPEPSIA AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS,

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"You ask my opinion of your Pills. I feel bound to their praise, as an excellent, but I find their natural effects with the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious for the cure of chronic constipation than any other aperient I have used. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

PHILADELPHIA — LEXINGTONIAN.

From Dr. S. Hanson.

"The Pills you sent me I tried to test as we have been all sent in everywhere, and have satisfied me that they are truly all that is necessary condition. Repeatedly are they called for by those who have used them, and I cheerfully add my testimony to theirs. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia with them, and I know of one in which I believe the other remedies we tried failed. Indeed I have cured nearly every family I have attended in advance all the complaints they are designed to cure."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Cook, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a fair trial with my patients, and I hold them in high esteem. Their effects have been speedy and decisive, and they have proved themselves well adapted for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL CONGESTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. E. Shook, who suffered as a Sufferer and Medical Friend.

"I feel one in the large dose of your Pills, taken at the bedtime, have rendered me free from the internal worms, which I have long suffered, and which, I believe, very of ten much distress my little children. They are so much better than any other I have ever tried, that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Pimpin, Maxwell, Georgia.

"I have used your Pills for the cure of costiveness in one instance with a hard case, and they have proved to be just what we want. Indeed, I think they are the best pill we have, and I shall use them in preference to any other I know of. I have tried many, and have not found one that I can use with such entire satisfaction to the patient as your Pills. Please send me a dozen more."

INFLUENZA OR VERY BADDE — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — ULCERS — ENLARGEMENTS — GOITRE.

From Dr. Tucker Dell, Philadelphia.

"I was some time ago asked to try your Pills in a very bad case of Scrofula, and I have had cause of late years to prescribe them in many cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Ulcerous Sores, and Glandular Enlargements, and have found them a valuable remedy, and shall continue to use them."

FOR HEADACHE — WORM HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — DYSPEPSIA — DISTENDED PARALYSIS — LOSS OF APPETITE.

From Dr. Wm. Ward, of Baltimore.

"Your Pills are in great demand. Nothing can be more satisfactory than the results of your Pills. I have found no more effective remedy in cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Worm Headache, Foul Stomach, Distended Paralysis, and Liver Complaint, than your Pills. I shall continue to use them."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has now been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of it is in the very eye, with invariable success, and has been used by its friends, who have for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, for which Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Consumption, which it is offered to the public, as the best remedy for the relief of incurable patients in advanced stages of the disease. As the world knows this to be more and better known, this medicine has now for many years the best pulmonary remedy, and its wonderful cures have made it famous in almost every quarter of the globe. Throughout this and other country, in every town and village, and indeed almost every house, it continues to be the Parent in its power to the loss of all sensible of the disease of the lungs and throat. In this country, consumption is so extensively known by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any disease of the lungs or throat, or any symptoms of it, or any disease of which it is the first cause, or any disease which we see the first symptom, either one of the lungs yield to it. If we can depend on the testimony of learned and skillful physicians, whose testimony is to be relied on, it is the best pulmonary remedy for this disease which is certainly proved that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and sunken disgraced, this has spread, friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures so numerous and notorious as to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands in this and the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the false delicacy to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invitable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three thousand miserable victims have been insuccessfully treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by correspondence at Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REMEDY PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are palmed upon them as being a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and as one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural beauty. Ladies, and gentlemen, you need not be gray, or bald, or crossed in scalp, to use it; and surely they prefer, we will see, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper where "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length, and very easy off. I have great faith in it, wish you to send me two dozen more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may know from the fact I purchase one dozen at a time.

Yours with respect, REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—the front being nearly bald. I have used two pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving a benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. INGRAM, M. D., No. 434 Vine street.

VICENNES, IN., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it for my hair for a year, as it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that it is proper to state that I am supposed to have used it entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to its original color, and render it soft, glossy, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend it to all of my fellow citizens of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

RAREY ON "BLINKERS."—Mr. Rarey sends to the London Times his opinion o the use of 'blinkers' on horses, as follows:

All my experience with and observation of horses proves clearly to me that blinkers should not be used, and that the sight of the horse, for many reasons, should not be interfered with in any way. Horses are only fearful of objects which they do not understand or are not familiar with, and the eye is one of the principal mediums by which this understanding and this familiarity are brought about.

The horse, on account of his very amiable nature, can be made in the course of time to bear almost anything in any shape, but there is a quicker process of reaching his intelligence than that of wearing it into him through his skin and bones; and he, however wild and nervous, can be taught in a very short time to understand and not to fear any object, however frightful in appearance. Horses can be broken in less time and better without blinkers; at horses that have always worn them will notice the sudden change, and must be carefully treated the first drive. After that they will drive better without blinkers than with.

I have proved by my own experiments that a horse broken without blinkers can be driven past any omnibus, cab or carriage, on a parallel line as close as it is possible for him to go, without ever wavering or showing any disposition to dodge. I have not, in the last eight or ten years, constantly handling horses both wild and nervous, ever put blinkers on any of them, and in no case have I ever had one that was afraid of the carriages he drew behind him, or of those he passed in the streets.

The horse's eye is the life and beauty of the animal, as well as the index of all his emotions. It tells the driver, in the most impressive characters, what the horse's feelings are. By it he can tell the first approach of fear in time to meet any difficulty; he can tell if he is happy or sad, hungry or weary. The horse, too, when permitted to see, uses his eyes with great judgment. He sees better than we do. He can measure distances with his eyes better than we can, and, if allowed free use of them, would often save himself by the quickness of his sight from collisions when the driver would fail to do so by a timely pull of the reins. It would also save many accidents to pedestrians in the streets, as no horse will run on to any person that he can see.

Any sensible man, who has thought of the subject five minutes, must agree with Mr. Rarey. Blinkers add just as much to the beauty, utility and comfort of a horse, as goggles do to a man with well eyes.—We have removed them from ten or a dozen horses accustomed to them—and every one looked and drove better without them. There is actually no risk or trouble in leaving them out of any horse's harness.

The Washington Union thus confirms an inquiry from the Chicago Tribune, in regard to Mr. Douglas:

To do him justice, he is not so unwise as to have persisted in his attacks upon the administration, it left to his own judgment. It is generally believed here, and we have no doubt of the fact, that he desired to accept the English bill and vote for it; but he yielded to Broderick's superior strength of will, and went against it.

☞ Ida Pfeifer, the celebrated German traveller, has been compelled to seek the charities of an almshouse at Hamburgh.—She has been the greatest traveller of her age, and is one of the most intelligent and interesting of living women.

☞ A boy fell from the top of a house at Kingslasic, Scotland, which was in ruins, and was not hurt, but in a few minutes afterwards, a large stone fell upon him and dashed out his brains.

A COUNTRY COTTAGE.

[The following is a pretty peep of a country cottage, the praiseworthy certainty of the last line making a homely but not inapt termination.]

The stream ripples bright by my cottage;
The sunshine is bright on the stream;
And the woo, pebbly stones, in the sunshine,
Like diamonds sparkle and gleam.
There are hazel-trees kissing the water,
And plumes of the fair meadow-sweet;
And down by the hazel sits Jeanie,
And dabbles her little white feet.

The robin peeps in at my door-way;
The linnet looks down from the tree;
And here, pillowed up in his cradle,
Wee Sandy sits smiling at me.
My milk-pail stands bright in the corner,
My tins are all bright on the shelf;
And the white supper-cloth on the table
Is clean, for I washed it myself!

☞ From the subjoined jeu d'esprit it may be inferred that the Boston Post is not very friendly to the editor of the Louisville Journal:

Prentice has tried how aptly and well he Could rattle his jokes on poor Monsieur Belly:
But an old French gentleman seems the more fit
And natural butt of Prentice's wit.
"For"—says Old Bacon, whose tongue there's no curb on—
"Hasn't Prentice, for years, been a butt of Old Bourbon?"

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
from Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged in the business of Solicitor in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.
These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Kalmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

OUR RIVER AND ITS ELM.

Much has been said in praise of our beautiful Piscataqua, but the half has not been told, nor can it be; it must be seen, felt and made a familiar friend to be appreciated and enjoyed. There are larger rivers, but our needs no apologies for its size; it is large and deep enough to accommodate the Leviathan should it find Portland harbor frozen solid, as it has been sometimes when our tides sweep on limpid and free. But its charms consist not solely in its commercial facilities, which, however are abundant and of the first class.

Its recreative advantages at this season are surpassingly inviting; its beautiful banks, its renovating tides, bringing to our shores the ocean's cool waves, its abundant supply of fish in the greatest variety for the gratification of the taste of the angler and the epicure.

The banks, frequently dotted with the neat cottages of the fishermen on one side, and the gently sloping lawns adorned with noble trees upon the other, all tend to make our river a most pleasant resort, where sunny golden hours await all those who shall float upon its serene and certain tides.

Who has been wafted up the "Long Reach" above Freman's Point of a sunny afternoon, and returned with the tide at sunset, but has in memory's leaf that day a picture of varied landscape beauty, that will neither fade nor be easily effaced? and yet there are hundreds of dwellers in our city who fly to the mountain or trip it to other streams and lakes for recreation, who know not the beauties of our own Piscataqua.

A single object, that most noble elm upon the banks at Rollins' farm, is worthy of a frequent visit of admiration; we have often contemplated its grandeur as it swells like a "green cloud" upon the landscape and recently, whilst reposing beneath its ample shade, we drew a line and took respectfully its measure; five feet from the ground it girths twenty-two feet, and measures over a hundred feet in the diameter of its expanded foliage; this is according to Dr. Holmes' scale a "first class elm," and the only one of such beautiful and grand proportions that we know of in this vicinity.

There are many others of lesser size around, among which this noble tree stands out with a Websterian prominence; it is now in its full health and prime of life, and yet it must have been reflected in the margin mirror of our river when the Indian's birch canoe stealthily glided thro' its photograph. There let it stand a monument of beauty for the admiration of our children's children, when we shall have passed from the stream to the ocean of life.

We may go far and seek diligently ere we find an object more full of interest than this hale old monarch on our river's side.

To the lovers of angling we would enumerate the variety of the beautiful fish to be found in the Piscataqua, whose very name indicates its scaly treasures; but will take another time for that, when we shall not trespass too much upon your sheet.

☞ In Boston, on Monday, between 2 and 3 P. M., as the Nahant steamer "Nelly Baker" lay at the end of Long Wharf, with three or four hundred passengers on board, and was on the point of starting, the large ocean steamer, Phineas Sprague, which runs between Boston and Philadelphia, came up, and when the P. S. was about a hundred yards from the wharf, and the engines were stopped in order to reverse them and check her speed, the machinery got "caught on the centre," so that it was impossible for a time to start it any way. Thus the Sprague could not be stopped, and although her pilot endeavored to alter her course so as to avoid a collision, she went bows on right into the Nelly Baker, just forward the starboard wheel house. The passengers on the Nelly Baker were of course much startled by the crash.

The Phineas Sprague cut into the Nelly Baker about eight feet, demolishing the bar-room and its contents, smashing up the guards for several feet, breaking the braces which support the hurricane deck, and also two of the hull timbers. The hull was not much injured otherwise. It was not cut low enough to admit any water. No person on either boat was injured. The whole damage will probably not exceed $1500. The Phineas Sprague was hardly scratched.

☞ The Leavenworth Journal of the 3d says:—"The vote at Kickapoo was small. Buchanan and Greely did not vote this time. It is supposed they had paired off."

POISONING CASE.—The Brattleboro, Vt., Phœnix says that on Monday morning of last week, Nathaniel Spafford, of Bennington, rose at an early hour, before his wife was awake, built a fire and prepared the coffee for breakfast—a thing quite unusual in him. At breakfast he declined drinking any of the coffee, but his wife, child and servant girl partook thereof quite freely. Soon afterwards all three of those who had drank the coffee complained of a burning pain in the stomach, which was succeeded by painful retching, terrible vomiting and throbbing pains peculiar to cases of poisoning. Mrs. Clapp, a neighbor, was called, to whom Mrs. Spafford communicated her suspicions that she had been poisoned. Mrs. Clapp laughed at the idea, and drank a small portion of the coffee herself. She was soon taken with symptoms like the above, but in a milder degree.—Medical aid was called and the child and the servant were relieved. Mrs. S. it is thought will die. On Monday evening, upon being informed that she could not probably recover, she gave her ante-mortem deposition before A. P. Lyman. Spafford procured some corrosive sublimate in Troy a short time since. He is under arrest awaiting the result. It is said that he has maintained a disreputable connection with a girl in Shaftsbury for some time.

At last accounts Mrs. Spafford was alive, but the physicians had no hope of her recovery. Mrs. Clapp, who drank a little of the coffee, and who it was thought was not seriously affected by it, was taken very low on Tuesday evening, with the same symptoms as accompanied the prostration of Mrs. Spafford. During the night the physicians did not think that she could recover.

EXPLOSION AT PAWTUCKET—FACTORY BURNT.—At about 4 o'clock Monday morning the boiler connected with Dexter Brothers' cotton mill, on the corner of Pleasant and Main streets, in Pawtucket, exploded, tearing the building in which it was located into fragments, and sending the timbers and materials in all directions. One-half of the boiler was thrown fifty feet into the grocery store of Captain Almy, smashing everything in its way. An adjoining building occupied by Mr. Davis, was rendered almost a complete wreck, and his stock of drugs and medicines destroyed. The mill soon took fire, and all but the walls was destroyed. A fireman was much injured, but probably not fatally. A boy was taken out of the ruins three quarters of an hour after the catastrophe, and was living at the last accounts. A large eight inch timber was blown about four hundred feet, striking on the roof of a house, and passing down through two floors to a bedroom, where two boys were asleep, yet not striking their bed.—They had a narrow escape, however. The cause of the explosion was a lack of water in the boiler.

A MONSTER HORSE MACKEREL AT BELFAST.—The Belfast Age says an excitement was caused at one of the wharves in that city last week, in consequence of the capture of an immense horse mackerel. He was something over 12 feet long, girted over 6 feet and weighed 810 pounds. He was captured by Mr. F. B. Frederick, assisted by the Messrs. Condons. Mr. Frederick had harpooned him once before, but the instrument did not hold. The second time he drove the harpoon through his back into his inwards, and then commenced the tug of war. The monster ran some distance, dragging the boat at a furious rate. Mr. Frederick, fearing he might lose him a second time, swung his hat and the Messrs. Condons came to the rescue.—They put a second harpoon into him, and he darted off again. The line having accidentally entangled round George Condon's foot, he was instantly jerked out of the boat and drawn under water, where he remained some moments till the monster came up, when Frederick struck a spear through the fish's heart. It was a hard and exciting contest. The monster produced over a barrel of oil.

A SOLEMN DAY'S WORK.—The National Intelligencer of Saturday says, Judge Crawford, of the Criminal Court, yesterday passed sentence on four murderers—one to be hung on the 22d of October, two to confinement and labor in the Penitentiary for fifteen years each, and one to confinement and labor in the Penitentiary for eight years—a solemn warning to that large class of reckless and riotous young men whose passions and vicious courses may be hurrying them on to the sad fate of the four guilty ones now about to expiate their crimes.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.—The Cincinnati Gazette states that on the 10th, as Mr. Squire J. John, a prominent furniture manufacturer in that city, was blowing into the muzzle of a gun to ascertain whether it was loaded, a favorite house-dog came bounding upon him, and exploded the gun, the hammer of which was raised. The contents of the barrel, a heavy charge of shot, entered the face of Mr. John, carrying away the left eye and the entire upper portion of the face and head. The brains of the unfortunate man were scattered in every direction, and of course he died instantly. The accident occurred at the residence of the deceased, near College Hill, some eight or nine miles from the city.

☞ Some says the multiplication table is the oldest piece of furniture in the world—having been made more than two thousand years ago—and is now as good as new. We don't know about that—the chair in which the sun sets, is older yet—and by no means worn out; though people had lately begun to think that it had given way, and old Sol "fell through"—so rarely does he appear.

☞ Arkansas is so well satisfied with the present administration that no opposition party exists there. In the 1st District T. C. Hindman is elected to Congress without opposition, and in the 2d District Albert Rust, the regular Democratic nominee, is said to be elected by a large majority over T. S. Drew, former Governor of the State, and independent candidate.

THE VAGARIES OF LOVE.—In New Orleans on the 1st inst., a German named Frantz Bingeller, about 35 years of age, committed suicide on account of his unrequited love for a black woman named Young. He left behind him a letter stating that he had long loved Miss Young ardently and passionately; that at first she pretended to return his passion, and at different times almost acknowledged he had won her heart. Latterly, however, her conduct had entirely changed, and she had coolly informed him that he was not the man for her; that she could not abide Dutchmen and last, but the severest of all, she loved another.

This black lady is described as some years older than her white lover, who has thus sacrificed his life. She is very corpulent, weighing 250 pounds or more, and as black says the Crescent, as a pair of patent leather boots. When interrogated about the unfortunate Frantz, she exclaimed, "Well, the Lord sakes, what a fool that white man was to be sure, to say that he lub dis nigger."

Valentia Geager, a young German dressmaker, was shot dead last night in this city by her lover, Philip Morganheim. The latter proceeded immediately to his boarding house, where he shot himself fatally. Cause, jealousy.

City Hall Partly Burned.—The City Hall was partially burned at midnight last night. The fire commenced as early as 10 o'clock, on the roof, and was thought to have been extinguished, but at 12 broke out afresh. The fire was extinguished at an early hour this morning. It was confined to the ornamentation and the highest floor, which was an unused story of the building. The records are uninjured.—Considerable injury was done by water, to decorations, furniture and paintings, on the second floor!

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the Prima Donna of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples, also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

ALTERATIVE.

The subtle chemical vital affinities are ever at work for the waste or renovation of the tissues. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, with its chemical element iron, presents to the laboratory of life an agent ever active, and can never be absent without derangement of the vital functions. In this slow and alterative process, it is truly a renovating and life-giving medicine.

THE SIEGE OF CORINTH.

It is said that one of the former political divisions of this State took its name from two famous lines in this poem—namely—

"The foes that he singly kept at bay,
Outnumbered his thin hairs of Silver Grey."

We cannot vouch for the truth of this, but we do know that under the effects of applications of HEINSTREET'S already famous HAIR COLORING "Silver Greys" rapidly become (in appearance at least) members of "Young America."—[Troy Budget.

THE TOILET.

There are but few preparations designed for the Toilet, that possess any merit—many of them are injurious, some positively poisonous. The new cosmetic, "PERSIAN BALM," is an article particularly adapted to fill a vacancy in toilet preparations that has long been felt. It is designed especially for Cleaning the Teeth, Shaving, Chapping, Bathing, and improving the Complexion. It has been most carefully prepared and thoroughly tested. If our readers require a really fine Toilet article, purchase the Persian Balm.

THE PATENT

"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of these Coffee Pots are already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. The principle is clear and simple by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. As a new experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

LOCAL.

☞ The estimates for a new City Hall and Court House in Portland amount to $168,275. This is for freestone. Granite would cost from 5 to $8000 more—mastic a few thousand less. We learn that plans for a new City Building in Portsmouth have been drawn by Mr. Woodcock, the architect of the Rockingham Bank; but we do not know as to the estimates. If this city don't need a new City Hall and other rooms, we should like to know what place ever did; and if there could be a better time to build it than now, we can't see when. There is certainly money enough in the city; and we opine that most of the opposition to such a scheme would come from the middling or poorer classes rather than the rich. Business is not very brisk—and we think it would be better policy to employ all the laborers judiciously, than to support them as paupers next winter.

☞ Does a "garden grow" any better, for having a fence around it, high and ugly enough for a State Prison or a pound? Do the owners or occupants enjoy the premises any more highly? Are fruits and flowers any more secure for such unsightly structures? Do they improve the appearance of the street, or of the city generally? If not, what good do they do? and what is use of them?

We think there are more high close fences in this city, than we ever saw elsewhere,—and as they are a deformity anywhere—particularly about residences,—we hope the time will come when they will all be laid low.

☞ To prevent misconception, we will state that a note, advertised last week as given to one "W. L.," was the property of a man in a neighboring town, and had no connection or reference to a storekeeper in this city whose initials are the same. Had the apparent similarity of the names, and the liability to confusion, occurred to us, we should not have inserted so blind a notice.

☞ Among the new and valuable music received from the publishers, Messrs. Russell & Fuller, Boston, through Mr. Charles C. Harvey, their agent in this city,—are "Rosabel, the Lilly of the Lea, a Song and Chorus by Wurzel"—beautiful, of course, if from the author of "Rosalie;" "Sons of Temperance Quickstep, by P. S. Gilmore"—a neat and pleasing piano piece; and a new Polka, which we don't believe we can either dance or play. Harvey keeps or will furnish anything you want in the music line.

☞ The Festival of the Graces, at the Temple, last evening, was well attended, as it richly deserved. To-night is the last chance to witness the beautiful display, and hear the fine music.

☞ Of course everybody "of taste" will go to see Andrieu's great Panorama to-morrow evening.

I. O. of O. F.—The Grand Encampment of Patriarchs, I. O. of O. F., of the State of New Hampshire, met at Concord on Monday when the following officers were chosen:

Jefferson Smith, of No 4, M W G P.
John H Rowell, of No 3, M E G H P.
Nath'l T Kimball, of No 4, R W G S W.
Joseph B Smart, of No 3, R W G Scribe.

Wm P Walker, of No 5, R W G J W.
Thomas B Adams, of No 1, W G Sent.

The following Deputies were appointed:

No 1, Thomas B Adams.
No 2, J B Fish.
No 3, J S McFarland.
No 4, W T Prescott.
No 5, N K Raynes.
No 7, N T Kimball.

The Grand Lodge met at Concord on Tuesday, and elected the following:

Stilman A Davis, M W Gr Master, No 1.
Joe B Smart, R W D Gr Master, No 5.
G W Weeks, R W Gr Guardian, No 13.
M Gilmore, R W Gr Secretary, No 3.
A G Folsom, R W Gr Treasurer, No 7.
John D Teel, R W Gr Chaplain, No 5.
E C Stone, Gr Marshal, No 28.
Sam'l G Folsom, Gr Guardian, No 6.
N E Morrill, Gr Conductor, No 2.

☞ Andrieu's National Panoramas will be exhibited on Friday instead of Thursday evening. Go and see this great work—you cannot afford to lose so rich a treat.

☞ The Ladies' Charitable Society will meet at the house of Rev. Mr. Medbery at 4 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon.

☞ A telegram from Wells River, Vt., says that a large portion of the business part of the enterprising village of McIndoes Falls, was consumed by fire on Monday afternoon, supposed to have caught from a spark from an engine.

Washing shirts wears them out. When they get dirty, rub them over with chalk. "Economy is wealth."

EXPLANATION OF A REMARKABLE BLUNDER.

THE QUEEN'S MESSAGE NOW COMPLETE.

QUEEN VICTORIA TO PRESIDENT BUCHANAN.
VALENTIA, VIA TRINITY BAY.

To the President of the United States, Washington:

The Queen desires to congratulate the President upon the successful completion of the Great International Work, in which the Queen has taken the deepest interest.

The Queen is convinced that the President will join with her in fervently hoping that the Electric Cable which now connects Great Britain with the United States will prove an additional link between the Nations whose friendship is founded upon their common interest and reciprocal esteem.

The Queen has much pleasure in thus communicating with the President, and renewing to him her wishes for the prosperity of the United States.

EXPLANATION.
TRINITY BAY, Aug. 17.

During the transmission of the Queen's Message, yesterday afternoon, the Electricians at Valentia desisted from completing it, in order to make some slight repairs on the instruments.

Through a mistake, the portion first transmitted was sent to the President and press of the country, conveying the impression that it constituted the whole message. DE SAUTY.

THE EXPLANATION SENT TO THE PRESIDENT.

The Queen's Message was immediately sent to Washington, and also another to Mr. F. M. Archibald, one of the honorary Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, giving an explanation, mainly as printed above. That explanation was also sent to the President.

MESSAGE FROM PETER COOPER TO THE PRESIDENT.

The following message has been transmitted by Peter Cooper, Esq., to the President:

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

To the Honorable the President of the United States:

I beg to transmit a message this moment received from Trinity Bay, explaining the cause which prevented the whole of the Queen's Message being telegraphed from Valentia, yesterday.

Shall we consider your Message to Her Majesty a full reply, and date it this day accordingly? The operations at Trinity Bay await your answer.

PETER COOPER.

ST. JOHNS, (N. F.,) Aug. 17.—Mr. De Sauty, the electrician-in-chief at Trinity Bay, says that he is unable to give any information for publication as to the working of the Cable, but that the time necessary for the transmission of the President's message depends on its length and the condition of the line and instruments at the time—perhaps, under favorable circumstances, an hour and a half.

The reception of the Queen's Message was commenced early yesterday morning, and not finished until this morning, but it was stopped for several hours to allow of repairs to the cable. The fragment of the message transmitted yesterday was handed to the Newfoundland line, as the genuine entire message, and was supposed here to be such until this morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Indian Bureau has received a communication from Brigham Young, in which he says he will give way to Dr. Forney, and close his office as Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Utah. He asks for an allowance of $13,000 to reimburse him for food and presents to the Indians in order to conciliate and keep them in check until the peaceful results following the advance of the troops could be effected. It is suspected by the Commissioners of Indian Affairs that Brigham conciliated the Indians for his own purpose but finding he could not use them, wants the government to pay expenses.

STRANGE COINCIDENCES.—Yesterday we published a paragraph stating that Miss Elizabeth Curry was drowned in the Hudson river, last Saturday, while crossing in a boat from Buttermilk Falls, Orange Co. A friend of the family informs us that her greatgrandfather, her grandfather and an uncle were successively drowned in the river, within two miles of the same spot, and her father narrowly escaped drowning, a few years since, being rescued by Noah S. Dean of this city, our present Coroner, just in time to save his life.—Albany Jour., Aug. 11th.

New York, August 16.—William Saunders, the Hampton murderer, was arrested yesterday near Chester, and lodged in Chester jail. A dispatch from the latter place says the girl Margaret is better, and will probably recover.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 5, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Helmstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Helmstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. RIMOZEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.
Sold by JOSEPH H. THACHER, Apothecary) cor. of State and Pleasant sts, and No. 12 Market Square, Portsmouth, N H. jel 3msdaw

THE MILLINER'S BILL

The wax lights illumined a Fifth Avenue ball,
And the crinolines whirled in a merry hall,
And the persons of fashion were blithe and gay,
Dancing the hours of red away
The husband beheld with bosomish pride
The beautiful dress of his stylish bride;
While she, in her fine clothes, seemed to be
The Queen of that splendid company.
Oh, the milliner's bill!

"I'm weary of satin," soon she cried,
"I'll have a blue velvet more full and wide;
And none of my bonnets suit my face—
I shall order another of sweet point lace,
With emerald flowers; and then, dear man,
You'll let me indulge in a tarlatan."
And old Bubbles cried, as his wife he eyed,
"The dearest of women is not dear enough!"
Oh, the milliner's bill!

"I'm weary of satin," soon she cried,
"I'll have a blue velvet more full and wide;
And none of my bonnets suit my face—
I shall order another of sweet point lace,
With emerald flowers; and then, dear man,
You'll let me indulge in a tarlatan."
And old Bubbles cried, as his wife he eyed,
"The dearest of women is not dear enough!"
Oh, the milliner's bill!

French cambric the morning, green silk the next day,
And white moire antique are the week passed away;
The richest and newest of stuff to be got,
The blockhead's wife bought and he grudged them not;
Two years flew by, and the bills at last
Had arrived at a figure extremely vast,
And when Bubbles beheld the sum, he cried,
"I'm an old fool, done by a spendthrift bride."
Oh, the milliner's bill!

At length broke a bank that had long kept bid
The dodges by which it the public did;
And a document long was discovered there—
The milliner's bill of that lady fair.
Oh! words much cousin, it was confessed,
Had been let to her lord from the banking chest;
And when the crash came, rain humbug's dome,
The bride's display proved his fortune's tomb!
Oh, the milliner's bill!

CONTENTMENT.

"Why stare so," said Croesus, "your lifetime for gold?
Contentment is better than wealth, I am told."
"Why asked you to meddle!" cried Quix, in a pet,
"It ought to be better—it's harder to get!"

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and cause, mostly when Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Enlighten are the testimonials from some eminent physicians, of their efficacy in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. T. P. Carnochan, of New-York.

"Your Pills are the perfection of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Ask only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as specifics, but I believe they exert a decided influence upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficient for the cure of bilious complaints than any medicine hitherto employed. I cordially regard that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you send me are such as I could not have been all used in my practice, and have adapted me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the elements of the human system, that they seem to work upon them like a charm. I have used them in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies so commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them adapted to almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY—DIARRHŒA—RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Cross, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in estimation for the purposes for which they are found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for chronic dysentery and diarrhœa. Their combination with calomel is very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. R. Stuart, who practises on a Physician and Midwife.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion whenever obstructed or suppressed, and also very effectual in clearing the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION—COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Temple, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them equally efficacious in their practice, I think it is a pity that it be for the benefit of the multitude who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the parent of others that are more dangerous. I believe sufficient to cleanse the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD—SCROFULA—ERYSIPELAS—SALT RHEUM—TETTER—TUMORS—RHEUMATISM—GOUT—NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Edward Reed, Baltimore.

"Dear Dr. Ayer: I cannot answer you more completely than by saying that I prescribe your Pills almost daily, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best means, I of course use them largely."

[illegible] Pills in most cases with Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without danger of being imposed upon by a worthless article, which is unknown for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGH, COLD, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INFLUENZA CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptives it is unrivalled, and is the opinion of many of the most eminent physicians of the disease. As other cures have facts enough and being known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, and has long been the family medicine of the American people, and is the favorite pectoral in the palaces of Europe and kings. Throughout this entire country, in every town and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for the diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men or every station certify it has done for them; if we can place our own eyes upon what we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know, in their own sphere, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it incontrovertible proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and its wonderful healing power, could win thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who dare not suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of the subscribers will be sent free express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and were thoroughly cured. Their number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by obtaining Dr. Dix, postpaid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully enclosed from observation or friends.

He particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They are safe, simple and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are worthless, and those having got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills are sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair. Nature has ordained it, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE—Still call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which never fails to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids—and hence, it need as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age. Its effects are wonderful. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, at the value of a good head of hair, be so careless as to cure, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

WEST HAVEN, CONN., July 23, 1856.

MR. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" and its cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction that it was the right, it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by the bearer, Mr. Thomas Hill. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, ENOCH PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beyond all praise. It is, in fact, also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two bottles of your Restorative, and now my head is covered with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit, without disclosing the hands in personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VICENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your valuable preparation, Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it, and that it has never failed, when used, to cure any complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the parentage of others that are more dangerous. I believe sufficient to cleanse the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD—SCROFULA—ERYSIPELAS—SALT RHEUM—TETTER—TUMORS—RHEUMATISM—GOUT—NEURALGIA.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have seen them of late years in my practice, produce most astonishing results of their efficacy. They stimulate the secretions, and cast off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—PAIN—&c.

From Dr. Edward Reed, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you more completely than by saying that I prescribe your Pills almost daily, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best means, I of course use them largely."

For most of the Pills in annual use with Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

KITTY TYRRELL

You're looking as fresh as the morn, Kitty,
Mavourneen, as bright as the day:
But while on your charms I'm dilating,
You're stealing my fond heart away:
But keep it welcome, dear Kitty,
It's loss I'm not going to mourn;
Yet one heart's enough for one body,
So pray give me yours in return.

I've built me a neat little cot, Kitty,
I've pigs and potatoes in store;
I've twenty good pounds with the banker,
And may be a pound or two more:
If's very well you have riches,
But I'm such a covetous elf,
I can't help still sighing for something,
And, darling, that something's yourself.

You're smiling, and that's a good sign, Kitty,
Say yes and you'll never repent;
Or if you would rather be silent,
Your silence I'll take for consent.
That good-natured dimple's a tell-tale,
Now all that I have is your own—
This week you may be Kitty Tyrrell,
Next week you'll be Mistress Malone.

☞ Cyrus W. Field, was born in Stockbridge, Mass., in 1816. So the noble trio, Franklin, Morse and Field, were born in the Old Bay State.

Honor to FRANKLIN, one of Nature's Kings,
Who gave Electron cloud-surmounting wings:
Honor to MORSE, who taught the sprite to speak,
In words that o'er a continent sudden break:
And honor now, let two great continents yield,
To one who makes the sea Electron's broadest FIELD!

A WOMAN AND HER LOVER KILLED BY A RIVAL.—The following are particulars of a murder at Hamptonborough, near Goshen, N. Y., on Friday evening:

Mr. Reeves and his family were absent from home, leaving their house in charge of their three servants, named William Saunders, Peter Shorech, and Margaret Shealy. It seems that Peter and Margaret were to be married next week, and they had been passing the evening together in the room of the latter. At about eight o'clock, just as he was leaving Margaret's room, Peter was met at the door by William, who deliberately and without a word passing between either, shot him directly through the right nipple. Peter, turning back, opened the door through which he had just passed, and fell dead across the threshold. The murderer then rushed into the room over the dead body of his first victim, shot Margaret through the left breast, the ball passing out behind, just below the shoulder blade. She turned, and jumping out of the open window to the ground, some twenty feet or more, managed to crawl through the garden and orchard, nearly a quarter of a mile, to the house of Mr. Case, who immediately gave the alarm. The murderer has not yet been arrested, or even seen since, but the whole country are aroused and searching for him. The woman is still alive, but can't survive but a few hours longer.

MORMON TREDE.—The saints drive a brisk retail trade with our army in Utah. A market place has been erected just outside the camp, where they bring their produce to sell, under the protection of a guard.—They are sharp at a bargain and make the gentiles pay the tallest prices. They sell milk at 25 cents a quart, butter 60 cents a pound, eggs 60 cents a dozen, cheese 50 cents a pound, old potatoes $2 and new $4 per bushel. They also sell a drink called valley-tan, made from wheat, which intoxicates readily, but is the vilest stuff ever imbibed.

SCHOOCK LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had resided my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLE SHAMAN.

Essex Co. s: Myle Shaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y., for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heim treet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used, for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st., oppo. Kirby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immensely superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
